FIRESTONE AGENTS PLAN SAFETY MOVE

FREE TIRE INSPECTION OFFER-ED TO CAR OWNERS

Campaign to Correct Faulty Tires Part of Safety Move Throughout the United States

"One car out of every five on the road today is running on smooth worn tires, unsafe for present day driving conditions, according to Messrs. Fochtman and Foster, local Firestone dealers of this city.

"Motorists are content to go along with unsafe tire equipment only because they do not realize the danger of injury to their families and themselves that they are risking. We find it very difficult to make car owners understand just how fast they really do travel. Most car owners do not have any conception of what speed means in distance covered. Few know that at 60 miles per hour a car travels 88 feet per second, and any car can come to grief in 88 feet, with oncoming traffic, curbs or ditches. Failure of any tire and particularly a front tire means trouble.

"In other words the driver fails to realize that every car has three steering wheels, one in his hands and two on the road, these being the two front tires. Failure of any one invites danger. That's why it's foolish to take chances with thin, worn tires. "Many motorists risk trouble to literally 'run the trend' off their tires, getting the last few cent-worth of mileage out of them. This is false economy of the worst kind. The saving is insignificant when compared with the danger and possible expense they invite.

"It is hard to understand why motorists take chances when Firestone tire prices are the lowest in history. While prices have been materially reduced values have actually increased. For example, in today's Firestone tires the motorist gets gum-dipped cords, two extra gum-dipped cord plies under the tread and a safe, slow-wearing non-skid tread at less cost than ever before.

"Firestone dealers are presenting these facts to car owners in a special mailing of Firestone Dealer Co-operative catalogs to 20 million car owners. This is the largest mailing of its kind in history. The Firestone Dealer Co-operative catalog shows important construction features and the new low price levels. Any car owner who has not received a copy may secure one at Charlevoix Oil Co. or Northern Auto Co.

"Right now we are conducting our own safety campaign. Every motorist that comes into our stores receives a free tire examination and we can point out whether or not his tires are safe. Anyone who isn't sure about his tires can take advantage of our service. If we can save future troubles we'll be glad to do so."

AT THE MOVIES

Lubitsch Scores with Chevalier in Fine Picture

Once again, Ernst Lubitsch, the master craftsman of cinematic productions, scores a hit in "One Hour With You."

Like Babe Ruth in baseball, all Lubitsch needs is "a chance for a play" and he puts it ever to the back seats—for cheers.

With Maurice Chevalier and Jeanette MacDonald teamed together for their best work, assisted by players of excellent past performance, and Ernst Lubitsch's discerning eye and hand at the controls, there's little wonder that Paramount's "One Hour With You," which comes Saturday to the Palace theatre, scores heavily and that picture fans pack the seats.

"The Gay Caballero," Film of Modern West, Here Soon

El Coyote is the central figure in "The Gay Caballero," Tom Gill's romantic adventure of the present day border country which Fox Films have produced with George O'Brien, Victor McLaglen and Conchita Montenegro in the leading roles. Around the exploits of this myriarch revolve the strange and gripping dramatic incidents that compose the picture, playing Wednesday and Thursday at the Palace theatre.

George O'Brien, as a college graduate fresh from glitzy triumphs, arrives in Arizona to find Victor McLaglen carefully managing what is left of his father's once great holdings. To his surprise, he discovers that instead of falling heir to a fortune he has inherited a fight against the might of a Mexican land baron, portrayed by C. Henry Gordon, who seeks to bring all that section of the country under his ruthless, brutal control.

EDITORIALS

YOUNG PEOPLE AND WAR

The attitude of the majority of our younger generation regarding another war was ably presented at the Geneva Peace conference by James Frederick Green, Yale, who will be graduated this year. He was spokesman for the American college and university group at the conference.

We quote a part of his address: "The other speakers have much at stake; we have even more, for we are literally fighting for our lives. I stand before you as an attorney for the defense, pleading for a reprieve. It is my generation which will be called upon to surrender all we consider worth-while in life in order to become targets for machine-gun bullets and victims for the latest poisonous gas. It is the young men and women of my age who will be commanded to commit suicide. It is my generation which will be requested to destroy the best of human culture, perhaps civilization itself, for causes which future historians will discover to be erroneous, if not utterly stupid or actually vicious. We have thus lost interest in being prepared for cannon fodder.

"In a sense, I am presenting an ultimatum, rather than a petition. For behind our deliberations stands staring down at us the spectre of Death. We desire to live and to live at peace. We desire to construct a world society providing freedom, equal opportunity, and a sense of security. We desire to make possible for every human being full development of personality in terms of the highest human and spiritual values we know."

DON'T CUT ADVERTISING NOW

"Advertising is the life blood of an institution if properly handled," believes Richard P. Chapman, successful mid-western independent retailer who has doubled his business during the past ten years in spite of chain-store competition.

Advertising should be the last expenditure cut and the first to be increased, is the advice that he gives in an article in The Rotarian magazine to merchants trying to meet present day conditions.

"This does not mean that all advertising is good," he declares. "Neither does it mean that any form of advertising will continue to produce in the future simply because it has produced in the past."

"In the careful consideration of all factors which affect the future of good business, the merchant can well afford to devote considerable time to the study of advertising. In many cases it has been used as a shovel to heave out unwanted goods instead of as a spoon to feed the customer desired merchandise."

"All types of advertising must be studied constantly in an effort to ascertain that which serves to best advantage in acquainting the store and its merchandise with the prospective customer in its trade territory."

"The amount to be spent," he continues, "should be determined as part of a fixed expense budget. Authorities vary as to the proper amount, but it generally runs from two to five per cent of sales. Once this amount is determined, it should not be arbitrarily spread over the entire year but kept liquid to take advantage of either increase or decrease in volume as the year progresses.

"Money available for advertising should be carefully fitted to the medium best suited both to the business and to the amount allotted. A program should then be laid out far enough in advance to permit the purchasing of merchandise and the correlating of it with advertising, the display windows, and the interior displays. If followed carefully, this plan gives advertising a real message and it will produce. Profits are made by advertising, but not all advertising is profitable." — Rotarian Magazine.

NATURE'S FARM RELIEF

Nature seems to have finally got about solving the wheat problem after these years of man's efforts. Lack of winter moisture in the southwest is largely responsible for present crop conditions which indicate a 1932 harvest of winter wheat 42 per cent below last year's. A small part of this estimated decline is due to reduced acreage.

Wheat growers in sections where the crop is backward may suffer rather than benefit, but agriculture as a whole will profit and through it business in general.

The nation as a whole is interested in the April report of crop conditions because it promises the elimination of the troublesome wheat surplus. Unless exceptionally good wheat weather follows the American crop will only meet domestic demands, leaving the farm board's surplus without home competition in foreign markets. Just that would take a heavy load off Uncle Sam's mind and pocketbook.

LEARN TO FORGET

A good memory is a blessing, but if it is too good, it is not a blessing. There are things we ought to remember, and other things that it is our duty to forget.

Train your mind to forget all cross words, all gossip, and slander, all unkind looks, and the invitation you did not get. Forget the seeming carelessness of those who love you; they are sometimes too busy or too troubled to do all you desire.

Forget unpleasant things. By carrying them in your mind, you make it a chamber of horrors. Do not allow the wreckage of a month or a year to fill your mind with mental junk.

Train your memory for good things only, and train your forgetfulness for things which do you harm. Bad memories hurt us. Memories of good things build us up.

Learn to forget what should be forgotten.

has not been a vote on state prohibition since 1912 when a wine and beer amendment was submitted and lost by 207,520. Then the people were so close to the old saloon days and knew so well the evils of the legalized liquor traffic it was easy to pile up this immense majority against even a modification of the prohibition act.

Not even the most ardent dry is satisfied with present observance and enforcement, but those who remember former conditions are sure that neither modification nor repeal will solve the problem.

Bishop William Lawrence of the Protestant Episcopal church offers the following solution which is at least worth a trial. He says: "I have done one simple, but not altogether easy thing. I have stopped drinking. If I do not drink, and you do not drink, and other citizens do not drink, then there will be no bootlegging and there will be no liquor."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

Morning service, 10:45.
Subject, "Soul and Body."

Wednesday-evening at 7:45 first Wednesday of month only.

Reading room Tuesday and Saturday, 3:00 to 5:00 p. m.

The public is cordially invited to all services.

"Mortals and Immortals" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, May 15.

Among the Bible citations was this passage (Rom. 8:10): "And if Christ be in you, the body is dead because of sin; but the Spirit is life because of righteousness."

Correlative passages read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, included the following (p.265): "The senses represent birth as untimely and death as irresistible, as if man were a weed growing apace or a flower withered by the sun and nipped by untimely frosts; but this is true only of a mortal, not of a man in God's image and likeness."

ATWOOD CHURCH PARSONAGE BURNED SUNDAY NIGHT

According to information received here Monday morning, the Holland church parsonage and an adjoining barn at Atwood, were destroyed by fire Sunday night. It is thought the blaze started from burning rubbish near by. A volunteer corps of fire-fighters saved other nearby buildings from destruction.

CAMP CHARLEVOIX ANNOUNCES PLANS

PREPARATIONS FOR SEASON ARE IN FULL PROGRESS

Provisions for "Day Campers" Are Made Known by Director Lewis C. Reimann of Ann Arbor

"Camp Charlevoix has made provision to take boys who summer at Charlevoix as 'Day Campers' this season," according to an announcement by Lewis C. Reimann, director.

By this plan it will be possible for these boys to have the benefits of camp life, supervised recreation and training. They will participate in all activities of the camp, including swimming, sailing, boating, horseback riding, handicraft, woodcraft, dramatics, and all land and water sports.

A new department of metalcraft is being introduced this summer under the direction of O. F. Heft, manual training director at the Mackenzie high school of Detroit. The boys will be taught to make articles of pewter, brass, bronze and copper. Wendall Gates of the Cleveland high school of Arts, will introduce sculpturing, and will produce marionette plays with the boys. They will build their own theatre and make their own puppets. They will write their own plays as well as produce them.

The camp will have a staff of college graduates directing the activities. Practically the entire staff of last year is returning. Charles E. Hendry of the University of Chicago, one of the best known camp men in North America, will again be director of activities and personnel.

The "Day Campers" will be called for each morning. They will spend the entire day at the camp, and will return for dinner in the evening. Many boys are expected to enroll in this way.

Preparations for the summer season are going ahead at the camp under the direction of Ernest Reimann, the caretaker, who makes his home there the year around. Many improvements, which are a part of the gradual program of growth mapped out at the beginning by Director Reimann, have been completed and still others are contemplated, to make Camp Charlevoix the most complete institution of its kind in the country.

ANNUAL JUNIOR HOP A COLORFUL AFFAIR

Over Two Hundred Couples Enjoyed Party Last Friday Evening

Another Charlevoix J-Hop has passed into history as a successful climax to the social activities of the year for school students.

Over two hundred couples were guests of the junior class at the Belvedere casino last Friday evening. Much time and effort was represented in the beautiful decorations, carried out in blue and white and depicting a garden scene. A profusion of flowers lent color to the casino.

The Cherry Land orchestra from Traverse City furnished music and provided several specialty numbers.

PAVE NORTH PART TRUNK LINE FIRST

WORK WILL COMMENCE AT BELVEDERE AVENUE

Original Grade Cut of Ten Inches Reduced to Six at Request of Group of Property Owners

Two changes in previous plans for paving of U. S. 31 on South Bridge street have been made within the past few days to the benefit of abutting property owners.

After considerable effort on the part of city officials and M. Baumann, the contractor, approval has been given by the state highway department of a plan to start paving operations at the intersection of Belvedere avenue and Bridge street.

According to information contained in a recent letter from Mr. Baumann to Mayor Arthur Bergeson, plans now call for work on the center 20 feet of paving to start at the point above mentioned and continue south to Carpenter avenue. When this work is completed, laying the side strips will be done next, starting again at Belvedere avenue and working south. Paving of the stretch from Carpenter avenue will then be started and completed to a point within a few hundred feet of the Newaygo Portland Cement Co. railroad crossing, at which point machinery will be shut down and tearing up of pavement at the city limits started. By following this plan, it has been pointed out that little or no inconvenience will be caused to motorists, and that the city portion of the project will be completed first. It is estimated motorists may drive on the new concrete within ten days after paving at the "Four Corners" is torn up.

The other change in plans resulted from a bearing Tuesday afternoon between state highway department engineers and a group of South Bridge street property owners, protesting cutting the grade a depth of 10 inches. A compromise set the cut at six inches. If former plans had been carried out, all street intersections and sidewalks from the top of Bridge street hill south for several blocks would have had to be rebuilt at city expense to conform with the new grade.

Apparent dissatisfaction with an ordinance prohibiting construction of oil stations and garages on South Bridge street has prompted a request to the council to rescind the ordinance. A public hearing on the matter has been called for Monday, June 13th.

TWO ROOF FIRES RESULT IN $400 DAMAGE

Chimney Sparks Caused Blazes at Hammond and Miller Residences

Damage estimated at $400 was caused by two roof fires in the past week.

The most serious of the two was at the Earl Miller residence on Clinton street Tuesday forenoon. Fire starting from chimney sparks ate its way into the attic, causing damage estimated at $300. The fire at the Hammond residence, 209 Dixon avenue, occurred Saturday forenoon.

Was it insured? Was the coverage, if any, in a strong, reliable stock company? It will pay you to go over your belongings and property and check up on values. Be sure your fire insurance is sufficient to take care of any fire loss. The Walker Miles Agency will be glad to be of service to you at any time.—Adv. 2111.

NEW LOW TRAIN RATES OFFERED

PERE MARQUETTE SUMMER SCHEDULE NOW IN EFFECT

First Resort Special on Chicago Division June 11—Reduced Rates Offered Over Week End

In accordance with their usual custom, the Pere Marquette Railway company, which serves Charlevoix and other Northern Michigan resorts, has placed in operation a scale of reduced passenger rates to stimulate resort travel into this region.

Special rates went into effect about May 15th and will be continued throughout the summer.

From Chicago, a special 30-day round trip ticket is issued for $18.05, and a season round trip ticket, good for any time during the early spring, summer and early fall months, for $21.65.

On the Detroit division, which this year will be routed through Grand Rapids to connect with the Chicago train, instead of operating a separate train through Baldwin, the 30-day round trip comes to $15.30, and the season ticket at $18.31. These bargain fares are only a trifle higher than the ordinary one-way fares, and give impetus to an increase of tourist traffic into Northern Michigan resorts.

Another special excursion for Memorial day travellers, is being offered over the coming week end.

The rate quoted is three-fourths the regular one-way fare from Northern Michigan points to Chicago, Detroit, in fact, almost any point throughout the middle western states. The fare from Charlevoix to Chicago and return is $10.15. Purchasers of these special excursion tickets, must be aboard a train on their return trip by midnight of June 1st.

Advance information regarding inauguration of the regular resort special trains on the Chicago and Detroit divisions has been received by Station Agent B. Nickerson. The first run on the Chicago division arrived at Charlevoix on June 11th. The remainder of the schedule is not yet available.

The 1932 edition of the attractive Pere Marquette Railway Company folder, giving a pictorial account of the attractions offered by Northern Michigan summer resort centers, has recently been placed in circulation.

SKELETON OF WOMAN UNCOVERED ON BEACH

Youths Discovered Bleached Bones in Sand Near Inwood Creek Mouth

A human skeleton, identified by a string of beads as that of a woman, was found Wednesday in the sand on Lake Michigan beach near the mouth of Inwood creek, a mile north of Fisherman's island.

Coroner F. P. McMillan, who was called together with Sheriff Dave Vaughan after the discovery, judged the skeleton to be twenty-five years old or more, presumably the victim of some fake tragedy or of an Indian woman. There was no evidence of foul play.

The skull, with all teeth intact, is being held by local officers for identification purposes in case of inquiries. The discovery was made by sons of Sam Pavalik, Norwood township farmer.

CAMPAIGN TO HALT BLISTER RUST SET

AGENT U. S. DEPARTMENT AGRICULTURE HERE ON JOB

Cooperation of White Pine Owners Asked in Removal of Black Currant and Gooseberry Bushes

An agent from the U. S. department of agriculture, cooperating with the state department of agriculture, is about ready to start work in this county on the control of White Pine blister rust.

This is a fungus disease (not a worm) which lives only on the inner bark of white pine trees and in the leaves of currant and gooseberry bushes. As this disease cannot spread from white pine to white pine tree and requires the currant and gooseberry bush to complete its life cycle, the rust can be checked by the removal of the currant and gooseberry bushes. Of all the currants and gooseberries growing the cultivated European black currant is considered the most susceptible of blister rust, so the removal of this so-called black currant is the first important step toward the protection of white pine in this county.

To insure complete protection to white pine from blister rust after the cultivated European black currants have been removed, it will be necessary to up-root all currant and gooseberry bushes, both wild and cultivated, within the white pine stand and also within an area embraced by a 900-foot radius drawn from the edge of the pine. This protection service is available to all white pine owners and those interested in growing white pine. All the department asks for is cooperation of the pine owner to assist in the removal of the currant and gooseberry bushes. An agent will gladly inspect anyone's premises and make recommendations as to how this work should be carried on.

For further information, get in touch with the information bureau, Charlevoix Association of Commerce, or the agricultural agent at Boyne City.

When PAIN Comes

WHAT many people call indigestion very often means excess acid in the stomach. The stomach nerves have been over-stimulated, and food sour. The corrective is an alkali, which neutralizes the acids instantly. And the best alkali known to medical science is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. One spoonful of this harmless, tasteless alkali in water neutralizes instantly many times that much acid, and the symptoms disappear at once. You will never use crude methods when once you learn the efficiency of this. Go, get a small bottle to try. Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drug store.

KID: THE ART OF SWALLOWING A PIECE OF GUM

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS

By B. C. Mellencamp

Potato Demonstration Plots Being Conducted

Two potato demonstration plots were outlined last week and under headway at the farm of Charles Reidel, Boyne City. One of the plots will be a variety test to show the relative merits of three varieties, russet rural, white rural and green mountain. The last two named are white skinned potatoes and this experiment should indicate whether or not there is any particular advantage in raising these two varieties.

For the past several years there has been considerable controversy over the russet rural potato. Many people believe that its days are ended and that Michigan potato producers must select a new variety. It will be very interesting to see what the differences are between these three varieties.

The other experiment will be to show the effect of different planting dates on the quality and yield. This experiment is on russet rural potatoes only and will include three different dates of planting, the first date being May 20, second date, about the first of June, and the third date, the middle of June. Many times the total yield in bushels is not quite so important as the yield of No. 1 potatoes. Last year with something like 50 experiments in the state, it was found that the early planted potatoes yielded the largest number of No. 1. This was in spite of the extremely dry weather that we had.

Any person interested in the development of these two plots is welcome to stop at the home of Charles Reidel and visit them. The plots are just west of the house and therefore very convenient to inspect.

After satisfactorily completing the largest winter club program in the county, the boys and girls are now becoming interested in the summer program.

These projects include potato, bean and corn clubs in the way of farm crops and the dairy calf club activity in the way of livestock for the boys and the canning club program for the girls. While it is entirely too early to announce the number of members in the above projects, we are practically assured of having at least two potato clubs, two bean clubs, one corn club, three calf clubs and eight or nine canning clubs.

UNCLE SAM AS A PRINTER

Why should Uncle Sam sell a commodity or service such as printing in competition with local privately owned, tax-paying printing plants?

Why should 15,000 post offices be used as order takers for a service that is not an essential function of the post office department or a necessary service in handling the mails?

The reason for raising these questions is that Uncle Sam offers to print return cards on stamped envelopes. With a "local dealer," or sales agency in the United States post office located in every center of population in the land Uncle Sam does a volume of printing business at a ridiculously low price. The orders for printed stamped envelopes total a billion and a half a year—over 4,000,000 for each of the 365 days in the year!

The purchasers of this service offered by Uncle Sam are not the "common people," some of whom address letters improperly and thereby contribute to the cost of maintaining the dead letter office. Banks, retail merchants, professional men, manufacturers, the public schools, colleges, fraternal organizations—all dependent upon prosperous towns, home trade, local pay rolls, taxpayers able to pay their taxes—these constitute the customers who take advantage of Uncle Sam's bargain price on printed envelopes.

If it's O. K. for Uncle Sam to sell printing why not extend a good thing and insist that he add to his line and thus serve a much larger number of post office patrons? Why not add a grocer's apron to the printer's apron Uncle Sam now wears? Why not sell breakfast food, evaporated milk, butter, shoes, drugs, dry goods, clothing, et cetera, over the post office counter?

Unless Uncle Sam quits the printing business, printers should obtain signatures from post office patrons to a petition demanding that the post office department sell not only printing—that accommodates only a limited number of customers—but other products. Think of the saving in price that would be possible through enormous volume and frequent turnovers! And Uncle Sam is lucky; he doesn't have to pay taxes!

PLANT A GARDEN

Are you contemplating planting a home garden? Better do so, even though you have not a garden spot around your home. It will not be so difficult to obtain a garden spot near you, and get it and work it, and make an honest and honorable effort to keep the wolf from the door. It is quite possible that none of us have come to realize just what hard times are. They might be ahead, because what is there to stimulate business and industry, give employment and bring back the necessary wage to keep the family fed and clothed. A garden can be made to keep you during the summer and feed the family during the winter. Will you turn back and provide for yourself as did your father and mother or will you leave it up to the more fortunate to keep you. The people that are scraping up the tax money to help pay for the support of the so called poor can't continue that much longer.

LAW FOR AUTOMOBILISTS

Effectual statutory regulations of motor vehicle traffic is admittedly a difficult problem. But as it engages the attention of lawmakers and the public in virtually all states it may be assumed that in time a satisfactory solution will be found. One recent suggestion is that the federal government take over the general control of automobile operation, paying to the several states their due proportion of fees collected based on the number of machines owned within their respective borders.

It is argued that touring and the reciprocal recognition of one state's license by other states makes the automobile an interstate vehicle and that congress therefore reasonably may assume jurisdiction over them all. Whatever merit there may be in this, it is outweighed by other considerations. Further extension of federal jurisdiction over matters that are peculiarly within the police powers of the states is undesirable. But the most serious objection is that there is no ground for belief that congress is capable of making more satisfactory regulations for the country as a whole than the states can make each one for itself.

The law that will be truly protective must have for its object preventing unqualified persons from operating automobiles. Is it impossible to draft such a measure?

THE FERRY RATES

Possibly a lower, but not a cancellation of the ferry charge. That is the opinion and recommendation of Grover C. Dillman, state highway commissioner, responding to the recent request of the U. P. Development Bureau for free ferry service at the straits of Mackinac. There are arguments pro and con, but The Delta Reporter believes that Mr. Dillman's recommendation will meet with general approval in both peninsulas.

At the present time the state admits making a net profit of about $1 per car. It had an investment of $1,337,000. Free service would make the service rather costly, and might even make necessary an expansion in the facilities beyond reasonable demands. On the other hand it is inconsistent for the state to make a profit on the motorists who must cross the straits, while at the same time provides expensive concrete highways in the rest of the state. The ferry service is a part of the highway system. It should not expect a profit.—The Delta Reporter.

CUT THE EXPENSE

We often consider the debt-ridden condition of foreign countries and pat ourselves on the back because the United States is not in the same boat. But if the trend of recent years continues, it won't be long until we are.

In 1900 the per capita cost of the federal government was $7.29, and it increased 10 per cent in the next 16 years. In 1931, the per capita cost was $34.37, an increase of 500 per cent in 15 years. According to a treasury estimate, the combined deficits of 1931, 1932 and 1933 will increase the federal debt by the neat sum of $3,250,000,000, bringing the total debt to the staggering total of $19,240,000,000.

The condition of the states is even gloomier—while federal expenditures were increasing 730 per cent between 1903 and 1928, the states were more reckless yet, with a 900 per cent increase. Every family in the country is saddled with a government debt of $1,000!

The thoughtful citizen will wonder if we are not approaching a tax crisis—a point beyond which we cannot pay. And he is liable to come to the conclusion that the progress of the country demands government retrenchment and economy, not in a vague future, but right now.

INVEST THOSE IDLE DOLLARS

How many hidden dollars are there in Charlevoix county?

Well, no one knows exactly how much is put away in the mantle clock under the mattress or out under the old apple tree. It is certain, however, that there is plenty of idle money right here in Charlevoix county to make business hum if it were only put back into circulation.

The campaign to put idle money back into circulation is nation-wide in scope. It is the patriotic duty of every American citizen to assist in this great movement to restore prosperity. Now that business is on the upgrade, people can unlock their safety deposit boxes and invest their money with a feeling of assurance. Your dollars can be made to earn returns for yourself and you will be helping your county to get back on its feet.

STOCK MANIPULATORS

As a young man was leaving home to make his way in the world the mother told him, "Poor people cannot afford to lie or steal." This truth is emphasized as one reads the testimony now being taken before the senate banking committee on the back curtain operations of stock manipulators.—Charlotte Republican Tribune.

"OLD GLORY"

Decoration day will soon be along and with it the usual display of the flag and playing of our national anthem, "The Star Spangled Banner," and—sad to relate—the usual apathy of a certain percentage of the public towards the display of the flag and the singing or playing of "The Star Spangled Banner." By this I mean men who will stand with their hats on and perhaps smoking, when the flag is carried by in the parade, or the national anthem is being played or sung. The schools are doing good work in teaching respect and reverence for the flag. The members of the American Legion and the Auxiliary, the Relief Corps and the Boy Scouts are all trying to show, both by precept and example, what the flag means to them, but there are still quite a considerable number of men and women to whom the flag of our country is nothing more than a bit of colored bunting. Perhaps these same people consider themselves good American citizens. In the majority of cases it is ignorance of what constitutes proper flag etiquette. A few years ago a man in Iowa was found washing his car with an old flag. When remonstrated with for this piece of gross sacrilege, he said: "Why, it is nothing but an old rag." After he had spent six months in jail for the offense, he decided that the flag was much more than an old dirty rag. At this point, let me say something about disposing of old, worn or discolored flags. They should be wrapped in a bundle and privately burned. A flag is bound to get worn and soiled, and it is a disrespect to the flag to display it when it is obviously unsightly, unless it has some special historic significance. It is the duty of each loyal patriotic American citizen to show proper respect for the flag at all times, and teach others who may err through ignorance, to do the same. When the flag is carried by in a parade, a man should remove his hat and if he is smoking, his cigarette, cigar or pipe, and turn facing the flag. He should refrain from conversation until the flag has passed him. A former soldier may stand at salute or remove his hat, but a man in uniform would of course stand at salute. Ladies are only asked to stand at attention. They may, if they wish, place the right hand over the left breast. The same rule should prevail during the playing or singing of the national anthem. If seated, all should rise and stand at attention until the music ceases. This should apply to the playing or singing of the anthem over the radio or victrola. Do not be afraid to stand up and show that you are a loyal American citizen.

Try, if you can, to visualize the conditions under which Francis Scott Key wrote the song during the bombardment of Fort Mifflin, during the war of 1812. We remember what a flood of emotion swept over us when we saw in a glass case in Washington, this same old flag that inspired Key to write this immortal song. We like to visualize in our mind's eye, the scene when Washington and some of his staff were giving Betsy Ross directions for making the first Star Spangled Banner. Washington's plan was to have the top and bottom stripes white, but Betsy Ross, with her quick woman's intuition, showed the top and bottom stripes should be red, because they would not stain so readily. The old Betsy Ross cottage still stands in the heart of the business district of Philadelphia, surrounded by towering office buildings, a shrine for all loyal Americans to visit. We like to visit the flag section of the capitol building at Lansing and see the old flags which have inspired and led Michigan soldiers through the Civil war, the Spanish American war, and the World war. These flags are all there, hermetically sealed in glass cases, for future generations to revere. Perhaps the writer has a bit more regard for the flag than the average person because, during the Spanish American war, he acted as color sergeant for a number of months in a Michigan regiment.

The flag is more than a colored bit of bunting mounted on a staff. It is the symbol of a great country. It is the personification of that country. Think of the thousands of men who have given their lives that our flag might not trail in the dust of dishonor, and may each one of us make a solemn vow never to treat it with anything but the respect and honor due it. It is the most beautiful combination of color and design of any national emblem. It is a tradition in the army never to let the flag touch the ground. Let us do the same with our individual flags. It is a beautiful and inspiring sight at any army post to watch the ceremony of lowering the flag at sundown. The garrison is drawn up in formation, the men standing at "parade rest." The three inch gun near the base of the flag pole is fired. As its reverberations die away, the band starts to play "The Star Spangled Banner." The flag is slowly lowered from the mast, being timed to reach the arms of the soldier at the bottom just as the music ceases. It is carefully folded, never touching the ground, and the ceremony is over. Soldiers who are not in formation stand at salute until the last strain of the music is over. It is a fitting ceremony and one that will leave an impression on every beholder.

TANDEM "BIKE" BOYS ARE RETURNING HOME

Head for Lansing with Message to Brucker from Oregon Governor

Riding a "bicycle built for two," Bellaire's two boys, Royal and Carl Akins, are returning from a trip to the Pacific coast, according to word received last week.

The tandem bicycle is a novelty. These boys labeled their "bike" the "Boys of Yesteryear," and started on a journey to see the United States, eventually finding themselves on the Pacific coast.

Expenses of the trip were made by performances at local theatres and by selections on their musical saw. Both boys have good voices that "take" well. Coupled with the antique in bicycledom they sing songs of the gay '90's when the bicycles were a fashionable means of locomotion.

The Akins will head for Lansing on re-entering their home state bearing with them a message from the governor of Oregon for the governor of Michigan. They will come to the Grand Traverse region in time for the annual Cherry Festival.

Monday, June 1st, is the date when Dr. Leahy, the Optometrist, will be at the Hotel Charlevoix. Hours from 9 to 5.—Adv. 2012.

CAMP DAGGETT IN- VITES PATRONAGE

OFFERS OUTING FOR BOYS AND GIRLS OF REGION

Summer Season Opens June 13th and Continues Through August
With Supervised Program

Every Charlevoix county boy and girl should have an opportunity to attend Camp Daggett on Walloon lake, maintained by the Potoskey Kiwanis and Rotary clubs.

Founded several years ago through gifts from the Daggett estate, the two Potoskey service clubs and individuals, Camp Daggett offers a delightful summer outing for young people under christian leadership, and in an environment that builds healthy minds and bodies.

A well-rounded program of outdoor life is followed at the camp, with instruction in swimming, life-saving, rowing, baseball, volleyball and other sports. There are overnight hikes, during which the young people can study nature and learn of Michigan's out-of-doors. Chapel meetings are held each morning and the young campers hear inspirational talks. Good citizenship and christian living are stressed in every department of the camp routine.

Young people learn good sportsmanship; they learn how to get along with their companions and leaders. The program of outdoor activities builds strong bodies. Traits of leadership are developed. Every young person who spends a session at the camp goes away better equipped to take his place in society.

The camp fee is placed at a low figure to enable the largest possible number of boys and girls to attend. The camp is not self-supporting. Were it not for endowments the camp could not be maintained, with the prevailing low admission fee.

Two camping periods for boys and two for girls are definitely arranged for this summer, and if there is a demand a third period for boys will be conducted.

The schedule for the 1932 season is as follows:

Boys, 12 to 18 years old, June 13-25.
Girls, 12 to 18 years old, June 12 to July 9.
Girls, 9 to 16 years old, July 11-23.
Boys, 9 to 16 years old, July 25 to August 6.
Boys, 9 to 16 years old, August 8-20.

W. J. MacMillan, camp director, is a sincere christian man, with a background of wide experience in conducting summer camps for young people. Parents can feel safe entrusting their children to his care and supervision.

SCHOOL CENSUS LISTS CRIPPLED CHILDREN

Opens Way for Unfortunates to Take Advantage of State Aid

Enumeration of the school census this year will have a new feature in the listing of all crippled children and will open a way for these young people to secure state medical aid through the University of Michigan hospital.

An act of the 1931 legislature placed the taking of the school census in the hands of the county school commissioner. The state has made an appropriation of $1,250,000 a year for medical treatment of indigent children. A special blank is furnished all census enumerators for the listing of all crippled children in their territory.

As soon as this report is completed, trained workers will take the list of crippled children and investigate each case in an effort to help the parents to secure medical aid.

Our idea of inferiority complex is the feeling you get when your ten-year-old wakes up to the fact that you are not the smartest man in the world.

My friends say it's marvelous the way I reduced."

To lose fat SAFELY and HARMLESSLY, take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—don't miss a morning—a bottle that lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle—but don't take chances—be sure it's Kruschen. J-Hop

The J-Hop has come and gone! For weeks before everyone was eagerly anticipating this crowning event of the school year, and, for weeks to come all will be dreaming of it.

A scene of great beauty greeted the eyes of the guests. The casino had been transformed into an old-fashioned garden, with a rustic well at one end. Gayly colored flowers bloomed everywhere under shaded lights, and the dainty gowns which the girls had taken such care in selecting made the picture complete.

Miss Anderson and the committees from the junior class should be congratulated for the great success of the '32 Hop.

Drama Club

Six of the members of the high school drama club will graduate next week. They are Esther Brady, Stanley Cartier, Eberdean LaBlanc, Gladys McGarrison, Lila McMillan and Dan Geait. All of these students have helped give entertainment to others by their work in the club.

Esther Brady was in the junior play last year, and she played in "Quality Street" given by the drama club this year, also the senior play.

Stanley Cartier was in "Quality Street," aided in several one-act plays this year, and was one of the managers of the senior play.

Eberdean LaBlanc was in the junior play last year and played the "wife" in "Where But in America," a one-act play.

Gladys McGarrison and Lila McMillan have both helped with drama club plays, "Quality Street," Gladys also had a lead in last year's junior play and served as one of the stage managers in "Two Girls Wanted."

Dan Geait was one of the twines in "The Goose Hangs High," last year and he had the leading man's part in "Two Girls Wanted," this year's senior play.

Though these valued seniors are leaving there is a fine peppy bunch of juniors left to begin next year's work, and from the talent showed in the one-act plays presented by the sophomores on Wednesday evening, it is expected some new talent will be added.

The county eighth grade commencement is to be held at Charlevoix in the gymnasium Friday evening, June 3rd.

The Charlevoix girls' glee club and the band will furnish the music. The speech will be given by Supt. Bush. This is the first eighth grade county commencement which has ever been held in this county.

Thursday, May 26th, Supt. Gerald F. Bush will deliver the commencement address at Boyne Falls.

This week two speakers are to address the Charlevoix high school and junior high. One, on Tuesday, May 24, at 3:15 o'clock, R. W. Clark of Alma college. This had been arranged by "Dad" Angel, acting district Y. M. C. A. secretary. The other is Corporal Sullivan of the Michigan State police, Grand Haven, Michigan, who will speak to the schools on Thursday, May 26. His subject is "Traffic."

On the evening of Monday, May 30, the combined bands of Charlevoix, school and city, will hold the crowning concert of the year in the gymnasium.

The program for Decoration day this year is under the auspices of the Legion. The parade is to start at 10 o'clock at the corner of Bridge and Park and proceed directly to the cemetery where the band will play and the school children will sing.

Semester examinations begin Tuesday, May 31. The schedule is the same for both senior and junior high.

Junior High Achievement Day

The junior high achievement day held on the afternoon of May 18th, attracted a very appreciative audience. The program presented displayed not only splendid talent, but also showed that our educational system is successfully endeavoring to develop qualities of leadership and individual responsibility in our growing citizens.

Eighth Grade Party

In the final event of the junior high school social season, the eighth grade met in the gymnasium for an evening of games and fun.

Refreshments, consisting of ice cream, cake and lemonade served most satisfactorily as a climax for the evening.

This was the sixth of a series of parties arranged by the officers and sponsors of the three classes.

The presence of Miss French, Mr. Rider, Mr. Weisenburger and Mr. Biagham was greatly appreciated.

COUNTY NORMAL NEWS

The alumni banquet was as successful and happy an event as predicted. True loyal normal spirit prevailed throughout the evening's activities. First honor in attendance goes to the class of 1904—the first graduating class which was represented by Mrs. Kittie Eastcott Black.

Second honors should be awarded to the class of 1931, which was represented 75 per cent. Among guests were included Mrs. E. Edwards, a former critic, Mrs. Saltoastall, Mrs. Hiller, Miss Atkinson and Supt. Bush. If each of the forty-three present come again next year and bring another who wasn't—it may be delightfully necessary to charter a larger dining room. Let's hope so. Officers for the coming year are: president, Miss Ruth Matchett; vice president, Mrs. Arthur Edwards; secretary and treasurer, Miss Beatrice Straw.

As the year is drawing to a close, so the work in the normal shows signs of completion. Among final examinations appear: projects, original stories, speeches appropriate for various occasions, book reviews, etc.

The Farmers' Institute sponsored by the Misses Manley and Behltag, was enjoyed by all. The trip to the Northern Creamery, through the courtesy of the officials, was most delightful and instructive.

The class proved to be real lumberjacks at the lumberjack party at the Moran cottage, where Mr. Moran and Mr. Coulter acted as ideal lumberjack hosts.

Miss Esther Case entertained Mrs. Dick and Miss Bigge at a six o'clock dinner Tuesday afternoon.

"TOO FAR? NO! Only 146,000 miles to date"

"I guess I've gone too far now not to know what is good for my motor," Hugh Orchard of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, tells R. J. Casey. "My first Willys-Knight cost $5,000 miles. This one has gone 61,000 to date."

An Interview by
ROBERT J. CASEY
Chicago Daily News Reporter

HUGH ORCHARD, Chamber Manager at Cedar Rapids, Iowa, has driven two Willys-Knight cars a total of 146,000 miles.

In front of the War Memorial on a day that was none too warm he pushed the starter to show that the motor was not congealed and directed the reporter to look at his speedometer.

"This is my second Willys-Knight car," he said.

"I started to use Iso-Vis in my first car because it seemed to me that an oil that wouldn't thin out was just what a sleeve valve motor needed. I kept on using it because it did just what I expected of it. My oil consumption is lower and the engine runs more smoothly."

Mr. Orchard's 146,000 trouble-free miles prove again what Iso-Vis has demonstrated in laboratory tests and in A.A.A. tests on the Indianapolis Speedway—Positive Lubrication Protection. Iso-Vis (a Standard Oil product) will not thin out from dilution. See the Buell and Bottle Test of Standard Oil service stations and dealers.

Sylvia Sidney Seen in Leading Feminine Role

Sylvia Sidney, the New York-born and raised actress who distinguished herself in films so auspiciously in "An American Tragedy" and "Ladies of the Big House," comes to the Palace theatre in her newest part, that of the confidence crook's girl friend in "The Miracle Man," Saturday and Sunday.

This is the part which brought immortal fame to Betty Compson in the original silent screen version of the same play in 1919. In that production, Thomas Meighan was the smooth crook, and Lon Chaney was "The Frog"—a fake paralytic.

In the new, modernized version with Miss Sidney, Chester Morris is the crook, and John Wray is the fakir.

Norman McLeod, maker of "Touchdown," directed, from the talkie version written by Waldemar Young.

Others in the cast are Irving Pichel, Robert Coogan, and Hobart Bosworth.

"Cheaters At Play" Has Shipboard Rackets

On the smoking room wall of practically every ocean liner is a significant placard: "Beware of Professional Gamblers." In their efforts to protect their passengers from the fraudulent activities of sharpers, steamship companies and ships' officers have waged a silent warfare for years, yet the losses of trusting travelers continue.

In "Cheaters at Play," the Fox Films feature Wednesday and Thursday at the Palace theatre, the activities of various international crooks on shipboard and their efforts to gain possession of a string of priceless emeralds form the basis of the exciting plot.

Thomas Meighan, Charlotte Greenwood, Barbara Weeks and William Bakewell head the cast of "Cheaters at Play," which Hamilton MacFadden directed from the novel by Louis Joseph Vance, with Malcolm Stuart Boylan writing the screen play.

SUMMER RESIDENT PROTESTS LICENSE

SAYS NON-RESIDENT ANGLER FEE IS UNJUST

James I. Dissette Says Michigan May As Well Close Auto Camps If Present Fee Is Continued

James I. Dissette, well known Belvedere Club summer resident, has voiced a warranted protest against the present Michigan non-resident fishing license law, in a recent letter to Emerson W. Price.

Mr. Dissette's letter, in part, follows:

"There is one thing the Courier says that holds my attention—not because it will effect me this season, but because of the very bad effect it may have on summer tourists. In the last issue it said that before the summer visitor may dangle a line in the water from dock or boat, he must first secure a $4 license, regardless of the variety of fish he may be after. If this is enforced, they might as well close up most of the auto camps; they might as well save a large part of the money they are spending in expensive advertising and circularizing this section of the country for summer visitors. In my judgment, if this unfriendly welcome becomes known, it will deter many from arranging their auto trips into Michigan. It is certainly a discordant note in the siren song they are singing in their efforts to swell the number of summer visitors."

Mr. Dissette's protest against the present law is well founded and deserving. In his own particular instance, and in that of many others, he owns a summer home in Michigan on which he pays taxes—much higher than a Michigan resident—yet he must pay $4 to fish, while the Michigan man gets by for $1.75. We fail to see any justice in such a law. We might go on to enumerate a hundred other out-staters owning cottages in Charlevoix who are in the same category.

On the other hand, the State of Michigan and numerous resort communities like Charlevoix are spending hundreds of thousands of dollars annually in advertising to increase tourist trade. One of the greatest attractions we have to offer is fishing, but when the outsider has been induced to come to Michigan we up and "sock" him a $4 license fee to enjoy perhaps one or two days of fishing. In case he brings the family along—and that is the common case—his license bill for fishing privileges would be prohibitive.

When the time comes that Michigan's legislature recognizes that the only just fishing law is a $1 general rod license, which discriminates against no one, we may go ahead with our efforts to entice tourists to our beautiful state without the unnecessary hindrance now confronting us.

CHILD HEALTH COMMITTEE MEETING THURSDAY

RECORD MACKINAW TROUT TAKEN IN LAKE MICHIGAN

The largest mackinaw trout caught in local waters this year was displayed last week at Staley Hardware Co. store.

Leonard Johnson and Jim Genia caught the monster fish off South Point in Lake Michigan. It weighed 19 3/4 pounds and was 36 inches in length. The same party landed a 16-pounder later in the week.

Mr. Staley will have the fish mounted for display purposes.

Mackinaw trout fishing, which was poor at the beginning of the season, has improved in the past week. Bernie Ward and a party landed eight fish ranging over 10 pounds Monday, and other parties have reported good catches.

CHARLEVOIX PAID TRIBUTE MONDAY

MEMORIAL DAY FITTINGLY OBSERVED WITH PROGRAM

Service at Memorial Park and Brookside Cemetery in Loving Tribute to Our War Dead

Charlevoix fittingly observed Memorial day, Monday. Ideal weather, despite threatening conditions in the early morning, served to heighten the spirit of those taking part in activities.

As previously outlined, the parade formed on Park avenue at 10 o'clock. Charlevoix city and school bands led the procession. They were followed by the Legion Auxiliary, the Legion bugle and drum corps, the veterans of former wars and school children on trucks.

The procession marched to city memorial park, where the Women's Relief Corps conducted a beautiful ritual and threw flowers in the water of Round lake in honor of those who died at sea in the nation's wars. Taps were blown to close the service.

Marching west on Antrim street and thence south on State street to Brookside cemetery, the procession gathered for the usual ceremonies, which were opened with the Legion buglers blowing "assembly." The invocation by Rev. W. H. Rauch preceded musical selections by the city band and the school chorus under the direction of Gwendolyn Miller. The Baxter Relief Corps conducted their ritualistic work and the Legion sextette sang a selection.

Rev. G. R. Parker of the Congregational church gave a brief but impressive address, which was followed by singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" by the assembly. Rev. W. W. Hurd closed the program with benediction after the floral tribute, salute to the dead and taps by the American Legion.

The day's observance was brought to a close in the evening at the school gymnasium with a patriotic band concert by the combined school and city bands. This program closed the year's work for the school organization and opened the summer concert season for the city band. A large gathering was present at the concert.

ADVANCED AND JUNIOR GROUPS COMPETED LAST WEEK

Solo Contest Winners Appeared in Enjoyable Recital at Auditorium Friday Evening

On Wednesday and Thursday, May 25 and 26, the band students of the public schools participated in a solo contest. The band was divided into a class "A" group, consisting of the advanced students, and a class "B" group consisting of the newer members of the band. The numbers used by the students were prepared by themselves. No introduction was given to assist them in any way.

The class "A" contest was judged by Mrs. Gerald F. Bush, Hugh Parker and Mr. Rider. The judges for the class "B" group were the winners of the class "A" contest; Carl Beattie, Warren Shapton and Marian Tyler. Due to illness Marian Tyler was unable to judge the class "B" contest, therefore Mr. Rider acted as the third judge.

The winners of these two groups are listed below:

FIFTY-ONE GRADUATED WEDNESDAY

EXERCISES FOR SENIORS AND NORMAL AT GYMNASIUM

Capacity Audience Present for Program and Address by Dr. Frederick B. Fisher, Ann Arbor

Charlevoix high school graduated a class of forty-one, the largest in the history of the school, Wednesday evening. Closing their school careers along with the senior class were ten graduates of Charlevoix county normal, whose commencement exercises were held jointly with those of the high school.

The program opened in the gymnasium at 8 o'clock with the processional march, "Power and Glory," by the school band. Following invocation by Rev. W. H. Rauch, Carl Beattie gave the salutatory. Miss Lila McMillan, who led her class in student honors, gave the valedictory. Both expressed appreciation to their parents and the city for providing them with such splendid educational facilities, and Miss McMillan gave the farewell to her class-mates. The vocal numbers, "In These Delightful Pleasant Groves," and "Ash Grove," by the high school mixed chorus, were delightful numbers.

In the principal address of the evening, Dr. Frederick B. Fisher, pastor of the First Methodist church, Ann Arbor, gave his famed talk on Mahatma Gandhi and India, where as a missionary just out of college, Dr. Fisher awarded the first graduation diploma to an Indian student. The speaker's main theme impressed upon the graduating classes and the large audience that not only the United States, but all nations, were great.

A piano concerto, an original composition by Miss Hilda Ogden, was a very beautiful number played by Miss Ogden and Esther Mary Atkinson, vocal music supervisor of local schools.

Wm. C. Palmer, county school commissioner, presented diplomas to the graduating normalites, and E. L. Dawson, president of the board of education, made a similar presentation to members of the senior class.

Benediction was pronounced by Rev. G. R. Parker, and the program closed with the recessional march, "Marche Romaine," by the school band.

Thus fifty-one youths of Charlevoix and vicinity brought to a close their days of study in local educational institutions and stepped out onto the threshold of a new life. To all the fruits of success have been well earned and one seeing the spirit of determination manifest in their youthful countenances could not help but feel that their future pursuits will meet with equal measure of reward.

CONSERVATION DEPARTMENT FURNISH CENSUS CARDS

Creel census cards through which fishermen are asked to make notations of the number of each species caught, the time spent fishing, the size of fish taken and similar information will be distributed by the fish-division of the conservation department this year.

The cards will be distributed by conservation officers, sportsmen and through chapters of the Izaak Walton League. Information from cards turned in last year is now being compiled by the Institute for Fisheries Research.

NEW RURAL MAIL SERVICE STARTED TUESDAY

Three Carriers Now Operating From City in Place of Four

A change in the rural mail delivery service out of Charlevoix went into effect Tuesday morning, May 31st.

Officially from now on, there will be no route No. 4, the designations being routes one, two and three. Harold Withers, formerly carrier on route 1, has been transferred to number three to fill the vacancy left by the death of Louie O. Sharrow. Earl Miller and Floyd Black, will be carriers on routes one and two, respectively. They have divided route one between them, and Miller, formerly on route four, now is carrier on route one, which has been combined with four.

Black's route now embraces 34.55 miles, and Miller's a fraction over 43 miles. It is understood that in the near future the route out of Bay Shore may be divided between Charlevoix, Petoskey and Boyne City.

INDIANS EVEN ON WEEK END SERIES

WON FROM EAST JORDAN, DROP CONTEST AT ELLSWORTH

Both Games Were Close—Ellsworth Comes Sunday for Initial Charlevoix-Antrim League Game

The Charlevoix Indians broke even in their series of week end ball games, winning 8 to 6 from East Jordan there Sunday afternoon, and losing 14 to 13 at Ellsworth Monday afternoon.

The Sunday game against the previously undefeated East Jordan team was a close and interesting contest. Both teams scored one run in the first and two in the second. Charlevoix went in front with one run in the 5th, but East Jordan took the lead with two in the 6th. The Indians put the game on ice with three runs in the 7th and another in the 8th, while holding the Jordanites to a single score in the 7th.

Amos John and Guy John were the Charlevoix battery. John struck out thirteen batters. Wilson caught for Jordan, and Gibbard and Peck divided the mound work.

The Memorial day contest at Ellsworth developed into a slug-fest. H. Elzinga connected with two and D. Yettaw one home run for Ellsworth, while Colby hit a circuit clout for Charlevoix.

The Indians went into the lead with three in the first to Ellsworth's two, but the Canner evened the count in the second by scoring two to Charlevoix's one. With the score 4-all, the Indians brought in six runs in the third and one in the fourth, against Ellsworth's three runs in the 4th, giving them a 11 to 8 lead. The winners more than evened the count with six tallies in the sixth inning, however, and added another in the 7th for their 14 runs. The best Charlevoix could do was two runs in a belated rally in the 8th which fell one short of tying the count.

Seydow pitched the first six innings for Charlevoix, and was relieved by Amos John in the sixth when Ellsworth pounded the Brutus hurler for six tallies. Tookolo caught for the Indians.

The Indians open their schedule in the newly-formed Charlevoix-Antrim League next Sunday afternoon at the North Side park against Ellsworth. This contest should be one of the best of the season. Both teams have won on their home diamond and will try to take the "rubber" contest.

LOCAL GIRL MARRIED HERE TUESDAY-NIGHT

Miss Doris Gleason Became Bride of Howard Taylor, Harbor Springs

The marriage of Miss Doris Gleason, daughter of Mrs. Maude Gleason, and sister of Mrs. R. T. Davis, and Howard Taylor, son of Charles Taylor of Harbor Springs, was solemnized Tuesday evening at the Baptist parsonage on Mason street.

Rev. W. H. Rauch officiated, using the ring ceremony. The bridal couple were attended by Miss Eberdean LaBlanc and Lloyd Taylor, the latter brother of the groom. The couple left immediately after the ceremony for Harbor Springs, where they will make their home.

Mrs. Taylor was a member of the 1931 graduating class of Charlevoix high school and has a host of local friends who will extend their congratulations.

LEGION PLANS FOR JULY 4TH PROGRAM

WILL AID CHARLEVOIX IN TRI-CITY CELEBRATION

State Convention Committee Active—Report On Results of Poppy Sales Was Gratifying

Preparations for the Fourth of July celebration in Charlevoix claimed the attention of Legionnaires of Leslie T. Shapton Post at their meeting Tuesday evening.

According to the agreement between the three cities of the county, it is Charlevoix's turn to celebrate this year and the affair will be sponsored by the Legion, with the City of Charlevoix assisting. For this purpose, a committee of the post membership, consisting of William Taylor, chairman, W. E. Goss and Neal Kemp was appointed by Commander Lee Allard to act jointly with the city council committee. Several different entertainment features were also discussed at this meeting.

The Legion committee on the 1933 state convention is functioning and letters will go out this week to district committeemen all over the state urging Charlevoix as the place of the convention and bespeaking the assistance of the committeemen to this end in their respective districts.

As regards the post's popular boxing bouts, it is likely that in the near future the ring will be moved out of doors and bleachers erected to take care of many more people than the hall has heretofore accommodated.

The local post has received an invitation to attend the convention of the ninth district, American Legion, at Traverse City on Sunday, June 12, 1933. This will be an excellent opportunity for Charlevoix to present her claims for the 1933 state convention to the delegates from that district. The post bugle and drum corps has been invited to participate in the parade, which is to occur at one o'clock p. m., Sunday. The business meeting is at 11 a. m., with a banquet at 2:30 p. m. at the Park Place hotel, following the parade. There will be other activities there on the evening of June 11th.

Members of the local Ladies Auxiliary of the Legion conducted the annual poppy sale very successfully and a net amount of about $38 was realized. This is an increase on last year's receipts, despite the prevailing hard times. Considering the amount paid for the poppies by the post, which goes to the veterans direct, about $53 was realized in all for welfare work.

NORTHERN LIBRARIANS MEET HERE NEXT WEEK

Annual Meeting June 7th, to Be Attended by Librarians of Region

The afternoon session will open at 2 o'clock with remarks by Gerald F. Bush. Miss Elizabeth Roman of Flint public library, will review some recent books of interest. This will be followed by a social hour.

Miss Constance Bement of the State library, Lansing, will be present, and possibly Mrs. Mary Frankhauser, State librarian.

While the meeting is of especial interest to librarians and board members, the public is cordially invited to attend, especially the afternoon session.

OXEN ARE ESSENTIAL ON BROWN CITY FARM

Oxen are still essential in the farming industry, John Sisson, owner of a 565-acre farm at Brown City believes. Sisson recently purchased a pair of the animals for his farm despite the fact that he had three teams and two tractors. They are Guernsey and Durham stock and weigh about 1,400 pounds each. "An yoke of oxen is unexcelled for breaking new land," Sisson said. "They are also useful for moving heavy loads which a team of horses cannot. They are needed on every large farm."

COUNTY RED CROSS GETS FREE FLOUR

Mrs. J. M. Harris, County Chairman, Explains Distribution

It is reported to me there is a misunderstanding about distribution of Red Cross flour, hence this statement. Congress, by resolution, authorized the distribution of 40,000,000 bushels of wheat by the Federal farm board, through the American National Red Cross, or other organizations authorized by the Red Cross.

This wheat is assigned to county Red Cross chapters and pro-rated on the basis of a barrel of flour for a family of five persons, for three months.

Charlevoix county Red Cross chapter, through its chairman, applied for its ratable amount. This can be had in wheat or flour and our assignment is in flour. A car load of 30,000 pounds was received May 10th.

The county chapter, designated the tri-post of the American Legion to receive and distribute the flour to those qualified by need to receive it.

A survey of needy families in the county was made through and with the aid of the supervisors of the several townships, and in cities, by the welfare committee of the several posts.

The flour was consigned to the county chairman at Boyne City, and the tri-post notified. The committee of the three posts consisting of Clarence Meggison of Charlevoix, Dr. B. J. Becker of East Jordan, and Howard Middleton of Boyne City, accepted and receipted for the flour to the Red Cross county chapter.

Based on the survey made, the flour was then apportioned among the three cities and several townships.

Each supervisor receiving his allotment, receipts to the Legion Post, and each person receiving flour receipts to the supervisor; and in the cities, to the several Legion posts distributing to the individuals as determined by the survey made.

The direction to the local chapter by the midwestern branch of Red Cross, is that no assignment of this flour is to be made to any organization supported by appropriation of public funds.

AUTO SAFETY DRIVE PLANNED FOR STATE

All Motorists Must Check Brakes and Lights This Summer

Plans for a statewide check on automobile safety equipment has been launched by the Michigan Safety and Traffic Directors' association of city and county traffic officials.

Meeting at the state police headquarters, the association fixed August 1st as the opening date of the campaign when all motorists will be warned to have their brakes and lights in condition. Beginning September 1st police officers will begin halting machines which do not carry "approved" stickers on windshield and after an initial warning arrests will begin.

Officers of the association stated that the drive will be the first one conducted in the state on a uniform basis.

STATE WILL HELP OUT FLYING FIELD

Beaver Island Is Selected for Emergency Airport of Michigan Chain

Financial assistance for five airports forming the final links of Michigan's chain of emergency landing fields from the state line to Marquette is being provided by the state board of aeronautics as a result of action taken at the board's meeting last week.

Aid is to be extended to Mackinaw City, Gaylord, Walsh, Munising and Three Lakes, Walsh and Three Lakes are new terminal fields. Marquette, the last link in the emergency chain, will probably be provided with an adequate airport through action of the board in instructing Major Floyd Evans to conduct surveys for a field there. Evans will also lay out surveys for an airport at Beaver island.

Charlevoix was chosen as the meeting place of the 1933 northern district Pythian Sister convention at the annual session held last Thursday at Traverse City.

ALL STATE PARKS WILL BE OPEN THIS SUMMER

Sufficient Funds for Operations Have Been Released

Sufficient funds have been provided to permit reopening of all of Michigan's state parks during the 1932 season, the parks division of the department of conservation has announced.

Thirteen of the parks are now open to the public and the rest of the parks will be open May 28th in time to accommodate the thousands who begin the camping and outdoor season with Memorial day.

A previous announcement that limited finances would necessitate the closing of several of the parks brought a flood of complaints to the department.

According to early attendance records the number of visitors during 1932 is expected to exceed all previous seasons.

MAKE TEST FLIGHTS WITH EASTPORT PLANE

Ship Built by Garage Man Taken Up by Petoskey Pilot

Last Tuesday afternoon a little bright red airplane took off from a small field on the shore of beautiful Torch lake and for a few minutes made its way cautiously in a circle over the little village of Eastport and surrounding territory.

This was a test flight of the Heath home-built plane which John Gregory, Eastport garage man, constructed during his few spare moments from his thriving little business the past thirteen months. Clark Traverse, licensed pilot, of Petoskey, was at the controls last Tuesday and made a fine take-off and landing, considering the condition of the field.

The plane, believed to be the first built in this section, has a 27 h. p. motor, a wing-spread of 25 feet, is equipped with wheels and also sleds for landing on the ice. Mr. Gregory assembled the entire plane with only blue-prints for assistance.

George Hopkins, of Hopkins Beach Resort, Eastport, and a flyer for the Stinson Co. of Detroit for many years, in discussing the splendid work of Mr. Gregory, states that the construction of the plane is better than one factory built, being stronger, in many ways. Mr. Traverse also commended Mr. Gregory upon his work.

It is probable that Mr. Gregory will now prepare a good landing place and apply for a license and Eastport will be still more proud to claim the "little red bird" and its pilot. The citizens of Eastport have been much interested in the building of the plane and anxiously awaited the test flight.—Central Lake Torch.

MICHIGAN STATE FAIR DATES ARE ANNOUNCED

Exposition to Be Held September 4 to 10 at Detroit

Organization this week of important sub-committees to handle the promotional details of the Michigan State fair and exposition at Detroit, September 4 to 10, opened the fair management's campaign to make the forthcoming exposition "bigger and better" in face of current conditions.

The meeting was held in conjunction with the Detroit advisory committee appointed a month ago by Gov. Wilbur M. Brucker. On the committee are more than 30 prominent Detroit business and industrial leaders including a large number of those whose yeoman efforts a year ago won Governor Brucker's frank praise this spring.

Agricultural participation equal to any in former years; an industrial section even larger than that in 1931 which set a new high mark for such displays at the fair; an attendance on a par with the largest in any previous year; the broadest advertising possible to include adjoining states and nearby sections of Canada; other factors, such as reduced rail transportation, to encourage visitors not only from nearby but remote points, were the features discussed and planned for at the meeting. The proposals considered will mark the most formidable promotional program in the state fair's history.

At an informal wedding Saturday morning, Miss Arelyne Supernaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Supernaw, was united in marriage to Stewart E. Coleman, for the past several years a member of the Charlevoix high school teaching staff.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. R. Parker at the Congregational parsonage on State street at 8 o'clock. The couple were attended by Miss Bonita Higman and "Bill" Supernaw, brother of the bride.

The happy couple left immediately after the ceremony on a short motor trip. Their departure was amid a storm of rice and confetti administered by their friends.

LONG ILLNESS ENDS IN DEATH OF LOCAL YOUTH

Floyd LaVern Rice Died Saturday—Buried Tuesday Afternoon

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence, 801 Grant street, for Floyd LaVern Rice, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Rice, who died at 7:20 a. m., Saturday, following an illness of several years.

Rev. W. W. Hurd of the Methodist church, officiated at the funeral, and interment was at Brookside cemetery.

Deceased was born April 23, 1915. He attended local schools and was in his freshman year when illness forced him to leave his studies. The first illness from scarlet fever resulted in heart trouble which ultimately caused his death.

Surviving besides the bereaved parents are a sister, Velma, and a brother, Emerson.

DANGER OF FIRE CURBED BY RAIN

Recent Showers Aid Farmers and Orchardists of Region

A general rainfall over the district temporarily removed menace of forest fires and conservation officers are again breathing normally.

Only one fire was reported in the district last Wednesday, a three quarter of an acre blaze east of Manistee and the rain should prevent other fires for the next few days.

The rain was badly needed in the orchards and on farms as well as in the forests. The pollenization season for the fruit blossoms was almost ideal but it is over and the rain should in no way interfere with the fertilization.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS

Interested friends will be glad to learn that Mrs. J. M. Clark, who recently underwent a major operation at the Charlevoix hospital, has returned to her home on the north side and is reported as recovering nicely.

Miss Arelyne Supernaw was guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower at the Supernaw home on West Huron avenue, Friday. Bridge was the entertaining feature of the evening. Guests included the Misses Mary Simmons, Fern Crandall, Edna Brown, Mary Adams, Francis Nowland, Bonita Higman, Clara Kelderhouse, Freda McMillan, Irene McCann, Angie Scott, Doris Solomon and Genevieve Supernaw and Messdames Wm. Supernaw, Miles Olmstead, Floyd Brown, John Nordrum, Walter Bergeon, Henry Buddy, Alfred Gill, Arthur Weststaff and Mrs. Harold Bedford of Grand Rapids.

Among the entries in the Ripley "Believe It or Not" contest being sponsored by the Grand Rapids Herald, was the following submitted by George L. Reid of Traverse City: "Believe It or Not," a man at Charlevoix, Mich., died twice. This man hauled rubbish from The Inn at Charlevoix and was thrown from his wagon on the curb. He was taken home and a doctor was called. The doctor pronounced him dead. Upon the undertaker's arrival, the man came to life, and shortly after died again. The first undertaker refused the job. This can be verified by A. I. Creamer, Southern Pines, N. C., who was manager of the Charlevoix Inn in 1917 and 1918." While this writer is not familiar with the incident mentioned, there are probably many local residents who will recall such a happening.

A group of Chinese boys were discussing the relative merits of the two billboards, one advertising Carnation milk and the other advertising Bull Durham. One of the boys was explaining the signs to the others in this way: "In America they have he cows and the cows. The she cows give milk and the he cows give tobacco."

Reduce the Acid

SICK stomachs, sour stomachs and indigestion usually mean excess acid. The stomach nerves are over-stimulated. Too much acid makes the stomach and intestines sour. Alkali kills acid gently. The best form is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia, because one harmless dose neutralizes many times its volume in acid. For 50 years thousands of physicians everywhere have taken a spoonful in water and your happy condition will probably be in five minutes. Then you will always know what to do. Crude and harmful methods will never appeal to you. Give this for your own sake. It may save a great many disagreeable hours. Go now to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians in correcting excess acid.

The CHARLEVOIX COURIER

OIL COMPANY BOOKLET CITES LOCAL BEAUTY

Resort Attractions Listed With Other Places in Michigan

The attractions of Charlevoix as a mecca for motor tourists are outlined in a booklet entitled "Places to Go" which the Standard Oil Company is distributing nowadays in hundreds of thousands from its service stations.

The booklet, written by John F. Roberts, compresses into forty-five narrow pages the high spots of interest about 624 of the outstanding points worth visiting in Colorado, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, North Dakota, South Dakota, Wisconsin, and Wyoming.

Concerning Charlevoix it notes, "U.S. 31 in Charlevoix county, The City Beautiful. Magnificent estates; fascinating lake drives and walks; heavier colonies; aquatic sports. A "Place to Go" of countless attractions and diversions." Forty-three other places in Michigan are listed.

The foreword to the section devoted to Michigan says, "Michigan is the land of fruit and flowers; of miles and miles of shaded shore line; of silver sand dunes; of lovely lakes and deep, dense forests. Broad concrete highways—run entirely around the peninsula, and crisscross the state in a marvelous road system, that makes thousands of fascinating "Places to Go" accessible to anybody who runs a car. Here are listed but a few of Michigan's alluring retreats. There are many others—equally beautiful—equally interesting, which space does not permit listing."

The booklet does not attempt to include all the attractive points in the territory covered, but merely indicates the wide choice the motor car owner has, wherever he may be, of places of interest to visit. Popular cities are not featured, since it is one of the purposes of the booklet to start the motorist on the open road to places where he can gain relaxation and refreshment in nature's playground.

The booklets are being distributed free as part of the company's great spring and summer advertising campaign. This campaign will utilize much space in successive advertisements in 1,021 newspapers to inspire people to get into their cars, forget their troubles, and "go places." As to where to go the advertisements will refer to the booklet.

Standard Oil Company's purpose in the advertising campaign is reported to be not only to stimulate the demand for its gasoline and oil, but also to do something constructive toward improving the state of the public mind. With some experience in analyzing mass psychology, the company's advertising experts have decided that it will be worth many dollars to get people out of their offices and homes this summer on week end trips that will set them thinking about something more refreshing than business conditions. Hotels, merchants, and others in the places recommended to the touring public have prospect of gaining from the advertising in quite as material a way as the company itself can.

Victor McLaglen May Make Prize-Fighting Try Again

If Jack Dempsey's "comeback" should bear fruit, it wouldn't surprise members of the Hollywood film colony to see Victor McLaglen trying the same thing. Meanwhile, aside from his habitual gymnasium workouts, McLaglen is confining his fighting activities to film work such as his spirited role in "While Paris Sleeps." Five towns, Alden, Bellaire, Central Lake, Ellsworth and East Jordan were represented at the meeting. Charlevoix was not represented but had consented to become a member.

The meeting was presided over by Grant E. Wilson of Central Lake and Harold Meigs, also of Central Lake, acted as secretary.

The following officers were chosen: president, Harry Gregory, Ellsworth; secretary, Grant E. Wilson, Central Lake; treasurer, Norval Smith, Bellaire.

The season will open on Sunday, June 5, and close on Sunday August 7.

Each ball club will employ their own umpire and he will have full authority to handle the games. Any player becoming unruly will be banished from the game.

MAY MUSIC FESTIVAL AN ENJOYABLE EVENT

Many Heard Program Given Thursday at Congregational Church

Our community was indeed fortunate in having the opportunity of enjoying the "May Festival" given at the Congregational church last Thursday evening. Mrs. A. J. Stelter was the musical director and the success of the enterprise was largely due to her untiring energy and her unusual ability in assembling and directing so large a group of talented musicians.

The program was in two parts, the first being a group of selections which gave a most pleasing range for solo chorus and instrumental effects. There was also an interesting and well presented reading by Miss Freda McMillan.

The second part of the program presented S. Coleridge-Taylor's "Hiawatha's Wedding Feast" by the entire chorus of about forty-five voices, with piano, organ and violin accompaniment. An unusual tenor solo was given by Mr. Edwards of Petoskey. The composer of this beautiful cantata has taken the words of Longfellow's poem and set them to music characteristic of the Indian nations. Those who listened to this performance were impressed by the sweetness and mellowness of tone, the intricate changes of the rhythm with the wide variations from pathos to joy, strength and weird beauty of harmony. A strain of barbaric splendor ran through the entire production and the peculiar rhythm and vibrant tone qualities adequately depicted a dramatic incident in the life of a primitive people in a setting that revealed a world of beauty about them.

It is to be regretted that the very unfavorable weather conditions kept so many people from enjoying this rare treat in music and it is hoped that they may be induced to repeat the program some time later in the season.

Every wife should be interested in her husband's business—and grant him the privilege of running it.

UNUSUAL YACHT VISITS HARBOR

'WANDERER' BUILT FOR CRUISE AROUND THE WORLD

Electrically Driven and Controlled from Pilot House—Owned by R. W. Allen, Garment Manufacturer

An unusual attraction, especially for those interested in boats, was furnished early this week by the presence here of the yacht "Wanderer," owned by R. W. Allen, wealthy garment manufacturer.

The craft, an experimental one, built for an around-the-world cruise, was odd appearing, but a masterpiece of craftsmanship. Built at Essex, Mass., the boat is 102 ft. long, has 22 ft. beam, draft of 11 ft. and weight of 375 tons. Its outside planking is 3-inch oak on 6x8 double frames, and inside lining is 5-inch pine. The hull is covered with copper plate.

Two 400 h.p. full diesel motors, drive generators to furnish electricity to turn an enormous wheel. The boat is electrically controlled from the pilot house, having a speed of 14 miles per hour with two motors and 10 miles with a single motor. A mass of machinery and electrical equipment, all of a design and make unknown to most craft, confronts the visitor to the boat. All cabin accommodations, luxuriously appointed, are below deck. It is said the boat cost its owner $300,000.00.

The owner, accompanied by a party of guests, brought the craft from the Atlantic via the Erie canal. They came to Charlevoix after fishing at Georgian Bay, spending two days on Lake Charlevoix before leaving for Beaver Island. Following a cruise of the Great Lakes, the owner will go to Chicago, through the Illinois canal to the Mississippi and on to the Gulf of Mexico.

If the craft proves satisfactory on its trial cruise of the Great Lakes and back to its home port via the Gulf of Mexico, Mr. Allen plans to start his world cruise next year. Many local people took the opportunity to visit the yacht during its stay in this harbor.

PAVING SOUTH BRIDGE STREET IN PROGRESS

Work on Center 20-Foot Strip Started Early This Week

Work of pouring concrete on the South Bridge street portion of U. S. 31 was started early this week by the Remus Construction Co., and is now progressing rapidly.

According to previously announced plans, operations were started a short distance south of the top of Bridge street hill and continued first to the intersection of Belvedere avenue. With this stretch completed, paving south to Carpenter avenue will be done next, thus completing the 20-foot strip within the residential district first. After the center portion is completed, the two 10-foot side strips will be done following the same routine before working toward the south end of the job.

It is expected the new concrete will be ready for use within ten days after pouring is completed.

COUNCIL ADOPTS REDUCED BUDGET

OVER SIX THOUSAND CUT MADE FOR ENSUING YEAR

Property Tax Reduced from Ten to Eight Mills—Reductions in Electric Light and Water Rates

A cut from 12 to 10 mills in the property tax to provide funds for the various city departments and the interest and sinking fund was adopted Monday night as the Charlevoix common council approved the budget for the 1932-33 fiscal year. In addition, a substantial reduction in electric light and power rates was sanctioned by ordinance.

The new tax rate, designed to provide 8 mills for city operation and 2 mills for interest and sinking fund, compares with a 10-2 rate last year. This tax will raise a total of $32,363.00, as compared with $39,140.70 for 1930-31.

Following is the budget adopted, as well as figures of the previous year:

Fund	New	Old
Contingent	$ 6,500.40	$ 2,267.25
Health	400.00	350.00
Cemetery	2,500.00	4,000.00
Police	2,200.00	2,500.00
Fire	1,800.00	3,500.00
Park	1,300.00	1,000.00
Street	7,000.00	14,000.00
Sewer	1,500.00	500.00
Advertising	2,000.00	3,500.00
Auto Camp	600.00	1,000.00
Int. & Sink	6,472.60	6,523.45
Total	$32,363.00	$39,140.70

It will be noted the total out in the budget is $6,777.70. While the contingent, health, park and sewer funds have been increased, reductions in the others, especially the street, cemetery, fire and auto camp funds, has more than offset the difference.

The new electric light and water rates recently announced were adopted Monday night.

The new electric light schedule provides a rate of 10¢ up to 100 k.w.; 8¢ for 100 to 200 k.w.; and 5¢ over 200 k.w. per month for June, July, August and September. Rate for the balance of the year is: 6¢ up to 100 k.w.; 5¢ over 100 up to 200 k.w.; 4¢ over 200 k.w. per month.

The new schedule compares with a flat rate of 12¢ and 8¢ formerly charged for corresponding months.

A flat charge of 2½ cents per k.w. hour instead of the former rate of 3¢, constituted the new power charge. For electric current for any purpose to patrons outside the city limits, the minimum will be $2.50. Transients, short term users or those not owning local property, will be required to make a deposit to insure payments of future current used.

The petition to rescind the south side zoning ordinance against oil stations and garages was heard, and the matter postponed for hearing Wednesday evening. A proposed new license schedule was referred to committee to be taken up at the next regular meeting.

PROGRAM FOR JULY 4TH BEING PLANNED

COUNCIL AND LEGION COMMITTEE ARRANGING DETAILS

Interesting Parade with Prizes for Best Float, Fireworks and Other Attractions Are Promised

At a joint meeting of the city council and the American Legion 4th of July committee, Tuesday evening, plans were made for the tri-city county celebration to be held in Charlevoix this year.

According to arrangements agreed upon, the Legion is to have full charge of the celebration, the concessions and the sale of the concessions. By this means and by subscriptions among the business people, it is estimated that between five and six hundred dollars can be raised. It is also proposed to put the full handling of the celebration in the hands of one man, who is shortly to be selected from the Legion membership. He is to work at the job full time and is to be paid for his services.

Various committees will be appointed to assist the general chairman, and it was agreed to get out advertising matter immediately. At another meeting to be held in the near future, the program of events and attractions will be arranged.

F. V. Tyler, at the information bureau, has been appointed a committee of one to have full charge of the assignment and sale of concessions, and will be ready to receive applications by the first of next week. A chart of the permitted locations will be drawn up and the assignments checked off on this chart as soon as they are sold. Cash in advance for these assignments will be obligatory.

An interesting parade is planned, with three bands, the Legion bugle and drum corps and novel floats. To heighten the interest in floats, a prize will be offered for the one best decorated in the parade. Other features are being worked out also. The usual display of fireworks will be a feature of the evening program.

The Legion publicity man has asked us to correct a statement furnished for last week's issue, stating sales from Poppy day this year were greater than last. The amount collected last year by the Girl Scouts was $59.98, more than this year by about $5.00.

INVITE HOME OWNERS FOR LANDSCAPE DAY

Lawn and Shrubbery Plantings Exhibited Wednesday, June 15

Michigan home owners who are interested in the use of plants and shrubs to beautify their houses and lawns are invited to attend landscape day at Michigan State college, Wednesday, June 15.

Landscape plantings at the Graham station at Grand Rapids have previously been used to demonstrate good methods of home beautification but the transferral of the event to East Lansing this year will give residents in a different section a chance to inspect this work.

Groups of people who register at the horticultural building will be conducted about the campus, beginning at 9:00 a. m. Members of the landscape department will explain the purposes of the plantings and the varieties of shrubs best fitted for use under Michigan conditions.

MONTE'S CAFE IMPROVEMENTS ABOUT COMPLETE

Interior Attractively Finished—Soda Fountain Service Added

The south portion of Monte's Cafe, which has been practically rebuilt since operations started early this spring, will be opened the latter part of this week.

The interior has been done with textured finish, the lower portion in Italian marble effect and painted pleasing shades of brown. Archways with French doors form entrances to the north portion. An attractive ceiling design will be set off by new electric light fixtures to harmonize with the room.

An added service feature is the installation of a soda fountain of the very latest design, constructed of stainless steel and vitrolite, an imitation marble of beautiful finish. Attractive individual stools complete the fountain equipment.

A new basement, 40x60, has been placed under the entire building, and necessary redecorating completed. The restaurant is a credit to any city the size of Charlevoix, and Mr. and Mrs. Withers are to be congratulated on their enterprise.

TRAVERSE SEEKING 1932 CHERRY QUEEN

INVITE REGION TO ENTER CANDIDATES FOR HONOR

Visit to President Hoover and Other Dignitaries Awaits One Selected—Contest June 23rd

Somewhere in this section of the state is the girl who will sail through the air to Washington, if present plans are completed, to greet President Hoover and deliver to him Northern Michigan's greetings wrapped up in a cherry pie, and who will, upon her return, reign as absolute queen of the 1932 National Cherry Festival at Traverse City July 14, 15 and 16.

This fortunate girl may be a resident of the tiniest cross-roads of the region or she may come from one of the cities. In the past Elk Rapids, Manistee and Traverse City have furnished the queen of the festival but not until the smaller communities had set a fast pace of beauty for the eventual winners to overcome.

Mrs. E. E. Shriver of Traverse City, this year's chairman of the queen's committee, has issued the call to all sections of northwestern Michigan for their most beautiful and charming girls as candidates for queenly honors. While she has not set the exact date of the queen contest she is asking every community to go carefully through its younger set for possible candidates.

"Beauty is an essential but not the only one," Mrs. Shriver said. "The successful candidate must have poise, charm and intelligence. She will probably be presented to President Hoover and is to participate in a score of important social functions which soon wear out mere beauty, so beauty with nothing behind it will not be enough."

Mrs. Shriver should know, as she chaperoned Signe Holmer of Manistee, 1930 queen of the National Cherry Festival, on her air trip to meet the President, the Japanese ambassador, Mayor Walker of New York and other celebrities.

Every community in this part of Michigan is eligible to enter a candidate in the Cherry Queen contest, which will be held at the Lyric theatre in Traverse City June 23. Interested communities should communicate at once with Mrs. Shriver.

Below we are publishing for the benefit of our readers the full text of an amendment passed at the special session of the Michigan legislature relative to the payment of real estate taxes on the installment plan.

The bill will take a thorough study for complete understanding of its content.

1.—A taxpayer may pay 25 percent or more of taxes assessed for 1930 on or before October 1, 1932, in which case interest is to be computed at the rate of 1-2 to 1 per cent from March 1, 1931, to date of payment together with a collection fee of 4 per cent on the amount so paid.

2.—If the payment so made is over 25 per cent and less than 50 per cent, then the description in question will be listed for sale in May 1933 with the additional penalty of $1.00 per description, the collection fee of 4 per cent with interest at 3-4 of 1 per cent per month on the unpaid balance unless the owner before such listing pays the difference between the first payment and such 50 per cent.

3.—If the difference between the amount paid on or before October 1, 1932, and 50 per cent is paid on or before May 1, 1933, the County Treasurer will withhold the parcel from sale for one year during which time, interest will accrue on the unpaid balance at the rate of 3-4 of 1 per cent per month with the collection fee and the additional penalty.

4.—If the difference between the amount paid on or before October 1, 1932, and 50 per cent is not paid on or before May 1, 1933, the county treasurer will sell the unpaid balance as advertised at the May sale after which interest will accrue at the rate of 1 per cent per month.

5.—If a taxpayer neglects to pay 25 per cent or more on or before October 1, 1932, he cannot pay the entire 50 per cent after that date and on or before May 1, 1933, and obtain interest at the reduced rate.

6.—If a taxpayer pays 25 per cent or more but less than 50 per cent on or before October 1, 1932, he is only privileged to pay up to 50 per cent after October 1, 1932, and on or before May 1, 1933, at the reduced rate of interest. In other words, a taxpayer may pay 100 per cent of his 1930 tax plus interest at 6 per cent and a collection fee of 4 per cent on or before October 1, 1932, and before May 1, 1933, he can only pay an amount applying on such taxes to equal 50 per cent of the total tax at the reduced rate of interest.

7.—Any unpaid balances, unless payments are made as above indicated, will carry interest up to the date of sale at 3-4 of 1 per cent per month.

This act will apply to all items of taxes levied in villages, townships and cities where the same are returned delinquent to the county treasurer and by the county treasurer to this department, but would not apply to city taxes in those cities which sell their own city taxes under their charter provisions, or cities specified in Act No. 11, special session, 1932.—O. B. Fuller, auditor general.

ELLSWORTH PACKERS WON SUNDAY CONTEST

Copped Verdict After 10 Innings by a 9 to 5 Score

Playing their initial game in the Charlevoix-Antrim baseball league, the Charlevoix Indians dropped a 10-inning contest to the Ellsworth Packers at north side ball park Sunday afternoon. The score was 9 to 5, and the victory gave Ellsworth two out of three wins in contests with the Indians this season.

The Indians led 4 to 2 at the end of the first half of the 6th inning, but Ellsworth came through with three runs to lead 5 and 4. The Indians evened the count at 5-all in the 7th and from then on until the 10th the score was dead-locked. In the second half of the extra stanza, the Packers collected four runs to carry off the game after Tookolo, Indian first-baseman, was taken from the game in the 9th with a sprained ankle.

Amos John went the entire game for the Indians and was credited with 12 strike-outs. Guy John caught, Jack Peebles pitched for the winners until the fourth, when he was replaced by Herb Peebles. K. Peebles caught.

INCOME TAX SCHEDULE HIKED TO OLD LEVELS

Exemptions Lowered From $3,000 to $2,500 for Married Persons

Income taxpayers are given an added $255,000,000 burden in the tax bill passed by the senate.

The rates are 4 per cent on the first $4,000 of taxable income; 8 per cent on the second $4,000; and a maximum surtax of 55 per cent on incomes in excess of $1,000,000. Present rates range from 1-1/2 to 20 per cent.

Exemptions are lowered from $3,500 to $2,500 for married persons and from $1,500 to $1,000 for single persons.

Income	Pres. Law	Sen. Bill
$ 3,000		$ 20
4,000	$ 5.63	60
5,000	15.88	100
10,000	101.25	520
20,000	618.75	1,720
50,000	4,588.75	8,640

WESTERN UNION GIVES CITIZENS PROTECTION

On Guard to Notify Regarding Operations of Confidence Gang

Instructions have been received by the local manager of the Western Union, to protect Charlevoix citizens from the operation of a gang of confidence men flooding the country with letters designed to find victims for the old "Spanish prisoner" swindle.

Instead of operating from Spain, as in 1925 and other years, the gang is now in South America. Hundreds of their letters are being received by persons scattered from Georgia to Oregon. The letters say the writer needs help to care for a 16-year-old daughter and to save a sum of $350,000 on deposit in two banks in the United States. The intended victim is invited to come to South America, pay court costs of the prisoner's bankruptcy trial and receive documents to obtain the money on deposit. For this aid, one-third of the $350,000 is offered. The prisoner cannot receive direct correspondence, so a code cablegram addressed to a third party is attached for use if the victim is interested.

WELL KNOWN HAYES RESIDENT IS DEAD

Funeral Services for Richard Cooper Held Tuesday Afternoon

Richard Cooper was born in Charlevoix April 4, 1865, and passed away June 4, 1932, at the Lockwood hospital in Petoskey, after an illness of several months.

His mother died when he was a small boy and he was taken by his uncle, Richard Cooper Sr., in Harbor Springs, until the second marriage of Moses Cooper, his father, in 1869. His early days were then spent in Hayes, where he received his education. Later he sailed on the lakes.

At the time of his death he was employed as caretaker of the estate on Oyster bay.

During his illness it can be said of him that he was an exceptionally patient sufferer and always had a keen sense of humor.

He is survived by his stepmother, Mrs. Olive Cooper, two sisters, Miss Vern Cooper of Chicago, and Mrs. Nora Brown of Charlevoix.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon from the home of his sister, Mrs. Nora Brown, Rev. I. T. Mark of the Church of God officiating. Burial at Brookside.

ANGLERS MUST KNOW OF CLOSED STREAMS

Ignorance No Excuse for Violation of Law, Wardens Say

Failure of fishermen to properly select designated open and closed portions of trout streams does not excuse them from prosecution in case they are arrested, the state department of conservation has stated.

In most areas the department has designated, in the best manner possible, upon what streams fishing is allowed. If an angler is not familiar with a stream, the department suggests that local inquiry be made to properly determine whether it is open or closed to fishing. In any event if an angler is arrested for fishing on closed streams he is liable to prosecution and an excuse that he did not know that the river was closed is no pibli, the department stated.

Ten new county legislators will take their seats at the annual June session of the Charlevoix county board of supervisors when it convenes at the court house here June 20th. A matter of speculation is that of the selection of a chairman, which position has been held for several years past by Harry A. Craig of this city. Just what the attitude of the new solons on this matter is, is a matter of conjecture at the present time.

CHARLEVOIX OIL CO. MAKES IMPROVEMENTS

Following out a steady program of improvements extending over the early summer months, Angus Fochtman and Albert Cook, owners of the Charlevoix Oil Co., have completed the construction of an out-door wash rack.

Many thousands of yards of dirt have been used to fill along the north side of the station, and workmen are now being employed sodding and planting shrubbery to enhance the appearance of the station property. The landscaping plan as outlined will add greatly to the appearance of the corner.

SUMMER CHILD CARE ADVISED

With school days ending soon and children of all ages scattering to playgrounds, resorts and camps, many of the child health problems of winter are lessened, but parents will do well not to disregard certain summer hazards and general health rules, warns the children's department in the University of Michigan hospital.

The child's food during the summer should be sufficient and varied and not cut down under the impression that a regular diet will be "overheating," because the average child makes use of a large amount of energy in hard summer play. Boiled milk is strongly recommended for children of all ages, because it is easiest to digest and avoids entirely the danger of contracting typhoid fever, tuberculosis or other diseases often carried in milk. Although boiling will destroy the scurvy preventing vitamin C, this may be gotten from orange or tomato juice and fresh vegetables. Plenty of green vegetables should play a part in any summer diet. Boiling is especially important where pasteurized milk is not obtainable, as in many camps and resorts, where it is also advisable to boil water, pollution of such water supplies being common.

Light clothing is advised as most healthful, both for babies and older children, with extra wraps available for cool days or nights. Sunlight must be taken in a happy medium; most children will naturally want plenty, but care against severe burning should be taken and children should not be kept in the direct sun against their will under the theory that continuous exposure will do special good.

Bare feet are healthful for children and adults both, if the ground is free from glass, nails and other cutting objects, and if chance cuts are promptly washed and treated with iodine. On stoney ground, however, stout soled low shoes are advised as protection against troublesome bruises. Bathing and swimming are both healthy recreations, but children are advised against getting water in the mouth and a bathing cap is suggested for diving, both to keep water out of the ear and to avoid concussion of the water on the ear drum. And as insurance against blistered arms and legs children should learn to know and stay away from poison ivy, poison sumach and poison oak, and to apply strong soap suds if contact has been made.

SHORTENING THE WORKING DAY

A general shortening of the hours of labor in all branches of industry may come about as one result of the present business depression. An increasing number of large business concerns are operating on a five-day week. There is a great deal of discussion among business men of the possibility of making the six-hour day the standard. A bill has been introduced in Congress for the reduction of the working day on government work, with a corresponding reduction in compensation to each worker, and for the adoption of a general five-day week in all industries. We don't expect very much to come out of that, because we have given up expecting congress to do anything to bring about the millennium. But we hear encouraging reports from industries that have adopted the shorter day and the shorter week, and it wouldn't surprise us to see this movement grow very rapidly.

Of course, the earnings of workers are necessarily less, individually, when they work shorter hours; but it takes more workers to operate the business and on the whole, it seems a better thing for the nation at large to have everybody earning something than to have a few earning big pay and a lot earning nothing. Fewer people are going to be able to buy luxuries in the next few years than were able to buy them in the few years preceding the big slump. But even if everybody earned 25 per cent less for the next ten years than they did in the years from 1920 to 1930, our average income and buying power would still be much higher than that of the people of any other nation in the world. And if the five-day week and six-hour day will result in putting everybody back to work, then we are for it.—Ionia County News.

MICHIGAN IS FAVORED

Northern Michigan this year is expected to be one of the "best spots" in United States if the theories of men connected with the tourist trade in Michigan can be accepted as fact. People from all over United States are to invade Michigan, it is believed and are expected to stay longer than in former years spending their time fishing, camping and in general making their summer this year pay them dividends in health and joy for there will not be the inclination to hurry back to business that has marked their vacations in the past two or three years.

While it is generally conceded by these prognosticators that few of the people will spend as lavishly as in former years for their summertime pleasures, it is nevertheless believed that at least as much if not more will be spent throughout the year by the increased number of people who will visit within the state and stay longer when they get here.

Michigan with its beauty spots, natural attractions, cool breezes and glorious weather will entertain more than the usual number is quite generally conceded and that in the end more money will have been left here is also believed.

Already, as if to bear out these theories, many summer cottages here and at nearby lakes are being opened a month earlier than usual and the occupants report "we are here to spend the summer."

With this great influx of population this year it will make Michigan one of the "best spots" in the country with new money finding its way into the hands of the people daily.

THE COUZENS EXAMPLE

The discovery that Senator James Couzens of Michigan has most of his big fortune invested in tax-exempt securities seems to have aroused public interest chiefly because his recent proposals for higher income taxes would not have affected his own income so very much.

But there is, after all, something more significant about it.

Senator Couzens sold his bank, railroad and corporation stocks when he entered the senate — in order that he could pass upon legislation affecting corporations without being influenced in his personal investments.

That, when you stop to think about it, is exactly what every public servant ought to do. No lawmaker should have a monetary interest in any business which can be affected by laws that he makes. But few lawmakers besides Senator Couzens seem to have recognized the fact.—Houghton Gazette.

TAX ON JOBS

Life is getting to be just one tax after another, and the most important business of governmental bodies is finding new things to tax. The city of Warren, Ohio, thought it had tapped a promising taxation field when it started levying taxes on certain kinds of business, including commercial photography, dry cleansing, theatres and pool rooms. Foiled in that quest, the city council had a bright idea. It would tax employment, laying an occupational tax on citizens with remunerative jobs.

How this scheme will work out is still uncertain. As a big holler has gone up from workmen as went up from the threatened business interests. If jobs can be taxed, here is a new resource which, though not very profitable at present, may promise much for the future. State legislatures will be interested. Congress itself may take a flier at it.

Correlative passages read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, included the following (p.207): "There is but one primal cause. Therefore there can be no effect from any other cause, and there can be no reality in aught which does not proceed from this great and only cause."

AT THE MOVIES

Will Rogers Learning to Speak English

A characteristic of Will Rogers, internationally famous screen comedian and humorist, is that he never loafs. Even during scenes while making a picture, he occupies his leisure moments with either reading or studying. He spent most of his spare time during the making of "Business and Pleasure," his latest Fox Films production, coming Saturday and Sunday to the Palace theatre, studying Spanish.

Dorothy Peterson, direct from the Broadway stage, has the role of Rogers' wife in this production, and nags him almost continually all the way from New York to the heart of the Sahara desert. Joel McCrea, popular young juvenile, and Peggy Ross, recent discovery as a promising young leading lady, carry the romantic interest, while Jetta Goudal has a vampire role that adds considerably to the drama of the production.

Joan Bennett Becomes Screen Figure After Overcoming Dislike for Acting

Although she is descended from a family of thespians that dates back seven generations, Joan Bennett, newest of the Fox stars, evinced a strong antipathy towards an acting career until three years ago.

Her latest picture is "The Trial of Vivienne Ware," coming on Tuesday and Wednesday to the Palace theatre.

Elissa Landi, Hollywood's own member of royalty, whose latest Fox picture, "Devil's Lottery," Thursday and Friday at the Palace theatre, possesses a personality that is extremely difficult to classify. She is slender, willowily and exotically beautiful, with large, expressive hazel eyes and dark auburn hair, which she wears bobbed rather long. She is naive, yet sophisticated; English, yet curiously European; old fashioned, yet, at the same time, modern.

Miss Landi is supported by a large cast of screen favorites, among them being Victor McLaglen, who shares with Alexander Kirkland and Paul Cavanaugh the male honors, Barbara Weeks, Beryl Mercer, Ralph Morgan, Herbert Mundin and Halliwell Hobbes. The production, which is based on Nabro Bartley's widely read novel, was directed by Sam Taylor.

MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF STATE WEEKLY NEWS

The department of state has worked out a plan of staggered, part-time employment that will affect about 125 employees. On June 15, practically all typists and clerks employed by the department will start to work on a part-time basis.

This plan will allow the department to retain 28 employees who would otherwise have been dropped. It also works to the advantage of the department because the employees of any division can immediately be returned to a full-time basis, whenever there is an unusual rush of work.

The governor and secretary of state are endeavoring to find some legal way in which automobile license plates can be sold at half price after July 1st.

The automobile weight tax law fixes September 1st as the earliest day when license plates can be sold at the reduced figure. However, the officials are studying statutes regarding powers of the state administrative board to act in emergencies, as a possible solution to the question.

Sale of license plates at half price after July 1, would allow owners of approximately 100,000 cars to secure licenses, and it also would add hundreds of thousands of dollars to the state's revenue.

Employees of the department of state presented the state's oldest employee, Major Albert Dunham, with a basket of roses on his 87th birthday, June 1. The major celebrated his birthday by following his usual routine as custodian of the Great Seal of Michigan.

The department of state's investigation into alleged evasion of payment of gasoline taxes, is to extend to all parts of the state, it was announced recently by George L. Clark, director of the gas tax division.

As a result of recent activities, two men are serving jail sentences in the Ingham county jail, and five warrants have been issued in Saginaw. In cases where department investigations find evidence of possible evasion of the tax payment or where gasoline is sold without proper licenses, the department holds hearings before asking for warrants.

Hearings are to be continued in Detroit during the coming week and it is likely that hearings will be necessary in Grand Rapids and several other cities.

Gasoline used by trucks in road-building and road-repairing is subject to the gasoline tax unless the truck operates entirely upon private property, an opinion from the attorney general to the department of state, held recently.

The opinion declared that roads closed for repair, still remain public highways and vehicles operating upon them are subject to the gasoline tax. The same rule applies to new road construction. The department plans to operate in conformity with the opinion, and requests for refunds based on these premises, will be denied.

The corporation division of the department of state, has started an investigation into the number of Michigan companies that are operating under receiverships. A recent ruling of the United States supreme court says that such companies must pay the annual corporation tax.

FREIGHTER IS RELEASED FROM FOX ISLAND REEF

Charlevoix Coast Guards Carry Supplies and Stood by Vessel

Returning at 8:30 Monday morning, Charlevoix coast guards reported that the steel freighter Morris S. Tremaine, grounded Saturday afternoon on a reef off South Fox Island, had been released by the tug Favorite of St. Ignace.

Although her forward compartments were damaged and leaking badly, the freighter was able to proceed to Milwaukee under her own steam. Her pumps were taking care of the leakage, but rather than take chances, the Favorite was retained to convey the vessel. Her cargo will be unloaded before the freighter proceeds to South Chicago for dry dock repairs.

The Tremaine piled on a reef at the south end of South Fox Island at 4:30 Saturday afternoon as she lost her way in a dense fog, hitting a reef submerged at a depth of 25 feet. Local coast guards, as well as those from North and South Manitou island stations went to the stranded ship, and the local guardmen returned with groceries and other supplies Sunday after making the initial trip Saturday night. In the absence of Capt. Oscar Smith, who is in the east, George Kelderhouse commanded the local crew.

The Tremaine, operated by Boland & Cornelius of Buffalo, was enroute from Toledo to Milwaukee with 6,500 tons of coal.

CITY MOURNS DEATH OF MRS. HOMER BRADY

Her Passing Saturday at Charlevoix Hospital Shock to All

Death, untimely and sudden, took from the Homer Brady family a loving mother Saturday morning. Her passing, which occurred early Saturday morning at Charlevoix hospital, has brought forth genuine expressions of grief from the many Charlevoix residents who knew her.

Born in this city, May 10, 1892, Mrs. Brady was a life-long resident of Charlevoix. Surviving besides the sorrowing husband are six children, Hilda, Esther, Homer Jr., Jane, James and Hubert; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Woods, this city; two brothers, John of New York City, and "Bill" of Charlevoix, and five sisters, Mrs. James Payne, Mrs. Hugh Renner, Mrs. Louis Reed and Mrs. Mose Zess, all of Detroit, and Mrs. Clifford Colly of Potoskey. Two children, Willard Roy and Betty Ann, died in infancy.

Funeral services were held at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning from St. Mary church, with Fr. Edw. Neubecker officiating.

The following out-of-town relatives and friends attended the funeral: James Friend, son and daughter, Orlie and Margaret, Mrs. Mark Naylor, Mrs. James Bell, son James Jr., Mrs. Warren, Jacques, Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. George Friend and son, Charles, Mr. and Mrs. Orlie Friend, Mr. and Mrs. Will Friend, Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Lee, Bellaire; Mr. and Mrs. M. Roy Brady, Minnetonka; Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Colley, Mrs. Fred Rose, Potoskey; Mrs. Kenneth McLean, Alpena; Mr. and Mrs. Theod. Gardner and daughter, Inez, Cheboygan; Mrs. Greg Shadko, Alpena; Mrs. Owen Lally, Detroit.

LOCAL STUDENTS TO CHICAGO UNIVERSITY

Leave Next Week to Take Advantage of Scholarship Award

The latter part of next week Mrs. Dowd, Dorothy Staley and John Winder will leave for Chicago where they will attend Northwestern University School of Speech. Word has been received that the twelve scholarships awarded by the university have been placed in as many states: Alabama, California, Florida, Indiana, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Nebraska, New York, Ohio, South Dakota and West Virginia.

The two students from each of these schools will be given a special program of instruction in theatre backgrounds, voice and diction, shop work, costume work, acting, make up, and extemporaneous speaking. They will come in contact with at least fifteen of the regular teaching staff of the university.

The instructors from the twelve schools may select any courses from the regular graduate program.

The local drama club has worked diligently to raise funds to help in the expenses of the two students. A great share of the high school pupils who take advantage of such opportunities as this, and at Interlochen, and others, are at least partially financed by various organizations from their home towns. So if any groups in Charlevoix would like to add a small amount to the fund they may communicate with Miss Dorothy Partridge, chairman of the finance committee of the drama club.

You get more for your money—more power, pep, and snap—more miles per gallon—more pleasure out of driving, when you use Phillips 66... the greater gasoline.

The great Phillips organization would not make claims as broad as these, if its gasoline did not deliver 100% on them. And we could not make these claims if Phillips 66 were not higher test than other motor fuels. How much "higher test" it is, you can see from the definite gravity figures above.

That is why every mile you drive is a gratifying demonstration of the premium performance which you get without paying a penny premium in price—because Phillips is the world's largest producer of natural high gravity gasoline. Phill-up with Phillips, tomorrow, at the Orange and Black 66 shield.

INDEPENDENT BALL TEAM BEAT IRONTON

Scored Fourth Consecutive Victory by 10 to 9 Count Sunday

Playing a brand of baseball somewhat below their usual form, the Charlevoix Independents, the newly organized local baseball team, were barely able to nose out the fast Ironton team last Sunday afternoon on the Ironton diamond. The final score was 10 to 9.

Pitcher "Bob" Sterrit, in addition to doing a nice job on the mound, led the locals in scoring with four runs. Others who played on the Charlevoix team were Stan Smith, catcher; Ho Helms, first base; Morrie Dixon, second; Ted Gravelin, shortstop; Harold Newman, third; and Harold Towsley, Vern Boyer, George Sarasen, fielders; with Clarence Arnold and Arthur Kruklik substituting in the field.

Playing on the Ironton team were Tom Nelson, Ole Neilson, Frank Paeel, Kenneth Christianson, Jim Block, Vern Boyer, Ira Boyer, Homer Nasson and John Johnson.

The Ironton scoring was evenly divided, with no outstanding batting stars. One or two Charlevoix errors, due to the strangeness of the playing field, contributed somewhat to Ironton's scoring.

This was the Independents' fourth straight victory. They hold decisions over Barnard (16-12); Advance (24-18); and Ironton (11-9); in addition to the victory of last Sunday. Next Sunday they will play a return game with Advance on the Advance field.

LEGION JUNIOR "NINE" DEFEAT EAST JORDAN

Scored 8 to 0 Shut-Out in Opening Contest Last Saturday

Playing their initial game of the season, the junior baseball team of Leslie T. Shapton post, American Legion, defeated the junior team of East Jordan Saturday afternoon by an 8 to 0 score.

The local "9," which is being coached by Ray Neberlung, played an excellent brand of ball to score a shut-out over the Jordanites. Glen Lord and Milton Richardson, two Norwood youths, formed the Charlevoix battery.

A return game with East Jordan will be played next week.

CHARLEVOIX MOURNS JAMES JOS. GASKIN

RARE BLOOD DISEASE FATAL TO RESPECTED CITIZEN

Passing Closed Affiliation of 33 Years at Chicago Club — Funeral Held Saturday

James J. Gaskin, long a resident of Charlevoix and one of its most influential and respected citizens, died at Blodgett hospital, Grand Rapids, early last Thursday morning after a decline in health, which, following an attack of influenza, developed into agranulocytosis, a rare blood disease.

The body was brought to Charlevoix, Friday, and the funeral services were held from St. Mary's church, Saturday, at 9 a. m. The officers of the Solemn Requiem were Rev. Edward Neubecker, celebrant; Rev. Englebert, O. F. M., Petroskey, deacon; Rev. J. J. Malenowski, East Jordan, sub-deacon. The active pall bearers were George Weaver, J. M. Foster, Joseph Howard, L. P. Adams, Thos. Bacot, A. D. Crimmins. The honorary pall bearers were R. J. Madill, A. Bergeon, C. G. Cooper, John Koch, L. S. Orlovski, F. E. Cartier, F. M. Glassford, Dr. R. B. Armstrong, J. J. Hallett and Dan Walsh.

The son of Patrick and Ann Timmins Gaskin, James Joseph Gaskin was born in Lima, N. Y., where he received his early education in the parochial schools. At the age of 18 he came to Michigan, where he has made his home continuously since that time.

In 1892 he was married to Bessie Stanford of LeRoy, Michigan. To this union were born two children, Mrs. Russell Blakeslee of Detroit, and James Jr., of Chicago. They, with the mother, are left to mourn the loss of a husband and father—a loss that can only be expressed by the tear and the sorrow-laden heart. Other surviving relatives are three grandchildren, John L. Gaskin of Detroit, Helen and James Gaskin III of Chicago; two sisters, Mrs. Dennis Sullivan and Miss Mary Gaskin, also a brother, Patrick Gaskin, all of Rochester, N. Y.

Mr. Gaskin had been affiliated with the Chicago Club for 33 years, and had held the position as superintendent of the Chicago Club grounds and the Chicago Golf association for 26 years. During this time he had endeared himself to its members by his wise counsel and untiring efforts in their behalf. His place will be difficult to fill. Mr. Gaskin will be missed as few men who have passed from our midst, being a man of unblemished character and his reputation was that of a christian gentleman, known and revered by all. He spent a busy and active life outside of his regular business duties, and always took a prominent part in the growth and progress of any project that was for the good of the community in which he lived.

Mr. Gaskin's life was marked for its simplicity, integrity and fairness to his fellow men. The large attendance at his funeral, the many floral offerings, spiritual bouquets and messages of sympathy were evidences of the esteem in which he was held. Business places closed during the hour of funeral, and Fr. Neubecker, the local pastor, paid a merited tribute to the life and character of the deceased, citing him as one firm in his faith and principles—the memory of his good life remaining as a priceless inheritance to all.

Burial was in the Catholic cemetery.

Those from out-of-town attending the funeral were: Mrs. B. M. Edwards, Buffalo, N. Y.; Mrs. R. Morse, Lansing; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Stanford, Munising; Miss Mary Gaskin, Rochester, N. Y.; Mrs. B. N. Blakeslee, Mrs. Wm. E. Hampton, Jr., and Mrs. P. J. Martin, Detroit; Mrs. Wm. E. Hampton, Ann Arbor; Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Crimmins and Mrs. Geo. T. Finucan, Grand Rapids; Michael Roach, Owosso; Mrs. Davidson, Flint.

NOTICE!

Charlevoix-Boyer City road, from Greensky hill to Boyne City, will be closed for resurfacing from this date until work is completed. While road is closed, the Ironton Ferry will be operated on 24-hour schedule. Charlevoix County Road Commission.—Adv. 241.

CROPS OUTLOOK CONTINUES GOOD

GRAIN SHOWING ABOUT PAR — PASTURES FAR BETTER

Apples, Peaches, Cherries Are Going to Be Shorter Crop Than Last Season

Michigan's field crops were above average condition June 1, while fruit prospects "remained fairly good," Verne H. Church, U. A. agricultural statistician working with the state department of agriculture, has stated.

The winter wheat crop was estimated at 90 per cent, the same as June 1, 1931. Church's report shows, while oats and barley were each listed at 83 per cent. The condition of other crops were: rye, 86 per cent, and hay, 82 per cent. Pastures were reported at 87 per cent, compared with 76 per cent a year ago.

Apples were reported at 62 per cent of normal, 21 points below last year's condition on the corresponding date and nine points under the ten-year average. Church's report reads: "The condition of the United States apple crop is 58.5 per cent, compared with 75.7 per cent on June 1 last year."

"The condition of Michigan cherries was reported at 66 per cent of normal, ranging from about 80 per cent in the Grand Traverse region down to 40 per cent in the extreme southwestern counties where freezing weather occurred on several days around the blooming period. The condition last year on June 1 was 80 per cent. Pears show a condition of 76 per cent as compared with 60 per cent last year on the same date."

"The peach crop of the United States also is much below that of last year, the condition being reported at 51.7 per cent as compared with 78.5 per cent in 1931. The crop is estimated at 47,927,000 bushels, whereas last year the production amounted to 77,743,000 bushels. The crop was heavily damaged by spring freezes in the southern states, and it is probable that northern markets will receive a much smaller supply from that source than usual. This should afford Michigan growers a better outlet than in other recent years."

THE SUGAR BOWL ADDS RESTAURANT SERVICE

City Newest Eating Place Opened to Public This Week

Charlevoix's latest eating place opened for business on Tuesday of this week with the formal inauguration of restaurant service at the Sugar Bowl, owned and operated by George Glados.

New kitchen equipment has been installed in the rear of the store, formerly used as a candy kitchen and now serving both purposes. The new booth type tables installed this spring, will be used, and other larger tables are being added to take care of parties. Regular meal and short order service is available.

The restaurant department will be in charge of Marie Nordrum.

To avoid that run down feeling, cross crossings cautiously.

OPEN GOLF COURSES TO PLAY THIS WEEK

BOTH LAY-OUTS ARE IN EX-CELLENT CONDITION

William Watson and Milton Converse Return as Pros—Both Courses
Offer Reduced Rates

With their courses in the best playing condition in history, the Charlevoix and Belvedere Golf Clubs officially opened for the 1932 summer season on Wednesday of this week.

Improvements on the fairways and greens at the Charlevoix Club course, conducted during the fall and spring months for the past two years, have produced excellent results, according to William Watson, professional, who arrived in Charlevoix last week to take charge of the Club. Poor grasses have been replaced with new, and, aided by abundant spring rains, the seedlings have come along in wonderful shape. Charles Hamlin, greenskeeper, has had supervision of the work.

The Belvedere course, which is under the supervision of Frank Supernaw, is up to its usual standard of excellence, according to reports, a statement explanatory in itself.

Assisting Mr. Watson this year will be "Bill" Supernaw, who has been connected with the golf club for several years. The office will be in charge of Miss Angie Scott as formerly, with Mrs. Stewart Coleman assisting.

Milton Converse is returning to the Belvedere Club for his second year as professional. Mrs. Clarence Hanshaw will again have charge of the office, assisted by Miss Marvel Smith.

In conjunction with the opening of the two clubs, both have announced a reduced schedule of rates. At the Charlevoix Club the daily playing charge has been reduced to $1.75, and after one o'clock in the afternoon the greens fee is $1. The new Belvedere rates are $2.00 daily and $1 after 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Both Clubs have made proportionate reductions in weekly, monthly and season rates.

While in keeping with general economic conditions, the new rate schedules are also expected to increase the patronage of both courses.

NEW POSTAL RATES IN EFFECT JULY 6

Charge for First Class Mail Changes from 2 to 3 Cents

Effective July 6, 1932, upon all first class mail the rate shall be three cents per ounce or the fraction thereof, except on postal cards and private mailing cards or post cards which shall remain at one cent.

The rate of postage on mail carried by airplane shall be eight cents for the first ounce or fraction thereof, and 13 cents for each additional ounce or fraction thereof, regardless of distance.

It is of the utmost importance that every patron of the postal service become familiar with the increased rate of postage on first class matter as above set forth. Failure to prepay the proper amount of postage will delay the dispatch and delivery of mail, cause confusion, annoyance, and inconvenience, and impose upon the postal service unnecessary labor and expense.

ALL SCHOOLS ADD COURSE IN CIVICS

GRADE AND HIGH SCHOOLS COMPELLED UNDER LAW

Enabling Act Passed by State Legislature in 1931 Goes Into Effect Next Fall

Introduction of a civics course in the curriculum of all schools and normal colleges in Michigan as a method to prepare students for intelligent citizenship in a constantly changing democracy will be made at the beginning of the 1932-33 school year next fall.

The new course, which was provided for by action of the 1931 legislature, will be compulsory in all grade and high schools of the state, normal colleges and the Michigan State College of Mining and Technology. The 1931 statute exempts Michigan State college and the University of Michigan.

Legislative action on the course was the result of a year's study of civics courses made by a special committee representing the Michigan Education association. The 1931 law prohibits the granting of diplomas or degrees until the course has been completed by graduating students.

Previous to the passing of the 1931 act, civics was compulsory only in grade schools and was an elective subject for three grades in high schools, but a full semester of its study was required in the twelfth grade.

Between 1892 and 1931 six national educational committees advocated that the subject be taught in high schools in the twelfth grade with United States history as a background for the course. The 1931 law requiring the teaching of civics in all schools was introduced by Rep. Dexter Look of Lowell, and was supported by the American Legion, the Michigan Federation of Women's Clubs and other civic and educational organizations.

Members of the special committee of the Michigan Education association which completed a year's study of the course are J. B. Edmunson, University of Michigan; Thomas H. Reed, University of Michigan; D. C. Shilling, Western State Teachers' college; J. E. Wellwood, Central high school, Flint; O. F. Norwalk, Flint Northern; E. L. Miller, Detroit; W. H. Pearce, superintendent of public instruction; C. L. Goodrich, deputy superintendent of public instruction; E. H. Ryder, Michigan State college; E. T. Cameron, Michigan Education association; Arthur A. Rather, Ionia; S. E. Ellett, East Grand Rapids.

Assisting Mrs. Madill is her son, Edwin, who has studied telegraphy during his spare time at Georgetown University. The store has undergone alterations to accommodate the new business.

The office will serve as a receiving station for out-going express. Deliveries will be made from the Pere Marquette depot as formerly.

INLAND LAKE FISH- ING OPENS JUNE 25

Four Thousand Michigan Lakes Available to Sportsmen

Michigan fishermen will have access to 4,000 inland lakes when the 1932 season on small and large mouth bass and other pan fish opens June 25th.

Fishing laws this year provide that bluegills and sunfish must be six inches long; white bass, seven inches; small and large mouth bass, 10 inches; while warmouth bass may be any length.

Twenty-five bluegills, sunfish, white bass or warmouth bass may be caught in one day or had in possession at one time and five large or small mouth bass may be taken in a single day with the same number in possession at any one given time.

A decline in revenue from resident and non-resident commercial fishing licenses is reported by the state department of conservation. From April 1, 1931, to June 1 of the same year, $23,944.75 was paid by commercial operators. For the same period this year only $20,462 was received.

OSCAR MASON DIED SATURDAY MORNING

WAS ONE OF CHARLEVOIX'S EARLIEST PIONEERS

His Parents Third White Family in Charlevoix County — He Was a Resident 80 Years

Through the death of Oscar Mason, which occurred at an early hour last Saturday morning, Charlevoix has lost its earliest pioneer in point of years residence. The end came following a gradual decline in health over a period of several years, although despite his failing health, Mr. Mason was out and about until a few weeks ago.

Born at Point aux Barques, 83 years ago, Mr. Mason came to Charlevoix via sailing vessel at the age of three years. The Mason family, according to early records, was the third to settle in the territory now embracing Charlevoix county, and the second at Pine River, now the city of Charlevoix.

The old Mason homestead—comprised a good portion of the south side of Charlevoix and quite an area in what is commonly termed the valley district. The first family home, a log cabin located on the south shore of Round lake, was later replaced by the frame dwelling overlooking the lake on Belvedere avenue.

Mr. Mason received his education in the local schools and as a young man aided his father in clearing the homestead, then covered with virgin timber. The drowning of the elder Mason, related as Charlevoix's first tragedy, threw upon his oldest son, Oscar, the burden of caring for the family. In later years Mr. Mason followed the occupation of ship builder, continuing this endeavor as long as his health permitted.

Mr. Mason never married. Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Judson Markham and Mrs. John Ackert, this city, and a brother, John Mason, Mercedes, Texas.

Funeral services were conducted from the Markham residence on Belvedere avenue Tuesday afternoon by Rev. W. W. Hurd. Interment was in the family lot at Brookside cemetery.

EAST JORDAN COPPED EXTRA INNING GAME

Went Twelve Innings Sunday to Beat
Charlevoix Indians 4 to 3

The Charlevoix Indians lost their second start in the Antrim-Charlevoix baseball league, Sunday, dropping a hard-fought and interesting 12-inning contest to East Jordan by a 4 to 3 score.

From the start, the game was a pitcher's duel between Amos John for the Indians and Yeager of East Jordan. After three scoreless innings, both counted three times in the third and the score stood at that figure until the last half of the 12th, when the Jordanites broke through for the winning run.

Amos John went the entire route for the Indians, striking out 16 batters. Yeager for East Jordan, was credited with 12 strike-outs. Both hurlers turned in excellent performances and were backed with good field support.

COUNCIL ADOPTS LICENSE RULING

NEW ORDINANCE AFFECTS ALL LINES OF BUSINESS

Measure Protects Merchants from Peddlers and Business Solicitors
Not Paying City Tax

Through its action at a regular meeting Monday night, the city council placed Charlevoix in line with other cities of Northern Michigan in regard to licensing outside individuals, firms and corporations doing business within the city in competition with local merchants and taxpayers.

The ordinance adopted is wide in its scope, covering every conceivable merchandising method from the house-to-house peddler and the ever-increasing truck delivery and business solicitation proposition, to a circus and menagerie. Some lines are assessed a straight license fee, others are charged by the day, week or month, and in all cases businesses must operate a period of nine months so as to come under the city personal tax, before a refund not to exceed the license fee is made.

In brief, provisions of the ordinance call for saddle horse stables to pay five dollars per horse; fruit stands handling products not of their own production, $50; dry cleaning and laundry solicitors, $150; bread and baked goods wagons, $100; vegetable and fruit peddlers not maintaining a store and growing their own produce, $30 per year or $5 per day; transient photographers, $50 per year or $5 per day; other transient traders, retail or wholesale, a scale ranging from $50 to $85 per year, depending upon value of merchandise.

Other provisions of the ordinance cover restaurants and all boarding and rooming houses; theatres, bowling alleys and amusement places of like nature; junk-dealers; shoe-shining establishments; beauty parlors not connected with a licensed barber shop; pop-corn stands; dance halls; hilliard and pool halls; circuses; auctioneers, etc.

The full text of the ordinance will be found in the council proceedings.

Other cities recently adopting similar ordinances include Traverse City, Cadillac and Big Rapids. It is understood that certain provisions of the ordinances have been taken to court by corporations or firms affected for test cases, and in all probability, the action of the Charlevoix council will be brought into similar protest.

At the same time they were adopting the new license ordinance, the council repealed several old ones, now obsolete and some dating back as far as 1882.

A petition to rescind the south side zoning ordinance came under discussion again Monday night. Protests of several property owners were heard and the matter deferred again to a future meeting.

In London, England, his "home town," an "Arliss week" was established in a leading theatre, during which a revival of his films attracted tremendous crowds. So successful was this idea that the theatre announced that "Arliss week" would be an annual custom. Other theatres in England have planned to duplicate the arrangement.

OUR MICHIGAN

In urging the view that Michigan people not only take personal advantage of Michigan's unrivaled recreational advantages, but go one step further and encourage friends and relatives living elsewhere to summer in this state, at least one Michigan business concern contributes a timely thought to the well being of Michigan's tourist and resort industry.

It is not so much that those living elsewhere need to be told. In some cases they know far more of the glory of Michigan than the fortunate who spend their lives here. Beside the shore of Witch lake in the upper peninsula, an Irish woman who had searched the world over, said she had at last found the most beautiful spot on earth. Keweenaw peninsula, that far-flung fragment of Isle Royale tied to the Michigan mainland, enchants and bewilders hundreds of summer sojourners from Illinois, Wisconsin and Indiana, though relatively few vacationists from southern Michigan have chanced upon its rockbound lakes and tumbling trout streams "eddy and whisking, spouting and frisking" through picture canyons.

Dwellers in other states know of the beauty of Michigan, but that knowledge is not sufficient to bring them here. First there must be an invitation, and after the invitation, a welcome. The desire already exists; only a letter or post card from a friend is needed to translate desire into impulse.—The Detroit News.

BACK TO THE FARM

No aspect of the depression is much more interesting than the way in which out-of-work city people have been slipping back to the farm lately.

In nearly every part of the country there is going on a quiet but steady exodus from the city to the country. Abandoned farms are getting new tenants. Men who have toiled in factories for years are getting out on the open acres to try their hands at agriculture. Children used to cramped city streets are discovering that country fields can make fine playgrounds.

To be sure, the plight of agriculture is very little, if any, better than that of industry. The farmer is having his troubles just as the city man is—has been having them, in fact, for years. Prices paid for farm produce are down, and if the number of farmers is to increase they probably will go still lower.

But the exodus continues; for when it gets right down to a struggle for the bare necessities of life, the man on a farm enjoys an enormous advantage over the city chap.

The farmer may be plagued by mortgages, high taxes, overproduction and so on; but, unless he is a one-crop specialist, he doesn't starve to death. He may not have a dollar in the bank, or any immediate prospects of getting any, but he has food in his larder, and he knows where tomorrow's meal is coming from.

The factory hand — perhaps it would be better to say the ex-factory hand — seems to have been pondering over this fact. As a result he is heading for the country. A few acres along a dusty road look good to him, even though he knows that they will never make him rich. They'll take him out of the bread line.

The danger in all of this is that many people utterly unsuited to farm life are apt to try to make farmers out of themselves. For such people — those who know nothing whatever about farms, and have no capital to get them started — the change is likely to be a leap from the frying pan into the fire. But for those who are willing to work, who know something about farming and who go into it with a full realization of the difficulties ahead, it might be an excellent move.

THAT TAX ON OIL AND GAS

Motorcar owners of the country in 1931 paid an aggregate tax of $1,030,000,000 which amounted to almost 20 per cent of the combined value of all motor vehicles. It was nearly 10 per cent of the total tax bill, local, state and national, collected in the United States.

These taxes have been assessed against motorists, as Bruce Barton, well known advertising writer, points out, because motor vehicle owners are easy to get at and they cannot escape their taxes without depriving themselves of their cars.

But the federal government does not think there is burden enough on their shoulders. So it has specially singled out this industry and added a four per cent levy against passenger cars, a three per cent tax on trucks and a two per cent tax on accessories. In addition to a one-cent gasoline tax congress now has placed a four-cent-a-gallon on lubricating oil.

The oil tax places less of a burden on the motorist than it does on industry, however. Railroads which use a lower grade of oil, costing eight or nine cents a gallon, will find their costs in this respect increased from forty to fifty per cent. Similar increases will be met by other industries using cheaper oils.

The oil tax, in fact, hits almost every user of mechanical devices. But for the motor industry it is just another straw on the camel's back.

NO AID NEEDED HERE!

Editor Weber of the Atlanta Tribune offered to loan garden plots to all that wished them. No one accepted his offer, and believing that the reluctance of the poor to accept his kindly offer was due to the fact that they were either too tired to spade up a good garden spot, or couldn't hire a team to prepare it, a friend of the editor's came across with an offer to plow the plots free. Still no takers. Now he is looking for another generous neighbor that will plan the gardens and care for them.

Too Much ACID

MANY people, two hours after eating, suffer indigestion as they call it. It is usually excess acid. Correct it with an alkali. The best way, the quick, harmless and efficient way, is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained for 50 years the standard with physicians. One spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in stomach acids, and at once. The symptoms disappear in five minutes.

You will never use crude methods when you know this better method. And you will never suffer from excess acid when you prove out this easy relief.

Men, automobiles and tires... this year's Indianapolis 500-mile race on the Motor Speedway. Giving a race of cool and steady driving, Fred Frame won the event. With an admiring crowd of many races, won the event. Frame did not stop to celebrate after his sensational victory. He did not stop to celebrate after his sensational victory. He did not stop to celebrate after his sensational victory.

Amazing new tires... which helped me win the Indianapolis 500-mile race today without tire trouble, setting a new record of more than 104 miles an hour for the 500 miles.

The race throughout was a remarkable triumph. Every car to finish was equipped with Firestone tires. The first four laps were won by Peter De Paolo in 1925. In all the history of the famous motor race there has never been a more severe test of tires and never a finer demonstration of their qualities than was furnished this year. It was the thirteenth consecutive victory for Firestone.

STATE TAX POWER CUT BY CONGRESS

INCOME AND LUXURY TAXES BLOCK STATE LEVIES

Passage of Property Tax Limit by Michigan Voters This Fall Is Almost a Certainty

The two principal means which the Michigan legislature hoped to use to balance the budgets of the state and its political subdivisions appear to have been eliminated by the national congress.

As a result, when the state's solons convene next January in their regular session they will face a situation which, at present, appears nearly hopeless. Their only salvation appears to be economy.

On the Michigan ballot this fall will be the question of a constitutional amendment which proposes to limit the tax on real estate for all purposes to $15 per $1,000 valuation, and there is substantial likelihood it will be approved by the voters.

The present average tax on property throughout the state in 1931 was $32.36.

If the tax limitation amendment is approved it will mean that the state and all of its political subdivisions must go on a strict economy basis or else look elsewhere for a means of raising approximately $100,000,000.

Far-sighted legislators who have anticipated possibility that the limitation amendment will be approved had looked to a state income tax and a sales tax as the only means by which such a huge sum might be raised.

Congress, however, is passing a revenue bill which increases the federal income tax to 1922 peak levels and at the same time imposing a severe schedule on luxuries and some essentials.

While Lansing officials decline at present to comment on the effect of the national tax bill on the state's revenue problem, they appear to agree that the legislature will be unable to enact a state income tax while the federal government is imposing so high a levy on earnings. It will be equally impossible, it is thought, to enter into the field of luxury taxes.

If the state constitution is amended, however, to limit property taxes to $15 per $1,000 the legislators will be faced with necessity of forcing great economy or finding new cash.

In 1931 the entire burden carried by real estate in Michigan was $254,180,520 on a total valuation of $7,854,628,979. At $15 per $1,000 valuation real estate would pay $117,819,434, a difference of $136,361,086 from the 1931 figure.

ALFALFA MEAL USED IN FEEDING LAMBS

Report Value Livestock Rations at Feeders Day M. S. C., June 10

Ground alfalfa mixed with cracked corn is a very satisfactory ration for self-feeding lambs, according to the animal husbandry department at Michigan State college, where livestock men of the state will meet Friday, June 10, to get the yearly report of the livestock-feeding experiments.

The alfalfa ration for lambs was used in a trial to find a home grown product which could be used by Michigan feeders to replace by-products feeds which have been bought in the past to add bulk to the lambs' rations.

One of the college's feeding trials with hogs was planned to find the amount of protein supplement which can be profitably added to the pork producing ration. A test was also made to find if it is desirable to grind grain for hog feed.

MICHIGAN'S CHERRY CROP BELOW NORMAL

Canned Cherries in Warehouses Much Less Than Year Ago, Also

Michigan will have considerably less than two-thirds as many sour cherries in 1932 as it had last year and the stock of canned cherries now in warehouses is less than one-third what it was a year ago, members of the Michigan Canners' association were informed at Traverse City last week.

The crop news came from Dr. V. R. Gardner of Michigan State college, who has made a very thorough survey of the crop situation. In the Grand Traverse region he found some large orchards which will have but a small percentage of a crop due to frost damage, while others, more favorably located, will have normal production.

A check-up of the canners' stocks on hand indicate that the warehouses will be empty by the time the 1932 crop is ready to move to market, and this situation is considered more favorable than a year ago.

INDEPENDENT "NINE" WIN SIXTH STRAIGHT

Defeated Advance 13 to 11 Sunday—Play Barnard Next

The Charlevoix Independent baseball team hung up its fifth straight victory Sunday afternoon at Whiting park, defeating the scrappy Advance team, 13 to 11. This was Charlevoix's second victory over this team.

Advance opened the scoring with four runs in the first inning, before Charlevoix could get the lay of the land. This lead was held until the seventh inning. Newman and Gravelin scored for the locals in the second, and Sterritt added another in the fifth. Aside from that the locals were helpless until the seventh, when Sterritt, Smith, Neilson, Dixon, Cummings and Arnold scored. Sterritt, Newman and Arnold counted in the eighth, and Cummings made the last score in the ninth. After the big first inning, Advance held until the fourth, when they scored three runs. They made two more in the fifth, one in the seventh and one in the ninth. Herman Conrad scored three runs for Advance, "Red" Russell three, Jack Upton two, and Ralph Gorman one.

Bob Sterritt led the Independents with three runs. Harold Newman, Bob Cummings and Clarence Arnold each scored two, and Sam Smith, Tom Neilson, Morris Dixon, Ted Gravelin one, Arthur Krulic and Edwin Birch also played.

The Independents play Barnard at the latter's diamond this Sunday.

THREE-COUNTY FAIR IS ANNOUNCED

Emmett, Charlevoix, Cheboygan Plan for Big Event in Petoskey

Announcement was made last week that a Northern Tri-county Fair will be held in Petoskey, August 30, 31 and September 1 and 2, by John B. Roy of Conway, president of the recently organized fair association.

The fair is to be sponsored by grange organizations and farmers' clubs. Already identified with the project are the Pickering Lake Farmers' club, the Resort, Pickering Lake and Bear Creek grange organizations.

Officials of the fair board are as follows: Mr. Roy, president; Lester Hardy, Charlevoix county, vice president; Clare D. Scott, Cheboygan county, vice president; E. B. Kilburne, Petoskey, secretary; Earl Bacon, treasurer; Roy V. Otto, Petoskey, and Richard Johnson, Conway.

The fair will be held in conjunction with the Emmet county 4-H club fair.

"It is our primary purpose to stress agricultural exhibits and displays from granges and farmers' clubs," said President Roy.

"We have the deep conviction that Emmet county and our neighboring counties need a fair that is strictly an agricultural fair," he added. "The kind of a fair we will promote will be a helpful influence to Northern Michigan farmers."

This will be at the Methodist church, and will be at the new hour, 7 o'clock sharp. The speaker will combine with the topic some of her ideas and experiences gained among this peculiar and needy people within our own country. She has enjoyed her work very much and feels that it is a strange condition that in this country, where there is the greatest of wealth in the world, and the most general education, that there should be a people so devoid of both. Everybody welcome.

FLIES MAY GROW FAT ON STATE CHERRIES

Correct Spray Must Be Applied at Proper Time to Foul This Enemy

The necessary killing for the cherry pie which should melt in your mouth will furnish food for the cherry fruit fly larvae instead of human beings unless orchard owners apply the proper spray at the proper time, according to Michigan State College entomologists.

The spray which is recommended can be used only on cherries which are to be thoroughly washed before they are canned, frozen, or used for food. The spray, to be effective, must be applied between the time the adult flies emerge and the time that the minute larvae attempt to enter the fruit. A second spray should be applied ten days or two weeks after the first if three weeks elapse between the first spray and time for picking the fruit.

The spray used is two and one-half pounds of dry, powdered lead arsenate in 100 gallons of water. Two and one-half gallons of lime-sulphur may be added to the spray for sour cherries or two gallons of lime-sulphur for use on sweet cherries. The residue from this spray must be washed from the cherries before they are used for food.

* MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF STATE WEEKLY NEWS *

Corporation report blanks for 1932 are to be mailed to about 18,000 Michigan corporations during the last week in June, it was announced by the corporation division of the department of state. The total 1931 privilege tax paid up to June 4, 1932, was $6,864,277.94.

The reports, accompanied by the 1932 corporation privilege tax can be paid to the department between July 1 and September 1. While the report differs but slightly from the 1931 blank, the present year is the first in which the corporation code adopted by the 1931 legislature (P. A. 327) is fully effective and laws governing the tax and the annual report are changed in many technical ways.

In an effort to aid the corporations, the 1932 blanks will be accompanied by printed instructions, outlining the changes in the law.

In addition to the 18,000 profit corporations in the state there are approximately 7,000 other corporations that are not required to pay the privilege fee. These include non-profit corporations, which starting in 1933 must make yearly reports, and so-called utility corporations such as railroads, telegraph and telephone companies.

The use of trailers is constantly increasing in Michigan.

This is shown in the records of the motor vehicle division of the department of state. Up to June 1, 1932, a total of 48,859 trailer licenses had been issued this year. This is an increase of 9,269 over the same period last year, and the number of licensed trailers in use on June 1, 1932, was nearly double the number licensed on the same date in 1930 when 28,140 trailer licenses had been issued.

Extra VALUES

GUM-DIPPED CORDS
The Firestone patented Gum-Dipping process treads the cotton cords into a strong, tough, sinewy unit. Liquid rubber penetrates every cord and coats every fiber, guarding against internal friction and heat, greatly increasing the strength of the cord body, and giving longer life.

TWO EXTRA GUM-DIPPED CORD PLYS UNDER THE TREAD

This is a patented construction, and the two extra Gum-Dipped cord plies are so placed that you get 36% stronger bond between tread and cord body, and tests show 56% greater protection against punctures and blowouts. It sets a new standard for tire performance on high speed cars.

NON-SKID TREAD
Tough, live rubber specially compounded for long, slow wear. Scientifically designed non-skid gives greater traction and safe, quiet performance.

START PAYING TAX ON ALL SIDES NOW

NEW SCHEDULE IN EFFECT
STARTING JUNE 21ST

Gasoline, Golf Balls, Face Powder, Radioes—Almost Everything Hit
by U. S. Government

Tuesday was the date when Uncle Sam's brand new nuisance tax bill went into effect on soft drinks, cosmetics, bank checks, autos, candy for the kids, radio sets, golf balls, matches to light your pipe, gum to chew, oil and gasoline to burn, tires, stock transfers, your electric light, engagement rings, movie admissions, wort, malt, grape concentrate—all of these started boring into consumers' pocketbooks at midnight June 20.

Letter Postage Up

If you own a bond over 28 feet long, you will start paying the tax on it July 1st.

You may send a letter first class for two cents up to midnight July 5; thereafter it's three cents. Second class increases start July 1.

And if you have any income this year you had better start laying aside a reserve; for without knowing it the tax on that income jumped clean out of sight and your exemptions were killed or lopped down as of last January 1 and from then on.

Official Rates

Here are the new official rates:
Manufacturers' Excise Tax
Lubricating oil, 4 cents per gallon.
Brewers' wort, 15 cents per gallon.
Malt sirup, 3 cents per pound; grape concentrate, 20 cents per gallon.
Tires and tubes, 2 1-4 and 4 cents per pound.

Toilet preparations, 10 per cent; dentifrice, 5 per cent.

Furs, 10 per cent; jewelry, 10 per cent, with exemption for plated silverware and articles up to $3.

Stamp Taxes

Bond and stock issues, 10 cents per $100.

Stock transfers—Shares selling under $20, 4 cents; shares selling over $20, 5 cents. Bond transfers, 4 cents per share. Conveyances, 50 cents on $100 to $500; 50 cents per $500 in excess. Produce sales for future delivery, 5 cents per $100.

Remember, if you're an income taxpayer that the $1,500 exemption for single men has dropped to $1,000; that the married man's $3,500 exemption is down to $2,500; that there's no credit for earned income and no exemption of surtax dividends on domestic corporations, even though the corporations already have paid 13 3-4 per cent on the income distributed in dividends; that the normal rates have jumped to 4 per cent on net income up to $4,000 and 8 per cent on all over that up to the point where the surtax begins, at $6,000; and that the surtax is far higher than at any time since the war period. If you're still in the stock market, remember also that you can't claim capital losses beyond your claim for capital gains.

And if you give to charity more than 15 per cent of your net income you will pay a tax to Uncle Sam on your extra generosity.

BOYNE RIVER GRANGE ENTERTAINS SATURDAY

According to an announcement by Alice Maud Smatt, secretary of Charlevoix County Pomona grange, Rock-Elm will take the "travelling gavel" to Boyne River grange on Saturday evening, June 25th. An interesting program is being arranged for this meeting, and, if attendance is on a par with previous meetings, most of the organizations of the county will be represented by large delegations.

1932-33 TEACHING STAFF ANNOUNCED

THREE NEW INSTRUCTORS FOR COMING YEAR

Sixth Grade and Home Economics
Vacancies Filled—Seek Band

Two changes in the teaching staff of Charlevoix public schools have been made, and another vacancy still remains to be filled, according to Supt. Gerald E. Bush, who recently issued new contracts for the 1932-33 school year.

The new instructors are Elsie Muscott, who takes over the sixth grade following five years' experience in the public schools at River Rouge, and Miss Irma Koch, who has been engaged as instructor in the home economics department. Miss Koch received her B. S. degree at University of Illinois and has had one semester of graduate study. She has had two years' teaching experience at Alton, Ill., in addition to two years as practical demonstrator and laboratory technician with General Foods, Inc., and Childs Restaurant Corporation of New York.

The vacancy yet to be filled is that of band and orchestra and junior high mathematics instructor, held by Albert W. Rider, who has accepted a position in the schools at Big Rapids.

Following is the complete teaching staff so far under contract:

Gerald E. Bush, superintendent; Helen French, kindergarten and grade principal; Vera Belding, first grade; Florence Little, second grade; Margaret Fitch, third grade; Sophia Manson, fourth grade; Clara Dittmer, fifth grade; Elsie Muscott, sixth grade; Elizabeth Farago, ungraded room; Esther Mary Atkinson, music; Jeanne Dasef, health education; Walter Weisenberger, manual arts; Harry E. BELVEDERE HOTEL OPENS SATURDAY

MR. AND MRS. C. C. STEINER
MANAGERS THIS YEAR

Inquiries and Advance Reservations
Indicate Good Season—Improve
Hotel and Grounds

The Belvedere hotel, under the management of Mr. and Mrs. Carl C. Steiner, will open for the 1932 season on Saturday, June 25th. Mr. and Mrs. Steiner managed the Clarendon hotel, Daytona Beach, Fla., and other outstanding hotels in the east and south since they were at the Belvedere several years ago.

The Steiners have selected a very efficient staff to assist them, giving promise of unexcelled service at The Belvedere this summer. The front office clerks are Albert W. Rider, Roy Sapp and James McLellan. Miss Ray A. Graver is private secretary and bookkeeper.

The housekeeper is Mrs. John Durgin, who has successfully managed this department of the hotel for several seasons. Edward Yates is returning again this season as chef, and William J. Cochrane, who has been headwaiter in some of the largest hotels in the east, will be in charge of the dining room. Miss Florence Robb, formerly with the home economics department of "Good Housekeeping," is pantry-woman. Wyatt Wilson will serve his third year as porter.

A well-known concert and dance orchestra has been engaged to provide music for The Belvedere guests.

Many improvements have been made at the hotel this year. An approved sprinkler system has been installed throughout to assure guests of fire protection. Several corridors and rooms have been newly decorated. With the addition of several lavatories, every room in The Belvedere now has running hot and cold water. A large quantity of new equipment, which will be used in the various departments of the hotel, has been purchased.

Numerous inquiries and reservations are being received daily, and at the present time, indications are that The Belvedere will have a successful season.

Edward J. Edwards, affable warden of the Belvedere Club, reports very good progress in the rentals of cottages. Under his supervision, extensive improvements have been made in several cottages, as well as on the grounds. Two asphalt tennis courts have replaced two of the clay courts, thus permitting summer residents to enjoy a game of tennis immediately after rain. This feature will prove a popular one.

AL WEBER RELATES CONVENTION ACTION

WAS REPUBLICAN DELEGATE
FROM 11TH CONG. DISTRICT

Gives His Constituents First Hand Information Regarding Convention Held in Chicago

To the Republicans of the Lower Eleventh Congressional District of Michigan:

Kind Friends:
Having been entrusted with the honor of representing your district as delegate to the National Republican convention held at Chicago on June 14th, 15th and 16th, I feel it my duty and I consider it a great pleasure to briefly report to you—the accomplishments of that convention from my viewpoint and in which I tried to represent my constituents as I believed they wished.

First. It was a most inspiring, impressive and well balanced assemblage of political leaders from every part of our United States and possessions. It was determined, but it was harmonious. It was not a conference given over to fault finding and complaint. Instead it was instilled throughout with that invigorating spirit of progress that has marked the party's course since its birth, and has proven the foundation of the country's stability, orderly government and world strength.

Second. A brief analysis of the major problems decided upon at this great convention must first be presented for your consideration. The organization, of course, came first, and it might be truly said that generally that followed closely and conformed with the ideas of our administration leader, because to attempt any other course in the presence of nearly twelve hundred delegates, as many more alternate delegates, three times that many guests and curious ones, would have resulted in a chaotic mass of ideas and desires which would have taken days to work out.

Before this organization took place, however, the delegates from different states met and decided questions of leadership, of politics and of policies. Inasmuch as the people of the lower eleventh congressional district of Michigan will be most interested in what Michigan's delegates did toward contributing to the "life of the party," I will add that our first meeting was held in the ballroom room at the Congress hotel Monday evening, before the convention proper. Practically every delegate and alternate was present at that meeting, and with them were many, many Michigan men and women interested in all that was to be done.

Governor Brucker opened this meeting as its chairman and very gingerly put the meeting into motion, and the caucuses proceeded to the selection of committee members resulting as follows: former Governor Fred Green was chosen the state's member of the resolutions committee, a committee that dwelt with the most important part of the whole convention, and a job that engaged him for many hours, Mr. Green being one of the members subscribing to a minority report on the prohibition matter, the only question in the entire mass of resolution matter on which there was a decisive and sustained difference of opinion.

The committee on nominations was headed by John W. Blodgett, of Grand Rapids, with Thomas Clancy, Ishpeming; Paul Chase, Hillsdale; W. W. Blackney, Flint, and William H. Kirkpatrick, Detroit, as members. Seth Q. Pulver, of Owosso, credentials; Samuel Eddy, Lake Linden, rules; Mayor Clyde M. Ford, Dearborn, permanent organization; Mrs. Louise E. Woodhouse, Detroit, honorary vice president of the convention; Charles Beecher Warren, to notify the nominee for president, and Cassius L. Glasgow, Nashville, to notify the vice-presidential nominee.

John B. Davidson of Bay City, was re-elected national committeeman by acclamation, but a vote was taken after two nominations had been made for the second member of the committee. Mrs. Bina West Miller, who had held the honor for several years, met with opposition in the person of Mrs. Jacob Stokette of Battle Creek, who received the greatest number of votes on the first ballot and was declared elected.

Because of her past efforts and in acknowledgment of the recognition given her by President Hoover in his request that she second his nomination at the national convention two Michigan delegates, Governor Brucker and John Blodgett, each sacrificed half a vote enabling Mrs. Miller to attend the convention as an accredited delegate-at-large.

PLANS PROGRESS FOR JULY FOURTH

BOAT TRIPS PLANNED FROM BOYNE AND EAST JORDAN

Parade, Bands, Boxing Matches and Fireworks Display Among Many Features of Activity

Plans of the Legion for the Fourth of July celebration at Charlevoix now include the chartering of the steamer Ossinn Bedell, of the Beaver Island Steamship & Development Company, for two round trip excursions to East Jordan and Boyne City out of Charlevoix. An effort will be made to secure an orchestra to play on the boat for dancing and the local post plans to have a concession or two on the boat to help defray expenses.

Arrangements for the parade are progressing nicely and a goodly number of interesting floats will be in line. Members of the three Legion posts of the county and their Auxiliaries, the Petoskey and Charlevoix post bugle and drum corps and one or two bands will march. A fine set of aerial fireworks has been ordered and a snappy boxing bout between two leading heavyweight performers of the region will crown a series of interesting fistic contests. There will be street dancing and a number of novel street sports will be staged in the three blocks between Antrim and Park streets, which will be roped off and closed for the various celebration purposes before and after the parade—traffic being diverted at the two end cross streets to State street.

The junctions of Mason and Clinton streets with Bridge will be devoted to concessions.

All Legionnaires and ex-service men attending the celebration are requested to register at the information bureau, producing discharge papers or other evidence of service, whereupon they will be given identification cards. This is necessary, because a prize will be given to the Legion post having the most members in line in the parade proportioned to each post's paid membership, and also to serve as a tally of ex-service men and Legionnaires in the district.

A meeting of the Tri-post association of Charlevoix county was held at Boyne City, Tuesday evening, at which the radio broadcast of the Schmelling-Sharkey fight and an excellent supper were the main features. Mrs. J. M. Harris appeared before the members of the three posts and explained the method of ordering and apportioning the Red Cross or government milled flour among the needy families of the county.

DETROIT PLAYERS WILL LOCATE HERE

TO SHOW TWICE WEEKLY AT IRONTON THEATRE

Combine With "The Caravan Players" for Permanent Season of Stock Near Charlevoix

Announcement has just been made that the Detroit players, who for the past four summers have toured the state with their elaborate tent show, have combined with a New York company, "The Caravan Players," for a permanent season of stock near Charlevoix.

Instead of presenting under canvas, the cast will be seen every Tuesday and Thursday night beginning July 5th at the Tanglewood Theatre by the lake on M-66, near the Ironton ferry. A new production will be staged each week of the latest Broadway hits, and the distinguished cast will include Thayer Roberts, who for some years was an associate of Fritz Leiber's company; Jennette Dowling, seen for a number of years in the productions of the late Minnie Maddern Fiske, and Adams T. Rice, widely known as a director, producer of the Detroit Players, and for his work with the New York Theatre Guild.

The Tangle wood Theatre is fully equipped with lighting facilities, stage counter-weight system and scenic studio, so that the organization will have the advantage of every mechanical convenience of a Broadway theatre. Program announcement will be made at an early date, and the sale of tickets is scheduled to begin soon.

Charlevoix theatre-goers, both among local and summer residents, will receive this announcement with enthusiasm, inasmuch as the Detroit Players were well known here and their decision to locate at Ironton will make their excellent offerings available throughout the summer season instead of the short period in former years.

KAMP KAIRPHREE TO OPEN NEXT TUESDAY

The official opening for the 1932 summer season of Kamp Kairphree, popular girls' camp located on the north shore of Lake Charlevoix, has been announced for Tuesday, June 28th, by Mr. and Mrs. George R. Swain, directors.

The first of a large contingent of campers enrolled for the summer will arrive at that time. The staff of counsellors are coming to the camp the latter part of this week.

Preparations for the season, which have been in progress for several weeks, are now practically completed and everything will be in readiness for the opening.

Floyd Ikens, formerly on the Charlevoix city police force, and Perry Smith, another well known local resident, both of whom will seek the office of sheriff on the Republican ticket, have filed nomination petitions.

It is anticipated there will be many aspirants for every office, and in this case a grist of petitions will be filed before the time limit expires at 4 o'clock the afternoon of Tuesday, July 26th.

With the opening of the summer schedule, dances will be held Monday, Wednesday and Saturday nights, instead of Wednesday and Saturday as formerly. For July 4th, the Gardens will be open both afternoon and evening.

Glenn Mohn's eight-piece band, formerly with the Student Prince Cafe at Flint, have been engaged for the summer. The band, playing at the Gardens during the early season, have proved very popular with patrons.

INDEPENDENTS LOST TO BARNARD SUNDAY

Defeated 14 to 8 After Winning Six Consecutive Games

After winning six consecutive games, the Charlevoix Independent baseball team was handed a 14 to 8 defeat by the Barnard All-Stars at Barnard, Sunday.

The winners, starting the second inning with a 3 to 1 lead, went through the balance of the game with a comfortable margin. Jess Gregory, Barnard first baseman, hit a three-bagger in the 8th with the bases full and later scored himself. Stinn Smith, catcher for the Independents, hit a home run with one man on in the same inning, ending the scoring for the game.

CIRCUIT COURT UP- HELD 10C LAND TAX

Means Around $86,000 in Revenue to Northern Counties

The 1931 legislative act requiring the department of conservation to pay a tax of ten cents per acre to counties on state owned lands, was held constitutional last week by Circuit Judge Charles B. Collingwood.

The suit was instituted three months ago by Lloyd Ferry, president of the Grand Rapids chapter of the Izak Walton League. He contended that the law, requiring funds received from the sale of fishing and hunting licenses be used to pay taxes, was contrary to the state constitution.

Unless the case is appealed to the state supreme court, the department will pay various northern Michigan counties in which the lands are located about $86,000.

"CAFETERIA" STAMP WIN- DOW IS LATEST WRINKLE

A "cafeteria" plan of selling stamps has been introduced at the Benton Harbor postoffice by W. E. Banyon, postmaster. Instead of employing a clerk to handle money and vend stamps to the public Banyon has printed a sign "Make your own change." Customers take their desired number of stamps, and deposit the money in a box. Banyon said that to date no shortages have occurred despite the fact that clerks are skeptical as to its ultimate success.

A greater number of infants from the rural districts and urban centers is expected to be entered this year in the better babies' contest during the Michigan State Fair and Exposition, September 4 to 10.

Johnny Walker of the Indians had four hits in five times to bat, and "Bill" and Max Novak, new players with the team, played well, the former making two hits and as many runs, and the later two hits and one run.

The Indians' next game will be here next Sunday afternoon with the Ellsworth Packers.

"CARS ARE LIKE HUMANS" says this Nurse

Miss Lane learns from Mrs. Chester Orchard, nurse of Peoria, Ill., that cars, as well as humans, need good care. The Orchards have driven a Ford Model A 30,280 miles.

An Interview by MARGARET LANE

Reporter, London Daily Express and International News Service

ANY NURSE will tell you the same. A clean system spells a clean bill of health. And that goes for cars, as well.

Ask Mrs. Chester Orchard of 716 West Maywood, Peoria, Illinois. She's both a nurse and a motorist, and she sees to the clean running of her car the same way she keeps a trained eye on the health of her baby daughter.

"I don't know much about a car's insides," she admitted.

Polarine also is refined by our new process—giving it an efficiency which is exceeded only by Iso-Vis. The price is 25c a quart.

"but there is one sure way to make it run smooth and give no trouble. My husband put me up to it. He insisted I use Iso-Vis and he was right."

We drove fast and smooth from her suburban home the odd mile to the hospital. "What's wrong with that?" she smiled, flicking off the ignition, "sounds pretty good, doesn't it?"

"Well, I suppose I take good care of her. I have her overhauled as conscientiously as I take my baby to the doctor, but there's never been an ounce of engine trouble."

Mrs. Orchard's 30,280 trouble-free miles prove again what Iso-Vis has demonstrated in laboratory tests and in A.A.A. tests on the Indianapolis Speedway—Positive Lubrication Protection. OF INTEREST TO FARMERS

By B. C. Mallenamp

Turkey Raisers Beware of Coccidiosis

The one disease most feared of any apt to affect young turkeys is that of coccidiosis. When it strikes, a large per cent of your turkeys will be sick at the same time and die within two days unless something is done immediately.

This disease is caused by a microscopic parasite that works in the intestinal linings and ceca. The activities of these parasites cause an irritation of the intestinal linings and in severe cases results in sloughing off of portions of these linings. The turkeys become unthrifty in appearance, do not eat well and usually show some blood in their droppings. Upon post mortem examination, it will be noted that the intestines show considerable inflammation and the ceca are usually enlarged and filled with a brown material and more or less dried blood.

Treatment. The most effective treatment for coccidiosis consists of mixing 40 pounds of dried milk with 60 pounds of the regular starting or growing mash—making a mash mixture carrying 40 per cent dried milk. It makes little difference whether the milk is dried, skimmed milk or dried buttermilk. The lactose in the milk introduced into the intestines of the turkey is changed to lactic acid which kills the coccidia present. The feeding of the 40 per cent milk mash for four or five days coupled with a rigid sanitation program and a thorough cleaning of the pens and yards every third day usually proves effective in controlling this disease.

Coccidiosis is not directly transmissible from one bird to another. Coccidia taken from the intestines of a sick bird must sporulate before they become infective. This sporulation requires about four days under favorable conditions in the presence of air, moisture, and warmth. The milk mash plus the thorough frequent cleaning is more effective than patent remedies. Iodine Suspension (Merck) is probably the most effective disinfectant for killing coccidia.

Be Prepared to Spray for Cherry Fruit Fly

Word has been received that the cherry fruit fly has already emerged in the southern part of the state and that the time draws near when Charlevoix county fruit should be sprayed. Cages have been erected in the various counties to accurately inform you the correct time.

On sour canning cherries, use 2½ pounds of dry powdered arsenate of lead plus 2½ gallons of liquid lime sulphate to each 100 gallons of water. On sweet cherries, use the same amount of arsenate of lead, plus 2 gallons of liquid lime sulphate. The first spray should be applied immediately on receipt of the word that the flies have emerged in Charlevoix county. It is recommended that the second spray be applied two weeks after the first spray in case a period of three weeks elapses between the emergence of the fly and that of the picking of the fruit.

Please be in readiness for the announcement which is expected within a very few days.

Make Your Application for Christmas Tree Inspection

The extension office is in receipt of correspondence from E. C. Mandenberg in charge of orchard and nursery inspection in regard to inspection of Christmas trees and evergreen bough swamps.

If you are interested in selling Christmas trees this fall, it will be necessary to apply for inspection immediately. The first inspection of Christmas trees will be immediately after August 1st. Under no consideration will there be any inspection made after December 15th. It is suggested that all people interested in this notify the county agent so that when the inspector arrives, all places can be visited with a minimum of time and travel. If you do not have an application blank, a quantity will be found in the office. Send your name and blanks will be sent to you immediately. Please give this your prompt attention as it will facilitate matters this fall.

Guernsey Breeders Association Organized for the New Year

The members of the Charlevoix county Guernsey Breeders association, at a recent meeting held in East Jordan, organized for the new year. This association consists of a membership of approximately twenty dairymen who are deeply interested in the development and progress of the Guernsey breed.

The election of officers resulted in the selection of Archie M. Murphy of East Jordan, president; Carl Stevens, Wallon Lake, vice-president, and Oakley Saunders, Ironton, secretary.

One of the most important questions that came up for discussion was that of making plans for this year's summer show and picnic. In the past, approximately thirty of our leading Guernseys from the members of the club have been selected and shown in the various age classes. It has been very pleasant indeed to note the high quality Guernseys being developed from year to year. A committee consisting of Charles Murphy as chairman, Carl Stevens and Oakley Saunders, was selected to formulate plans for this exhibition. Furthermore, they are authorized to select the place and time.

Without a doubt, the Guernsey breed of cattle is very popular throughout the county and one cannot help but be impressed with the number that are to be found on the various farms.

Canning Club Members Meet

Miss Sylvia Wikson, assistant state club leader, led discussion.

The summer club program has progressed very favorably in the county. Of particular interest is the fact that we have eleven canning clubs already organized, which is an increase of three over the number of last year. This program fits in very nicely with our present day conditions as everyone is interested in having a good garden and in preserving the surplus from it for home use during the long winter months.

A night meeting was held at East Jordan on the 7th and a fine group of girls from East Jordan organized their club as a result. On the 8th, four groups met with Miss Wikson at Boyne Falls in the forenoon and three groups at Charlevoix in the afternoon. By this sort of arrangement, more time could be spent in discussing the various features of the program than would have been the case in meeting with each club separately. At the present time seven of the clubs have sent in their enrollment blanks and have received all the material necessary to proceed with the project.

The following clubs have already organized and selected their leader as follows: Barnard, Miss Margaret Matchett; Murray district, Mrs. Wm. Hair; Boyne Falls, Mrs. Robert Russell; Boyne Falls Economy Eight, Mrs. Charles Baker; Horton Bay, Mrs. Howard Stephens, Mrs. John Koteskey; East Jordan Jar Club, Irene Right; Phelps, Mrs. Willem Himebaugh; Marion Center, Miss Beattie Straw; Peninsula, Mrs. Jim Earl; Tainter, School club, Mrs. W. Somerville.

In addition, the Ironton club have arranged for their organization meeting and this will be announced later.

Now Film Stars—They First Met in a Road Show.

"Amateur Daddy" Role Was Hazardous One for Baxter

Thrills, action, excitement and romance are part of the daily existence of film stars; but now and again a story comes along that intermingles these qualities so closely and so rapidly that even a veteran player must call upon every faculty at his command to handle the role.

Such a story is "Amateur Daddy," Warner Baxter's latest Fox picture showing next Tuesday and Wednesday at the Palace theatre. During its filming, Baxter was called upon to perform no less than eight dramatic episodes, each of which was attended with extreme personal danger.

Big Cast of Professionals and Non-Professionals in "The Crowd Roars"

James Cagney's new picture for Warner Bros., "The Crowd Roars," a story of high-speed auto racing, comes to the Palace theatre next Thursday and Friday.

The large cast of professionals and non-professionals includes, in addition to Cagney, Joan Blondell, Ann Dvorak, Eric Linden, Guy Kibbee, Frank McHugh and Charlotte Merriam. Among the famous racing drivers seen in "The Crowd Roars" are William Arnold, Lou Schneider, Harry Hartz, Ralph Hepburn, Fred Gulsoo, Phil Pardee, Spider Matlock, Jack Brisko, Fred Frame and many others. Arnold and Schneider were Indianapolis speedway champions for 1930 and 1931 respectively.

Readers who resolved to save some of their money during 1932 have time to begin, even if the year is half gone.

STANDARD EXPLAINS STATE GAS TAX CASE

Statement by Local Manager Cities Company's Position

To answer questions which Standard Oil representatives in this community are being asked, indicating much public interest, L. J. Thompson, local manager for the company, has given the following statement explaining the Standard Oil position in contesting in federal court claims brought against it by the Michigan authorities for certain gasoline taxes:

"The question at issue in the gasoline tax case now before the federal court is simply one of technical interpretation of the Michigan law, especially of those provisions governing deductions for evaporation and other losses.

"Insinuations circulated to some extent that the company deliberately evaded payment of the taxes are ridiculous. In the period involved Standard Oil has paid the state of Michigan $30,222,179 in gasoline taxes, covering every cent it believed to be due under a proper construction of the law. By comparison the amount of $744,421 in dispute is small, though naturally of importance both to the company and to the state.

"Standard Oil has been the leader of the nation-wide campaign against gasoline tax evasion and has spent thousands of dollars of its own money to aid state authorities in adequate enforcement of gasoline tax laws.

"The claims of the Michigan authorities are based on a new interpretation of the gasoline tax laws after acceptance for nearly five years of payments based on a different interpretation. The law says very plainly that three per cent shall be deducted for evaporation and loss. The attorney general and the secretary of state have taken the position that deduction may be made for evaporation only. The company believes that the words 'and loss' in the statute provide for the other losses besides evaporation. Being compelled to pay the gasoline taxes long before it collects them from the public, the company loses interest on the money invested in the interval. It loses entirely taxes it has paid on gasoline sold on credit when the consumer fails to pay. It loses the expense of collecting the taxes and accounting for them. These and many other losses, in addition to evaporation and shrinkage, bring the total loss up to the three per cent deduction prescribed, or more. There is also involved a question of whether the amounts handled by steamer and through port tank storage are taxable on the basis of the amount put in storage or the amount actually taken out for distribution in Michigan. Unless the latter basis is used, shipments via port storage will pay a higher tax than shipments entering the state via railway tank cars.

"These questions are technical. The courts must decide how they should be settled.

"The company's desire has been at all times to pay the gasoline taxes in strict compliance with the law. If the court holds that the company's understanding of the law has been incorrect, due amends will be gladly made. It will be expected, however, that the new interpretation will then be similarly enforced against all companies doing business in the state, and not against Standard Oil alone."

SEEK WAY TO CUT AUTO LICENSE HALF JULY 1

Governor and Secretary of State Trying to Work Out Plan

The governor and secretary of state are endeavoring to find some legal way in which automobile license plates can be sold at half price after July 1.

The automobile weight tax law fixes September 1 as the earliest day when license plates can be sold at the reduced figure. However, the officials are studying statutes regarding the powers of the state administrative board to act in emergencies, as a possible solution to the question.

Sale of license plates at half-price after July 1, would allow owners of approximately 100,000 cars to secure licenses, and it also would add hundreds of thousands of dollars to the state's revenue.

64 Pounds of Fat

Mrs. H. Price of Woodville, L. I. writes: "A year ago I weighed 190 lbs. I started to take Kruschen and now I weigh 126 and never felt better in my life and what's more, I look more like 20 yrs. old than the mother of 2 children, one of 19 and the other 18. My friends say it's marvelous the way I reduced."

To lose fat SAFELY and HARMLESSLY, take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—don't miss a morning—a bottle that lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle—but don't take chances—be sure it's Kruschen. If not joyfully satisfied after the first bottle—money back.

AL WEBER RELATES

Your representative cast his vote for Mrs. Bina West Miller, but he is not unappreciative of the ability, the political knowledge and influence and the value of the new committee-woman to our party.

Third, Now let us go back to the convention proper: the first day's meeting began in the big stadium at close to ten o'clock, with most of the delegates and alternates in place, but the mezzanine floor and galleries of the big hall only spotted with people, while the aisles and crowded plexes teemed with assistant Sergeant at Arms, who seemingly had nothing to do but wear their badges, occupy the seats of the delegates when vacated and then hunt for other unoccupied seats when not displaying their pretty badges. Michigan's delegation was there practically 41 strong, and so was its section of alternates. The delegation proper was headed by Governor Brucker who was always present and keenly following the business of the meetings. Ex-Governor Fred Green was another person always in his place, alert and active. We might mention others that showed that same interest all through the convention, but those two delegates are best known to you and to the people at large. Following the usual routine necessary in the beginning of such gatherings, Hon. B. H. Snell of New York took the gavel as permanent chairman of the convention and his opening address was a ringing appeal to the party to stand firmly on President Hoover's presidential records as the sure foundation for victory at the polls in November.

Our next delegation caucus, or get together, took place in the French room of the Congress hotel on Tuesday evening, after the resolutions committee had completed its report and the same was ready to be picked to pieces or adopted. Ex-Governor Green, who was a member of that resolution committee, and had been spending so many long and sleepless hours attempting to come to an amicable agreement on all matters, particularly on the convention's disposition of the liquor subject, read the resolutions as had been approved by a majority of the resolutions committee and also submitted the report of a minority of that committee, which had to deal only with the liquor question. Mr. Green, all the way through, had taken the position that Michigan should adhere to the decision arrived at, at the state convention held at Grand Rapids, while the soaking wets in the delegation instated on a straight repeal of the Volstead act. Others favored the majority measure, but after a lot of wrangling and what turned out to be one of the most spirited meets of states in the whole convention, a vote was taken and 25 of the delegates voted for the Amendment backed by Ex-Governor Green and the other fifteen voted for the administration plank as was adopted at the convention later that night. Your delegate voted for the amendment.

We did not discuss the matter of a choice for president or vice president at any of our delegate meetings, deciding that in our way at the convention after setting through the long program of speech making that began when Hon. Joseph L. Scott of California in a fifteen minute speech closed by saying: "We of his own state of California, proudly present this homegrown American, Herbert Hoover, to lead us to victory." This announcement was the spark that turned the great stadium into a bedlam of cheering, yelling, shouting, noise making men and women. Thousands of vari-colored balloons were dumped out of huge nets strung along the rafters high up over the heads of the people. These lazily floated down into the midst of that milling, cheering, yelling mass.

This lasted for half an hour before Chairman Fess could again get order, and then followed seconding speeches in which our own Governor Brucker, called upon without preparation or planning, made his way to the speakers stand while his Michigan delegation stood and cheered, and behind that brief contribution to eloquent oratory was a punch that caused delegation after delegation to arise to its feet and cheer along with Michigan, in what proved to be one of the most acceptable of all the seconding speeches. Michigan was doubly honored at this time as Mrs. Bina West Miller, our former national committee woman, was also called to make a seconding speech. In the end President Hoover was swept to victory on the first ballot, needless to tell what became of the 28 votes registered against him.

In the nomination of a vice presidential candidate this did not require so much time, as it lacked the great demonstration that took a half hour in the presidential nomination. It lacked the long list of seconding speeches. In the voting several states held back their vote until close to the end when it was certain that Vice President Curtis would be re-nominated, then Pennsylvania came in with its 75 votes, others that had held out followed and Mr. Curtis was nominated on the first ballot and the convention came to an end amidst wild cheering.

The adoption of the majority report on the wet and dry question, in the end, proved to be the most practical solution of the problem looming so large before the public mind today. The adoption of the majority report was a decided victory for the wets, who never can hope to retain a repeal of the 18th amendment, when that repeal would wreck the business of the moonshiner and the bootlegger as well as smash the plans of the ardent dries. The amendment to the 18th amendment will allow each state to decide whether it wants to be wet or dry, and in the final analysis it may have the assistance of the federal government in helping keep inviolate its laws. The proposed amendment does not allow the return of the saloon, and it leaves open the way to individual state control. In the final analysis the minority report sought to attain the same end, but it was put into more understandable phraseology, and would have perhaps been better understood.

Michigan's 41 delegates were practically all in constant attendance at all conferences and convention meetings. The alternate delegates also evidenced as keen interest in all that transpired and your alternate delegate, Mrs. R. B. Armstrong of Charlevoix, was always in her chair, except when filling your delegate's place when he was called away, and her political views meshed perfectly with those acts registered by the delegates from her state.

News paper men who made the rounds of many state delegate caucuses were enphatic in their statements that a keener and a more friendly and harmonious group represented our state than any other and that it was more pleasure to be in their meetings.

Some newspaper reports would lead readers to believe that there was open scuffling and dickering in our delegation, but all this is silly bunk, invented to give space and spice to newspaper stories. It was thoroughly open and above-board, a friendly and a most harmonious gathering, that returned home in the end determined to put up a battle royal in support of the candidates and the principles they espoused at the convention.

There are a great lot of interesting things I might tell you, but my newspaper friends who are relaying that report to you may object to my taking so much of their valuable time, and space, so please be satisfied with this.

Very truly,

AL. H. WEBER,
Delegate to National Republican Convention.

Views of Alternate Delegate

I appreciate the privilege given me by Charlevoix county and the 11th congressional district of 17 counties, to be one of the Michigan delegation to attend the great G. O. P. national convention of 1932, which has passed into history. I enjoyed most of all the meeting of prominent women of the country at many social affairs and hearing of their work. Liquor drew forth the fine oratory, but was no place in evidence itself. It was a magnificent spectacle, and I could not help but compare to past conventions in our history, we have traveled a long distance, the modern wonders, as the president speaking to convention, immediately after his nomination, and all listening in and in the near future we may look in also.

Mrs. R. B. Armstrong.

NEW TYPE CRUISER
FOR COAST GUARDSCapt. Smith Breaks Record in Trip
Here from East Coast

Breaking all existing coast guard records for delivery of a boat from the east coast to Lake Michigan waters, Capt. Oscar Smith and two members of the local station crew returned Friday evening with a new cruiser type surf boat for the Charlevoix unit.

They completed the 1600 mile trip from Baltimore to Charlevoix via the Erie canal in exactly thirteen days.

The new craft, the latest and first of its type on Lake Michigan, is 38 ft. long, has beam of 11 ft. and draft of 4 ft. It is powered with a 100 h.p. Sterling motor, nearly twice the power of the old boat.

Among the new safety features embodied in the craft is a fire protection system. By simply pulling a lever, the entire craft is flooded with a fire extinguishing gas. A force air blower changes the air in the engine room, thus preventing danger of gas explosions, or may be operated continuously while the boat is running.

The hull is double planked and sheathed with copper below the water line. A forward cabin has accommodations for several men. The boat is a decided improvement over the type now generally in use on the Great Lakes. The old boat will be taken to Grand Haven.

WELL KNOWN BEAUTY
CULTURIST RETURNSNora Davis, at The Inn Last Year, to Operate Belvedere Salon

Nora Davis, who operated The Inn Beauty salon last season, has returned to Charlevoix for the summer and has taken over operation of the beauty salon at The Belvedere.

Miss Davis, whose clientele at The Inn included many local as well as prominent summer residents, has operated the Merinello Beauty Salon at Miami, Florida. She is an authorized exponent of beauty culture and has been making radio broadcasts advising women how to care for their skin and hair. She was formerly chairman of the board of examiners of barbers and beauty culturists at Miami.

Miss Davis is bringing all modern equipment for the operation of a complete and strictly high class beauty shop, and also has brought assistants from her own shop in Miami. The Belvedere Beauty Salon has been tastefully decorated in preparation for the summer season.

BRUCKER OPPOSITION LINING UPLANSING EDITOR LATEST TO MAKE KNOWN ASPIRATIONSEd. Nowack Throws Hat in Ring—Welch, Grand Rapids, Possible
Candidate for Executive Seat

Formidable opposition for Gov. Wilber M. Brucker in his quest of a second term as Michigan's chief executive has appeared, about a month before the final date for filing of nominating petitions.

Recently George Welch, Grand Rapids' city manager, told an assembly of 500 boosters that if their call was sufficiently strongly echoed throughout the state, he would become a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor.

At the same time, Ed. A. Nowack, Lansing publisher, was entering the lists, claiming the support of the forces of former Governor Alex. J. Groesbeck.

Despite the reservations contained in Welch's statement, his Grand Rapids friends definitely count him in the race.

Welsh and Nowack bring Brucker's number of opponents to three, Wm. H. McKeighan, Flint's mayor, already having entered the lists.

How many votes Nowack will be able to muster is problematical and will depend upon what sort of an organization he is able to assemble. His presence in the race, however, will without doubt be cause for considerable embarrassment to the present governor.

Nowack is familiar with Lansing affairs and will be able to direct a continuous, well directed attack into the vulnerable points in the Brucker armor.

Like Brucker, Nowack's platform will be based upon promises of governmental economies, but where the governor will tell the voters he has done everything possible to cut state expenses, the Lansing publisher will probably show where he could have gone much farther.

Nowack's petitions, he said, are already in circulation and will be deposited with the secretary of state soon.

Candidate McKeighan this week brought forth the platform on which he will appeal to the voters this fall. In an address in his home city he said he will, if elected, enforce new economies in government and, generally, operate the state on a basis which will be an improvement over the record of Governor Brucker.

Fourteen points, including conservation, unemployment relief and other important subjects, are included in the McKeighan platform.

ING WEDGE, GILBERT *Circuit Judge Sites Evil of Small Gambling at Traverse City

Slot machines are the entering wedge for more widespread and organized gambling, Judge Parm C. Gilbert stated to Traverse City officers last week in discussing the arraignment of C. V. Rice and J. Cameron on a charge of having slot machines in their places of business. Both pleaded guilty and were told to come back to court on June 28.

Judge Gilbert told the officers that there are other slot machine operators in the city, according to his information, and he wanted the operators brought in. He also said that he understood the slot machine business had reached proportions where the state was parcelled out among agents for the machines and that the agents were guaranteeing store keepers immunity from the law.

At the afternoon session Monday, prosecuting attorney Rollie L. Lewis read a report from Attorney General Paul Voorheis relative to findings of his department following an investigation of the Charlevoix county road commission, called after presentation of a petition bearing signatures of 600 Charlevoix county taxpayers demanding such action.

The report, in addition to citing several sections of Michigan laws governing conduct of road commissioners in office, revealed that the department's investigation had uncovered sufficient evidence against Commissioner L. C. Rouse, Boyne City, to warrant, at the discretion of the board, the preferring of charges of malfeasance in office, on the grounds he had sold petroleum products to the county contrary to provisions of the law.

Following considerable discussion, the matter was referred to the road committee of the board, which, following practically an all-day session, Tuesday, returned the following report:

"The road committee, to whom was referred the matter of L. C. Rouse, road commissioner, Charlevoix county, in reference to malfeasance in office, have investigated the matter as far as possible, with evidence at hand. The road committee does not believe that facts warrant charges being preferred against Mr. Rouse. However, the board of supervisors may make any further investigation they desire. Signed: Wm. J. Pearson, Wm. F. Bashaw, Orton VanDusen, Frank Partridge, James H. Gallagher, Wm. E. Tindall. (Continued on page 8.)

WARN AGAINST CIVIL SERVICE PREP SCHOOL

Those Selling Such Courses Accept Money Under False Pretenses

The United States civil service commission warns the public against paying money for "coaching" courses in preparation for Federal civil service examinations. Schools which sell such courses under present conditions accept money under false pretenses. A purveyor of civil service courses is now under indictment in Iowa for false representation. It is expected that other such cases of prosecution will follow.

Comparatively few appointments are being made in the Federal civil service. Vacancies which must be filled are filled by the transfer of those in the service or the reinstatement of those who have been in the service, wherever practicable.

It is seldom necessary to announce an examination. In most cases registers of eligibles exist as a result of examinations held during the past year. When an examination is announced, the applicants are usually hundreds of times in excess of the need.

Money paid for civil service coaching at this time might almost as well be thrown to the four winds.

COUNTY BANK PLAN BOYNE CITY OFFICE

OPENING OF BRANCH IS SET FOR SATURDAY, JULY 2

George C. Beeman, Assistant Cashier of Local Institution Eight Years, Goes There As Manager

On Saturday, July 2nd, the Charlevoix County bank, established in Charlevoix since 1884, will open an office in the First National bank building at Boyne City for the purpose of serving that community.

In making their announcement, owners of the local banking institution, stated their decision to open an office in Boyne City had been made after considerable deliberation following requests from many influential residents and business men of that city.

It was pointed out that the Michigan Tanning & Extract company's tannery at Boyne City is operating at practically full capacity with a large payroll every two weeks and with the numerous other industries and businesses, the community is severely handicapped without banking facilities.

George C. Beeman, who has been in the bank at Charlevoix as assistant cashier for the past eight years, will take charge of the office in Boyne City as manager. Due to his long association with the bank, he is perfectly familiar with policies and principals of the institution, and with his genial personality, it is assured that he will gain a place for himself in the business life of Boyne City.

The Courier wishes to take this opportunity to congratulate Boyne City on having an institution of the reliability of the Charlevoix County bank coming into their city and being a part of it. Due to the coming of a part of it, the service the institution has rendered the people of Charlevoix over a period of forty-eight years, it has won a very enviable position and the confidence of the community.

FEW LOCAL TELEPHONE CALLS WILL BE TAXED

Majority Under Minimum Limit, According to Local Manager

Comparatively few telephone calls are subject to the new federal revenue tax, and there is no tax whatever on toll and long distance messages that cost less than 50 cents each, or on local telephone calls, according to C. L. Johnson, manager in this area for the Michigan Bell Telephone company.

Manager C. L. Johnson states that the Charlevoix telephone office has had numbers of inquiries in that regard, indicating that many persons do not understand clearly all the provisions of the new revenue act that was passed by congress and signed by President Hoover June 6. The act became effective June 21.

The great volume of long distance telephone calls from Charlevoix, he says, is to Boyne City, East Jordan, Petoskey and other nearby points, the charges on the messages being so low that they are not affected by the act.

PROGRAM FOR JULY FOURTH COMPLETED

IS MOST EXTENSIVE ENTERTAINMENT EFFORT EVER SPONSORED IN CHARLEVOIX COUNTY

PARADE PROMISES TO BE BIG FEATURE

Street and Water Sports, Circus, Trained Animal Show, Baseball Games, Boxing Matches and Fireworks Display In Evening Among Many Attractions

Charlevoix's Fourth of July celebration in 1932 will go down in the annals of the town in the reddest of inks. This has no reference to any foreboded deficit, as one might imagine, but the conclusion is drawn from an inspection of the program, which promises to excel in size and interest anything heretofore attempted in this community.

While the celebration will be under the auspices of Leslie T. Shapton Post No. 226, Legionnaires of the county and Petoskey will do their bit to make it a success, with the backing of the city council and Mayor Bergeon.

Promptly at 6:00 a. m. buglers of the local post's bugle and drum corps will step out onto their respective front porches and sound reveille—the soldier's morning call. Of course, enterprising youthful celebrants will probably have gone into the action, with such ammunition as the safe and sane Fourth law has left to them, much earlier than this, but at 6:00 a. m. the official tocsin will sound to start the day. A half an hour later, members of committees and others responsible for different parts of the celebration will assemble at the Legion home on Garfield avenue to "count noses" and make sure that they will all be on the job and to receive last moment instructions. The full program is outlined in an advertisement on page four.

The proposed line of march of the parade (which may be modified in some respects at the time) is Legion home through Bridge street to the north side, out Petoskey avenue to Meech street, through Meech street to Dixon avenue, back on Dixon and Bridge to the Legion hall. The various sections of the parade will form on Garfield, Robinson and Wood streets and take their places in line as the procession moves off. Prizes are being offered for the best float, the most comic, etc.

Kay Brothers circus and trained animal show will hold their performance on the south field, where Hagenbeck formerly showed. The baseball games will be at the north side ball park, east of Meech street, and the boxing bouts will be staged in the hollow just north of O'Neill's taxi garage on Bridge street, bleachers built up to the sidewalk facing the lake and the arena. George Harrison's trained dog, horse and goat show will display in the driveway behind the city memorial park, the patriotic exercises will take place in this park, and the water sports will be held at the city docks. Here the fireworks will also be displayed. The three blocks between Antrim, Mason, Clinton and Park streets will be roped off against traffic and reserved for the midway and street sports. Southbound traffic will be routed through Park to State to Antrim back to the highway and northbound traffic in reverse.

The Legion has chartered the Beaver Island steamer "Ossian Bedell" for the day and folks will have an opportunity to revive the pleasant cruises around Lake Charlevoix that were the delight of the pre-automobile days. There will be an orchestra on the boat so that the passengers may dance if they wish. The "Bedell" leaves Charlevoix at an early hour so as to pick up visitors from Boyne City and East Jordan and get them over here in time for the main events.

An effort will be made to have this an orderly Fourth of July celebration. Six Legion police have been sworn in, in addition to the regular city force and they will be charged, for the honor of the Legion, to see that all disorderly conduct is sternly suppressed. No liquor will be permitted to be sold or used anywhere in the vicinity of the celebration activities.

Funeral services were held at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning from St. Mary church for Joseph Pfister, son of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Pfister, who died of heart attack last Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the basement of his home in Detroit. Mr. Pfister had been in poor health three years.

Members of the local American Legion post acted as pall bearers. Burial was at the Catholic cemetery. Deceased was born October 26, 1887, at Chicago. After residing in Sheboygan, Wis., for several years, he came with his parents to Charlevoix about 37 years ago. He attended local schools, and at the age of 18 joined the U. S. navy and went around the world with the fleet. For the past ten years he had been employed by Edward F. Fisher of Detroit, and for six years prior to that position, was with the Goldberg family, former Charlevoix summer residents.

Mr. Pfister was married November 1, 1917, at Detroit, to Miss Margaret Webster of Fraserburg, Scotland. The widow, together with a daughter, Barbara, survive, in addition to his parents and one sister, Mrs. A. F. Young of Boyne City.

Out-of-town relatives attending the funeral were Mrs. C. Knickrehm, Chicago; Fred Eble and Fredericka Eble of Sheboygan, Wisconsin.

INDEPENDENTS WON THEIR SUNDAY GAME

Defeated Mixed Team from Barnard and Ironton 19 to 10

The Charlevoix Independent baseball team added another victory Sunday afternoon on the south side diamond, defeating a team composed of members from the regular Barnard team, some from Ironton and two or three free lances. The final score was 19 to 10.

After suffering three straight setbacks the local team found its batting eye Sunday and hammered out plenty of base hits. After allowing the visitors five runs in the first inning Charlevoix settled down and showed its superiority, scoring from one to four runs every inning. Bob Sterritt led with four runs, while Stan Smith and Joe Shores made three apiece. Newman, Morris Dixon, Marvin Dixon and Leonard Burns also played.

This makes the season's record six won and one lost. Barnard was the only team to defeat the locals in a regular game although the Ellsworth Whitecaps in short practice games in the evening. Ellsworth won decisively 17 to 3 on the local field last Friday evening.

MAYOR APPOINTS CITY OFFICERS

LIST CONFIRMED BY COUNCIL MONDAY EVENING

Vote to Re-Build City Street Lighting System — Uphold South Side Zoning Ordinance

Along with other matters of routine business, the city council Monday evening confirmed Mayor Arthur Bergeon's appointment of city officers for the ensuing year.

Alderman E. J. Kibbe, who is serving his second term, was elected president of the council, and the appointments made were the following: Health Officer—Dr. R. B. Armstrong.

City Attorney—Lisle Shanahan. City Surveyor—Robert F. Sloan. Harbor Master—D. J. Eckinger.

Chief of Police—Charles Jefferies. Fire Chief—H. D. Marshall. Member Cemetery Board (term to expire 1934)—Robert Madill.

Special Police—Joseph Moore, Clarence Coblenz and Harry Gregory.

With the exception of appointments to the cemetery board and special police, the list stands the same as a year ago.

Following the precedent set on the matter of rescinding an ordinance prohibiting all stations and garages thumbs down on a petition requesting removal of a similar zoning ordinance covering the south side district.

Re-building of the city street lighting system at an estimated cost of a small amount over $1,000 was authorized and the superintendent of the electric light department instructed to purchase necessary equipment. Heavier transformers will be installed to relieve those already overloaded, proper hook-up of various circuits and provision for extension of the system if and when necessary, is included in the plan. The improvement is deemed a very necessary one in view of the present condition of the system.

Other business transacted included approval of the semi-weekly pay roll.

INDIANS LOSE AGAIN TO ELLSWORTH "NINE"

Dropped League Game Here Sunday by 14 to 9 Count

The Charlevoix Indians lost another game to the Ellsworth Packers, Sunday, dropping their Antrim-Charlevoix league contest to the visitors by a 14 to 9 score.

Both teams registered runs in the first inning. Charlevoix three and Ellsworth two. The Indians added another in the 4th and one in the 5th for a 5 to 2 lead, but the Packers knocked Amos John out of the box in the last half of the 5th to score 4 runs. They annexed three in the 6th, two in the 7th and three more in the 8th off Colby to run their total to 14, while Charlevoix's single run in the 7th and two in the next frame fell far short of winning.

The victory gave the Packers three wins out of four games with the Indians so far this season.

Others arrested were William Hunt, Elk Rapids; James Wilson, Central Lake; Owey Lanning, Custer township; Robert Rosenbloom, Ellsworth; Adam Sezrocki, Jordan township; Lewis Farley, Mancelona; William Keaton, Mancelona; Harold Yettaw, Central Lake; Edward Hebdon, Central Lake; Charles Hubbard, Bellaire; Charles Thompson, Mancelona; Cassie Spires, Mancelona, and Wilbert Stebbins, Alden.

The charges range from possession of liquor, beer, wine and hard cider, to operation of stills.

John Halliday, Halliwell Hobbes, Walter Byron, Allan Dinehart and other celebrities have important parts in "Week Ends Only," which comes to the Palace theatre next Tuesday and Wednesday. Alan Crosland directed this screen version of Warner Fabian's novel for Fox Films, and William Conselman wrote the adaptation and dialogue.

TEN CENTS ACRE TAX UNFAIR TO ALL SPORTSMEN

The state law requiring the department of conservation to pay a tax of ten cents an acre to the counties, is not exactly fair.

Sportsmen should bear in mind that the ten cents an acre tax paid by the conservation department of this state from its funds depletes the conservation treasury a little less than $100,000 annually. While there is a lot of land that the state holds that isn't worth ten cents an acre to buy it—the taking of 90 to 100 thousand dollars this way doesn't aid the game and fish situation any.

The tax may, in itself be right, but the method of paying it is wrong. Decidedly wrong.

Red-blooded sportsmen should protest this law in the approved way that the department may keep this amount for the propagation of the wild life, especially in northern Michigan.

The department has been doing wonderful work in true conservation and this work ought not be either retarded nor abolished because of the lack of needed funds to carry on.

The state paying this amount to the counties may be the correct principle but the money should not come from any funds garnered by the conservation department.

More money should be spent each year by the conservation department but it should be spent with true economy and not to hire high-priced chair warmers.

THE NEW FREE FAIR

The preservation of a free fair in Emmet county is a worthy undertaking. Grange organizations and farmers' clubs from Charlevoix and Cheboygan counties are joining similar Emmet county organizations to sponsor a tri-county free fair in Petoskey.

Fair association officials assert that the fair will stress agricultural exhibits—and other displays more closely associated with farm life than has been done in past Emmet county fairs. Exhibits by 4-H club members, also will be shown at the fair.

Even though the officials are forced to work with a restricted budget there is a great opportunity for the fair to really accomplish its purpose and serve the farm residents of the three counties. The officials are on the right track in deciding to eliminate or reduce a lot of non-essentials which have burdened past fairs with debts. Horse racing is an example of one of the fair sidelines that was carried to an extreme.

An agricultural fair with exhibits of fine agricultural products offers an incentive to other growers to raise as good or better crops, farm folk can get together and talk over mutual problems and offer helpful suggestions to one another.

Let us give our assistance for the continuation of the agricultural fair.—Emmet County Graphic.

THAT CRUCIAL 10 PER CENT

The people of the United States consume about 90 per cent of what they produce. Ten per cent normally goes abroad.

That may mean a small drop in the bucket. But, as David Lawrence recently pointed out, the 10 per cent may mean the difference between prosperity and depression in this country. A 10 per cent profit on an investment is a very good one. A 10 per cent drop in the business done by a concern usually makes drastic retrenchment essential.

In 1931 the United States sold abroad $2,500,000,000 less in goods than in 1925. Yet, even in 1931, more than $1,500,000,000 was paid to 1,400,000 people directly involved in manufacturing products for export.

According to Mr. Lawrence, if we could get back the two and a half billions of foreign trade we have lost, we could put more than 1,500,000 men to work, earning about $1,500,000,000 in wages, all of which would serve to swell our purchasing power as a nation. Another 1,400,000 persons would be put to work supplying the goods these re-employed people wanted to buy. The net gain therefore, would be employment for close to 3,000,000 workers—more than a third of those now out of work.

There is not a state or a town in the country which is not adversely affected by the decline in foreign trade. In these days commerce between nations grows steadily more important to the stability and prosperity of the world. It is an interesting national problem—but it is a problem which narrows down until it reaches the smallest hamlet in the land.

WORRY — THE DRIVER'S BANE

Mental lapses are a far more important cause of automobile accidents than is commonly believed. While the reports of accidents may give physical causes, such as reckless driving, wrong side of the road, cutting in, etc., those may only be symptoms of a disturbed mental state, asserts Dr. H. J. Stack of the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters, who says:

"Extreme hurry or worry causing intense pre-occupation, fatigue, elation, or excitement, or slowed down reaction as a result of the indulgence in alcohol or other narcotics may be behind an accident. Many of these mental conditions are within our control." He suggests the following precautions as preventatives:

1. Take a short rest or let someone else drive the car when you have been driving for a long period at night.
2. Be especially alert when hurrying to work so that you can keep your mind on your driving.
3. The best place for the confirmed back-seat driver is at home.
4. Don't day dream driving a car or crossing the street.
5. Control your temper. If the traffic officer calls you down, probably you deserve it.
6. If you have a superiority complex, forget it when you get behind the steering wheel.
7. Don't become a speed maniac. This mental disorder is serious and contagious. A serious accident seems to be the only cure for its victims.

THAT NEW BANK CHECK TAX

Among the new taxes, voted by congress to go into effect June 21, is the levy of two cents upon each bank check, which is to be paid by the person writing the check.

The tax is similar to one that has been in force in Canada for several years. In Canada, stamps are bought at the postoffices and pasted on the checks. At first, there were some abuses caused by the check writer's neglecting to put on a stamp, leaving it to the fellow who received it to pay the tax. This was later corrected by an amendment to the law, requiring that the maker place the tax stamp on his check.

This possibility, however, is avoided in the law enacted by congress for the banks will do the collecting of the tax for the government, by merely deducting the amount of accumulated taxes from the customer's checking account at regular intervals.

It is expected that the new tax will have the effect of reducing the number of checks, for small amounts, that will be issued. In some cases, this will mean a saving for the banks. Many checking accounts that banks handle are profitless because of the practice of some customers writing a large number of small checks and leaving only small balances on deposit. But as is usually the case, the public eventually forgets the new tax and efforts to economize on the issuance of checks then will decrease.

MEANEST RACKET OF ALL

One of the most despicable types of rackets is that now being worked to mulct the unemployed out of the few dollars they have been able to save. Several Northern residents have been duped by racketeer concerns, who offer them positions as agents for some cheap products that are to be sold from house to house.

Advertisements in the cheap magazines tell of opportunities to make easy money selling various kinds of articles. In many cases, these concerns expect to make their profit on the demonstration kit, which the prospective salesmen buys in order to take the job.

Substantial drawing accounts are promised by these racketeering concerns, but the contracts are so worded that if the salesman doesn't produce the very first week they are able to break the agreement by transferring him to distant territory or by some other means. The final result is that the unemployed person is without a job again, but he is "stuck" with the demonstrator equipment, for which he has probably paid several hard-earned dollars.

Jobless should beware of these schemes. These companies should be investigated first through the recognized channels before a contract is signed.

SPENDING AS USUAL

Private life in this country is now pretty well deflated. Public life is still too inflated. An economist laments the apparent inability of our law-makers, from town councils to federal congress, "to appreciate the importance of adjusting public expenditures to the prevailing level of prices and incomes." This failure, he insists, is probably the most serious obstacle to business recovery.

In the essential task of balancing the budget there are two obvious factors. First there are the fixed charges, for which tax increases are necessary. Second there are the ordinary operating expenses, which it is unnecessary and absurd to keep at their old prosperity level in a time of adversity.

"As a nation," he says, "we can no longer afford some of the public service we enjoyed in the days of boom and speculative profit. The sooner we realize that fact, and act, the better."

This truth ought to be self-evident. It probably is, to all but the congressmen who spend the money. How much of that is blindness, and how much selfish personal interest?

UPHOLDING THE LAW

When the state supreme court recently upheld the drivers law requiring motorists to halt after an accident, to render assistance and to report to authorities the details of the mishap, it simply rendered the expected ruling. It is almost inconceivable that the court could have done otherwise and remained within the dictates of common sense.

Judge Sherman D. Callender of Detroit raised the issue several months ago on the grounds that the requirements of the law "amounted to confiscation of property" and "forced the motorist to testify against himself." The supreme court's answer was the wholly obvious assertion that in accepting a license from the state one must also accept all reasonable conditions imposed by the state in granting the license. Use of automobiles on the public highway is subject to the regulations under the police power, it held.

THAT HIGHER POSTAGE

The federal Bureau of Engraving is busy printing three-cent stamps, turning out 100,000,000 of them every working day, preparing for the new letter postage rate.

There happen to be more than 3,000,000,000 of the old two-cent stamps on hand, and there will probably be a couple of billions of them left at the end of the month. They will be placed in storage, against the time of postal deflation that will become possible again with business reflation. May the time come soon! Meanwhile there will be some advantages for the average citizen. He will not get so many advertising appeals in his mail box.

THE SCOTTS WILL DO IT

Both President Hoover and Vice President Curtis will be placed in nomination at the Republican National convention in Chicago this month by a Scott. Joseph L. Scott, of Los Angeles, in the President's home state will place his name before the convention and Charles F. Scott, of Iowa, in the vice president's own state of Kansas, will offer to the convention the name of the vice president.

Charlevoix belongs to you as much as anybody else; don't wait for others to start everything.

SUNOCO OIL STATION

CHARLEVOIX, MICHIGAN

Right this way,
if you please,
Sir!

Unless you happen to be an invited guest of the British Royal Family, the best way to "see" Windsor Castle is under the convoy of a uniformed guide. In a sing-song patter, he will tell you its history . . . point out things of interest whose full significance would escape the unattended tourist.

It also saves time and shoe-leather to use "guides" when you do your daily marketing at home. These guides are the advertisements in this paper. They tell you where, when, and the equally important "how much."

By consulting the advertisements, you know in advance what the stores have to offer. If you are pressed for time, you can do your shopping by telephone, with the newspaper before you as a definite guide. Read the advertisements . . . the big ones and the little ones.

GOV. BRUCKER TAKES REDUCTION IN SALARY

Cut in Effect Saturday—Other Department Heads Do Likewise

Gov. Wilbur M. Brucker Saturday accepted a 20 per cent reduction in his salary and called upon all department heads to do likewise.

The governor asked state officials to follow the schedule of salary reductions set up in the new budget providing for a maximum cut of 25 per cent for those earning more than $5,000 a year.

The voluntary reductions as well as those ordered by the legislature become effective July 1. The governor said most department heads and elective officials have agreed to accept the reductions. He added that he would exert pressure on any who refuse.

POSTAL RATE GOES UP NEXT WEDNESDAY

Three-Cent Rate on First Class Mail Goes Into Effect Then

Effective July 6, 1932, upon all first class mail the rate will be three cents per ounce or the fraction thereof, except on postal cards and private mailing cards or post cards which shall remain at one cent.

The rate of postage on mail carried by airplane shall be eight cents for the first ounce or fraction thereof, and 13 cents for each additional ounce or fraction thereof, regardless of distance.

It is the utmost importance that every patron of the postal service become familiar with the increased rate of postage on first class matter as above set forth. Failure to prepay the proper amount of postage will delay the dispatch and delivery of mail, cause confusion, annoyance, and inconvenience, and impose upon the postal service unnecessary labor and expense.

MRS. DAN WILLIAMS OBSERVED 88TH BIRTHDAY

Is Northern Michigan's Oldest Native Born Resident

Mrs. Dan Williams, Northern Michigan's oldest native born resident and author of "Child of the Sea," a historic account of the Mormons on Beaver Island and of early Northern Michigan history, celebrated her 88th birthday Friday at her home on Mason street.

Letters and many floral tokens were received by Mrs. Williams as remembrances of the occasion, as well as many personal calls. A group from Harbor Springs, where Mrs. Williams was lighthouse keeper for many years, made her a visit, bringing ice cream and cake. Mrs. Williams and her husband entertained the group with musical selections on the harmonica and accordion.

Mrs. Williams, who was born on Mackinac island, is enjoying exceptionally good health for a person of such advanced years.

Highway construction jobs in the upper peninsula, totaling $742,000, have been approved by the road committee of the state administrative board. Combined with previous projects, the new work brings the 1932 program above the Straits of Mackinac to $2,567,604.

In addition the committee approved construction of 4.4 of a mile of paving from the state line north to connect US-131 with Indiana highway No. 13, west of White Pigeon. THREE MILLS BURNED AT PELLSTON FRIDAY

Loss Around $25,000 Caused Before Brought Under Control

Pellston Friday suffered another heavy fire loss when three factory buildings belonging to Jackson and Tindle, whose headquarters are at Buffalo, were destroyed by fire.

The flames were fast eating their way into the rafter room, first floor, and through the basement of the handle factory when discovered. They had such a start that the mill fire crew and the village fire department could not check them. They did prevent the fire from spreading to adjoining buildings of the great plant.

The fire was discovered at about 9 o'clock. The loss is estimated at from $20,000 to $25,000. How much insurance was carried is not known, the records being at the Buffalo offices.

FIVE ARRESTED IN PETOSKEY-WET RAID

Jailed in Charlevoix Before Being Taken to Grand Rapids

Five alleged bartenders arrested early Thursday in a spectacular dry raid in Petoskey, were taken the same afternoon from the jail here to Grand Rapids for arraignment in federal court.

Federal officers conducted the raid at Petoskey on a garage basement which was doing a flourishing business with delegates of the 14 allied service organizations as patrons.

An 85-foot bar, more than 100 bottles of Canadian whiskey, half a dozen barrels of beer also was seized by the raiders, who reported 200 in the blind pig when they arrived. Those held were C. H. Peterson and Paul Pepper, of Petoskey, Ronald Moore, John W. Lease and Thomas Holz, Detroit.

CHARLEVOIX TENNIS CLUB ELECTS

A. I. CREAMER CHOSEN PRESIDENT WEDNESDAY

Preliminary Plans for Charlevoix Open and Riviera Tennis Championships Were Made

Dates were set and preliminary plans were made for Charlevoix's annual summer tennis tournament at the annual meeting of the Charlevoix Tennis Club, held Wednesday morning.

Andrew I. Creamer was elected president of the Club, a position he has held on several previous occasions. Other officers chosen were: vice-presidents, Archie L. Livingston and Harry A. Craig; secretary, Kenneth Fisher; treasurer, George Bee-man.

Date for the annual Charlevoix open tennis tournament, an event which has proven very popular with both local and summer residents for many years, was set for the week of July 25th. The tournament was held last summer at the school courts, but this year will be transferred to the clay courts at The Inn, where the event was originally inaugurated and conducted for many years.

The annual Michigan Riviera championships, now recognized as one of the leading tennis events in Michigan, will be held August 15-21. This date is set by the Western Lawn Tennis association, under whose sanction the tournament is held. The event will be held on The Inn courts as in former years.

In view of the fact that the Little Harbor Point club, Harbor Springs, has decided not to hold the annual Michigan state open tennis championships, set for the week following the Riviera, officers of the local club voted to make an effort to combine these two outstanding tournaments for the same week at Charlevoix. Negotiations to this end will be opened at once.

Gemild Ash, tennis instructor at the exclusive Cranbrook schools, Detroit, who returns to The Inn this year as tennis pro, will have charge of the local tournaments.

FARMERS DAY ENDS FARM WOMENS WEEK

College Completes Program for Visitors July 24-29

Farmers day, Friday, July 29, will be the concluding event in a week of study and recreation for Michigan women who attend the seventh annual Farm Womens week at Michigan State college, July 24-29.

The daily program for the week begins at 7:45 in the morning and continues throughout the afternoon and evening. Members of the staff of the college will give daily lectures. Poultry raising, landscape gardening, furniture, nutrition, and clothing are the main topics assigned for study.

This year's program concentrates most of the efforts of the week upon those subjects instead of assigning less time to a greater number of interests. There will be one lecture each day on subjects other than those included in the study course.

The work on poultry includes growing pullets, culling the flock, handling the birds in the laying house, and killing and dressing poultry for market. The landscape course includes all phases of the use of shrubs and flowers in beautifying the home grounds and the rooms within the home. Refinishing and repairing furniture and upholstery are included in the furniture course.

NEED MORE SLEUTHS TO HUNT BLUEBERRY

State College Offers Prize for Best Late Maturing Variety Found

The number of Michigan people who co-operated with the state horticultural society in its search last year for an excellent type of high bush blueberry has caused the society to offer another prize for the best late maturing high bush blueberry found by a resident of the state this year.

Two promising varieties of berries were found last year. The first prize of $25 was won by Mrs. Fred Taylor, Grass Lake. The prize will be duplicated this year for the late maturing berry. The purpose of the contest is to find a variety which ripens after the early berries have been picked.

Members of the horticultural department at Michigan State college believe that a profitable market can be developed for blueberries. The

MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF STATE WEEKLY NEWS

The new federal gasoline tax is entirely separate and distinct from the Michigan gasoline tax which is collected by the department of state.

The federal levy of one cent a gallon is known as a "production tax." Under this law the government collects its tax on the gasoline as soon as it is produced in the refinery; or when the gasoline reaches its port of entry into the United States. If imported the one cent a gallon levy is in addition to an import tariff of two and one-half per cent.

The state levy is known as a "source tax." Under state laws it is collectible when produced in Michigan refineries; or when it "comes to rest" in Michigan if imported from other states or countries. The law allows a refiner or importer to sell gasoline so produced or imported to another licensed wholesale distributor without collecting the tax on such sale. The licensed wholesale distributor who breaks up such shipments or imports for retail distribution, in this case, assumes and pays the state tax of three cents a gallon.

On account of the number of cars which are not being used because of lack of 1932 license plates, the governor, attorney general and secretary of state sought a legal way to sell automobile license plates at half rate beginning July 1 instead of September 1. But, after studying Michigan laws, the attorney general ruled that the department of state may not sell plates at half rate before September 1.

Copies of the Public Acts of 1932 (special session) will be available for distribution by the department of state about July 15. The new volume will conform in size with the Compiled Laws of 1929 and the Public Acts of 1931, and will be distributed gratis, under state laws, to all state, county and township officials entitled to receive free copies of the Public Acts of 1931.

As a result of the staggered plan of part-time employment put into effect June 15, the department of state is furnishing work to more persons than ever before during the slack summer months, while departmental payrolls, starting July 1, will be lower than during previous summers.

By the part-time plan of work, the department kept 33 workers upon the payrolls, who otherwise would have been dropped because of lack of work. The new system affects about 125 persons, whose duties for the most part, are of a routine nature.

Those who have no dependents, work two out of every three weeks. Married employees, whose husbands or wives are dependent upon them, work four out of every five weeks, while employees with more than one person wholly dependent upon them for support, work six out of every seven weeks. Four exceptions to this rule, have been made in cases of employees with six or seven dependents. These work full time.

Although the plan of staggering work has been in actual operation but a few days, inquiries have been made regarding the details of the plan with a view to adoption by other departments.

About 8,000 motorists will lose a truck or automobile license plate during 1932, it is estimated from department of state records. Duplicate plates are furnished by the department for $1 per plate.

From January 1 to June 15, records disclose that 2,328 duplicate plates were issued to replace those lost. Experience in past years, has shown that about three times as many plates are lost during the last half of the year as during the first six months.

"Christian Science" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, June 26.

Among the Bible citations was this passage (Rev. 14:6): "And I saw another angel fly in the midst of heaven, having the everlasting gospel to preach unto them that dwell on the earth, and to every nation, and kindred, and tongue, and people."

Correlative passages read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, included the following (p. 107): "Through Christian Science, religion and medicine are inspired with a diviner nature and essence; fresh pinions are given to faith and understanding, and thoughts acquiring themselves intelligently with God."

POULTRY

CHICKEN FLOCK ON EVERY FARM

Not Expensive Because of Excellent Food Produced.

The farm poultry flock is not expensive and because of the excellent food it produces, should be found on every farm.

"During a part of the year, a flock of from 50 to 100 birds will furnish for much of their food," says Dr. H. E. Kaup, head of the poultry department at the North Carolina State college. "The chickens consume bugs and worms which are injurious to crops and clean up waste grain about the cow and horse barns. The flock needs to have a comfortable house which can be kept clean and plenty of mush and grain feed. Corn, oats, wheat and barley to feed the flock may be grown at home and made into a ration that is just as satisfactory as any commercial mixture. Formulas for preparing these rations may be had from the poultry department."

Doctor Kaup says that every person should eat at least two eggs every day. This means that two cases of 30 dozen eggs each is needed for each person in the state each year. Twenty to twenty-five pounds of poultry should also be consumed by each person on the farm in a year.

To find out the potential market for poultry and eggs in a county, one should ascertain how many hens there are within its borders. These hens should average at least 100 eggs each. If each hen lays 100 eggs and each person consumes 500 eggs, it would mean that there should be five hens for each person to supply only the home needs. More hens than this should be kept, however, so that a surplus of eggs may be available for sale.

Then, too, says Doctor Kaup, pullets must be raised each year to replace about one-half of the mature hens. Five eggs to set will be needed for each pullet in the breeding pens, if the farm flock is to be kept at 100 hens, this means that 250 eggs must be set. To do this without an incubator requires 15 setting hens. If the family consumes 200 pounds of poultry on the table, 25 hens and 50 fryers will supply this amount.

Balanced Rations for Laying Hens Favored

Feeding dry mash is generally considered one of the essential practices in balancing rations for laying hens. Most farmers neglect to supply sufficient proper space. There should be at least one linear foot of feeding space for six hens or a trough eight feet long should be provided for 100 hens. This is based on the assumption that the hens can feed from each side of the trough. One of the simplest and most efficient feed hoppers is an open trough. The trough is one foot wide with sides eight inches high, the ends of the trough extending four inches higher than the sides. On the inner upper edges of the trough are nailed 1-inch cleats to prevent the feed from being wasted. One of the essential features of this hopper is a reel which partly closes the trough and prevents the birds from roosting on the hopper. This reel is easily constructed, using 4-inch square blocks for ends and nailing 1-inch strips in the center of each side. Pivots can be easily provided by using heavy screws or bolts at the ends so that it easily revolves.

Green Feed Problem

Alfalfa, red clover or soy bean hay of proper quality solves the green-feed problem. The way to feed the hay is to cut it into one-half-inch lengths with a clover-cutter and feed it in wire-mesh feeders. The hay can be fed in racks. If the proper quality of hay is unavailable, add 5 per cent by weight of the best quality alfalfa meal. Warm drinking water helps make winter eggs. Hens dislike cold water and drink it sparingly. When a layer fails to drink enough water, she lays less feed.

Use of Cockerels

In the general-purpose breeds, mate one male to every ten to twelve females; in the egg breeds, mate one male to every fifteen to twenty females. Fewer males are needed the larger the range. More cocks than cockerels are necessary for a given flock. Too many males are objectionable.

Some breeders aim to mate cocks with pullets and cockerels with hens. Cockerels and pullets may be mated together if early hatched, and well matured.

Using Cod Liver Oil

Cod liver oil is an important item in winter rations for poultry because it helps to maintain egg production, prevents lameness and helps them to lay strong-shelled eggs. It contains vitamins A and D which promote growth and maintain vitality and disease resistance. Cod liver oil is essential to hens that are closely housed during winter. Vitamin D in the oil is a substitute for direct sunlight. Therefore its use is most desirable during winter.

About 20 per cent of the hogs put on the market are infested with mange, according to Dr. G. S. Wenner, extension veterinarian at South Dakota State college. This infestation causes an immense loss to the hog industry because a first-class ham cannot be made from a mangy hog. Mange is caused by a mite and can be controlled by application of crude oil or lime and sulphur dip.

The common mange mite is known as the sarcoptes mite. It is of the same family of bugs that causes scabies in other animals, but this particular one will not live on other species of animals. The mite is too small to be seen with the naked eye. A new generation of these mites appears every 12 to 14 days. Each female will lay 10 to 25 eggs. The mites dig holes in the skin of the hog and cause an intense itching.

FEEDING CHOICE CATTLE IS BEST

Buy Fewer and Keep Them Couple Months Longer.

If you prefer to feed choice grades of cattle, why not buy fewer of them and feed them a couple of months longer?

This is a question that Paul Gerlaugh, chief of animal industry at the Ohio agricultural experiment station, puts to farmers who query him about the relative advantages of feeding lower grades and choice grades of cattle.

Don't make the mistake of buying the grade that is selling to best advantage when you purchase your feeders, says Gerlaugh. During the summer and fall months well-finished, corn-fed cattle usually sell at a relatively high market price, when compared with grass or feeder cattle from the range.

But by winter, he continues, the runs of grass cattle almost disappear, and the number of cattle coming from corn-belt feed lots increases, until by spring the plumper grades of cattle are found selling dangerously near to the price of choice grades. The lower grades of fat cattle invariably show more margin for the feeder during the winter feeding season than do the choice grades, although they handle feed less efficiently.

The summer market is generally higher than the spring market for fat cattle, and a longer feeding period is required to bring out the good qualities of choice grades of cattle.

Because of these market trends and feeding facts, Gerlaugh suggests that choice grades of cattle be fed longer, to carry them over into the period of higher prices in the summer and fall, rather than feed lower grades and sell them on a glutted spring market.

Stockmen Probably Save Through Feeding Wheat

Nevada sheep and cattlemen may be able to save some money this year by the purchase of wheat instead of corn for emergency winter feed.

This is the opinion of Prof. V. E. Scott, agricultural economist at the Nevada agricultural extension service, following an analysis by him of the comparative feed value and cost of the two grains.

If wheat is used, he states, it should be purchased in carlots and must be fed the animals in troughs.

Research has shown, according to Scott, that wheat has a greater feeding value than corn. Since corn weighs 56 pounds a bushel, he says, and wheat weighs 60 pounds, a bushel of wheat, even at the same feeding value, is worth more than a bushel of corn.

Experiments carried on by the United States Department of Agriculture, Scott states, "have revealed that when corn is worth $1 a bushel, wheat is worth $1.07 when fed to poultry and sheep, and $1.12 when fed to hogs and cattle."

Bankers Hold Farm Conference

A "feeders' conference" was held in a state bank at Presho, South Dakota, attended by fifty farmers. The conference stressed the feeding of low price wheat and barley, and marketing it through livestock. Later, booklets on the feeding of wheat were distributed among the farmers, and a feeders column was carried in the local paper each week.

"We have had more success with the conference and with the feeders column in the local paper, than with any other undertaking we have tried," the bankers said. "As a result there is about three times as much livestock being fed out in our territory than ever before. We plan to hold other similar conferences the coming year."

Live Stock Facts

Skim milk, good quality alfalfa hay, or clover hay should be fed to furnish protein.

A hog can stand much abuse and neglect, but negligence and indifference do not make for profitable pork production.

It has been found that often sheep will drink very little water if they are on good soft green pasture that is very high in water content during the spring or fall months.

While the swine industry is on the decline in this country a larger number of hogs than a year ago is reported in most foreign producing countries, particularly in Europe.

If mange breaks out in hogs, dip the hogs and clean up the quarters before the disease spreads through the herd.

Pumpkins are 50 per cent water, but in spite of that they are a very good feed, the dry matter running about 15 per cent protein.

Wheat, properly handled and prepared, is a suitable feed for practically all classes of live stock. Except for chickens, it must be rolled, crushed or ground before being fed.

Best Results Obtained in Hatching Chickens

Best results are usually obtained when the birds for the pullet flock are hatched as near the same date as possible. But how can this be brought about when incubators of small capacity are used, or the hatching and brooding are done by broody hens? Poultrymen of University Farm, St. Paul, Minn., say that a practical method is to fill the small incubators with eggs from the breeding pens and as the hens become broody transfer the fertile eggs found at the first candling from the incubators to the hens and allow them to finish the hatch. The incubators can then be filled again after being disinfected. The hens will complete the incubation in about the same time and a large number of chicks will thus be practically the same age. This work must be done very carefully or there will be losses. A machine of 100-egg capacity, with broody hens to hatch, will bring off chicks from 200 fertile eggs within a period of 21 days, say poultry specialists.

Best Calcium Sources for the Poultry Flock

In a recent test conducted by the poultry husbandry department of Iowa State college, Ames, it was found that best results were secured when the limestone used as a grit for the poultry flock was very hard, practically pure calcium carbonate and low in impurities. Softer limestone did not give such results as did the hard limestone.

Oyster shell, china shell and blue stone were fed in the experiment and it was found that the amount of the egg material consumed was directly proportional to the number of eggs laid by the hens on test. The experiment indicated that the calcium requirements of the hens were fully met by the oyster, as well as by the other materials.

Way to Keep Eggs

The best way to keep eggs for hatching is to pack them small and down in an egg case and turn them every day in food more than a week. A simple way to do this is to finish filling the case with fillers, put the two in and turn the case on one side. The next day put it back upright and the following day turn it on the other side. Some one to turn eggs on their sides in a box. If this plan is followed they should be turned every day.

Test Incubator

Run the incubator a few days before putting the eggs into it. This will permit perfect regulation and reduce the hazards that accompany the regulation of the machine when the eggs are incubating. Do not become alarmed when the temperature drops just after the eggs are put in. The cool eggs absorb heat and lower the temperature of the incubator. If you turn the lamp high at this time in all the blood you will cook the eggs before you get it regulated again.

Cattle Should Have All Oats They Will Clean Up

Cattle should have all of the oats they will clean up good in two feeds per day, after being gradually worked out to a full feed in about four weeks time, and should have about one pound of flaked oatmeal per head per day. This can be fed right from the beginning. By feeding your steers oats in this way for a period of five to six months, especially if you have enough hay of fair quality to use along with the oats, you should have your cattle in pretty fair condition, fat enough to just about suit the packer buyers when they reach market.

CAMP CHARLEVOIX OPENS SATURDAY

COUNSELOR TRAINING CONFERENCES ON THIS WEEK

Group of 55 Boys and Staff of 20 at Camp This Year — Many New Activities Planned

Camp Charlevoix will open its sixth big summer season on Saturday, July 2, with a personnel of about 55 boys and a staff of 20 men. This week the staff is holding its regular counselor training conference, meeting twice a day in two-hour sessions. These conferences are under the supervision of Charles E. Hendry, noted camp authority and director of Camp Charlevoix's activities, who is at present working toward his Doctor's degree at the University of Chicago while teaching at the Y. M. C. A. college in Chicago.

The many departments of the camp's activities include aquatics, athletics, horsemanship, sailing, handicraft, woodcraft, campcraft, dramatics, and scouting. Metacraft, one of the subdivisions of handicraft, will be under the direction of Orin Heft, instructor in the McKinzie high school of Detroit. Wendell Gates of the Cleveland School of Art is perfecting a set of marionettes, and will give a performance some time during the camp season.

The fourth week of camp will be taken up by a series of trips to places of interest. Two groups will go to Canada; the first section will be gone a week while the second, composed of older boys, will spend three weeks in the Mississauga forest region. Another group will go up the Jordan river, and another will take a Dude Ranch trip on horseback. Others will be announced later.

During the summer, special days are to be observed. Dad's day will see the fathers of the campers participating with the boys in the regular routine of the day. Author's day will bring Harold Titus, well known writer of Traverse City, and Karl Detzer, author of thrilling stories in the American Boy magazine, to the camp. Each will relate his experiences. The Caravan Players of Detroit will present "The Taming of the Shrew" to the camp in the course of the season.

One interesting project which will be carried out this year is the building of a large dug-out canoe from a white pine log. The pioneer method will be followed in the work.

A new string of horses has been secured from Bloomfield Hills for the camp.

Next Monday morning, July 4, the camp will be prepared to receive "Day Campers," that is, boys who will spend the day at camp and return home nights. Further information about this can be obtained from L. C. Reiman, camp director.

CALLS ADVERTISING A DEPRESSION CURE

If Properly Directed Should Bring Desired Results

Advertising, if properly directed, will lead the way out of the depression, Francis H. Sisson, vice president of the Guaranty Trust Co. of New York, told delegates of the newspaper advertising executives association in New York.

Tendencies in the modern business world to cut down in times of depression on "advertising which has come to be accepted as an indispensable instrument of competition" can not be justified by assertions that the market has disappeared, the banker declared.

"In the first place," Sisson said, "the market does not disappear. The vast majority of wage-earners remain employed, and their wages and salaries, while reduced to some extent, do not fall much more rapidly than the cost of living."

BRING CHARGES AGAINST ROAD COMMISSIONERS

Lower County Valuation Half Million—Poor Commissioners Report Smaller Expenditures for Year

The Charlevoix county board of supervisors closed their annual June meeting last Thursday afternoon and adjourned subject to recall by the chairman.

The session, occupying four days instead of the usual two or three, was far from harmonious. A controversy arose over conduct of affairs of the county road commission, and the matter of equalization resulted in considerable argument before finally settled.

Bring Charges Against Rouse

In a last-minute effort to settle the road commission matter and bring about adjournment, the board Thursday afternoon completely reversed previous action by passing a motion signed by eleven supervisors to bring charges against Commissioner L. C. Rouse of Boyne City. An amendment, sponsored by the majority group, to bring charges against Commissioners Byers and Wangelman, passed also, both by unanimous vote.

Earlier in the session, a majority report of the road committee, in which it was set forth evidence was insufficient to warrant bringing charges against Rouse, was adopted 15 to 10. Previously a communication from Attorney General Paul Voorheis, whose department had investigated the matter, stated sufficient irregularities had been uncovered to warrant malfeasance charges against Rouse. The charges against Byers and Wangelman are based on their action in passing on bills for gasoline purchased by the commission from the General Oil company, headed by Rouse.

Prosecuting Attorney Rollie L. Lewis was directed to prefer charges against the three commissioners. July 19, at which time members of the attorney general's department will be present, was set for hearing.

Lower County Valuation

After turning down cuts of around $60,000, the equalization committee report lowering the county valuation nearly a half million, was adopted. The new figure is $9,582,608, compared with $10,024,613 for 1931.

Poor Expenditures Less

The county poor commission, reporting smaller expenditures for the first eight months of the fiscal year than for the same period a year ago, was voted an appropriation of $6,000 for the remaining four months. This brings the total appropriations to $28,000, in the neighborhood of $1,000 less than last year, despite present economic conditions.

Appropriations of $150 for the annual labor day picnic at Whiting park, and $135 for the Top O' Michigan Potato and Apple show at Gaylord, were granted.

Claims amounting to around $300 for damage to sheep and rabbits by dogs, and for burial of veteran's wives, were allowed.

The board approved action of Wilson township officials in removing future tax payments from a 6,000-acre tract on Thumb lake, given to the State Methodist Welfare association for summer camp purposes by E. E. Turner, Eaton Rapids manufacturer.

APPEAL TO CAMPERS TO STAMP OUT FIRES

All Cars Being Tagged With "Safety Cards" as Warnings

An appeal to campers, sportsmen and berry pickers to be careful with fire is being made this summer by the conservation department through the use of automobile tags.

Every car found parked in wooded areas, along northern roadsides and on the berry plains is being tagged with a "safety card," warning against careless use of fire and listing instructions as to safe handling of camp fires and tobacco.

"You are parked on land protected by the Michigan department of conservation. Please comply with the fire laws and put out every spark of your camp fire when leaving," the card asks.

Car numbers and a description of the place where the car is parked are kept by the officer making the patrol trips.

INDIANS EVEN ON WEEK END SERIES

DEFEATED CENTRAL LAKE, SUN- DAY, LOSE TO JORDAN

Copped League Contest 18 to 9, But Errors Rob Them of Victory in Fourth of July Tilt

The Charlevoix Indians broke even on their week end series of ball games, Sunday they copped a league contest at Central Lake, by a 18 to 9 score. The Monday game, part of the Fourth of July entertainment program, went to East Jordan, Antrim-Charlevoix league leaders, by a 7 to 2 count.

In the Sunday tilt, the Indians collected 26 hits off Lamb, Central Lake hurler. They scored one in the 2nd, five in the 5th, six in the 6th, two in the 8th and five in the 9th, leading all the way. Central Lake scored two in the 2nd, one in the 3rd, four in the 6th, and one in the 9th.

The losers made 12 hits off Odamon, Charlevoix hurler, who was credited with six strike-outs. Central Lake showed respect for the batting ability of Ray Boak, Indian first-sacker, after he poked out a three-bagger with two on. From then on they walked him three times.

East Jordan Wins

In the Fourth of July game at north side ball park, East Jordan, leaders in the Antrim-Charlevoix baseball league, took advantage of Charlevoix errors to win 7 and 2. They were credited with but two earned runs.

The winners out-hit Charlevoix 12 to 11, but Amos John came through with eight strike-outs to Yeagor's six. The Jordanians brought in one run in the 2nd, two in the 3rd, two in the 5th and one each in the 6th, 7th and 8th innings. The Indians' two scores were made in the 4th and 8th innings.

Charlevoix will entertain Bellaire in another league contest at north side ball park next Sunday afternoon at the usual hour.

FOUR PRISONERS BREAK JAIL HERE

SAWED WAY TO FREEDOM LATE SUNDAY NIGHT

Deward and James Porter, Sol
Skaggs and Lyle Barnes Make Get-Away as Four Others Refuse

Sheriff Dave Vaughan and deputies, together with state police of this region are attempting to locate four prisoners who Sunday night shortly before midnight sawed their way through a window leading into the garage at the rear of the county jail.

Four other prisoners who watched the operations of their fellow inmates, refused to take advantage of a chance for freedom.

Those making their escape were Deward and James Porter, brothers, of Willard, Ky., Sol Skaggs of Kalamazoo and Lyle Barnes, local youth. The Porter brothers, who were arrested last week east of Petokey by State Troopers Cook and Barton of Cheboygan, and Detective George Karkeet of Lansing, were being held in connection with breaking and entering the Ward Gill home, three miles east of Clarion, and state police were attempting to connect them with numerous robberies in this vicinity.

Skaggs was also being held on a breaking and entering charge, while Barnes was held in lieu of $5,000 bond on a rape charge.

Sheriff Dave Vaughan became aware of the delivery when he went into the cell block for a final inspection and lock-up shortly before 11 o'clock. Working on a report the men had been seen by the coast guard patrol to South Point, officers found tracks in the sand which they followed to Fishermen's island before losing them where they led off into the hills.

This clue was not certain, however, for it is believed the parties furnishing the saw with which the prisoners cut their way to freedom, also furnished transportation following their escape. State police units throughout the state are on the look-out for the quartet and it is believed they will be picked up in a short time.

TWO MEN, ADRIFT 3 DAYS, ARE RESCUED

Spent Three Nights and Two Days in 20-Foot Open Boat

Frank Warner, said to be from Grand Rapids, and Clinton L. Case, Mackinaw City, adrift in a 20-foot open boat on Lake Michigan since late last Wednesday afternoon, were rescued by Beaver island coast guards late Saturday off Indian Point on the north shore of Beaver island. They had been without food three nights and two days, and Friday weathered a heavy northwest blow.

The men experienced motor trouble Wednesday when en route from Mackinaw City to Little Summer island in Green bay. They sighted several large freighters while they were adrift, but their signals of distress went unseen until they were sighted by the Beaver island coast guard patrol.

Capt. Harry Vandenberg of the St. James coast guard station went to their rescue and towed in the disabled boat.

Warner and Case suffered seriously from exposure and lack of food.

REAPPORTIONMENT VOTE IN NOVEMBER

NORTHERN COUNTIES SHOULD STUDY MATTER CLOSELY

Legislation Sponsored by More Thickly Populated Counties in Southern Michigan

The legislative reapportionment proposition is bobbing up again in Michigan, designed to give the thickly populated counties of the southern part of the state control of the legislature.

Petitions bearing 143,617 signatures calling for submission in the November election for the legislative reapportionment on a limited population basis have been filed with the secretary of state by Ernest C. Brooks, Holland, Mich., president of the Michigan Municipal League. Only 87,000 signatures are needed to insure the proposition a position on the ballot.

There are signatures on the petitions from 43 counties. Large numbers of them are from Muskegon, Kent, Kalamazoo, Jackson, Genesee, Ingham, Oakland, Bay and Saginaw counties.

The amendment to be voted embodies the principal features of the Michigan plan, drawn up by the Wayne county board of supervisors, favoring Detroit. The amendment was defeated at the last election.

The Courier urges its readers to study the plan carefully to note how it discriminates against the outstate counties, where the population is relatively small. We should go to the polls next November and vote against the reapportionment proposal.

The plan in brief is as follows: The amendment provides that the 100 members of the House of Representatives be apportioned strictly on a basis of population and that the representation in the senate remain as it now stands. The term of a state senator would be increased to four years, those of the representatives remaining at two years.

Each of the odd-numbered senatorial districts would, in the election of November, 1934, elect its senator for a term of four years, the even numbered districts electing for two years, the even numbered districts electing for two years. Thereafter all senators would be elected for four-year terms. This would insure that in each senate at least half of its membership would have served in the previous session.

The effect of the amendment would be to give the municipalities of the state domination of the House, while rural Michigan would retain its domination of the senate.

Wayne county would elect 39 members of the House instead of the 17 it now sends there and proportionate gains in House membership would be made by other populous centers of the state.

The ration for representation is obtained by dividing the population of the state by 100, which gives 48,423. Each group of 48,423 persons would be entitled to one representative in the House. In any grouping of counties that may be decided on.

WHITECAP TEAM WIN ONE, LOSE ANOTHER

Independents Defeat Ellsworth, But Lose to Barnard Team

During the past week the Whitecaps, Charlevoix's independent baseball team, broke even in two games played.

Last Wednesday evening they met the Ellsworth independent team, and won by a 11 to 9 score. The locals played all around good ball to win this game. Few errors in the field were made, and every Whitecap player participated in the batting attack. On Wednesday, July 13, the Charlevoix team will play a return game at Ellsworth, starting about 5:30 p. m.

Sunday afternoon the locals met and were defeated by the Barnard team, 9 to 3. The Barnard boys played fine ball behind the pitching of Joe Stutzman and Orlin Cunningham. Stutzman allowed the Charlevoix team one run in two innings. Cunningham pitched the last seven innings and allowed only six hits.

At present the Whitecaps have a percentage of .777, with seven games won, and two lost, counting only full nine inning games. They play from Sunday at 2 o'clock p. m., on the south side diamond.

Two members of the board of education will be elected at this time. Trustees whose terms expire are Mrs. E. J. Hiller and Mrs. B. Saltonstall, both of whom have served several years.

It is persistently rumored several candidates will seek office, although Dr. C. J. Winder is the only one definitely named up to the present time.

In addition to the election of trustees, the law provides that the length of the school year and the salaries of board members shall be voted upon at the annual meeting. Annual reports of the secretary, treasurer and librarian are also given at this time.

Qualifications of voters require they may be citizens of the United States and residents of the district three months preceding the election. They must be 21 years of age; owners of property assessed for school taxes in the district, or be parent or legal guardian of any child of school age included in school census of the district.

HAMLIN FARM BUILD- INGS BURN TO GROUND

Heavy Loss Caused by Spectacular Blaze Tuesday Evening

The house, barns, garage and out-buildings on the Harold Hamlin farm, located a quarter mile east of the Burgess corner on U.S.31 north of this city, were destroyed in a spectacular fire Tuesday evening.

Fanned by a strong southeast wind, the fire, thought to have started in the basement of the barn, soon spread to other buildings. It is understood only a small quantity of household goods, a tractor and truck and a few other small pieces of machinery were saved.

Flames from the burning buildings were visible for many miles, and hundreds visited the scene.

Walter McPherson, 37, of East Jordan, is being held in jail here for hearing on a liquor law violation charge.

Suspected of peddling moonshine to this city for some time, he was arrested near Loeb Farms by Sheriff Dave Vaughan while making a delivery. Three gallons and several pint containers were found in his car.

FOURTH OBSERV- ED HERE MONDAY

FINE PROGRAM SPONSORED BY AMERICAN LEGION

Thousands from Entire Northern Michigan Region Enjoyed Full Day of Activity

Much favorable comment has resulted from the Fourth of July program sponsored here Monday by Leslie T. Shapton post No. 226, American Legion. Thousands of visitors from every point in this region, were well entertained by the various events arranged and carried through with precision.

Band concerts and street sports, held between Clinton and Park avenue on Bridge street, furnished amusement the early part of the morning.

The parade, with the Charlevoix city band, East Jordan and Boyne City school bands, the Legion bugle and drum corps, many floats and animals from Kay Bros. circus was carried out as scheduled. Prize for the outstanding float went to the W. C. T. U., whose entry was called "Columbia and Her Children." Second prize was awarded Recreation, owned by Oscar Nelson. Award for the comic entry went to two Norwood youths and their mule.

Water sports, conducted under the direction of John Nordrum in Round lake off the city docks, along with free animal acts at Memorial park adjoining, were part of the afternoon program. The Charlevoix and East Jordan junior baseball teams, opening a double bill at north side park, tied 8 to 8, and the East Jordan team of the Antrim-Charlevoix league won from Charlevoix Indians 7 to 2 in the main contest.

A program of boxing bouts, staged in an out-door arena north of O'Neill's taxi office, were attended by a large crowd in the evening. The entire program of boxing was good. The day's activities were closed with a beautiful fireworks display over Round lake. Spectators lined every available space to watch.

The old-time popularity of boat riding was apparent Monday. The steamer "Ossian Bedell," which ran excursions from Boyne City and East Jordan during the day, carried hundreds of people on short boat rides into Lake Michigan. Speed boat rides were also very popular with those attending the celebration.

The Legion can feel well repaid for their efforts. The day was without accident of serious nature and was orderly.

MRS. WILLARD OLNEY, AGED RESIDENT, DEAD

Died Tuesday Evening Following
Long Illness—Funeral Thursday

Mrs. Willard Olney, a resident of Charlevoix the past 58 years, died at 6 o'clock Tuesday evening at her home on West Huribur avenue. When an inmate of a prison is released to go out in the world and earn a living, he finds it difficult to get used to the clothes worn by business men. "I wonder if college students who have spent several years in corduroy pants, a sweater and no hat, do not have the same feeling."

EDITORIALS

LESS SPENDING, NOT MORE REVENUE

While the newspapers of all parties and no parties, and men and women in all stations of life up and down the land are demanding that the congress reduce the expenses of government by at least a billion dollars a year, why do those in charge of this government spend all their time trying to find new ways of raising revenue? We might not need to find many new ways to do this if we were to cut our costs to meet the revenue we have.

The people are distinctly opposed to being milked further and they are just as distinctly in favor of reducing expenses so that the milking process need not be extended.

Figures show that the cost of government in the United States—meaning the costs of all kinds of government—amounted to 17 per cent of our entire national income last year and statisticians say that this year the cost may be as much as 23 per cent. In other words, the average man will be working nearly one-fourth of all his time in 1932 to support the government with its tens of thousands of idlers and wastrels and its unnecessary agencies of one kind and another.

Of course the federal budget must be balanced, but that can be done if we first reduce the budget to the legitimate needs of the country. Our governments need to "spend" less rather than to collect more.

It is stated with some show of authority that the federal government alone has been spending $5,000 a minute in the last year in excess of its income, and some states and many cities have been doing the same thing proportionately. If the national government will lack two and a half billion dollars this year of being able to pay its debts, the fault is largely in the unnecessary spending, not altogether in a lack of revenue.

Citizens have a duty to perform in this crisis. They can demand of every candidate for every office that spends the public's money, which means all of them, that he take a firm stand in favor of reducing the expenses of government under threat that the voters will defeat him next November if he does not.

It's time to quit trying to lift ourselves by our bootstraps, time to quit employing stimulants for business and give it a remedy. That remedy is lower costs of government, not some new form of taxes, not the trying-out of some pet theory like that of the Farm Board which has cost the people a half billion dollars while the farmer's condition was gradually becoming worse.

The American railroads have reduced their operating expense 40 per cent since 1929. Had the governments of this country done the same thing we would not now have to be worrying about new tax laws and balancing budgets without sufficient funds.

LEARNING IS LEARNING

What shall the young people do at this time? The graduates look for jobs in vain. Children on vacation are too young for heavy gainful work.

They shall learn by learning.

There is hardly a home so small that it may not benefit by the addition of one earnest young apprentice at its homely tasks. Let the girls learn how to cook and sew. Let the boys learn some of the fundamentals of cooking and sewing, too. One does not expect a boy to learn embroidery or fine ruffling, but it will not hurt him any to set on a patch and put on a good, strong button.

Let the boys paint and put up shelves and weed the garden. Is everything done? Everything was never done. Let the lad look about a bit for improvements within his powers. Something will turn up, sure as shooting. Let the lass do some outdoor work, too.

If there is a summer school let them go. If not, see that they get some fine and useful books from the library along with their cheap summer fiction.

There is a tendency among workers of some kinds to belittle book learning. Never was there a greater mistake. Everything learned, every mental muscle strengthened, is like money put in the bank for time of need.

If a young person wants a special kind of job and cannot get it, let him learn all he can about that work, how to do it well, what it leads to. The time will come when he will be glad of this knowledge.

If he is unable to progress along his chosen line, for some reason, let him learn along some other. All the arts are related, all the sciences, all the forms of commerce.

The thing is to keep busy at something constructive. This keeps the human machine oiled and in trim. It is human mind which counts in the end. Don't let it rust.

BETWEEN RUSH HOURS HE TALKS ABOUT OIL

"Cars are like salads," Alfred Felly tells R. J. Casey, famous Chicago News reporter, in his campus restaurant at Madison, Wisconsin. "You've got to lubricate them." He gives Casey a recipe not found in the cook book. Outside, a Chrysler sedan waits to take him home.

An Interview by ROBERT J. CASEY Chicago Daily News Reporter

WHATEVER the cook books may say about the best lubricant for a skillet, many a student of the University of Wisconsin owes his morning flapjacks to something besides lard substitute. Take the word of Alfred Felly for it, and Mr. Felly ought to know inasmuch as he is the compiler of the flapjacks.

Mr. Felly runs a restaurant at 814 University Avenue, Madison, Wisconsin, opens his place early in the morning and is the last one to leave it at night. Between there and home he drives a Chrysler.

"I got to using Iso-Vis Oil because somebody told me it would let you start your car on cold winter mornings and wouldn't burn out on hot summer days," Mr. Felly told his interviewer. "That point may not mean much to some people but it means everything to me. My garage isn't heated and many winters before I began to use Iso-Vis I had trouble getting out of it. If my car stalls it means no breakfast for quite a lot of customers.

"I've driven this car 39,000 miles and I've never had any sort of engine trouble with it."

Mr. Felly's 39,000 trouble-free miles prove again what Iso-Vis has demonstrated in laboratory tests and in A.A.A. tests on the Indianapolis Speedway—Positive Lubrication Protection. Iso-Vis (a Standard Oil product) will not thin out from dilution. See the Ball and Bottle Test at Standard Oil service stations and dealers.

WEEKLY CAMP CHARLEVOIX NEWS COLUMN

Edited by
VINCENT ARNOLD

Regular camp activities were begun Monday morning, July 4. In order to give the boys an idea of what they might participate in this season, each of the three sections was divided into two parts and sent to one of the following activities: riding, athletics, handicraft, boating, dramatics, and woodcraft. The divisions were rotated around the various departments so that every boy had at least a "taste" of what is in store for him. Later on each camper will be given a chance to choose what activities he prefers, and thus become proficient in one or two of the departments if not in all of them.

Members of the staff who are new this year include Ted Fox, Orin Heft and Dave Nelson.

Ted, or "Foxy," as he has been nicknamed, is a graduate of the University of Illinois, and is now a student at the University of Chicago Medical School. He is a Red Cross life saving examiner, and will head the aquatic department of the camp for the coming season.

Orin Heft, better known as "Hefty," is the head of the handicraft program for 1932. He is an instructor of mechanical drafting in the McKenzie high school of Detroit. Dave Nelson, renamed "Commodore," will have charge of the boats this year, in addition to acting as assistant counselor. He is a graduate of the Kentucky Military Institute, and plans to enter Alhion college next September. His specialty is sailing.

In order to make the swimming periods a safer proposition than ever before, a device new to Camp Charlevoix has been introduced. At the shore end of the dock has been built a board on which are several hooks. A numbered metal tag hangs on each hook, and corresponds to an individual camper. When a boy goes to swim period, he turns his tag over so that the number is face down; when he comes off the dock he turns the tag back again. Nothing has ever happened which would make such a precaution absolutely necessary, but the camp authorities feel that it is best to adopt every safety measure possible.

The water is still quite frigid and so far the swimming periods have not been very popular. Chick Hendry calls the lake "liquid ice," and it certainly has lived up to its new name. However, the water should warm up before very long, and regular aquatic activities may then begin.

Monday afternoon several novelty games and races were run off at the athletic field. One feature was a horse race between the two senior cabins of Oke Oldham and Johnny Olwin, which was won by Oke's boys. After the events ball games were played in each section.

The first chapel service of the year was held Sunday morning in the lodge. Mr. Reimann, camp director, was the principal speaker, discussing the real meaning of the camp motto, "I would be true, for there are those who trust me." The boys voted to turn the collection money into the Stanley M. Moore memorial fund—a project to commemorate Stan Moore, the counselor who was killed last year just after camp closed.

July Fourth was celebrated by having a barbecue on the beach. Jack Hogan roasted two pigs on a regular barbecue spit, and with the addition of applesauce and watermelon the campers did pretty well. After the meal, a council ring ceremony was held for the benefit of the new boys.

REAPPORTIONMENT
VOTE IN NOVEMBER

by the legislature certain districts will have more than the exact quota for one or more representatives, so the amendment provides that districts with the largest remainders of population shall be given the remaining representatives.

Under a tentative plan of redistricting worked out by officers of the Municipal League 12 representatives would remain to be assigned after each district had been given one representative for each 48,423 persons therein. These would be assigned to the counties, or districts, with the greatest remainders of population as follows:

One each to Kent, Jackson, Kalamazoo, Calhoun, Muskegon, Berrien, Houghton, Macomb, Marquette, Saginaw, Van Buren and Bay.

Whatever plan of redistricting that may be adopted by the legislature cannot deviate far from this result.

One of the important provisions of the amendment is that which would require Wayne county to elect its representatives from House districts. In each representative district containing but one county and entitled to more than four representatives, the board of supervisors would be required to divide the legislative district into House districts, and not more than four representatives could be elected from any such House district. If the legislative district should be entitled to more than one and less than five representatives the board of supervisors may or may not divide it into House districts as it sees fit.

The amendment requires that the legislature shall establish the legislative districts and reapportionment at the first regular or special session following adoption of the amendment and at the first session followed by each national census. If the legislature fails to comply with the constitution as amended it then would be the duty of the secretary of state to make the apportionment. He could be forced to act by mandamus proceedings on petition of the attorney-general or any prosecuting attorney of the state.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

Morning service, 10:45.
Wednesday evening at 7:45 first Wednesday of month only.
Reading room Tuesday and Saturday, 3:00 to 5:00 p. m.
"God" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, July 3.

Among the bible citations was this passage (Jeremiah 23:23, 24): "Am I a God at hand, saith the Lord and not a God afar off? Can any hide himself in secret places that I shall not see him? saith the Lord. Do not I fill heaven and earth? saith the Lord."

Correlative passages read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, included the following (p. 275): "The starting-point of divine science is that God, Spirit, is All-in-All, and that there is no other might nor Mind, that God is Love, and therefore He is divine Principle."

Four Canning Demonstrations Arranged for Next Week

Latest methods of canning vegetables will be demonstrated in Charlevoix county July 14, 15 and 16, under the direction of Miss Roberta Hershey, extension nutrition specialist of Michigan State college.

The demonstrations will provide economical and practical methods which may be used by housewives in preserving articles for later use. Since it is most difficult to preserve the original flavor in non-acid vegetables, special attention will be given this question.

Processing in the pressure cooker is an important means of decreasing time and increasing safety through complete sterilization will be one of the methods to be demonstrated. Various other types of equipment will be discussed and both tin cans and glass jars will be used.

Newer methods such as pre-cooking of the product will be illustrated. Acid vegetables and fruits will also be discussed. Following are the demonstrations, all on eastern standard time:

Thursday, July 14, 1:30 p. m., I. O. O. F. hall in Charlevoix (above Jacobs store).

Friday, July 15, 9:30 a. m., Boyne Falls community rooms.

Friday, July 15, 1:30 p. m., Eastern Star dining room in East Jordan (above Lumber Co. store).

Saturday, July 16, 1:30 p. m., gymnasium dining room in Boyne City.

These demonstrations are particularly timely as the canning season has arrived and all housewives are more than anxious to have an ample supply of canned fruits and vegetables to take care of the needs of the family during the long winter months. Just remember you are cordially invited to attend and to bring your friends with you. These meetings will be filled with useful and practical information, and will be of deep interest to all housewives whether city or rural.

Rarely is a million dollars' worth of livestock gathered in a single group. One of those rare occasions will be at the livestock parade on Friday night of the Michigan State Fair and Exposition, September 4 to 10.

64 Pounds of Fat

Mrs. H. Price of Woodside, N. Y., writes: "A year ago I weighed 190 lbs. I started to take Kruschen and now I weigh 126 and never felt better in my life and what's more, I look more like 20 years old than the mother of 2 children, one of 18 and the other 16. My friends say it's marvelous the way I reduced."

To lose fat SAFELY and HARMLESSLY, take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—don't miss a morning—a bottle that lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle—but don't take chances—be sure it's Kruschen. If not joyfully satisfied after the first bottle—money back.

NOT NECESSARY TO RE-REGISTER HERE

New Law Effects Cities With Population of 5,000 or More

In a recent issue, the Courier stated it would be necessary for all Charlevoix voters to re-register before the September primary. This information was erroneous.

The new registration law, which went into effect June 1, 1932, requires re-registration only in cities and townships with a population of 5,000 or more. In smaller municipalities, it applies only when adopted by the legislative body. Therefore the law does not effect Charlevoix.

Selection of Feeds for Ration for Dairy Cow

When you wish to make up a ration for the individual cow or for the herd there are two important ingredients to be considered in selecting the feeds. These are: 1. Digestible protein. 2. Total digestible nutrients.

Protein is especially important in milk production and all dairy rations should be liberally supplied with this element, but the use of too much protein may be detrimental. The feeding of high protein feeds may be carried to extremes with the result that many cows will be prematurely burned out or become dry breeders. The increased use of alfalfa has given a protein roughage that does not require the high protein feeds that we have become accustomed to using with our lower grades of hay.

Few things are as expensive as those we try to get for nothing.

STATE WILL CONTINUE CHECK ON DEER RATIO

Conservation Officers Making Third Summer Deer Tally

Another check of the ratio between bucks and does in Michigan is being made this year with conservation officers making their third summer deer tally.

All officers will submit a report to the department of conservation each week during the period July 2 to December 31 as to all bucks, does and fawns positively identified on their regular patrols. The results will be tallied next winter and compared with previous counts.

The ratio between bucks and does is being watched by the department to determine whether, under the buck law, an unsatisfactory balance between males and females in Michigan's deer herd is developing in some areas.

Fertile Soil Is Need of Alfalfa

Farmer Should Have His Land Tested for Lime and Phosphate Wants.

Alfalfa is a crop that demands much of the soil, says M. E. Miller, chairman of the department of soils of the Missouri College of Agriculture. The three or four crops a year demand a fertile soil or one that is well treated. It is like to think of growing alfalfa under any other conditions.

Soil Must Be Treated.

It is sometimes said that every farmer can grow alfalfa if he wishes, and while this may be true in general it is certain that on some soils it would require more treatment than the alfalfa is worth. As a rule land that is sufficiently drained to grow 50 or 60 bushels of corn under favorable conditions, and which at the same time is well supplied with lime, will grow alfalfa without difficulty. When land is not of such a nature it must be treated so as to bring it up to this standard by the use of manure, fertilizer, lime and drainage, if necessary.

Most soils require lime first. Every man who is interested in growing alfalfa should have his soil tested for its lime need. Usually the land requires some phosphate, although not always. Application of 200 to 250 pounds of the 20 per cent superphosphate is often recommended. In some cases potash is also beneficial, and in most cases, nitrogen helps, so that a high-grade mixed fertilizer such as a 1-12-1 may often be the best fertilizer to apply.

Tests With Top Dressing.

Experiments at the Missouri experiment station have shown some interesting results with top dressing old stands of alfalfa with nitrate of soda. In most of these trials results have been very good. Those experiments have also shown the marked value of cultivating alfalfa with a chisel-spring-tooth harrow about three times during the growing season in order to keep out grass and weeds.

Young Calf's Stomach Has Only Limited Space

Probably the greatest fault in feeding young calves is the tendency to feed too much milk. Under natural feeding, a calf takes its milk frequently and in small amounts. The calf's stomach at this time is not suited for holding a large amount of milk. An excessive amount nearly always results in indigestion and scours. This condition, as many know from experience, is not easy to correct. For the first week, four to five quarts, or about eight to ten pounds per day, is the maximum amount the largest calf should have. Less would be better. The amount should not be increased the second week unless the calf shows no signs of indigestion, and even then the amount should not be increased more than a pound or two.

Feed little and often. Keep the calf a little hungry. It will help it to learn to eat grain and hay.

Repairing Machinery During Winter Is Best

Since the modern farmer is so dependent upon the efficiency of his machinery it necessarily follows that he must make most of his repairs on the farm, says J. C. Woolley, chairman of the department of agricultural engineering of the Missouri College of Agriculture. The farmer cannot afford to take all his little repair jobs to town and wait his turn to get them done, but must provide a comfortable place to work and do them at home.

Any machine, whether housed or neglected, is sure to need repair and adjustment. If these repairs are left to be made in a busy time, they are expensive and cause much trouble and delay. Some form of comfortable building that can be utilized as a repair and workshop during the winter will mean a valuable saving in time during the rush periods of summer work.

Keeping Rodents From Granary With Concrete

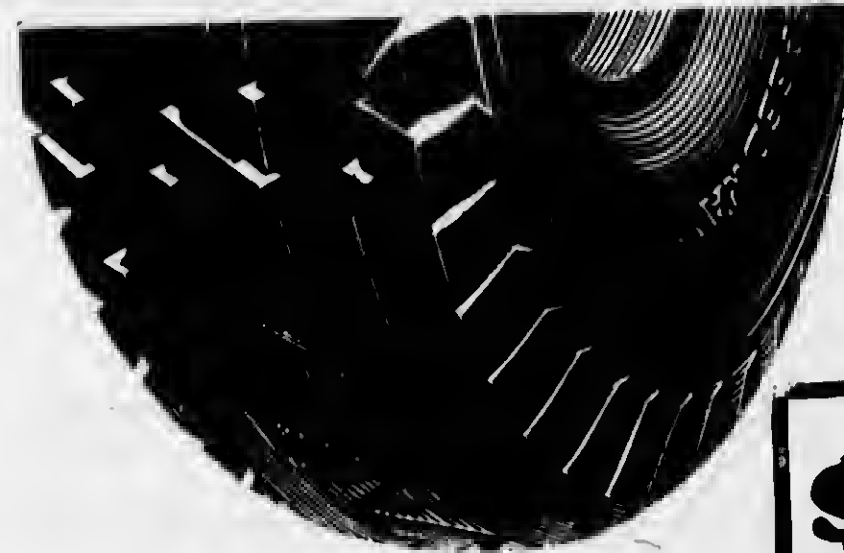

To build a granary floor and foundation to prevent rats getting under it, one should put an eight-inch foundation wall of concrete about 15 inches into the ground and about a foot above the ground. Use reinforcing rods around the corners. Fill inside this with cinders or coarse gravel until it is eight or ten inches above the ground surface outside, tamp it down well while it is wet and then lay down roll roofing or waterproof felt with cemented joints and put a four-inch concrete floor on top of this. You will have a granary floor which will be dry after the first season and which will not allow the rats to get under it.

Prevent Rabbit Injury by Wrapping Tree Trunk

Washes such as soap suds, white-wash and the like applied to young peach tree trunks may tend to prevent injury by rabbits. The surest and safest method, however, of preventing injury consists of wrapping the tree trunks with newspapers, wood veneer wrappers, or chicken wire netting. In every instance the tree should be wrapped to a height of 15 to 20 inches.

Moreover, the application of ordinary house or barn paint, axle grease, tar or pitch may do great injury and even kill the trees.

If a husband foots his wife's bills she should at least foot his hosiery.

CHERRY QUEEN ON TOUR HERE MONDAY

CAROLYN HAZZARD WELCOMED BY LOCAL OFFICIALS

Several Hundred on Hand for Greeting—Mayor Bergeon Presented With Huge Cherry Pie

Visiting Charlevoix on a tour of Northern Michigan cities Monday afternoon, Miss Carolyn Hazzard, national cherry queen, was given a welcome befitting her rank.

Circling high over the city, Queen Carolyn's Stinson cabin plane, equipped with pontoons, was brought to a landing on Lake Charlevoix. The royal party, including Mrs. Donald Roxburgh and Mrs. E. E. Shriver, chaperons, were brought to the city docks in the coast guard boat by Capt. Oscar Smith. A crowd of several hundred waited to greet her there. The city band and Legion bugle and drum corps furnished music.

Queen Carolyn, charming in a knit sport suit of blue-gray, was welcomed by Mayor Arthur Bergeon and Dr. C. J. Winder, president of the local association of commerce. A huge cherry pie, Traverse City's gift to this city, was presented to Mayor Bergeon, who, in well chosen words, accepted the token and welcomed the royal entourage to Charlevoix. Miss Lola Fessenden, Charlevoix's representative in the recent cherry queen contest at Traverse City, also extended her welcome to the visiting queen.

A motor tour of the city was followed by an informal reception given by Dr. and Mrs. C. J. Winder at Hotel Charlevoix.

Unfortunately, due to motor trouble which developed and kept her plane here over night for repairs, Queen Carolyn was unable to go by air for visits at Northport Point, Leland and Elk Rapids. The party returned to Traverse City by motor after a considerable wait here.

The national cherry festival, over which Miss Hazzard will reign as queen, opens Thursday at Traverse City. The usual outstanding program has been arranged for the event, which will continue Friday and Saturday. Thousands of visitors from Michigan and out-of-state, will attend the festival program. Miss Fessenden will represent Charlevoix at the festival as a member of the queen's court.

5TH SUMMER CAMP OPENS SATURDAY

CHRISTIAN GROUP FROM GRAND RAPIDS AT TYRELL'S CAMP

Organization of Christian Reformed Church Will Have Outing from July 16 to August 1

The fifth annual summer camp of the Grand Rapids League of Young Men's Societies, an organization of the Christian Reformed church, will open Saturday, July 16, at Tyrell's Vacation Camp, located on Lake Michigan south of Norwood.

Upward of fifty young men, from Grand Rapids as well as other southern Michigan points, will attend the camp, which will continue until Monday, August 1.

William Cornelisse, director of athletics at Calvin college, Grand Rapids, is the camp executive. The campers will enjoy all types of sports and camp activities including swimming and boating on Lake Michigan, volleyball, indoor and baseball, horse-shoe, nature hikes and fishing on nearby inland lakes.

Various religious speakers of prominence will address the camp fire talks given two nights each week, when problems peculiar to young men are discussed.

The Tyrell Vacation Camps, owned and operated by M. A. Tyrell, is at the site of the old village of Antrim City. It has been in operation only for the past few years, and since its inauguration, many attractive improvements have been made. Eight log cabins have been constructed, a large log dining room and kitchen. By forming a pond on a stream running through the property, a complete water system for toilets, showers, etc., has been made available. With its excellent location on Lake Michigan and fine accommodations, the camp has become very popular.

HOME-MADE FLY SPRAY EFFECTIVE FOR CATTLE

Mixture Easy to Prepare, Cheaper Than Commercial Products

Although there are a number of good commercial fly sprays for cattle on the market, many dairymen find it cheaper and as satisfactory to make their own. For those wishing to do so either of the two following formulas might be used:

No. 1—Mix one pound of oil of tar and one gallon of crank case oil. Spray as needed.

No. 2—Mix one gallon of spirits of oleum and one pound of flowers of pyrethrum. The oleum is sold at Standard Oil distributing stations and the pyrethrum is the active ingredient used in most commercial fly sprays. This mixture is more difficult to make than No. 1, but will be more satisfactory.

MANY ATTENDED SCHOOL MEETING

NINE MONTHS SCHOOL AND OFFICERS' PAY RETAINED

Harker Kirby and Henry Partridge Elected Trustees to Replace Retiring Members

Trustees were elected, the financial statement read, and reports of the secretary and librarian given at the annual meeting of Charlevoix school district No. 1, city and township, held Monday evening at the high school assembly room.

Harker Kirby and Henry Partridge were elected members of the board of education, which body will later choose officers from its membership. Mr. Kirby and Mrs. E. J. Hiller, incumbent, were nominated, and Mr. Kirby given the majority vote on balloting for the first trustee. Mr. Partridge won in a three-way vote over Mrs. Hiller and Mrs. B. Saltonstall, also retiring, on the ballot for the second.

With the retirement of Mesdames Hiller and Saltonstall, the board of education loses two members who have served well and conscientiously for several years.

It was voted the salaries of board members, $100 each for the secretary and treasurer, and $50 each for the other members, remain as set last year.

The financial report showed the board had handled total receipts of $81,992.15, as compared with $83,916.93, a year ago. Expenditures were $75,902.86, as compared with $74,493.90 last year, leaving a balance on hand of $6,089.29.

A total of 198 votes were cast in the balloting for trustees, indicating an attendance of around two hundred at the meeting.

The meeting was a harmonious one, failing to develop anticipated contests over the election of trustees. Business of the meeting was dispatched rapidly and adjournment came at an early hour.

IRONTON DEFEATED INDEPENDENT NINE

Copped Slug-Fest Sunday Afternoon by 19 to 15 Score

Sunday afternoon the Charlevoix Whitecaps engaged the Ironton baseball team in an exceedingly free hitting slugfest. Ironton emerged the winner by the score of 19 to 15.

Charlevoix had to use a pick-up team, due to the fact that some of the regulars were out of town. "Hap" Cunningham, subbing at first base, made six safe hits out of seven times at bat. Stan Smith, regular catcher, led in scoring for the locals, with four runs.

Joe Williams, for Charlevoix, and John Johnson, for Ironton, pitched the first four innings, and each allowed eleven runs. "Hap" Cunningham pitched the last five for the locals and allowed eight runs. Ivan Thompson, who pitched the last five for Ironton, did especially well, allowing only four runs.

MANY AMENDMENTS WILL BE VOTED ON

ONE REFERENDUM AND SEVEN CONSTITUTIONAL CHANGES

Liquor Question One of Many to Come Before Michigan Voters at November Election

About 150 more candidates are expected to secure places on the September primary ballot by filing petitions with the department of state before the close of business July 26. To date, only 24 candidates have filed for lieutenant governor, congress and state legislature.

When the time for filing initiative petitions expired July 8, seven proposed constitutional changes and one referendum had qualified for submission to the people in November. Under a resolution adopted by the 1932 special session, constitutional amendments are to be numbered. The proposals will appear on the ballot in the following order:

No. 1—Alteration of present constitutional prohibition requirements to permit establishment of a liquor control commission.

No. 2—Limitation of taxes on real estate.

No. 3—Legislative reapportionment.

No. 4—Exemption from taxation of homesteads.

No. 5—Changing election laws in cases where portions of townships are incorporated into villages.

No. 6—Changing method of pardoning first degree murderers.

No. 7—To allow only property owners to vote on bond issues.

No. 8—Whether the oleomargarine tax measure adopted by the 1931 legislature, shall become effective.

The first four questions won places on the ballot by the filing of the proper number of signatures with the department of state. The legislature ordered the fifth, sixth and seventh questions submitted to the people while the last question is the result of the filing of referendum petitions preventing the oleo law from becoming effective until approved by the people.

All candidates for governor, lieutenant governor and candidates for congress and legislature from districts comprising more than one county, must qualify by filing the required number of petitions by July 26. In addition candidates for vacancies on the bench in Kent, Saginaw and Wayne counties must file proper petitions by the same date.

EAST JORDAN LOSE ITS RAILROAD

Abandonment of Line to Bellaire Recommended at Washington

Examiner R. I. Irwin has recommended that the interstate commerce commission allow the abandonment of 52 miles of railroad in Antrim, Charlevoix, Crawford and Otsego counties in Michigan.

The examiner proposes that the commission allow the East Jordan and Southern railroad to abandon 18.6 miles of line between East Jordan and Bellaire, and allow the Michigan Central railroad, owner, and the New York Central, lessee, to abandon 33.4 miles extending from Frederick to Marble.

Investigation has shown, the examiner said, that there is insufficient traffic to justify continued operation of the lines and there is little prospect of improvement.

ANNUAL HOSPITAL MEETING WEDNESDAY, JULY 20

Election of Directors and Arranging of Finances Important Issues

A coming event of interest to Charlevoix local and summer residents, is the annual meeting of the board of directors of Charlevoix hospital, which will be held Wednesday evening, July 20th, at the city council rooms in the library building.

In addition to annual reports and arranging of finances for the coming year, three directors will be elected. The terms of A. J. Usher, treasurer; Dr. R. B. Armstrong and P. D. Campbell, directors, expire with the close of the 1931-32 fiscal year.

The same public interest as shown the past two years, during which time financial problems of the hospital have demanded especial attention, will be necessary at the coming meeting if the institution is to be kept on an even keel.

All interested are expected to be present.

LEGION FAMILIES GO ON BOAT TRIP

TAKE EXCURSION RIDE SUNDAY TO BEAVER ISLAND

Plan Moonlight Ride Next Wednesday and Outdoor Boxing Show the Following Night

Among other summer activities planned by Leslie T. Shapton Post, American Legion, is a boat ride to Beaver island on the "Ossian Bedell," which occurs next Sunday at 2 o'clock a. m. This will be an excursion for Legionnaires and their families and whatever capacity is left will be sold to the public. The boat will return to Charlevoix at 9 o'clock p. m., and there will be some form of entertainment, including a baseball game, on the island.

Wednesday evening, July 20, has been set as the date of a moonlight boat excursion on Lake Charlevoix for the public, at very popular rates. Thursday evening, July 21, one of the Legion's popular boxing entertainments will be held in the open air arena just north of O'Neill's taxi garage. A number of top-notch performers have been secured and the bouts promise to be well worth witnessing.

Plans for the securing of the 1933 state convention of the Legion for Charlevoix are being pursued and the idea has met with favorable response from posts in all parts of the state. Next Tuesday evening, July 19, the annual election of the post will occur and all members are earnestly requested to be present and elect officers for the ensuing year.

JUNIOR SHAKESPEARE STORY CLUB FORMED

Local Branch Under Direction of Miss Freda McMillan

The National Junior Shakespeare Story Telling Club has formed a branch here under the organization and direction of Miss Freda McMillan. The club is educational in purpose and is designated to acquaint grade children with the works of the famous bard and in such a way that it will appear like play to them. At the same time, it prepares them for high school English studies and gives them a working knowledge of the classics.

The plan consists of story hours for the children, when groups will meet and tell Shakespeare stories in simplified form. Prizes will be offered at various stages of the course and diplomas will be awarded each child who has finished the prescribed course.

The national association now reaches into practically every state and has been immensely successful. Aside from the distinct educational advantages, there is a social feature. Parents and teachers have endorsed the plan with enthusiasm.

Political Announcement

I desire to announce to my friends and all voters in Charlevoix county that I am a candidate for the nomination for Sheriff of the Republican ticket at the primaries, Tuesday, September 13, 1932. I believe that I am fully qualified to discharge the duties of this office in a manner that will be to the best interests of the county, and will give my very best efforts should I be the winning candidate at the coming primary. Your support is respectfully solicited. Perry Smith, Charlevoix, Mich. Adv. 2812.

Missing Spouse Returns to Find Romance Is Dead

Thousands of persons, all over the United States, are reported missing annually. Many of these persons never come back. "The Man From Yesterday," the Thursday of the week feature at the Palace theatre, is a story of a man who does come back to find his wife in love with another man.

Clive Brook and Claudette Colbert have the leading roles in this picture, based on the successful play by Nell Blackwell and Rowland G. Edwards.

Good Bulls Are Needed to Replace All Scrubs

Good bulls are hard to find, says Prof. S. J. Brownell of the New York State College of Agriculture, who is interested in finding bull calves from good purebred sires and from cows that have made 400 pounds of fat in a dairy herd improvement association.

Surveys in many New York townships show that more than half of all the bulls owned are grade and scrub bulls. Of the 45 per cent of purebred bulls, only 15 per cent of them are registered, and only 3 per cent of all the bulls owned are from cows of known producing ability.

As a result of the surveys, many dairymen who now own grade and scrub bulls have listed their desire to get better bulls. The requests for better bulls are at the rate of ten to fifteen dairymen for every township surveyed. This means that from 300 to 400 good bulls are needed to replace the grades and scrubs in the surveyed territory.

Ewes' Winter Ration

The winter ration that ewes receive has a definite and direct effect on their lamb producing ability, the length of their productive life, and on their condition during the summer grazing season, according to S. Bell, in charge of sheep investigations at the Ohio experiment station.

In 1924 Mr. Bell started two groups of ewes on a test to study the effect of rations on flock maintenance and production. The groups were of the same age and of similar breeding and producing ability.

ORCHARD CLEANINGS

PRUNE AND SPRAY FOR GOOD FRUIT

A $400 return on a $40 investment was H. J. Miller's experience in the proper handling of his home orchard last season, on a Howard county (Mo.) farm. Spraying and pruning turned the trick.

It cost Mr. Miller $16.70 for lime-sulphur and arsenate of lead, and $24 for spraying and pruning. The result was 200 bushels of marketable apples at $2 a bushel. There were also some other apples of a lower grade.

Mr. Miller had become disgusted with his mature orchard when it failed in previous years to produce a bushel of marketable fruit. So last year he was perfectly willing to co-operate with the county agent, Dan E. Miller, in a demonstration to show the value of pruning and spraying.

Writes R. H. Thomasson of Missouri, in the Farm Life. "Three trees were left as a check and received no treatment. Those three failed to provide enough fruit to justify their existence."

An unfavorable season reduced the yield on all the trees. Even so the demonstration was a success in the eyes of both the owner and his neighbors. "There would have been no apples at all if I had not sprayed," Mr. Miller said. A peck of apples in the tree was sufficient to pay for the treatment.

The neglected home orchard, such as Mr. Miller's, is not only unprofitable, but it takes up valuable space that might be utilized by other crops. Unless the trees are to be taken care of, an ax and a grubbing hoe is the best remedy. But Mr. Miller's solution is still better. He will have a false-sized deposit at the bank this fall, when it is most needed, and will have plenty of apples for his own use.

Young Apple Trees Are Rather Hard to Train

Young apple trees are more difficult to train than are young peach trees. Not all the limbs needed for the framework of the tree can be secured the first year. A central leader must be left until the proper number of framework limbs can be secured spaced over four to six feet of height. Seven or eight limbs is all that an apple tree should have. A tree with this number will be easy to keep pruned and it will be a simple matter to have plenty of bearing wood with little effort.

On certain varieties such as Yellow Transparent it will be very helpful in securing a well shaped tree and a tree that begins bearing at an early age if the framework limbs are spread. This spreading can be most easily accomplished by cutting notches in the ends of limbs sawed into various lengths and then inserting these limbs between two framework limbs in such a way that both limbs will be spread out. This changes the natural growth habit of the Yellow Transparent completely. Without some such artificial regulation the limbs of the trees of this variety go straight up in the air. The trees of this type are all very slow coming into bearing unless something of this nature is done to them.

Anthracnose Is Common Ill of Black Raspberry

One of the common diseases of the black raspberry is anthracnose, a fungus trouble causing purple blotches on the young canes, also attacking the fruiting spurs. It can be controlled by spraying with lime-sulphur, diluting same two and one-half gallons to fifty gallons of water. Spray again when the young shoots are six to eight inches high, diluting the lime-sulphur solution one gallon to fifty gallons of water. Apply a third spray just before blossoming time using the same solution of lime-sulphur as in the second spray.

Horticultural Hints

If sufficient spray has been applied to wet the tree evenly to the dripping point any more applied is wasted and may even do harm.

The pear and apple blister mite can be controlled by applying lime-sulphur 12 to 100 any time in the spring before the buds open, according to station authorities.

The apple curculio cuts a small round hole in the surface and then eats out a large round cavity deeper in the fruit in which it places its egg. It will breed normally in the small apples.

Latham, Cuthbert and Herbert are all good red raspberries, and Cumberland and Gregg standard black caps.

Remove the dead wood and ill-shaped branches from shade and fruit trees. Raspberries and blackberries may be pruned just as soon as they show signs of growth.

Many growers fail to have the success they should have with their newly grafted trees because they do not give the trees the necessary care after the grafts begin to grow.

"What do you mean Maps get smaller?"

An Interview by
ROBERT J. CASEY

Chicago Daily News
Reporter

"People drive faster," explains E. V. Shireman, furniture salesman of 928 East Maple Road, Indianapolis. "I generally run my Packard 60 to 65 miles an hour—have to, to cover my territory." "But what about your car?" asks Bob Casey, famous Chicago News reporter.

IT is the observation of E. V. Shireman of Indianapolis that the maps are getting smaller every day—people drive faster.

Mr. Shireman is a furniture salesman whose territory embraces all of Indiana, Cincinnati and Louisville. He drives a Packard Custom 8 and covers between 800 and a thousand miles a week the year 'round. The total mileage on his present car is 71,000 miles.

"There was a time when my territory would have been pretty hard to cover. Now it's no trick at all."

"I drive between 60 and 65 miles an hour and there's where the oil gets to be an important factor. After experimenting with other oils, I settled on Iso-Vis. Speed doesn't burn it up and city driving doesn't dilute it."

Mr. Shireman's 71,000 trouble-free miles prove again what Iso-Vis has demonstrated in laboratory tests and in A.A.A. tests on the Indianapolis Speedway—Positive Lubrication Protection. Iso-Vis (a Standard Oil product) will not thin out from dilution. See the Ball and Bottle Test at Standard Oil Stations and dealers.

Wednesday evening at 7:45.
Reading room Tuesday and Saturday, 3:00 to 5:00 p. m. The public is cordially invited to attend our services and use our reading room.

"Sacriment" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, July 10.

Among the Bible citations was this passage (John 13: 14, 15): "If I then, your Lord and Master, have washed your feet; ye also ought to wash one another's feet. For I have given you an example, that ye should do as I have done to you."

Correlative passages read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, included the following (p. 37): "When will Jesus' professed followers learn to emulate him in all his ways and to imitate his mighty works? Those who procured the martyrdom of that righteous man, would gladly have turned his sacred career into a mutilated doctrinal platform. May the Christians of today take up the more practical import of that career!"

Qualities that make a man feel superior are usually ones that cause his acquaintances to rate him as inferior.

WEEKLY CAMP CHARLEVOIX NEWS COLUMN

Edited by
VINCENT ARNOLD

Johnny Olwin and his cabin are prepared to give anyone interested a detailed description of how it feels to bring a wind-tossed sailboat into port. One evening last week Johnny and his boys—John Adams, Dick Woodfield, Ralph Smith, Howard McGregor, Rolly McLaughlin, Bill Brownell and Jim Evans—took the sailboat out; the weather looked to be fine for sailing. However, by the time the crew decided to come home, a sizeable wind had sprung up and the lake began to roll. Captain Olwin tried valiantly to tack into the anchoring buoy, but each time the wind thwarted his attempts. Just as Dr. Rittershoffer and Louie Baker were forming a rescue party of two, the struggling craft managed to find its resting place, and all was quiet once again.

The camp's second sailboat has been undergoing repairs, and last week the finishing touches were put on in the form of a paint job. A christening ceremony was deemed necessary to make a fitting climax to all the labor on the craft, and accordingly Mrs. Reimann was delegated to act as official "christener." She used a bottle of artesian water, and made the name "Zonta Wakuta."

A team composed of the camp counsellors was organized to play a soft-ball team from Boyne City last Friday. The darkness rather spoiled the contest, but when it was necessary to stop the camp team was ahead 7 to 5.

Visitors over the week end included Mr. and Mrs. Norman Pitcairn of Birmingham; Mrs. William Loch of Memphis, Tenn.; Mrs. John LeBolt of Chicago; Prof. and Mrs. J. R. Leigh Nelson of Ann Arbor; Mr. and Mrs. Christian Herrmann and son, Christian Jr., of Lansing.

Saturday night is always known as "stunt night" at the camp, and last Saturday evening saw the presentation of two short plays and several solos. The casts of the plays included

POULTRY FACTS

WINTER FEEDING NOW NEGLECTED

Equipment in Poultry House Often Lacking.

Quite frequently poultry owners attempt to go through the winter with insufficient feeding and watering equipment in the poultry house. Weeks of bad weather during the winter make it hard to care for the flock adequately unless attention has been given to feeding needs.

With the advent of mash feeding, flocks being fed in many instances on a mash ration alone, mash hoppers in the winter house become practically a necessity. These hoppers should be large enough to care for the mash needs of the flock for at least two weeks, to save labor by less frequent filling. A good rule to follow in judging the flock needs for a definite time is to allow for a consumption of about three pounds of mash per bird, per month. One foot of feeding space should be allowed for every ten birds in the flock. The hopper should be arranged so that the fowls cannot roost on the top.

Where scratch grain is fed, it should be fed in the litter, either in the house or in the scratch shed or room. To facilitate the feeding of this grain, a storage box in one end or corner of the house that will hold enough scratch grain for a month of winter feeding will prove to be a valuable and small investment. Boxes should also be provided and kept filled with grit and shell throughout the winter.

Any drinking fountain that can be easily cleaned is good. Automatic fountains, if they meet this requirement, are to be recommended and if a self-heating fountain is available that can be kept well cleaned, it will aid in keeping up egg production through the cold winter months. Birds should never be forced to drink ice water, even though such automatic heating equipment is not installed in the house.

Select Breeding Stock Early in the Season

Poultry raisers who contemplate hatching their own baby chicks should have the breeding pens or flock mated at least three weeks to a month before the eggs are saved for hatching.

Success in raising the baby chick flock is in a large measure established before the baby chick is hatched. Vigor and vitality naturally come from parent stocks that are strong in these qualities, says O. C. Ufford, extension poultry specialist, Colorado Agricultural college.

"One should use only males that are vigorous, mature and well-developed. When possible, secure these males from breeders who can furnish them from high producing hens. A male from high producing stock should never be used, however, unless he has vigor and vitality."

"Hatch Plymouth Rocks, Rhode Island Reds, etc., not later than April. A very good time to hatch or buy Leghorns is during the latter part of March or the first week in April. Chicks hatched later than May 15 are very seldom profitable."

Poultry Facts

Candle the eggs on the seventh and fourteenth days.

The estimation of a bird's prospective breeding value is the name of the breeder's skill.

Inbreeding to make an establishment of any point should always be approached with caution.

Cock birds usually produce excellent quality chicks, but sometimes give poor fertility early in the season.

If a farmer keeps chickens at all, he can afford a comfortable poultry house. The old poultry house may be remodeled and made more comfortable at very little expense.

Fowls infested with round worms may be treated by feeding them dry mash containing one pound 2 per cent alcoline tobacco dust in each 50 pounds. The medicated mash should be fed for four weeks.

To secure the best flock fertility, mate such breeds as the Plymouth Rocks, Rhode Island Reds, Wyandottes and Orpingtons with one male to every 12 to 15 females. For the smaller breeds, such as the Leghorns, one male to every 12 to 15 females can be used.

Most varieties of tapeworms have intermediate hosts. That is, a portion of the tapeworm's life is spent in the body of an insect or grub and the tapeworm gains entrance to the chicken's body only when the chicken eats the intermediate host.

In dealing with tapeworms, as with round worms, prevention is better than cure. Thorough daily cleaning and careful disposal of the droppings will prevent the insects from becoming infected so that they will be harmless for the chickens to eat.

Some men are constantly trying to lower the record for meanness.

MARL CURES ACIDITY OF MICHIGAN SOILS

This Form of Lime Recommended for Use by M. S. C.

The use of marl to correct soil acidity in Michigan is recommended by the soils department of Michigan State college for farmers who live near enough a natural marl deposit to make the application of this material more economical than the correction of soil acidity by other forms of lime.

This state has a great many marl beds and many of these contain deposits rich in calcium, the element needed by sour soils. The utilization of the marl from these beds has been a problem studied by the college department of agricultural engineering for several years.

The problem was to develop some type of equipment which would successfully excavate the marl and at the same time be so simple in construction that it could be purchased by one farmer or a group of farmers. A special bucket which meets these requirements has been perfected by Prof. H. H. Musselman.

It's easy to secure the world's good opinion if you have the price.

Health Authority Says Raw Milk Is Best For Teeth

I am in a position to know that the raw milk sold in _____ today is of the highest standard, thanks to our health department, particularly Dr. _____ and Dr. _____. Twenty-five per cent of the raw milk supply exceeds the requirements for certified milk and the other 75 per cent has an average butter fat content as high as pasteurized milk and a bacteria count as low as pasteurized milk. So by indulging in raw milk you are helping to keep the small independent dairy man in business.

Answer—I advise the use of raw milk ONLY when your local health department approves the milk. In England the liberal use of ordinary raw milk has been found to prevent decay of the teeth in childhood.

PRESIDENT HOOVER'S PROPOSAL
The plan of President Hoover for a reduction of one-third in the armaments of the great nations of the world is the most important proposal of its kind in a generation. Its acceptance and carrying out in good faith by the nations involved would do a great deal toward relieving the world tax burden and starting the nations on the slow process of recovery. The proposals as summarized by the American Press follow:
A reduction of one-third in all land armies over and above the so-called police component.
Abolition of all bombing planes and total prohibition of all bombardments from the air.
Abolition of all tanks, chemical warfare and large mobile guns.
Reduction in the twenty number and tonnage of battleships by one-third.

A 25 per cent reduction in the treaty tonnage of all aircraft carriers, cruisers and destroyers.

A reduction by one-third of all submarine tonnages with no nation retaining more than 35,000 tons.

In bringing about such reductions, the President suggested that "the following principles should be our guide."

"First—The Kellogg-Brandt pact, to which we are all signatories, can only mean that the nations of the world have agreed that they will use their arms solely for defense.

"Second—This reduction should be carried out not only by broad general cuts in armaments but by increasing the comparative power of defense through decreases in the power of attack.

"Third — The armaments of the world have grown up in general mutual relation to each other. And, speaking generally, such relatively should be preserved in making reductions.

"Fourth—The reductions must be real and positive. They must effect economic relief.

"Fifth—There are three problems to deal with—land forces, air forces and naval forces. They are all interconnected. No part of the proposals which I make can be dissociated from the other."

The proposals are so clear cut and so fair that they ought to be understood by people everywhere, even the European diplomats. They are based on the assumption that the only way to disarm is to disarm, and that the only fair way is for every nation to make equal sacrifice.

The chief obstacles to overcome are of course political. Then French demand that they have some sort of security pact if they are to cut armament. To the average man it is difficult to see why France would need any more security under the pact if every nation cuts its armament one-third, than she needs at present. The statement of M. Paul-Boncour on the subject follows:

"The reduction of armaments is inseparably bound up with security. Hoover's plan of mass reduction will be welcomed, if it is combined with international provisions for security. We are willing to study Hoover's proposals if America will study the requirements of French security."

This can be taken to mean that unless world sentiment, which includes the sentiment of the French people themselves, is not great enough to overcome the prejudices and scheming of the international politicians, the process of securing disarmament along the lines suggested by President Hoover will be a long and tedious one.

At any rate President Hoover has pointed the way, and it is up to the European politicians to help the world, by forgetting some of their differences and doing something constructive for the benefit of the world—economic as well as political. If they do not avail themselves of this opportunity it will become more apparent than ever that the real trouble in Europe is not economic paralysis but the selfishness of European politicians which would rather ruin the world than permit any fancied political advantage to be given up.

At any rate President Hoover's clear cut and concise suggestions ought to effectively silence our own professional pacifists and European politicians who have been blaming Uncle Sam for everything that goes wrong in the world and demanding that he do something. The President has now put it squarely up to Europe. If there is to be no further limitation of armaments the fault will not be Uncle Sam's.

CRIME IS COSTLY SYSTEM
Some idea of the social loss caused by crime can be gained from the statement made at the meeting of the Menominee county board of supervisors last week that the hunt for the Hermansville bank bandits had cost that county almost five hundred dollars. Added to that is the cost incurred by other sheriff's departments, state police and other authorities in surrounding communities. One-fourth of the $5,000 loot is still missing, also.

The half-baked, misguided youths, who perpetrated the holdup, would probably never have been led into a career of crime if there had been proper influences in their earlier life to direct their thoughts into constructive and lawful channels.

It is for this reason that communities in America are giving more thought in recent years to the importance of public recreation as a means of curbing criminal tendencies. Fortunately, Escanaba is numbered among those who are giving the matter some consideration, and has embarked on a recreational program, which includes diamond ball, baseball, swimming, scouting, tennis and various school and playground sports.

Idle children turned into the streets and sidewalks for their play not only start mischief in a spirit of fun and adventure, but they meet moral dangers that may launch them on the road to crime. Police officials, judges and probation officers in scores of cities testify that playgrounds have definitely reduced juvenile delinquency in the neighborhoods that these centers serve.

Warden Lewis E. Lawes of Sing Sing prison, in commenting on the fact that three-fourths of the cases before the criminal courts are offenders under the age of twenty-one, says, "I can see, as the only effective way for the prevention of juvenile delinquency, wider extension of community activities, such as the establishment of more playgrounds, especially where congestion is at present the greatest; the establishment of community centers to provide opportunities for clean and wholesome recreation; the extension of the Boy Scout movement; and the interest of adult organizations in the boy of today, who may be the criminal of tomorrow."

Hunger and lack of tobacco drove Charles Lince, Alden man who shot and slightly wounded his wife last Tuesday, to give himself up to authorities at Alden Sunday evening.

Lince came into his home in Alden about dusk and asked Emory Cartwright, who had been living in his home with him, to call Almon Valleeau, deputy sheriff residing in Alden. Valleeau came and immediately took Lince to the county jail at Bellevue where he was arraigned on a charge of attempted murder.

Five Large Potato Warehouses Destroyed There Monday

Five of Northern Michigan's largest potato storage warehouses and the Pennsylvania railroad station all at Elmira were destroyed in a mysterious fire Monday morning, causing a heavy loss. Fire was discovered simultaneously in three warehouses, leading to the belief the blaze was set in the three structures.

The fire companies from East Jordan, Manistee and Gaylord were called to the scene but could not prevent the high wind spreading the flames to another warehouse owned by Thomas Buell and to the Pennsylvania railroad station. These three buildings were also burned.

INTEREST TO FARMERS

By B. C. Mellencamp

Imported Potash Boosts Alfalfa Yield on Smith Farm

Last week in company with I. J. Matthews, potash representative and in charge of this experiment, we weighed the hay produced by various fertilizer combinations on the David Smith farm located a mile west of Horton Bay.

This first cutting, the yield of dry hay on the plot which received 425 pounds of 0-16-16 fertilizer in 1928 was at the rate of 3679 pounds per acre, nearly two tons. And readers should remember that this is on land that has not been manured for many years. The efficiency of the proper fertilizer in producing alfalfa is being seen by comparing the yield above with the yield of 1806 pounds of dry hay per acre secured on the soil right beside which was not fertilized.

The evidence secured from the Smith farm corroborates that coming in from all parts of Michigan now, which is to the effect that phosphate alone is not the thing that puts the zip in alfalfa. On the Smith farm where 425 pounds of 16 per cent superphosphate was applied, the yield was but 3085 pounds of dry hay per acre. Hence a 0-16-16 fertilizer is the analysis that has given best results.

These plots at David Smith's farm were started on May 11, 1928. At that time very little was known about fertilizing alfalfa in Charlevoix county. The recommendation was to put on plenty of phosphate. But the evidence which has been coming with each cutting of the hay produced on the various parcels fertilized differently has been in the nature of a history maker.

In the four years since the plots were established, the evidence has shown alfalfa growers that it does pay to give a new stand of alfalfa liberal fertilizer treatment and that the old recommendation of phosphate alone was in error. The Smith plots show, as do those in other parts of the state, that as much or more potash than phosphate is what is required to whop alfalfa up over the hill. The potash used on these plots was imported from France and Germany.

Summer Club Program Progressing

—16 Clubs Already Organized

Charlevoix county can be justly proud of the fine boys and girls carrying on 4-H club projects this summer. From the indications at the present time we have 30 boys and girls in four different clubs who are members of the dairy calf project. While very few pure-breds are owned by these boys and girls a very fine group of well bred calves are being cared for. Two new communities have dairy calf clubs this year that have never enjoyed this program previously. Wulloon Lake has a nice club for five boys who own Guernseys, while Chandler Hill community has a club consisting of eight boys and girls with four Guernseys, two Holsteins and two Durhams.

In regard to the canning club program we have 11 clubs with a membership of approximately 90 girls representing all sections of the county. Many of these clubs are working on the demonstration team contest as well as preparing themselves for the judging contest which will be conducted at the Gaylord club camp the first week in August. They are already preparing their exhibits for their second annual achievement day to be held in connection with the Charlevoix county annual picnic to be held at Whiting park on Labor day.

In addition to the above we have a fine Crops club located in the East Jordan area. This club consists of 11 boys who are producing potatoes, beans and corn. They met last Thursday evening and discussed judging various crops. They also expect to meet again this week Saturday night. Many of these boys are in their fourth year and as a result are real specialists in crop production.

While a few changes may take place in the near future, it seems that a total of approximately 130 boys and girls are actively participating in the 4-H club this summer.

Once Lived Here

The following article from the Grand Rapids Herald will be of interest to the many friends of Miss Comfort, a former local resident:

"Miss Annabel Comfort, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lou H. Comfort of Charlevoix and Chicago, and niece of Will Levington Comfort, author, was awarded a scholarship by the Presser Foundation to study at Fountainbleau Palace with Nadia Boulanger, noted teacher of composition. Miss Comfort sailed last week on the Ile de France to remain abroad three months.

"While there she will also attend the Mozart festival at Salzburg and the Munich festival and will spend some time in Paris.

"Miss Comfort spent her early days in Charlevoix, going to the American conservatory in Chicago in 1921. She studied piano with Heriot Levy and Silvio Scintoni and composition with the late Adolf Weidig. She taught piano, harmony and composition in Kansas State Teachers college, Emporia, Kansas. At the Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia, she was awarded two scholarships endowed by Mary Louise Curtis Bok to study composition with Rosario Scarlato, famous Italian teacher from Milan, who teaches each year at Curtis institute.

"Miss Comfort has written many compositions, the best known of which is 'Syrian Lullaby,' written in 1926. She has been residing in Greenwich Village."

A photograph of Miss Comfort accompanied the Herald story.

This Woman Lost 64 Pounds of Fat

Mrs. H. Price of Woodville, La. L. writes: "A year ago I weighed 180 lbs. I started to take Kruschen and now I weigh 116 and never felt better in my life and what's more, I look more like 20 yrs. old than the mother of 2 children, one of 19 and the other 18. My friends say it's marvelous the way I reduced."

To lose fat SAFELY and HARMLESSLY, take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—don't miss a morning—a bottle that lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle—but don't take chances—be sure it's Kruschen. If not joyfully satisfied after the first bottle—money back.

GRASSHOPPERS INVADE GRAND TRAVERSE FARMS

County Supervisors Appropriate Money to Kill Pests

A scourge of grasshoppers has descended on the Grand Traverse region and is seriously threatening growing crops, according to report.

Last week the county board of supervisors appropriated $1,200 for the purchase of grasshopper poison and this method of extermination will be put into effect immediately in an effort to at least control the insects.

In the south end of the county the insects are attacking bean, oats, and even potato fields. In some sections farmers are threatened with almost total destruction of their crops unless the pests can be controlled.

CHARLEVOIX OPEN STARTS MONDAY

EIGHTH ANNUAL EVENT THIS YEAR AT INN COURTS

Play Will Be Conducted Afternoons During Coming Week—Large Entry Is Expected

Play in the 8th annual Charlevoix Open Tennis championships, the first of Charlevoix's two major tennis events, will open Monday, July 25th.

The event this year is being held on the clay courts at The Inn, where it was inaugurated eight years ago. The 1931 tournament was held on the concrete courts at the school grounds.

The Charlevoix open has always attracted a good entry of local and summer residents, as well as many from the resorts adjacent to Charlevoix. Several years ago the entry reached one hundred players, and this year, according to advance reports, promises to be no exception insofar as interest is concerned.

Events listed are: boys and girls—up to 13 years old; 13 to 15 years, inclusive; junior boys and girls, 15 to 18 years, inclusive; men's singles and doubles; women's singles. All matches will be played afternoons, according to an announcement by Gerold Ash, who will conduct the tournament for the Charlevoix Tennis Club. Mr. Ash has supervision of the courts at The Inn, where he is giving lessons in tennis instruction. Suitable prizes will be awarded the winners and runners-up in each event. The tournament will decide the championships of Charlevoix and surrounding resorts for the 1932 season, and is open to all players.

Last year's champions in the Charlevoix open were: C. W. Granzow, Detroit, men's singles; Miss Hermine Summer, women's singles; "Bill" Novak, Charlevoix, junior singles; "Bill" Talman, Detroit, boys' singles. Among the former champions who will enter play is Dick Siddle, Detroit, former boys' singles champion, and present holder of the Detroit junior title.

Entries will be received up to noon, Monday, July 25th, at The Inn. The entry fee is 50¢ per event and players are to furnish balls.

AMERICAN LEGION OFFICERS ELECTED

Shirley B. Henry Succeeds Lee C. Allard As Commander

At the annual election of officers of Leslie T. Shapton post No. 226, American Legion, held Tuesday evening, Lee C. Allard, popular commander of the post, retired voluntarily from office on account of a projected trip south during the coming winter and the pressure of outside duties that he has assumed.

Shirley B. Henry was elected commander for 1932-33, with William E. Taylor as his vice commander. F. V. Tyler was unanimously re-elected adjutant and Clarence B. Meggison elected as finance officer to succeed Charles Martini whose term expires this year by Legion law. O. P. North was re-elected chaplain of the post and Leo W. Allard elected sergeant-at-arms. E. J. Kibbe will fill the post of welfare officer for the coming year, with J. Sidorowicz as his assistant in charge of disability claims and the voluminous paper work connected with them. Sam King succeeds himself as child welfare officer and the posts of Americanization officer and rehabilitation officer will be filled by Dr. Frank H. Wilkinson (re-elected) and Albert P. Taylor, respectively.

The officers will be officially installed at the first regular meeting following the 21st of August, 1932.

WELSH FORMALLY ENTERS GOVERNOR RACE

Announcement Friday Made Him Sixth Candidate in Field

City Manager George W. Welsh of Grand Rapids, announced Friday that he would become a candidate on the Republican ticket to oppose Gov. Wilber M. Brucker for governor.

Welsh's formal announcement, which made him the sixth candidate on the G. O. P. ticket, was made Saturday, outlining his views.

Welsh had withheld his announcement pending a statement of the position of former Governor Alex J. Groesbeck, whom he supported several times. His petitions have been out for some time.

Earlier Friday, former State Senator James C. Quinlan had announced that he, too, will run for governor on a "dripping wet" ticket.

Brucker will be the "dry" candidate. His opponents, Welsh, Quinlan, Mayor William H. McKeighan of Flint, Ed. A. Nowack of Lansing, and Ora Bailey, Shiawassee county farmer, all having more "liberal" views concerning the liquor question.

COUNTY DEMOCRATS NOMINATE OFFICERS

Meeting to Select Candidates Held Friday at Boyne City

At a well attended meeting held Friday evening at the I. O. O. F. hall in Boyne City, Charlevoix county Democrats placed in nomination practically a full ticket of county officers in addition to pledging their support to Democrats running for state offices and to the national Democratic party.

The county ticket chosen was as follows: clerk, W. A. Loveday, East Jordan; register of deeds, Roy Winegarden, Boyne City; sheriff, Leo W. Powers, Charlevoix; judge of probate, Charles Gale, Charlevoix; surveyor, R. F. Sloan, Charlevoix; coroners, Al. Fryberg, East Jordan, and Bert Fuday, Boyne City. The nomination for the offices of treasurer and prosecuting attorney were left to the Charlevoix delegation for choosing. E. E. Cross of this city, was chosen the candidate for state representative from the Charlevoix-Leelanau district.

Judging from the interest and attendance at the meeting, the largest Democratic vote in history will be cast this fall.

ROAD COMMISSIONERS RETAIN OFFICE

BYERS AND WANGEMAN GIVEN MAJORITY VOTE—DEADLOCK 12 TO 12 ON ROUSE DECISION

HEARING ON REMOVAL HELD TUESDAY

Disposition of Matter Remains Where It Was Several Months Ago, After State and County Investigations, Public Hearing, Etc.—Taxpayers Pay the Costs

Charlevoix county board of supervisors took a merry-go-round ride Tuesday, went round and round, got off where they started and the public paid the "shot."

The "occasion" for the so-called "ride" was a hearing to determine whether or not Road Commissioners L. C. Rouse, Frank Wangeman and W. E. Byers were guilty of sufficient irregularities to warrant their removal from office.

Vote on the first named commissioner, Mr. Rouse, was 12 to 12. He was neither guilty or not guilty, acquitted or not acquitted, take your choice. Mr. Wangeman was retained in office by a 22 to 2 vote, and Mr. Byers by a 14 to 10 vote.

Following is the vote on the three commissioners:

For retention of Byers: Yes—Smith, Pearson, Gardner, Sanderson, Woodward, Meggison, Van Dusen, John Gallagher, James Gallagher, Craig, Partridge, Parmelee, Bashaw, Porter; no—Cook, Tillotson, Buckley, Hott, Smith, Lorch, Tindall, Parker, Scott, Barnett.

For retention of Wangeman: Yes—All supervisors with the exception of Cook and Buckley.

For retention of Rouse: Yes—Smith, Pearson, Gardner, Woodward, Van Dusen, J. Gallagher, Jas. Gallagher, Craig, Partridge, Parmelee, Bashaw, Porter; no—Cook, Sanderson, Tillotson, Meggison, Buckley, Hott, Smith, Lorch, Tindall, Parker, Scott, Barnett.

Tuesday's "show" was a pre-arranged affair. At their June session, the supervisors, after considerable wrangling, voted to bring charges against Commissioner Rouse for the reason he, as a representative or stockholder in the General Oil Co., sold gasoline and oil to the county road commission. Byers and Wangeman were charged with auditing and passing the bills.

Assisting Prosecuting Attorney Rollie L. Lewis in presenting the evidence before the supervisors was Deputy Attorney General Hugh Wilson of Lansing, who, together with Edward Miller, state detective, conducted an investigation of the road commission affairs earlier in the year on petition of several hundred county taxpayers demanding an investigation. Attorneys T. D. Meggison and John J. Patchin of Traverse City, represented the defendants.

At the June supervisor's session, an opinion from Attorney General Paul Voorheis, in which it was set forth the investigation by his department had uncovered sufficient evidence to warrant malfeasance charges against Commissioner Rouse, was read. The matter was referred to the supervisors' road committee, which, in a majority report, found insufficient evidence to warrant charges. After dragging a one or two day session into three days, the board, to bring about adjournment, voted to bring charges against all three commissioners and set July 19th as the date of hearing.

The hearing is over and the matter stands just where it was in the beginning. Despite the fact that evidence showed the General Oil Co., of which Commissioner Rouse is general manager, sold the county road commission around 27,000 gallons of gasoline, over half the amount used in 1931, and that his action was a violation of the Michigan statutes, there are still those among the supervisors who would overlook the violation. It is not strange, however, when one considers intimations made at the hearing that a certain supervisor sold his services to the county as a bricklayer, another supervisor sold the county an automobile, and other members supplies of various nature, also in violation of the law. The matter appears to be as broad as it is long; if one is guilty, they all are guilty. In fact, if all violations of like nature were to be prosecuted, practically fifty per cent of all county, school and city officers in the county would be guilty. The supervisors overlook a mountain to find a mole hill.

There is one positive result of the whole mess—the taxpayer stands the expense, and it is not a small one, either. He must dig down to pay the supervisors for a day's work from which nothing was accomplished; he must pay the witnesses called at the hearing and for private investigations which have been conducted; the district court stenographer for his salary and expenses in coming here to take testimony, and all other charges in connection. The poor taxpayer continues to pay at a time when he is compelled to stretch every nickel to the fullest extent of its value.

TORCH LAKE REGATTA WILL OPEN ON FRIDAY

Over Two Hundred Sailing Craft Entered in Annual Event

The largest number of sail boats ever appearing on Torch Lake will gather at Bellaire for the annual Skippers regatta July 22, 23 and 24. There will be five races each day in class C and class E. Boats are to be numbered and competing crews will draw lots for the boats in the first race—they will then shift to other boats for the succeeding races.

It is expected that boats will be drawn from Grand Rapids, Black Lake, Muskegon, Spring Lake, White Lake, Charlevoix and other nearby ports. The races are sponsored by Bellaire Yacht and Country club and are under the supervision of Western Michigan Yachting association.

Torch lake, so named because of the hundreds of torches used by the Indians in their night fishing during the early days, is one of Michigan's most beautiful lakes. It is 18 miles long and connected through Round lake with Lake Michigan. It is located between Traverse City and Charlevoix in Antrim county.

NORTHERN TB HOSPITAL IS DELAYED

HOLD UP ACTION UNTIL MONEY IS IN HAND

Cash Taken in From Malt Tax Has Been Used to Pay Counties for Patient Care

Definite action toward establishment of a new tuberculosis sanitarium in northern Michigan as prescribed by the 1931 legislature has been indefinitely postponed by Gov. Brucker.

A resolution of the administrative board's building committee that plans be drawn for the hospital and a site selected was discarded at the board meeting Friday at the Governor's request. He said that no move should be made until funds have been collected.

The malt tax act provides that after July 1, 1932, all monies collected shall be placed apart for construction of a hospital until a total of $100,000 is reached.

Secretary of State Frank D. Fitzgerald reported to the board that $123,719 has been collected during the last year. An unexpended balance of about $560,000 was ordered paid to counties to which the state owes payment for the care of patients in their hospitals.

Northern Michigan boards of supervisors worked several years endeavoring to put through a means to assure a Northern Michigan Tuberculosis hospital, contending that there was no hospital available in this region to care for northern patients.

Speaker Ming of the House, and representing Cheboygan county, aided by other northern representatives and State Senator Campbell of Indian River, finally pushed through the malt tax bill for this purpose. Northern folk recall that the region also was promised a state normal college, Petoskey selected as the site and the funds to start made available. Governor Groesbeck refused to sign the recommendations for the site, and Governor Green neglected, also, to sign the items. As a result no school was built in northern Michigan.

MANY ENTER RACE FOR GOVERNORSHIP

FIVE SEEK HONOR HELD BY WILBER M. BRUCKER

His Opponents Apparently Fail in Move to Get Behind Any One Single Candidate

Desperate efforts of enemies of Gov. Wilber M. Brucker to unite their strength behind a single promising candidate in the Republican gubernatorial primaries appear destined to end in failure.

Five opposing candidates, three of whom will materially weaken the power of the others without doing much damage to Governor Brucker have definitely said that they will make the race.

Two announcements were made since Friday and immediately following the announced decision of former Gov. Alex J. Groesbeck not to become a candidate.

Most important is Friday's statement by George W. Welsh, Grand Rapids city manager and former lieutenant governor, who said he would run. He had been considering the matter for several weeks and his petitions are ready for filing. The other recent addition to the list of aspirants is former State Senator James C. Quinlan, also of Grand Rapids.

But one gubernatorial candidate thus far has filed his petitions despite the fact that the final date is July 26. He is Ed. A. Nowack, Lansing publisher, who, with Mayor William H. McKeighan of Flint, will be the principal thorns in Welsh's side. Other Republican candidates are Quinlan and Ora Bailey, Shiawassee county hitch-hiker.

Brucker will file his petitions next Saturday.

Quinlan's announcement was made only Friday and his friends immediately started circulating his petitions. His position in the field will weaken Welsh in Grand Rapids.

Both Welsh and Nowack claim they have the support of the recently and mysteriously formed combine of Groesbeck and former Gov. Fred W. Green, but neither claim has been verified.

LOCAL YOUTHS PLAY ROLES AT UNIVERSITY

Dorothy Staley and John Winder in Plays at Northwestern

Two high school students from Charlevoix, who are attending Northwestern university this summer on scholarships offered by the school of speech, played important roles in a program of one-act plays presented by the school of speech the last week of their summer term.

Miss Dorothy Staley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Staley, played Madame de la Bruine in Anatole France's "The Man Who Married a Dumb Wife," and John Winder, son of Dr. and Mrs. C. J. Winder, played Giles Boisecourt, secretary.

Miss Staley and Mr. Winder were two of twenty-four high school juniors from twelve cities who were selected on a competitive basis to receive scholarships for a four-week summer course especially organized for them at Northwestern university.

Special classes in acting, play producing, play directing, make-up, voice and diction and public speaking were formed for the high school juniors. Particular attention was given to methods of production, technique in acting, methods of directing and staging and to problems of lighting and costuming.

PAULA'S THEORY WON

(By D. J. Walsh.)

PAULA STAFFORD'S father died the year after she graduated from high school. There had been a long illness, which had eaten up their balance and she found that college was out of the question, also that she must go to work.

"Poor Polly!" her friends said. "Just as though I were a green-coated, red-headed parrot!" said Polly. "I'll take a business course and get a position. It ought not to be harder than it was to major in Latin and hold the basket ball championship at the same time."

She said this, with an assurance she did not feel, to Ellen Smith, five years older, secretary to the president of the Arline bank.

"Poor Polly!" she commiserated. "Well, you have a good position—" began Polly.

"Yes," but it took me years to land, and I had a pull, too, and always knew I was to earn my living. You are young, and have been sheltered. It will be hard."

It was hard for Polly to get up in the gray of the morning before any heat was coming through the register in her north room, breast a searching north wind for an unsatisfying breakfast, and hurry to classrooms, which were likely to be unheated and sketchily dusted.

She found it hard, even after she had earned her diploma. "Jobs" there were, but she wanted a "position," and inexperienced girls could not often get them. She had some unpleasant experiences with possible employers who proved impossible, capricious or misleading.

"I'd give up if I didn't have Grand father Stafford's chin," she told her image in the dingy mirror.

Finally, at a salary which horrified Ellen, she found a place in the National Manufacturing company, a firm which handled novelties.

"Why, you can never live on that!" remonstrated Ellen.

"I lived on less while I went to the business college," remarked Polly laconically.

"Polly! Why didn't you tell me?" "I started 'em on my own' and must keep on. Furthermore, while I am the newest of twenty-five girls in one big room, I shan't stay there. I have a system for working up."

"But you chose the wrong place, Polly. The office of Henry R. Seabody is the best position there and he is a 'killer.' No secretary lasts there more than a year before a nervous breakdown. If you have your eye on that place you are choosing a slow and painful suicide."

"No, Ellen, I am simply working out a theory."

"You and your theories!" sniffed Ellen. "You can't eat or wear a theory."

"Give me time and I will be eating and wearing the results of it," smiled Paula—again with a confidence she did not feel.

She started with herself. She had been the only girl in the high school whose hair had not known shears, and she began by rolling it in smooth, dark braids about her head, with never a scolding look to tag at neck or ears. No cosmetics except a brush of brunette powder, no perfume, beads, ring or other jewelry. Black or dark-blue office gowns, simply made. While putting herself through this discipline she was one of two dozen girls, battle and chatter, rattle and whisper, chewing gum and powder puffs, high heels and low necks. Paula adhered to her theory, trailing her voice to its lowest, clearest notes.

Six months and she had moved half way through the department, had a desk by a window and handled the "follow-ups"—all of the girls she had passed along under her direction. A year and she was at the top of the department, assistant to Miss Seabree, the manager.

"Well, have you proven your theory?" asked Ellen with more of respect in her manner than a year before.

"Only part of it as yet," laughed Paula. "Enough to show me that I am on the right track, and to give me a better pay-check."

"Well, let me give you some advice. Martha Miller of Mr. Seabody's office is leaving next week for a long rest. You are next in line, so steer clear. I told you he is a woman killer."

Paula made no promise. She had seen Mr. Seabody occasionally, darting through a door to call an order in a high-keyed voice, darting in or out of the elevator, or through the offices. He was tall, stooped, hollow-eyed and shallow, with hands that worked continually. She felt that Miss Miller was not the sort of secretary he needed, for she was thin and "jumpy," with a reedy voice and fussy way of rattling papers and desk tools. However efficient, she would prove an irritant to a nervous man.

She went willingly to the place when she was called. Miss Miller stayed until noon of her first day to direct her in office routine. Paula's mind ran on a double track that morning. She caught every word of information, watched all the office detail, and at the same time was realizing that no matter how great a success he was in business her employer was not an office organizer.

The office boy was a restless imp, a constant noise-producer; the assistant occupied a desk in the office and she "cracked" her chewing gum and reeled papers in and out of her machine with much noise. Paula traced a sharp point of sunshine that stabbed a pile of papers on the desk, to a crack high up in the window shade, saw a chronic tangle in the telephone cord at which the man pulled wrathfully every time he picked it up, and that at every lurch he gave his chair-spring creaked.

At 12, Mr. Seabody left for a directors' luncheon. Ten minutes later Miss Miller stopped in the door to say:

"Good-by. May the Lord help you. No one else can here!"

Paula put in some intensive work in the next two hours. First, while the stenographer and office boy were out at luncheon she found the janitor. Under her directions he gummed tape over the hole in the window shade, shutting out the point of light that traveled across the desk all forenoon, oiled every hinge and chair, the grooves of the filing cabinets, and scraped the edges of the desk drawers.

Then she culled in Miss Seabree and traded the restless office boy for a quiet lad with a soft Southern accent, moved the assistant's desk into an outer room and her own as far away as possible.

It was after two when Paula heard the rushing feet in the corridor and Mr. Seabody dashed into the room. It was abraded and cool and empty except for Paula at her desk by the farthest window. Her gown was of dark crepe with a line of white at neck and sleeves, the bands of her hair shone smoothly above her brow. Realizing the quiet effect she had achieved, she did not look up from her copying. Her employer crossed the room and his chair received him without a creak.

"I took the liberty of making a few changes—" she began in her quiet voice as she was leaving that night. "I'm glad you did, Miss Stafford. The quietest afternoon I've had in months. Lord, the fuss some people make!"

"Mr. Seabody was in the bank today," remarked Ellen, some six months later. "He looks like a very distant and much younger relative of himself. I cannot understand the change in him."

"Entirely due to my theory," laughed Paula. "I surrounded him with a 'zone of quiet,' while my predecessors accepted the confusion in the office as something preferred. Dividends have been satisfactory for both of us, because his wife says that his nerves are almost normal now, while my salary has been raised twice. And I did only what I used to do for father, when he used to be so nervous."

"Just what is your theory?" queried Ellen.

"A woman should carry the burden of being a woman into business," expounded Paula.

Some Heat Needed

The Ohio experiment station is advising the use of brooder stoves in those laying houses which are subject to extreme changes in temperature. Poultry raisers realize the disastrous consequences of a 40 to 50 degree drop in temperature, and can modify this change without cutting off the air necessary to carry off moisture. Shutting up the chicken house to the point where moisture accumulates, weakens the resistance of the whole flock to disease.

Get Fertile Eggs

Most of the eggs are fertile within five days after a male bird is placed with the females, but it is better to mate the pens two to four weeks before one wishes to save eggs, so that the birds may become accustomed to their new quarters and to each other. In case another male has been with the flock before putting a new male in, one cannot be sure the eggs will all be fertilized by the new male until at least three weeks have elapsed.

CHICAGO LANDSCAPE SPECIALISTS HERE

Build Rock Garden at Belvedere for E. E. Wilson

Charlevoix gardens are taking on a new and more beautiful appearance as the result of the work of two Chicago men who have come here to display their skill in making home-grounds more beautiful. They have just completed a lovely little rock garden on the grounds of E. E. Wilson at 124 Belvedere. Mr. Wilson invites those interested to come and inspect his new garden.

The landscape artists, Charles J. Hudson Jr., and Robert T. Van Tress, are well known through their work at the world famous Garfield Park Conservatory in Chicago where they are employed as horticulturists of the largest conservatory in the world. Mr. Van Tress designs the enormous flower beds in the 18 parks of that large park system. Mr. Hudson is well known throughout the country as the radio speaker who talks weekly over three of the largest stations in Chicago. His talks are all on the various subjects in gardening, and he is known as the best known radio speaker in the country on this particular subject. He is well experienced in all phases of gardening, and is known in the states of Illinois and Wisconsin as an outstanding garden expert.

As Mr. Hudson has had a great deal of experience in organizing and conducting garden club meetings, he has offered his assistance in getting a garden club started in Charlevoix. He will be glad to cooperate with any group in this way to further the interests in gardening.

The rock garden that these men made for Mr. Wilson is one of the typical boulder gardens from boulders taken from the shores of Lake Michigan. The garden contains 18 different kinds of rock plants, many of which are in full bloom. To make the picture complete, the garden was accented with a background of evergreens which make it almost a complete garden in itself. Mr. Wilson will be glad to show his garden to anyone interested, as heretofore mentioned.

Mr. Hudson can be reached at his temporary residence at the R. T. Davis cottage on Entrance street, the Charlevoix County Nursery, or E. E. Wilson at the above mentioned address.

Bancroft Stars With Gibson in "Lady and Gent"

Two "wise eggs" who were too wise.

That in brief, is the story of "Lady and Gent," George Bancroft's latest starring picture, which opens Friday at the Palace theatre.

Petite Wynne Gibson, latest Hollywood "find," who is soaring to stardom in her own right, plays opposite the virile Mr. Bancroft, and Charles Starrett, James Gleason, John Wayne and Joyce Compton have other leading roles.

"Love Is A Racket" Star Sought Role He Plays

If you were a brilliant young actor, and you wanted next to that to be a brilliant young columnist, and then suddenly you got an opportunity to play a role just like you had always wanted to play in real life—you'd be apt to give it all you have, wouldn't you?

That's exactly what Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., does in his latest First National picture, "Love Is A Racket," coming to the Palace theatre next Sunday and Monday.

Big Cast of Professionals and Non-Professionals in "The Crowd Roars"

James Cagney's new picture for Warner Bros., "The Crowd Roars," a story of high-speed auto racing, comes to the Palace theatre next Tuesday and Wednesday.

The large cast of professionals and non-professionals includes, in addition to Cagney, Joan Blondell, Ann Dvorak, Eric Linden, Guy Kibbee, Frank McHugh and Charlotte Merriam. Among the famous racing drivers seen in "The Crowd Roars" are William Arnold, Lou Schneider, Harry Hartz, Ralph Hepburn, Fred Guiso, Phil Pardee, Spider Matlock, Jack Brisko, Fred Frame and many others. Arnold and Schneider were Indianapolis speedway champions for 1930 and 1931 respectively.

"Bachelor's Affairs," the new Fox comedy showing Adolphe Menjou in what is said to be one of the finest roles of his successful career, comes to the Palace theatre on Thursday.

The central figure in the story is a wealthy bachelor who is happy and contented until he meets and marries a foolish young flapper and finds her wise-cracking, gold-digging sister a member of his entourage. Setting the stage to get rid of them both, he resorts to all manner of subterfuge leading to complications and situations said to be highly amusing.

* OF INTEREST TO FARMERS *

Canning Demonstrations Well Attended

The canning demonstrations conducted in the county July 14, 15, and 16, by Miss Roberta Hershey, extension nutrition specialist of the college, proved to be very interesting and helpful to the 100 ladies and canning club girls who attended.

At each demonstration Miss Hershey canned two vegetables, using the pressure cooker. One was canned in glass and the other in tin. Contrary to general belief Miss Hershey stated that canned goods in tin were fully as satisfactory as in glass and in fact somewhat cheaper.

She very carefully discussed all precautions necessary and described in detail the various steps in canning. Miss Hershey emphasized in particular the following precaution: always cook non-acid fruits and vegetables ten minutes after the can is opened.

The ladies expressed a hope that Miss Hershey could again be secured for similar demonstrations.

Forty-seven Farm Account Books to Be Inspected

The 47 farm account books being kept by Charlevoix county farmers will be inspected by H. A. Berg, farm management specialist, the entire week of July 25th. These account books include all of the business transactions that happen on a farm during the year and reflect very accurately the labor and management wage being maintained. In addition the book includes a wealth of information concerning the various farm departments. In spite of the discouraging situation the farm account co-operators are still deeply interested in securing all the facts concerning their farm operations.

Over a thousand of these records are being kept by farmers throughout the state of Michigan, and the surprising fact is that the farmers in the various sections all show about the same progress. Many people believe that the farmers in northern Michigan are making less money than elsewhere, but that is not the case as during the last three years northern Michigan has shown better results than any other section.

In addition to the regular farm account book there are eight farmers keeping special account records on potatoes.

Health Authority Says Raw Milk Is Best For Teeth

I am in a position to know that the raw milk sold in ——— today is of the highest standard, thanks to our health department, particularly Dr. ——— and Dr. ———. Twenty-five per cent of the raw milk supply exceeds the requirements for certified milk and the other 75 per cent has an average butter fat content as high as pasteurized milk and a bacteria count as low as pasteurized milk. So by indulging raw milk you are helping to keep the small independent dairy man in business.

Answer—I advise the use of raw milk ONLY when your local health department approves the milk. In England the liberal use of ordinary raw milk has been found to prevent decay of the teeth in childhood. —From Grand Rapids Press.

LOCAL BALL TEAM DEFEATED BY ELLSWORTH

Dropped Close 10 to 9 Decision at Ellsworth Wednesday Evening

Although they out-hit their opponents, the Whitecaps, Charlevoix independent baseball team, lost 10 to 9 to Ellsworth on the latter's diamond last Wednesday evening.

Bob Sterritt, Charlevoix hurler, struck out 10 batters and allowed six safe hits in nine innings, while G. John and VanderArk, Ellsworth pitchers, allowed 10 safe hits and struck out eight batters.

For Charlevoix, Smith, Sterritt and Helms each made two runs, and Newman, Gravelin and Shores each one. In addition to pitching good ball, Sterritt collected four hits in six times to bat, including a two-base bingle and a three-bagger.

A return game between the two teams will be played at the south side ball field Friday afternoon starting at 5:30 o'clock.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS

A group of nine local business men motored Monday morning to Traverse City and enjoyed a return ride with the giant tri-motored Ford plane which is taking up passengers here Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Those in the party were Robert Bridge, C. J. Meggison, David Coulter, A. J. Usher, F. J. Fessenden, J. M. Foster, Arthur Ranger, Jack Goldman and Angus Fochtman. The flight to Charlevoix, over Lake Michigan, was made in 32 minutes.

Capt. Oscar Smith of the Charlevoix coast guard unit, reported Friday that Thursday night's rainfall totalled 2.7 inches, the heaviest rainfall on record in the past ten years, if not longer. Heavier rainfall has occurred over a longer period of time, but Thursday night's deluge was the greatest for a 12-hour period. The rain, coming after several weeks of extremely dry weather, will greatly aid crops in this district, and lessen to a large degree an eminent forest fire danger.

Mrs. George Kelderhouse and Mrs. John Kelderhouse returned Tuesday from South Bend, Ind., where they visited several days with the former's daughter, Mrs. A. J. Wick. WEEKLY CAMP CHARLEVOIX NEWS COLUMN
Edited by
VINCENT ARNOLD

Monday night, July 11, several pillow fights were staged in the lodge. A pole was suspended from the rafters and the two contestants in each bout were supplied with a pillow apiece. Dick Woodfield of Johnny Olwin's cabin, was unofficial champion, the main factor in his success being his bulk of approximately 150 pounds. "Chick" Hendry and Mr. Reimann were pitted against each other in the final contest of the evening and everything went well until the aforementioned Mr. Woodfield threw a well-aimed pillow from the audience and knocked both warriors off the pole!

The intermediates went on an overnight hike July 12, to Walloon lake, and the following night part of the junior section went to the same place. Rain rather spoiled the second hike, but the juniors refused to be daunted by a few rain drops in the evening before they turned in, and insisted on staying. However, they were willing enough to come back in the camp truck at 4 o'clock a. m. when the storm was at its height, and climb into warm, dry bunks.

Henry Loch and John LeBolt were transferred from the junior to the intermediate section last week, Henry going into Colonel Gillespie's cabin and John to Jack Hogan's.

Thursday afternoon, July 14, the two camp snubboats staged a race. At least, it started out to be a race, but we must admit that the finish of the two-mile run was not exactly in that category. The "My Gal" was captained by Edwin Taylor, and came in ahead of the "Zonta Wakuta," which had John Adams at the helm. The winner was victorious by such a margin that a handicap was deemed necessary to overcome the great advantage which the "My Gal" appeared to have over its opponent. Saturday the race was run off again with the "My Gal" handicapped four minutes. The crews changed boats for the second contest and this time the "Zonta Wakuta" won by less than a quarter of a minute. Several swimming events were held while the big race was in progress.

Saturday night saw the presentation of "The Filming of Uncle Tom's Cabin" for the lovers of the dramatic art. The cast included Paul Steasma, Dick Woodfield, Bill Bellham, Ralph Smith, Edwin Taylor, Bob Reinhardt and Norman Piternin. A harp solo by Ted Friedlander, and a film on bird life supplemented the program, which was witnessed by several visitors.

Monday afternoon a group left for a week's canoe trip down the Au Sable river. It consisted of Oke Oldham, Jack Hogan, Louis Baker, Edwin Taylor, Frank Harlow, Ted Friedlander, Bill Lerchen and his father, W. P. Lerchen.

The week end brought many visitors to the camp, among whom were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Evans and Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Evans, of Grand Rapids; J. M. H. LeBolt of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kohl, Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Reinhardt, Midland; Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Lerchen, Bloomfield Hills; Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Adams, Kalamazoo; Mr. Howard L. McGregor, Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. L. Black, Ypsilanti; Mr. and Mrs. Edgar A. Thom, Bloomfield Hills; Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Sanders, Detroit; Mrs. J. I. Van Keuren, Lansing; Mr. and Mrs. Paul M. Taylor, Huntington, Indiana.

Oke Oldham's cabin has had such a splendid inspection record so far this season that the staff, upon recommendation by the camp council, passed a resolution to omit the cabin from the daily inspection report. As long as the boys keep the cabin in neat order this new procedure will continue.

Work will soon begin on the Indian dug-out canoe, one of the many projects of the camp this season. The 23-foot pine log from which the boat will be fashioned was brought in last Monday.

Standard Unit Great Help in Calculation

Even the people of remote antiquity had a dislike of fractions apparently the same as have the young and grown-ups of today. All primitive nations found fractions very difficult, and even the Egyptians, who were considered the most proficient, used methods that were long and cumbersome.

Finally standard units came into use which proved of great advantage in the fractional stumbling-block. One of these, the numeral of 6, a symbol of Aps, an Egyptian deity, is represented in hieroglyphics by a five-pointed star. This symbol is one of our inheritances from the past and appears today in the stars of our national emblem.

The number 12 was another unit and was chosen as the standard unit because it contains so many small factors. This is the reason why it is still retained as a base in spite of the efforts made to replace it with the metric system, and it also is the origin of our modern "dozen."

The Babylonians likewise made use of the units 6 and 12 in their so-called sexagesimal system, in which 60 was made the base or standard unit. This unit is also of greater value because it can be subdivided to a much greater extent than 12 without employing common fractions. Thus 60 is another element of our ancient heritage and appears today in our division of time into 60 minutes and 60 seconds.

Freak Water Holes
Found in Australia

In the deserts of western Australia there are sources of water supply called water holes, usually found in the solid rock. Many of these holes are shaped like a canoe, with a narrow neck and wide cavity below, and some of them hold thousands of gallons of water.

There is a remarkable kind of Australian water hole, known as a "night well," which is dry during the day but filled with water at night. When with the darkness the water heighs to flow persons near by can hear the sound of rushing air. Examination has been made of one of these wells in which the water gathered in a long, narrow trench. Near the bottom of it was found a horizontal pit that separated a thin layer of gneiss from the main mass. It is believed that in the daytime the high temperature causes the plate of gneiss to expand in the form of an arch and that the water in the trench retreats into the cavity that is thus formed. When at night the plate of gneiss contracts it forces first air, and then water into the trenches.

First to Think About Machine to Set Type

The first typesetting machine was invented by Timothy Alden, who was born in Barnstable, Mass., 100 years ago.

In his boyhood Timothy was apprenticed to a printer. He was a born inventor, and almost from his first day in the printing office he began to think of plans for improving the various processes connected with the typographical art. He invented several machines connected with printing before he turned his attention to the mechanical setting of type.

After several years of study he produced his first model of a typesetting machine in 1830. This machine consisted of a horizontal rotating wheel with type-cells in its circumference, making revolvers rotate with it to pick out the type at the proper places. The appliance was ingenious, but it effected no improvement over hand composition.

Timothy Alden died in Boston in 1858, and his brother Henry later made several improvements in the machine. Timothy Alden's machine had the merit of setting others to think about the same problem, with the result that hand composition has practically become a thing of the past.—Chicago Journal.

Surely Can "Stretch" in the Adirondacks

A reader who lives in the Adirondack region of New York comes to the rescue of that part of the country, least its reputation for producing "tail stories" should suffer from neglect.

She writes that a certain Mr. M— once lived on the shores of an Adirondack lake. He was the fortunate owner of a waterproof boat of rubber, of which he was very proud. One night just as he was going to bed a neighbor rushed in and said one of his family was very sick. He begged Mr. M— to take him to the village doctor. Mr. M— consented, and he and his friend hurried down to the dock, stepped into the boat and began to row. They had not gone far before both men found they had to bend every effort to force the boat ahead. At last, pretty well exhausted, they reached the village, and both men stepped out. Immediately the boat snapped back to the home dock three miles away. Mr. M— had forgotten to untie the boat before starting out.—Youth's Companion.

Profitable Cow

Dairy farmers know from experience that the profitable cow is the one producing a large record. The profitable meat-producing animal is the one that is grown quickly. All tests and experiments have proven the importance of obtaining volume in production. To keep animals in profitable condition requires a liberal supply of succulent and nourishing feed, and the silo can furnish the carbohydrate supply better and cheaper than any other method.

Points to Consider
When Planning Home

The average person building a home today is not careful enough about picking out the contractor who is to do the work for him or the materials the contractor will put in his home.

When one builds a home he expects to live in it for several years at least, and the home that has the least yearly amount of upkeep will be the cheapest and best investment in the long run.

A contractor may be a good workman, but if the owner picks cheap materials the result will show it. On the other hand, good materials can be ruined and the home spoiled beyond redemption by a poor contractor. In either case the value of the completed home suffers and the home builder does not get what he is eventually paying for. There is a great deal of difference in the ability of contractors and the quality of building materials, and if more people realized how important it is to get the best of everything there would be more better homes built today for less money and with less unnecessary and expense in upkeep and repairs.

Officials Hid Corpse of Lincoln's Slayer

The body of John Wilkes Booth, the actor who killed Abraham Lincoln, lay dead in a cell of the penitentiary in Washington, on the day that the three men and one woman were hanged for their parts as conspirators in the assassination of the President in a little-known fact which Lloyd Lewis brings to light in an article in Liberty.

Several weeks prior to July 9, 1865, the execution day, the hanged Booth was killed by Union cavalrymen, but cabinet officials were afraid to make known the disposition of the body of Lincoln's assassin.

"Indeed," points out Mr. Lewis, "it is doubtful if twenty men in the whole republic knew that Booth's body was in the prison, so stealthily and it been hidden by Stanton, the secretary of war, whose mind was a nightmare of suspicion that the defeated Confederacy longed to steal Booth's corpse and worship it as a holy relic."

Named for Gambler

Games called "Hieronymus games" are probably named after the noted gambler, Jerome Curdum, often referred to as Hieronymus Curdum. Curdum was an Italian mathematician, philosopher, astrologer, gambler and charlatan. He was born at Pavia in 1501, the illegitimate son of Paolo Curdum, jurist. He took the degree of doctor of medicine at Padua in 1524, and spent the next seven years practicing at Sucea. There he married in 1534, and is said to have squandered the fortune of his wife in gambling. He was appointed to the chair of mathematics at Milan, and held the chair of medicine in several other cities. Later he was imprisoned for debt and on the charge of heresy for having published the horoscope of Christ. Upon his release he went to Rome and was admitted to the College of Physicians by the pope and allowed a pension. He died in 1574.

Virtues in Tea Drinking

So fond were the ancient Japanese of tea that they were not content with merely drinking it as often as circumstances permitted, but must needs ascribe to it various powers. It was generally agreed among them that the drinking of tea was attended by the following ten virtues:

Protection by all divinities; filial duty to parents; suppression of all evil; banishment of drowsiness; harmony of all vital organs; immunity from diseases and everlasting good health; unity in friendship; keeping of a right mind and correct morals; the dispersion of all passions; assurance of a peaceful deathbed.—Detroit News.

The Department of Agriculture says that there is some confusion concerning the term "sand flea." Certain small crustaceans found on sandy beaches, although harmless, are popularly referred to as sand fleas, because of their jumping habit. Likewise, most people upon encountering real fleas in sandy places refer to them as sand fleas. In this connection the name is a misnomer. All true fleas are dependent upon blood for their existence. An animal host is therefore necessary at some stage in the existence of every flea for its survival. Flea eggs, for the most part, are deposited upon the host by females while feeding. The eggs drop off to the ground, where they hatch. If animal refuse is already present or another host comes along, development continues; but in case no food is available the young larvae perish. However, fleas are capable of living several months without food.

Willing to Try

"These scientific management people," says a well-known business man "with their extraordinary ideas of doubling or trebling a man's labor, remind me of the humble old carrier's impossible promise."

"Now, a facetious boss said to a new hod carrier:

"Look here, didn't I hire you to carry bricks up that ladder by the day?"

"Yes sir," said the hod carrier.

"Well, I have had my eye on you and you've only done it half a day to day. You spend the other half coming down the ladder."

"Whereupon, the hod carrier, with a grin, responded:

"Very well, sir, I'll try to do better tomorrow."—Kansas City Star.

HAGENBECK-WALLACE CIRCUS AT PETOSKEY

Afternoon and Evening Performances Monday, July 15

Cantankerous tigers, lions gifted with marvelous bass voices, pernicious pumas, polar bears, and herds of ponderous pachyderms, clowns and stars hesperangled—all these, together with bands and callopes, sideshows, and hundreds of blooded track and ring steeds, are coming to Petoskey for the great Hagenbeck-Wallace circus, one of the largest in the world, is scheduled for afternoon and night performances on Monday, July 15th.

This celebrated show, always to the fore with new and thrilling features, has this season, outdone itself in the line-up of its 1932 program. It isn't merely the same old round of the same novel, extremely thrilling and colorful. It abounds with names and color. It is the greatest array of stars ever presented under the famed Hagenbeck-Wallace banners.

Clyde Beatty, youthful subjugator, who is called the world's most fearless wild animal trainer, heads the list of thrillers. Alone, and single-handed, he enters the great steel arena containing a mixed group of wild and ferocious lions and tigers. Thirty-four of the most savage beasts on earth.

Other equally prominent highlights will include Poodles Hanneford, the greatest of riding comiques, and his greatest family of equestrian; the Cronin Sisters, and the Wingert Trio, aerialists; the famous Hagenbeck-Wallace herds of performing pachyderms; the MacFarlan educated equines; groups of iron-jaw aerialists in thrilling displays, and scores of amazing track offerings.

In the maze of aerial displays, the Clarksons, and the Siegrist troups will astound with their breathtaking mid-air somersaulting in the extreme heights of the big top. Riding acts, acrobatic, and almost countless ground acts will vie with wild animal, the horse, and novelty numbers in the great oval arena with its three rings, spacious stages, and steel-barred presentation dens.

In offering this season, "Cleopatra, Queen of Egypt," for the opening lyrical spectacle, the Great Hagenbeck-Wallace show dwarfs all previous inaugural numbers with its lous inaugural numbers with its beauty of music, chorus, ballet, number of animals, and in costly wardrobe and trappings.

NEW FEDERAL BOAT TAX NOW EFFECTIVE

BECAME OPERATIVE LAST FRIDAY IN MICHIGAN

All Pleasure Craft Over Twenty-Eight Feet Long Must Pay from $10 to $200 Tax

The new special revenue tax on pleasure boats more than 28 feet long went into effect last Friday. Customs records show that there are more than 11,500 pleasure craft in the Michigan district registered with the collector of customs. A check by internal revenue employees reveals that approximately 2,000 Michigan yachts, sailboats, speed boats and outboard motor craft will be subject to the new tax. Pleasure boat users will pay the tax to Fred L. Woodworth, collector of internal revenue in Detroit.

If you own a pleasure boat you will pay $10 if the craft is more than 28 feet and not over 50, $40 for a boat 50 to 100, $100 for 100 to 150, $150 for 150 to 200, and $200 if the ship is more than 200 feet long.

In the case of a foreign-built boat which was not owned on January 1, 1926, by a citizen of the United States or by a domestic partnership or corporation, the tax is twice the amount stated.

Boats in Trade Exempt

The law exempts from tax boats used exclusively for trade. "Trade" is held to be any serious activity which constitutes the means of livelihood of the owner, lessee or charterer.

Boats used exclusively for fishing are exempt. This refers to commercial fishing.

Boats used exclusively for national defense are exempt as well as boats used without profit by benevolent, charitable or religious organizations exclusively for furnishing aid, comfort or relief to seamen.

No return is required on boats specifically exempt or falling below the footage specification.

The tax becomes due July 1 each year or on placing a boat in use. A boat placed in use July 10 will pay a year's tax, but a boat going into use September 4 will pay a tax for 10 months.

Returns, with proper amount of tax due, must be filed with the collector not later than the last day of the month in which the special tax liability started.

If the tax liability is more than $10, applicant must appear in person before an officer qualified to administer oaths and swear to the correctness of the information given on the return. If the tax is $10 or less, return may be signed or acknowledged before two witnesses, who will affix their signatures.

Must Take Oath

The return form asks for the name and address of boat owner; name of boat, registry number, length of boat over all and name and address of builder.

THUMB LAKE LAND TO BE DEVELOPED

PLANS OF DONORS HAVE WIDE POSSIBILITIES

Methodist Church Listed As Chief Beneficiary of Gift by Horner Brothers of Eaton Rapids

A 6,000-acre tract of land in Hudson township, Charlevoix county, has been given outright by Horner brothers, Eaton Rapids manufacturers, to the Methodist Episcopal church of Michigan.

Inasmuch as the property comprises nearly one-third of the township valuation, and one of the provisions of the gift was that it be tax free in the future, a statement has been made by officials of the Methodist Foundation to show the far-reaching good to humanity which will result through use of the property in accordance with the wishes of the donors.

The following statement, which explains fully the plan, was given us for publication by H. C. Meyer of Boyne Falls:

"The Horner brothers have given the whole estate to the Methodist Episcopal church of Michigan with no strings, reservations or exceptions, to use chiefly in the interests of childhood and youth. The following is a quotation from their own statement of gift and answers many questions.

I. Purpose: To make as wide use as possible of the properties held by the Methodist Foundation and under the control of this governing body within the general fields of science, education and religion.

II. Scope: While it is our desire that the properties shall be administered, primarily, in the interests of the Methodist church, it is also our hope and thought that, as opportunity warrants, the benefits may be further extended, always, however, keeping within the original purpose of the gift.

The donors have the interests of young people chiefly in mind. It is their desire that they shall be served before all other interests. However, this is not to be taken as to limit the use of the properties solely to or for young people.

While, from the nature of the location, the donors recognize that the properties will serve Michigan interests more largely than those of other states, it is their hope that increasingly the horizon shall be widened to include the entire church in our nation.

III. Program: The following items are not to be taken exhaustive or obligatory. They are purely suggestive. It should be remembered, always, that the donors hope for the widest possible use of the properties.

1. Albion College: It is the expectation of the donors that certain sections of the properties, selected by the authorities of Albion college, with the approval of the governing body, shall be set aside for the use of the college in the interests of scientific investigation and educational and religious ventures among the students of the college.

2. Methodist Children's Home: The Home needs a summer camp. It is our hope that it shall find one there.

3. In harmony with the suggestion of Bishop Nicholson, it is our hope that the Michigan School of Theology shall find a summer home among these hills and lakes.

4. Sunday School: It is our (Continued on page 4.)

TELEPHONE CO. DIRECTORY AID TO OFFICERS

Michigan Bell Issues Booklet Containing State Officials

Value of telephone service to the law enforcement authorities of the community and state is increased by the publication of a special telephone directory of Michigan police officers and sheriffs, just issued by the Michigan Bell Telephone company.

Copies of the directory were delivered this week by C. L. Johnson, manager for the Michigan Bell company in this area, to chief of police, and Dave Vaughan, sheriff.

Manager C. L. Johnson states that publication of the directory is in line with the telephone company's cooperation with the law enforcement officials in their work. He adds that it is the company's policy to give telephone users fullest cooperation in handling police and other emergency calls, as in case of fire, sickness or accident. Telephone operators are instructed to give special attention to emergency calls, and the telephone numbers of police and fire departments are shown prominently on the front of the directory.

THE FARMERS LOOK UP

If, as we have been told by economists many, many times, the farmer is the key man in the business of this country, then there is good reason to hope for improved business in the near future. According to the Chicago Journal of Commerce, cattle and hogs now in the hands of farmers are worth $289,000,000 more than they were a couple of months ago.

The upturn in basic commodities has become a market sensation. Smoked hams, which sold at retail in Grand Rapids in May for 13 cents a pound, are priced at 18 cents now. Late in the spring pork loins were 9 cents a pound retail, now they are 22 cents. Porterhouse steak of the best quality, which dropped to a low of approximately 32 cents, is now up to 60 cents.

Wheat, corn and cotton have been going up steadily in recent weeks. Sugar went up last week.

In the spring it looked like the farmer wouldn't get enough for his products to pay for his investment and labor. Now it looks like he may expect a profit on some of his crops, at least.

We have been told repeatedly that before prosperity can return, the farmer must be restored to a profit-making basis. Apparently the trend is in that direction. Just how far it will go or what it will accomplish remains to be seen.

STARR HOME TO HOLD TAG DAY HERE AUG. 16

Boys and Matrons Come Then for Annual Financial Solicitation

The annual tag day for the Starr Commonwealth, a home for boys at Albion, will be held in Charlevoix this year on Tuesday, August 16th.

At this time boys from the home, together with a group of matrons and others who have donated their services, will come to Charlevoix seeking financial aid for this splendid Michigan institution.

The Starr Commonwealth has been highly commended for its fine work. The home takes underprivileged lads from poor homes and those neglected by their parents and gives them the environment and training they should have.

The cause is a very deserving one and local citizens may make their donations with this thought in mind.

One of the feature events will be an evening entertainment by one hundred Indians, "Glorifying the Ottawa Indian." This will be put on with tribal and special Indian dances and ceremonies. There will be soloists, group dances and other interesting events.

During the same time at Petoskey, there will be the annual children's day parade which will bring entrants from all the surrounding territory. This is one of the most colorful events of the Northern Michigan summer programs. Music for the occasion will be furnished by the American High School band now at Bay View for the summer music courses.

SLOT MACHINE RAID AT HARBOR SPRINGS

Money Taken Turned Over to City Treasury by Officials

There is no depression in small coins at the Harbor Springs village treasury. The general funds are reported to have been enriched by 1,498 nickels, 330 dimes, 324 quarters, as a result of a raid on slot machines operated in that village.

It is reported that after being repeatedly warned to take out their slot machines, Marshall Frank Corey and several of his deputies conducted the raid on two places in Harbor Springs where machines were alleged to have been in operation.

The money found in the machines was turned over to the village treasurer, it is said.—Petoskey Evening News.

Remain in National Contest by Defeating Cheboygan Monday

The junior baseball team of Leslie T. Shapton post No. 226, American Legion, won the right to continue in the elimination to decide the national championship of junior Legion teams by defeating Cheboygan 3 to 2 there Monday evening.

The local youths evened the score with Cheboygan with runs in the 6th and 7th innings, after Cheboygan scored two in the first. From then on until the last half of the 9th, the score was knotted. Charlevoix put across the winning run in their half of the final inning.

Charlevoix's next contest in the national competition will be at Battle Creek. Whether or not the team will make the trip is not certain at this time.

SWING BRIDGE GETS COAT ALUMINUM PAINT

Improvements Commenced in Early Spring Practically Finished

Motorists will have no excuse in the future for not seeing the swing bridge crossing the channel between Round lake and Lake Michigan on US-31, either during the day or night time.

State highway department workers have practically completed painting the entire structure with aluminum colored paint, making it plainly visible for a great distance in daylight or dark.

This work is the final touch on an extensive program of improvements which have been in progress since early spring.

HOSPITAL TRUSTEES ARE ALL RE-ELECTED

Dr. R. B. Armstrong, A. J. Usher and P. D. Campbell Chosen

With but a handful of people present, the annual meeting of the board of trustees of the Charlevoix hospital was held at the council rooms in the library building.

Dr. R. B. Armstrong, P. D. Campbell and A. J. Usher, trustees whose terms had expired, were re-elected to the board against opposition in each case.

The hospital board will elect officers from its membership at their next meeting, August 3rd, and at this time plans for the annual hospital tag day will also be made.

LEGION ELECTS CONVENTION DELEGATES

Boxing Show Thursday and Kelly Stock Co. Being Sponsored

The main matter of business transacted by Leslie T. Shapton post No. 226, American Legion, at its regular weekly meeting Tuesday evening was the election of delegates to the 1932 state convention of the Legion at Kalamazoo, August 21, 22 and 23. Lee C. Allard, Shirley B. Henry and Fred V. Tyler were chosen as delegates to represent the post and O. P. North, Leo W. Powers and Clarence B. Meggison as their respective alternates.

Thursday evening is the date of the next Legion boxing show, at which Ernie Ecklesderfer, Sault heavyweights, will be matched with Howe, Cadillac champ. Bud Clute, well known Boyne City fighter, will take on a Golden Glove champion from Muskegon (colored) and other fighters at this match will include Hopkins of Petoskey, "Hardrock" Ager, Charlevoix's bantamweight bruiser and several other popular contestants. The Jack Kelly Stock company also opens its three night stand in Charlevoix on Thursday evening and the "Ossian Bedell" will make its 9 and 11 o'clock runs to the dance barge "Keuka," as usual, with Weststaff's orchestra furnishing the music.

In the realm of welfare work—the post wishes to thank Lewis C. Reimann, director, and the other officers of Camp Charlevoix for the fifty bushels of potatoes that the camp donated to the Legion for distribution among the needy of the community.

AUTO LICENSE SALE FOR HALF AUGUST 1

Secretary of State Announced Decision to Make Cut

Auto license plates will be placed on sale at half price beginning August 1st, Frank D. Fitzgerald, secretary of state, announced.

The action is taken, he said, with the informal approval of two-thirds of the house and senate members who replied to questionnaires sent out by the state department. Only a few objections were registered. Under the law the half rate should not go into effect until September 1, but Fitzgerald believes the advancement of date is justified by emergency conditions.

On July 1 there were 107,000 fewer autos licensed than there were a year ago, resulting in a loss to the state not only in weight tax receipts, but also in gasoline tax collections. Fitzgerald predicts that the half rate will place 50,000 additional cars on the highways August 1.

LAKE CHARLEVOIX MACKINAW BITING

Many Are Being Caught With Deep Trolling Outfits

The outstanding sport for the fishermen of these parts is fishing for mackinaws. For six weeks this fine fish has been taken in quantities from Lake Charlevoix. Evidence is abundant that the millions of smelt in the lake have been discovered by the large trout who feed upon them in increasing numbers.

Every boat at this end of the lake and a number from the out side are in daily commission assisting the fishermen to get out in the lake where the smelt are being sacrificed.

The boatmen charge $5.00 per day and guarantee a fish or no pay. Strange as it may be the business is growing rapidly.

One of the sporting goods houses has sold so far this year 30,000 feet of copper line for this successful fishing season which is now under way.—Boysen Citizen.

Health Authority Says Raw Milk Is Best For Teeth

I am in a position to know that the raw milk sold in — today is of the highest standard, thanks to our health department, particularly Dr. — and Dr. —. Twenty-five per cent of the raw milk supply exceeds the requirements for certified milk and the other 75 per cent has an average butter fat content as high as pasteurized milk and a bacteria count as low as pasteurized milk. So by indulging in raw milk you are helping to keep the small independent dairy man in business.

Answer—I advise the use of raw milk ONLY when your local health department approves the milk. In England the liberal use of ordinary raw milk has been found to prevent decay of the teeth in childhood.—From Grand Rapids Press.

WEEKLY CAMP CHARLEVOIX NEWS COLUMN

Edited by
VINCENT ARNOLD

A cook-out was held Thursday afternoon and evening, July 21, the whole camp personnel moving down the beach about two miles for the occasion. The boys used every available means of transportation to reach the scene of the meal, taking all the horses, both sailboats, and all the canoes. The menu consisted of fried ham, boiled potatoes, carrots and peas, bread and butter, strawberry jam, sliced peaches and candy. Pete Morris acted in the capacity of head cook.

Last Saturday night was "gyp night" at the camp. On this annual program the campers are subjected to various tricks and jokes which make them appear rather foolish, but everything is taken in the spirit of fun and the boys seem to enjoy the proceedings a great deal. Of course, the fellows who have seen the "gyms" before make poor material for the events, so it is the new campers that furnish the real sport. As an example of a "gyp," one boy, John Kohl, was asked to hold a glass of water to a raft with a stick while the assistant to the master of ceremonies "went to get something he forgot." The chap with the water above his head was faced with the uncomfortable possibility of a good wetting or a long, long wait for aid! Incidentally, John chose the dousing.

The camp increased by one last week when Billy Joseph of Cincinnati joined the ranks of the Charlevoix campers. He was placed in Colonel Gillespie's intermediate cabin.

The AuSable "trippers" returned to the fold Sunday afternoon after a week's canoeing down the AuSable river.

Chief Joe Shomin of Burgess, visited the camp Wednesday evening, July 20. Chief Joe, who is well known for his work in Indian craftsmanship, expressed approval of the Indian tepee and sweat lodge, and made one or two suggestions for future Indian buildings. Before he left the chief sang two songs and told a story. He tried to persuade his three small children to perform an Indian dance, but not even a chocolate bar was sufficiently attractive to them.

Johnny Olwin's senior cabin took a combined sailing and canoe trip over the week end. Both sailboats and two canoes were used and the boys explored the lake and went part way up the Jordan river.

Colonel Gillespie was the speaker at the Sunday morning chapel service, which was conducted by Bob Beuhler, president of the camp council. Colonel's address bore the rather unusual title, "Being a God." He discussed the way in which boys set up certain individuals as their ideals and try to imitate them in every way possible.

Visitors over the week end included: Mrs. John LeBolt of Chicago; Mrs. William Loeb, Memphis, Tennessee; Mr. and Mrs. D. K. Reinhardt, Midland; Mrs. Theodore Friedlander, Milwaukee, Wisconsin; Mr. and Mrs. J. I. VanKeuren, Lansing; Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Kline, Ann Arbor; Mr. and Mrs. Paul M. Taylor, Huntington, Indiana.

Sunday evening the camp's second musicale was held on the club house porch. A committee under Paul VanKeuren arranged the varied program, which consisted of piano selections by Mrs. Keimann, Wendell Gates, and Paul, a saxophone solo by Pete Morris, and the reading of several French-Canadian poems in dialect by Chick Hendry.

Dad's day, called by many the high point of the camp season, will be celebrated this coming Saturday. However, we will reserve discussion of that big event until next time.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

Sunday morning service, 10:45. Subject, "Love."

Wednesday evening at 7:45. Reading room Tuesday and Saturday, 3:00 to 5:00 p. m. The public is cordially invited to attend our services and use our reading room.

"Truth" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, July 24.

Among the Bible citations was this passage (John 4:24): "God is a Spirit; and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth."

Correlative passages read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, included the following (p. 322): "When understanding changes the standpoint of life and intelligence from a material to a spiritual basis, we shall gain the reality of Life, the control of Soul over sense, and we shall perceive Christianity, or Truth, in its divine Principle."

TIMELY RAINS AID TO MICHIGAN CROPS

MANY CROPS SHOW IMPROVEMENT IN LATE WEEKS

Prospects for Potatoes, Oats and Beans Are Heightened by Recent Rainfall

Late June and early July rains materially improved the prospects of Michigan farm crops, the July report of Verne E. Church, U. S. agricultural statistician, asserts.

"The condition of oats, barley, potatoes, beans and field peas was below average as the result of several weeks of deficient rainfall and high temperatures preceding July 1," the report says. "Generous rains which occurred during the last few days of June and the first week of July have since helped the crop prospects over the greater portion of the state."

The acreage planted to crops this season is practically the same as that harvested last season, the report says, but since there was considerable abandonment of acreage on account of the drought of 1931 the 1932 planted acreage is about 2½ per cent smaller than that planted a year ago. Barley, sugar beets, potatoes, rye and alfalfa show gains, however.

"The acreage of field beans in Michigan is estimated at 540,000 bushels, 12 per cent less than that harvested last fall," the report continues. "The condition of the crop on the first of this month was 78 per cent of normal or one point above that of July 1 last year. The production indicated by this condition and acreage is 5,940,000 bushels but the final output depends on late summer weather conditions."

"It is estimated that 264,000 acres of potatoes were planted on Michigan farms this season as against 250,000 harvested a year ago. The condition of the crop on July 1 was 82 per cent which is four points below the ten year average. This indicates a production of about 25,175,000 bushels or 1,425,000 bushels more than a year ago."

Michigan was above the average for all crops except apples. Apple prospects declined 11 per cent during June. The crop of fall varieties is especially light. The condition of the various fruit crops on the first of the month was as follows: apples, 51; peaches, 75; pears, 68; cherries, 66; grapes, 81; plums, 53; blackberries and raspberries, 80; strawberries, 79.

EDITORIALS

MICHIGAN 'IN RED'

Michigan's fiscal year closed with a deficit of $7,000,000 in the state's general fund. The deficit is of approximately the same size as that which existed at the end of the last fiscal year. Only about $18,500,000 of the current state property tax of $29,000,000 has been made.

Economy measures have been introduced for the new fiscal year which will cut state expenses about $5,000,000 below the amount originally appropriated.

Under one of the new acts every state employee receiving a salary of more than $1,200 a year takes a reduction of at least 10 per cent. For the higher salaries the cuts amount to 25 per cent. Governor Brucker is receiving $4,000 instead of $5,000. Cuts other than in salaries will have to be made before the state budget is balanced. However, salaried workers continue to be the first ones to suffer in any kind of an economy program.

SUICIDE AND DEPRESSION

Approximately 20,000 persons committed suicide in the United States last year. This marks a peak in our suicide rate surpassed only twice, and then also in depression years.

The figures, compiled by Frederick L. Hoffman, an authority of mortality statistics, are published in the Spectator, an insurance weekly. The estimate for the country as a whole is based on the records of 100 cities with a total population of more than 32 millions. For the last 30 years the average rate of suicide in these cities has been about 17.8 per 100,000 population. In 1931 it rose to 20.5. The figure went higher than this, it is said, only in the panic of 1908, when it touched 21.5, and in the war depression of 1915, when it stood at 20.8.

The actual number of suicides listed in Dr. Hoffman's hundred cities last year is 6,725. "Making allowances for a lower rate in the rural sections," he writes, "it is a safe assumption that for the nation at large the actual loss of life by suicide in 1931 was not less than 20,000." The life insurance companies, he reports, "are becoming alarmed at the losses sustained through voluntary self-destruction." To illustrate this economic aspect of the problem he cites the amounts paid in claims by the Metropolitan Life Insurance company on its industrial business in 1921 and 1931. In 1921 the company paid $880,871 in claims on account of suicide, while during 1931 these payments amounted to $6,494,254. In 1921 suicide claims formed 1.9 per cent of the total claims, while during 1931 this proportion was increased to 4.4 per cent.

Arguing that "every suicide is a potential murder, in that it is chiefly the suggestion of self-inflicted death that drives countless thousands to their doom," Dr. Hoffman goes on to say:

"There is the most urgent need for the organization of a national society for the study and prevention of suicide."

Without such an effort it is a foregone conclusion that our suicide rate will continue to increase until it reaches "Continental European proportions."

KEEPING UP MORALE

Among the hordes of jobless men on the streets these days, there are surprisingly many who still maintain the neat appearance that marked the average American business man during more prosperous days.

The answer to the question, "How do they do it?" lies in the records of the country's welfare agencies. Not only do they supply beds and board to the constant stream of applicants who need them, but many are also providing a place to bathe, to shave, to shine their worn shoes, and to launder or press their threadbare clothing.

To the "white collar" class of unemployed with well-established cleanliness habits, these helps to good-grooming are indeed a boon. Most of these men, according to an official of one large welfare agency, are ready to work in exchange for a shower and clean clothes, although they may not all be so willing for just a meal.

The desire for cleanliness is not universal, of course, and many jobless idlers would rather be hungry than clean. Some social organizations withhold assistance from the man who refuses to bathe and clean up. Although compulsory cleanliness may seem of doubtful value, social workers claim that enforced soap and water treatments have been known to shock even the professional panhandler into self-respect and a new attitude towards life. Some seem to take a new lease on life when they discover that there are real spiritual benefits in physical cleanliness.

Social workers are handling a difficult situation with tact and good judgment and they deserve the full cooperation of every public spirited citizen. By helping the jobless and homeless to keep up appearances, they are keeping them more fit for the job that may turn up any day, and helping them to maintain their self-respect until better times return.

EAT LESS—HEALTH IMPROVES

The elaborate dinners of the nineties are no longer in style. Today, at home or in public, the average individual is content with three or four courses of comparatively simple food, whereas even as recently as 10 or 15 years ago he demanded dishes in endless profusion. Consequently the nation has become more healthy. There is room for further improvement, however.

From the earliest of time man has believed that an abundance of food caused increased vigor. This is one of those comfortable doctrines that justify the unrestrained gratifications of the appetite as a means of strengthening the body. Closely akin to this idea is the widespread conviction that eating meat strengthens the muscles and that the hardworking man needs much meat. With the progressive increase of wealth in the United States to more and more people the eating of meat two or three times a day, once a luxury, has become a national habit.

Recent studies have produced proof that an excess of food does not improve health, but, on the contrary, is the cause of many human ailments. Too much food builds excess fat, and obesity not only hinders the free movements of the body but also contributes to many organic disorders. Unbalanced diets, too, breed disease and hasten death.

There is an old saying that more graves are dug with the teeth than with the shovel. It is still applicable, although it is no longer necessary to take a nap to sleep off the effects of each meal.

Sunday, another large crowd enjoyed a boat trip on Lake Charlevoix under sponsorship of St. Mary Altar society. The steamer "Ossian Bedell," operated by the Beaver Island Steamship & Development Co., is being used for the excursions.

Sympathy is all right in its place, but there are times when a kick would be far more effective.

CHARLEVOIX COUNTY FAIR SEPT. 14-15-16

Agricultural Society Reorganized to Preserve Event for County

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Charlevoix County Agricultural society held at the public library in East Jordan, last Wednesday night, it was decided to hold the fair on the 14th, 15th and 16th of September, 1932. The fair will be held both day and night.

At a meeting held some time ago the fair association was re-organized and a complete new group of officers elected. These men are from all sections of the county and feel that Charlevoix county should preserve its fair and are giving their time and effort toward making it a success. Harry Behling of Wilson township, is the new president of the society and urges all farmers and others who have products to exhibit to join with the officers of the society in making the fair a success.

It is the hope of the officers of the society to eliminate all unnecessary expense and run the fair with very little overhead and make it pay its own way.

Premiums will be paid pro-rata out of the gate receipts, but of course will be paid in full if funds are available.

Admission will be 25c for adults, and 10c for children, and a charge of 10c will be made for all cars entering the grounds. This is less than has ever been charged for admission. —Charlevoix County Herald.

BIG HOME-COMING AT BEAVER ISLAND IS PLANNED

Week of Entertainment to Be Provided August 14-22

Beaver Island, famous for its historical legend and by virtue of its Irish inhabitants called the "Emerald Isle of America," is making plans for a great home-coming to be held August 14 to 22, inclusive.

The event, which will provide a full week of varied entertainment, is in commemoration of the 100th anniversary of the first Indian mission on Beaver Island, founded in 1832 by Father Baraga.

While a detailed program is still in the process of formation, it is expected the American Legion will open the big celebration on Sunday, August 14th. Following will be a full week of sports, water events, and other entertainment features, with the climax on Monday, August 22nd, at which time "Miss Beaver Island," who will be chosen by popular vote of not only island residents, but those on the mainland, will be crowned by an official of the Knights of Columbus.

Committees who will have charge of the various events are being formed, and it is expected a full program will be available within a few days.

Prominent among the sponsors of the event are Capt. J. H. Gallagher of the Beaver Island Steamship & Development Co., Capt. M. J. Bonner of this city, John P. Maloney of Chicago, former Beaver Islander, and W. W. Boyle of St. James.

Further details concerning the big home-coming will be announced as available.

TRAGEDY VISITED NORWOOD SATURDAY

Fire Which Destroyed E. R. Jones Home Caused Daughter's Death

Tragedy visited the village of Norwood last Saturday evening. Fire, which destroyed the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Jones, was also the indirect cause of death of their daughter, Mrs. Glenn Holecbeck, who succumbed at 3 o'clock Sunday morning at Charlevoix hospital from hemorrhage, the result of shock.

Mrs. Holecbeck was found prostrate on the floor of the burning home shortly after the fire was discovered. She was brought to Charlevoix hospital in an unconscious condition and never rallied.

Anna Rose Jones was born in Marion township, March 21, 1907. She attended the district school, and in 1925 graduated from Charlevoix high school. She taught the McGeach school four years, and this summer was attending summer school at Bay View.

Surviving besides her husband and parents are two children, Donald 5, and Darlene 3; also a sister, Mrs. Clarence Heise, this city, and five brothers, Vern, Charlevoix; Robert, Bert and John, Port Huron; and Abel of Detroit.

Funeral services were held at 1:30 Tuesday afternoon from the Heise residence on State street, and at 2:30 from the Norwood Methodist church, with Rev. Kendall officiating. Interment was at Norwood cemetery.

INDEPENDENT TEAM SHAKES LOSING JINX

Rabbits Team Trims Advance After Two Beatings

After two setbacks at the hands of Ellsworth last week, the local independent ball team reorganized with Bob Sterritt as manager. New talent was procured, and more is being procured at the present time. The boys seemed to have lost their winning spirit and lost to the Ellsworth business men's team 11 to 7 on Tuesday, and to the Hinkydinks 19 to 9 on Friday. Both games were marked by too many Charlevoix errors.

With new men in some positions the team went to Whiting park Sunday and drubbed Advance for six innings, gaining a 12 to 2 lead. Sterritt, who had pitched a wonderful game up to that point, allowing only two safe hits, then eased up a trifle and Advance scored ten runs in two innings on five hits and seven errors. The final score was 16 to 12.

Helm and Sterritt scored four runs apiece. McRoberts, at catch, and Bob Gordon, at second, both newcomers to the team, scored three runs apiece, and both played well in the field. Beattie and Newman scored one apiece. Arnold, Sharrow and Synow also played. This team worked well together, breaking up steals and playing good ball all around until after they had built up the large lead. With one or two changes this team can be expected to go places. Sunday they play Ironton and will attempt to reverse a previous decision, which ended 19 to 15, in Ironton's favor.

DISTRICT LEGION MEETING AT BOYNE

Veterans from Lower 11th There on Sunday, July 31st

Notices have been sent out to all Legion posts in the region notifying the members that the convention of the lower 11th district, planned for last Sunday at Boyne City, has been postponed to Sunday, July 31. The reason is given as a mixup in the speakers' dates, and Legion activities in various cities in the district for this Sunday. The change was made at the suggestion of the district committee.

The July 31 meeting calls for a Legion meeting at the Boyne City Odd Fellow hall and an Auxiliary meeting in the Legion hall. A parade, banquet at the gymnasium, with entertainment and speech making. The notice says, "Please bring your corps for the parade and your appetite for the grub and meet us in Boyne City, July 31."

DETROIT CLUB PICNIC HELD SATURDAY

EVENT AT BELLE ISLE WAS GREATLY ENJOYED

Wm. A. Carey Writes of Plan to Hold "Homecoming" Here Week of July 4th, 1933

William A. Carey of Detroit, writes the following account of the 1st annual picnic of the Detroit-Charlevoix Club, held Saturday, July 30th, at Belle Isle:

"The Detroit-Charlevoix picnic on Belle Isle on Saturday, July 30th, with pot-luck luncheon at 6 p. m., drew a friendly and happy crowd, and we were very glad to see some new faces who were not at the party which was held on May 13th this year.

"Everyone seemed to thoroughly enjoy the opportunity of once more talking over old times back in Charlevoix. Before the picnic broke up the suggestion was made that the Detroit-Charlevoix Club and also the Flint Club cooperate with the Charlevoix Association of Commerce in designating and planning one grand "Homecoming Week" in 1933—preferably the week of July 4th, when everyone who possibly can get to Charlevoix next year can set their plans for that special event. There is no doubt but that an "Annual Homecoming Week" would prove a real treat and a benefit to everyone and to Charlevoix.

"The following named are those attending the picnic: Mr. and Mrs. Nat Burney (nee Lela Shrier), Mr. and Mrs. G. Brohan (nee Doris Kane), and daughter and Mr. Brohan's mother, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Bettes and children, Frances, Carl, Don and Dick, Alice Bentley, Dr. and Mrs. Cline, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Campbell, Jackson; Rev. and Mrs. T. Dewey Ehle, Mr. and Mrs. Forest Fowler, Benton Harbor; Mr. and Mrs. Albert B. Linn, Wm. Lennox, Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Lyngklop and children, Mary, Alice, Jack and Bill, Mr. and Mrs. McLaughlin (nee Mary Jones), Harry McHugh, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Marting, Bud Nordrum, Miss Grace Papineau and mother, Miss Fannie Powell, Mr. and Mrs. Riley (nee Norma Sherman), Mr. and Mrs. Wm. B. Scroggie, Dr. and Mrs. Thad T. Smith and son, Mr. and Mrs. S. Burton Smith and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Stafford and family, Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Vandermade and Dorothy, Dr. and Mrs. E. H. Wicks and Helen, Mrs. Laura Zipp.

TRAFFIC OPENED ON NEW CONCRETE ROAD

Relocation Job on US-31 Completed Except for Shoulder Work

Motor traffic on the entire new concrete relocation of US-31 from Belvedere avenue to the "Four Corners" has been opened.

Concrete work has been entirely completed by the Remus Construction Co. and now crews are engaged building shoulders along the new highway. The section of pavement from Belvedere avenue south to Carpenter avenue is of 40-foot width and the balance 20 foot. New curb and gutter and storm sewer was constructed along the 40-foot section.

The new highway, of excellent concrete construction, diverts traffic off the old route which entered the city on Antrim street. Several bad corners and a rough piece of highway have been eliminated by this fine improvement.

PLANS UNDER WAY FOR RIVIERA TENNIS MEET

Seventh Annual Event Opens Monday, Aug. 15, at The Inn Courts

Preliminary plans for the annual Michigan Riviera tennis championships, Charlevoix's major summer entertainment feature, are being made at the present time.

The tournament, which is held by the Charlevoix Tennis Club under sanction of the Western Lawn Tennis association, opens Monday, August 15th, at The Inn clay courts, where it was first held seven years ago. Since that time the event has gained in prominence among followers of tennis until now it ranks as one of Michigan's outstanding tournaments.

Walter T. Hayes, Chicago, treasurer of the Western Lawn Tennis association, will act as official referee, and Gerald Ash will have supervision again after a year's absence from Charlevoix.

While it is too early to announce actual entries, the list this summer will be no exception to previous years when many of the country's outstanding players have participated.

OPEN NEW SERVICE STATION SATURDAY

STERRITT'S SUPER SERVICE IS READY FOR BUSINESS

Latest Type Devices Makes Station Most Completely Equipped in This Section

Sterritt's Super Service, Charlevoix's latest business establishment, is in this issue announcing its formal opening for Saturday, August 6th.

The new station, which according to its owners, will be the most modern and completely equipped in this section of the state, is located at the corner of South Bridge and Green streets on US-31. B. C. Sterritt, formerly with the wholesale department of the National Refining Co., is the senior partner, and C. R. "Chuck" Sterritt the junior partner.

The station is a two-story building of stone and frame construction with basement and upper storage room. The north portion contains a display room and modern appointed rest rooms.

The work shop is of two-car size. Equipment includes the latest type hydraulic lift, Alemite and Zerck lubrication guns developing 9,000 pounds pressure, pressure washing and grease spraying equipment, a rapid electric vulcanizing machine for casings and tubes, and many other late appliances necessary for complete automobile service. The drain pit is inside and of concrete construction.

Sterritt Brothers are distributors for Charlevoix and a portion of Antrim county for Sinclair petroleum products and, in addition to station sales, will conduct tank wagon service. They will handle Firestone tires and small accessories. Pumps are the new electrical type.

While the station is completed, and already doing business, some equipment is still to be set up and the work of landscaping the grounds completed. On the opening day, following the opening, special inducements are being offered.

Operating as a separate unit, Mrs. R. C. Sterritt will conduct a barbecue lunch and refreshment stand almost directly across from the station on the opposite side of the street. One of the features will be a service to motorists without their leaving their car and the driveway is being arranged for this purpose.

An invitation is extended everyone to visit the new station.

Card of Thanks We wish to express our sincere thanks for the beautiful flowers sent, and for the many acts of kindness shown during our recent bereavement. Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Jones and family, Glenn Holcheck and family.

PUBLIC INVITED TO BIOLOGY CAMP

ANNUAL VISITORS' DAY TO BE HELD SUNDAY, AUGUST 7

Camp Located on Southeast Shore of Douglas Lake in Cheboygan County—Much of Interest

On Sunday, August 7, from 2 to 5 p. m., eastern standard time, the biological station of the University of Michigan will hold its annual visitors' day to which the public is cordially invited. There will be educational exhibits of animals and plants of the region as well as exhibits of class work and investigations on various biological problems.

The biological station is located on the southeast shore of Douglas lake, Cheboygan county, on the old Cheboygan-Petoskey road, thirteen miles from Cheboygan. The roads from Cheboygan, Mullet lake, Topinabee, Brutus, and Pellston will be well posted with biological station signs. There will be plenty of room to park, help in parking, free guide service, and free admission to all places of interest.

The biological station is a division of the University of Michigan. It was established on Douglas lake in 1909 and has held an eight-week session every summer since its foundation. Its students get full university credit.

In 1909 all classes were held in an old log cabin called the log laboratory. Here also research and administrative work were carried on, and here was the postoffice, library, and all supplies and equipment. Students and faculty lived in a few tents and got their meals with the engineers at the dining tent located on the hill near the present flag pole. That first summer there were two faculty members and 13 students. From this humble beginning the biological station has grown to be the largest fresh biological station in the world.

The physical plant has grown from the one log building and half dozen tents to a village of 130 buildings, 11 of which are used for laboratories and 92 for living quarters. The remainder include the administration building where the offices, stockroom, store, photographic rooms, and the dining room and kitchen are housed, and the club house, library, aquarium, garages, and harbor building. This summer 94 students (56 men and 38 women) and three visiting investigators are enrolled. Students come from 23 states, and two from China.

While the giving of instruction is an important function of the biological station, its function of investigating many problems relating to

MOTOR INSPECTION CAMPAIGN NOW ON

Local Garages Appointed for Free Inspection During August

Chief of Police Charles Jefferies reports that the automobile safety campaign sponsored by the Michigan Safety Directors' association, is now in progress in Charlevoix.

Starting August 1, all Charlevoix garages were appointed as official stations for inspection of brakes, lights, horns, windshield wipers, etc. The campaign will run for one month and after September 1, all cars which do not bear the O. K. stickers for 1932 will be required to undergo inspection and have proper adjustments made before the vehicle can operate on the highways.

The inspection service is under direction of the local police and sheriff's departments. Garages and service stations are conducting the tests free of charge, but in case adjustments are necessary, a charge will be made for the work.

The primary purpose of the campaign is to make driving on the highways safer for all and thus lower the accident toll caused through faulty automobile equipment.

DUCK SEASON SET FOR OCTOBER 1ST

CONSERVATION BODY ADOPTS NEW FEDERAL RULING

Season on Other Game Birds Same as Last Year—Partridge May Be Hunted October 15-25

Charlevoix and Northern Michigan duck hunters will get their ducks blinds into condition, paint up their decoys and oil and repair the trusty old duck gun some days prior to October 1, when Michigan duck hunting season for this year will open.

Michigan hunters will be allowed to shoot wild ducks, geese and brant over a 60-day period this year. The action was taken by the members of the state conservation commission meeting at Onkema late last week. It confirms recent regulations for wild fowl hunting set by the federal government through a proclamation by President Hoover. The season will run from October 1 to November 30.

At the meeting H. T. Coughlan, Detroit attorney, offered to sell to the state the 7,826-acre hunting and fishing reserve owned by William A. Comstock, Democratic candidate for governor, the Cowan estate, of Detroit, and Harry Gustin, of Alpena, for $10 an acre. Mr. Coughlan stated that this reserve offered the best public hunting grounds and game refuges in the state.

It lies a few miles southwest of Alpena and for years has been the summer home of Mr. Comstock. It was in this area that hundreds of starving deer have been found in the last two years.

The commission took no action on the matter. The funds of the conservation department are the lowest in the last ten years and no money is available for land purchases.

Director George R. Hogarth told the commission that although it cost the department of conservation $2,600,000 to operate during the fiscal year ending July 1, 1931, he had

OPEN TENNIS MEET CONCLUDED SUNDAY

NEW CHAMPIONS CROWNED IN ALL DIVISIONS

George Dinwiddie, New Orleans, Winner Men's Singles — Mrs. H. S. Lion Regained Women's Title

Several new champions were crowned and other past champions regained their titles in the finals of the 8th annual Charlevoix open tennis tournament Sunday afternoon at The Inn clay courts.

George Dinwiddie of New Orleans, La., a Bay View summer resorter and local tournament entrant for several years, was winner of the men's singles title. The Tulane university star defeated Harry Begeley of Chicago and Bay View, by scores of 6-1, 6-3, 6-4. Both exhibited fine tennis, but Dinwiddie's more consistent play carried him to victory.

In an earlier match, Dinwiddie paired with Walker Sullivan, a fellow-townsmen, to win the men's doubles finals from the St. Louis, Mo. team of Taylor and Harvey. The victory was in straight sets, 6-2, 6-2, 6-3.

Mrs. H. S. Lion of Cincinnati, Ohio, won the women's singles title which she held previously in 1930. She was victorious Sunday over Miss Margaret McConnell, Petoskey, a newcomer in local tournament play. Mrs. Lion's superior tennis gave her a victory over her younger opponent by scores of 6-0, 6-3.

Mrs. Lion is also co-holder of the women's doubles crown. Paired with Nancy Joseph, also of Cincinnati, she defeated Miss McConnell and Miss Esther Chichester of Petoskey, 6-2, 6-4.

Two Midland youths, Boyd Carr and Frederick Burdick, battled it out for the junior singles championship. In a hard-fought three match set, Burdick was victor over Carr by scores of 3-6, 6-2, 7-5.

Dick Sidder, a former champion, took the title for boys 13 to 15 years, defeating Ned Carr of Midland, 6-3, 6-2. The title for boys under 13 went to Dick Barstow of Midland, who defeated Ed. Lerchen of Bloomfield Hills, 6-1, 6-1. Both of the finalists were Camp Charlevoix entrants.

Miss Helen Bryan of St. Louis, Mo., a summer resident at Sequanota, carried off the title for junior girls through her victory in a hard-fought match with Miss Anoe Rickards of the Chicago Club colony. The final score, which indicates closeness of the battle, was 5-7, 6-4, 6-3.

In the final match of the afternoon Midland team of Carr and Burdick won the junior doubles title by defeating Dick Sidder, Detroit, and Norman Panama, Chicago, by scores of 6-3, 9-11, 6-2.

LEGION JUNIOR "NINE" OUT OF STATE TOURNEY

Twice Defeated in Games at Battle Creek Saturday

Charlevoix's American Legion junior baseball team, Northern Michigan district finalists, were eliminated from the state championships with two defeats in as many games in the round-robin meet held last Saturday at Battle Creek.

Of the original nine teams competing, Charlevoix and Pontiac were eliminated. Charlevoix was defeated 17 to 2 in the morning game by Benton Harbor, and in the afternoon received a 16 to 2 trouncing from Port Huron.

Pittenger post of Detroit, four times state champions, are favored to retain their title.

The local Legion juniors were taken to Battle Creek by Rollie L. Lewis, Lee C. Allard, Emerson Hall and Frank Krulik.

BRIDGE TOURNAMENT INTERESTING EVENT

Freilberg. At the bridge-luncheon Tuesday afternoon, high score winners were: north and south, Mrs. McKay and Mrs. Birge of the Belvedere Club; east and west, Mrs. Woodruff and Mrs. Heaton, also Belvedere summer residents.

SHE MAKES AN ACRE PAY
From South Carolina comes the story of a woman who made a net profit of $353.30 last year on an acre garden, "snatched from a cotton patch." The proceeds from the garden amounted to $466.05, the expense to $112.75, the chief item being $50 for upkeep of the car used in delivering the produce—an up-to-date touch. On her one acre this enterprising daughter of the Palmetto state raised thirty-two varieties of vegetables. She also made 3,061 servings for her family, canned 315 quarts of fruits and vegetables, and had two bushels of onions, fifteen bushels of Irish potatoes, forty-five pounds of salad seed, one peck of shelled lima beans, five bushels of white peas, five bushels of peanuts and forty bushels of sweet potatoes for winter use.—The Michigan Manufacturer.

MORE TRAVEL BY AUTOMOBILE
Automotive statisticians figure that there were 400 billion miles of private automobile driving in the United States in 1930 and about 390 billion last year. Almost everyone would have expected a greater mileage loss, in view of the reduction in the number of registered cars. It is a familiar observation, too, that almost everywhere there have been fewer cars on the road.

The mileage is estimated from the known quantity of gasoline sold. This should be reasonable criterion. But not necessarily. Motorists are driving much faster lately; and fast driving, as any observant motorist knows, takes more gas per mile.

When some men do you favor they never let you forget it.

Lots of people make a specialty of pouring ice water on enthusiasm.

Any farmer growing wheat, oats, or barley is eligible to compete. The awards are based on yields per acre and the quality of the grain. No field less than five acres can be entered and the yield from the whole of any one field is the basis for competition. Certificates showing the yield and the number of acres in the field must be sent to the farm crops department at Michigan State college before August 29. Peck samples of the grain should be sent to the agricultural department, state fair, Detroit, before September 4.

Blank certificates can be obtained from county agricultural agents or from the college farm crops department. These blanks tell the persons who can act as witnesses in certifying the crop yield. Liberal prizes are offered in the contest and awards are made down to 20th place in each of the three classes.

LEE C. ALLARD DISTRICT LEGION HEAD

CHOSEN AT MEETING HELD SUNDAY AT BOYNE CITY

F. V. Tyler Elected Adjutant of Lower 11th District—Boyne Postoffice Dedicated

Leslie T. Shapton post No. 226 of the American Legion has been honored by having two of its members selected for the leading offices in the organization of the lower 11th district of Michigan for 1932-33. At the district convention, held in Boyne City on Sunday, July 31, Lee C. Allard was elected district committeeman or commander and Fred V. Tyler becomes district adjutant or executive officer of the organization, which comprises thirteen Legion posts and nine counties of the lower peninsula. Guy Greene of Alpena was elected alternate committeeman.

Otto C. Scott of Petoskey, the retiring district committeeman, was endorsed by the convention for the office of state vice commander for which election will be held at the coming state convention in Kalamazoo the latter part of this month. Joseph P. Murphy of Petoskey, former district adjutant, retires to run for congress on the Republican ticket.

The program at Boyne, Sunday, commenced with the dedication of the new $60,000 postoffice by Congressman Frank P. Bohn of the 11th congressional district. He was gracefully introduced by Albert Sarasin of Boyne City and was followed by Postmaster Deane, who accepted the building in the name of the city of Boyne City. The speeches were short, but to the point and well delivered. The building is a handsome affair inside as well as out, and represents the last word in up-to-date postoffice construction.

Business meeting of the convention occurred at 2 o'clock p. m. and was followed by the usual parade, in which four bugle and drum corps participated. The banquet, held at 5 o'clock p. m. in the high school gymnasium was well attended. The speakers were A. J. McDougall of Gaylord, the man who rescued the "Lost Battalion;" Congressman Frank P. Bohn, Judges Feal and Butzel of the Michigan supreme court and Judge Joseph P. Murphy of Petoskey.

The next district meeting will be held at East Jordan, at a place and date to be determined later.

WEEKLY CAMP CHARLEVOIX NEWS COLUMN

Edited by
VINCENT ARNOLD

The Dad's day celebration for 1932 took place on Saturday, July 30, and, as has become the habit with Camp Charlevoix Dad's days, was a great success. Approximately twenty-five dads were on hand to go through the various activities of the day with their sons, and they entered into the spirit of the gala occasion with a willingness that could not help but assure the day's success.

After each dad had gone to his son's morning activity—handicraft, riding, sailing, athletics, etc.—and after the noon meal and rest hour, ball games were organized in each of the sections between the men and the boys. Then the swimming period was livened up with a sailing race between two crews composed of three sons and their dads each. Ed. Taylor piloted the "Zonta Wakuta" to a victory over the "My Gal," skippered by John Adams. Canoe tilting was taken care of in masterful fashion with a contest which pitted Chick Hendry and Bill Joseph against Henry Loeh and his father.

The banquet in the evening was "toastmastered" by Pete Morris. Short speeches by Mr. Reimann, Vince Arnold and Fred W. Sanders of Detroit, several musical numbers, and a puppet show put on by Wendell Gates and some of the boys rounded out the program. A ceremony in the council ring climaxed a very busy day for the dads of the Charlevoix campers.

The list of dads, mothers and guests is a long one, but here it is: W. G. Lerchen, Bloomfield Hills, Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Sanders, Detroit; Mrs. C. J. Abbott and her mother, Royal Oak; Mr. and Mrs. Sam M. Garber, Birmingham; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Allen, Jackson; Mr. and Mrs. Norman B. Pitcairn, Birmingham; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Simenton, Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Barstow, Midland; Mr. and Mrs. Mark E. Putnam, and Ruth Putnam, Midland; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kohl, Detroit; Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Behn, Birmingham; Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Adams, Kalamazoo; Mr. and Mrs. John R. Woodfield and daughter, Patty, Jackson; Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Brownell, Kalamazoo; Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Bellman, Toledo; Mr. and Mrs. Paul M. Taylor, Huntington, Indiana; Dr. and Mrs. H. C. Schoepfle, Sandusky; J. M. H. Lebolt, Chicago; Dr. B. G. Mattson, Manistee; Mr. H. W. The annual camp battle for the little brown jug was fought on Tuesday, July 26. The Reds were forced to accept defeat for the second year in succession, but only after a hard struggle, which is clearly shown by the fact that the contest was a tie in the junior section, a Black victory in the intermediate, and a Red victory in the senior. It was necessary to repeat the junior fracas, and this time the Blacks proved themselves the stronger. Bill Lerchen led the victors, and Dick Woodfield was the captain of the Reds. After the strenuous activities of the afternoon, the majority of the boys went through the sweat lodge.

The Caravan Players of Detroit presented "The Taming of the Shrew" at the lodge on Wednesday, July 27. The play was very well done, and the boys seemed to enjoy the performance a great deal.

This week most of the campers and counselors are out of camp on trips, and the place which is usually so lively is nearly deserted and noiseless. One group is spending the week on Beaver Island under the leadership of Colonel Gillespie and Pete Morris; another is camping on the Jordan river with Johnny Olvin and Tim Neal as heads. The Canadian trip this season is divided into two separate sections; the first will remain at Camp 23 of the Mississauga forest reserve for a week, and then it will return to camp; the second party will make Camp 23 its base, and will make canoe trips around that country for several days, stretching its time in Canada to about three weeks. The latter group is being led by Jack Hogan and Oke Oldham, and consists of the following boys: Bill Lerchen, Ted Friedlander, Louie Baker, Ed. Taylor and Frank Harlow.

EDITORIALS

RADIO BALLYHOO

The radio revolt seems to be growing, as people realize more clearly how a wonderful instrument for the spread of information and entertainment is being perverted from its proper purpose. Here is an unusually illuminating letter from a disgusted listener, written to a newspaper editor:

"Radio remains a problem. It is true that superb music, and more rarely a good speech, occasionally rewards us; but most of the time the air is made hideous with advertisement-nominate inanities. Literally it is a racket. Since 90 per cent of the programs are commercial, radio listeners are overwhelmed with parrot high-pressure methods they would not tolerate under other circumstances."

"This merciless bombardment is defeating its own ends. After all, our ears cannot stand punishment indefinitely; the law of diminishing returns operates here as regards attention."

"Through education and experience we are primarily eye-minded. We tend to believe what we see with our own eyes and to doubt what we hear merely. Radio advertising, therefore, is handicapped from the start in having to depend exclusively on a secondary sense, hearing. Most people hear the radio without listening. Unless we do listen, there can be no definite attention; for this reason most radio advertising is heeded not at all."

"Undoubtedly commercial sponsors are finding out, to their expensive dismay, that their potential market has been deafened into profitless inattention. There is the further handicap of hostility, as people resent, and rightly, the 'say, listen to me, fella' technique of some programs."

"Ballyhoo has its place at carnivals and political conventions; yet, as the principal method of selling over the air, it is not only ineffective but destroys good-will. Luckily we have become expert in the art of deftly tuning out objectionable stuff. 'Printed advertisement has the merit of being generally well-behaved and of inviting leisurely attention. People read and do get an impression that gets translated into buying. Radio will have to change its ways or lose out.'"

MILLION TREE PLANTERS

Like most panaceas that of nominal Roosevelt for employing a million men in reforestation and cultivation of abandoned farms sounded better from its author's lips than it reads. It will not stand scrutiny by the informed.

Secretary of Agriculture Hyde promptly scotched the Democratic candidate's scheme by proving it to be based on ignorance of reforestation facts. He need not have gone farther than to point out that the country's supply of seedling forest trees would keep a million men busy not more than two hours, but did not stop there. He cited statistics showing that the United States forest service of 6,200 men, 3,400 of whom are employed only half time, care for 160,000,000 acres of forest lands. At that rate a million men could care for 25,000,000,000 acres—or twelve times the land area of the nation.

How could the governor of New York have gone so far wrong in his calculations? Perhaps he doesn't know that the reforestation program of his own state, which involves the planting of a million acres within fifteen years, keeps only 72 men busy on full time and gives part time employment to a few hundred.

But Mr. Roosevelt's acceptance speech was intended for the ears of voters, not farmers and foresters. Who asked Secretary Hyde to listen in any way?

THE ST. LAWRENCE WATERWAY

Preliminary negotiations for building the St. Lawrence waterway connecting the Great Lakes with the sea and giving them easier access to the market of Europe, have been completed by American and Canadian diplomats. The waterway is to be 1,000 miles in length and the estimated cost is $800,000,000, or twice as much as the cost of the Panama canal.

When completed the waterway will enable ocean-going vessels to be loaded directly at Great Lakes ports and take their cargoes to European ports without transshipment. Middle western grain and meat, Minnesota and Michigan iron ore, Pennsylvania coal and many other products then can be laid down in European ports at a considerable lower cost than at present.

The projected waterway should work to the decided advantage of Michigan. Detroit, for example, is nearer to Liverpool and London by way of the St. Lawrence than by way of New York. The heavy overland freight charge from Michigan to the Atlantic will be eliminated. The

Renowned Novel Achieves Lustre on Silver Screen

One of the most famous novels about youth and Hollywood—Harry Leon Wilson's story of the country lad who crashed the studio gates and made good—will be seen as a talkie, "Make Me a Star," at the Palace theatre on Friday and Saturday next, with Joan Blondell, Stuart Erwin, ZaSu Pittman and Ben Turpin heading the cast.

"Miss Pinkerton" Brings Joan Blondell in Her First Starring Picture. In "Miss Pinkerton," a modern mystery thriller which comes to the Palace theatre next Tuesday and Wednesday, the management of the Palace finds a series of reasons for elation.

It brings to full-fledged stardom Joan Blondell, one of the screen's most fascinating young actresses.

It brings to the screen the latest and most sensational literary effort of Mary Roberts Rinehart, one of America's really great women writers.

It brings to the fore another First National production, which means fine story telling, fine settings, fine direction, fine action, and superb cast of actors and actresses.

Fitting screen players and directors into their proper niches in the film scheme of things is one of Hollywood's most important tasks.

A like situation, Schulberg thinks, augurs for the success of Paramount's new air picture, "Sky Bride." Richard Arlen, in the chief role, was a lieutenant in the Royal Flying Corps during the World war, and continued his flying during the months that Paramount's "Wings" was in production. It was "Wings" that first focused the spotlight of screen fame on Arlen.

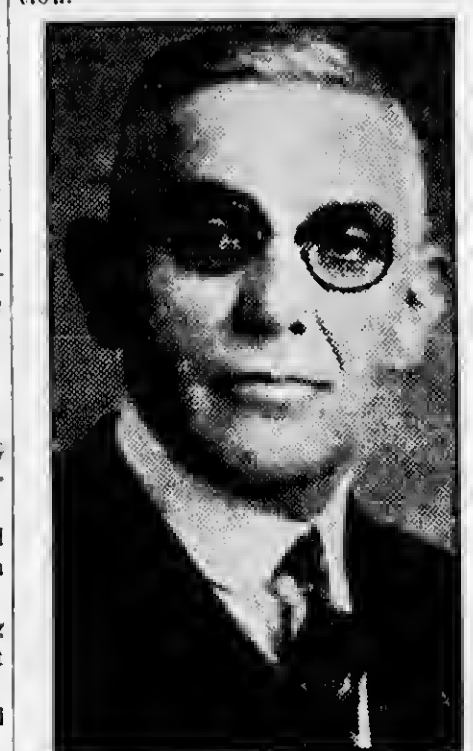

This aviation melodrama, featuring Richard Arlen, Virginia Bruce, Jack Oakie, Charles Starrett and Robert Coogan comes to the Palace theatre on Thursday of next week.

 MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF STATE WEEKLY NEWS ***

An additional weapon has been placed in the hands of the department of state in its war upon gasoline tax evaders through the medium of the new federal gasoline tax law.

Under the federal law, any person compounding, mixing or blending any motor fuel is deemed as a "producer" and must report the amount of all such motor fuels compounded or blended and pay the federal tax of one cent per gallon on the resulting product. Failure, refusal or neglect to so report the gallonage blended and the payment of the tax places the violator in peril of a fine of not more than $10,000 or not to exceed two years' confinement in a federal prison.

The so-called "bootleg gasoline" is made through the blending of certain tax free ingredients, such as kerosene or the distillates, with natural or "cracking" gasoline. Natural gasoline possesses a very high volatility and when added to the other ingredients produces a low-grade motor fuel. By using the non-taxable ingredients, the bootlegger in his blended product evades a large portion of the tax, at the same time selling to the public a very inferior grade of motor fuel.

Major efforts of the investigation service of the gasoline tax division are being put forth in searching out and uncovering these bootleggers, both for the purpose of securing the tax accruing to the state and for the purpose of protecting the motorist in the purchase, unknowingly, of this inferior product. Heretofore prosecution for violations have rested with the state, but under the new federal law all cases involving this form of violation will be instantly reported to the federal government. Under the extremely heavy penalties imposed by the federal law, it is anticipated that prosecutions under that law will assist materially in stamping out evasions of the state gasoline tax laws.

STATE FERRY RECEIPTS DROP UNDER LAST YEAR

April, May and June Shrinkage Totals $10,451—State's Figures

Total state ferry receipts at the Straits of Mackinac for April, May and June of this year dropped $10,651 below receipts for a similar three-month period in 1931, according to figures released by the state highway department.

The volume of business in June of this year was $5,681 less than for June, 1931, with receipts totaling $29,763.25 for June as compared with $35,444.25 during June the preceding year. The figures for April and May, 1932, reveal that $22,055.25 were taken in during the two months as compared with $27,025.25 for a corresponding period in 1931, or a decrease of $4,970.

The shrinkage in the number of persons using the Straits as a means of travel between the lower and upper peninsulas was 2,400 comparing June, 1932, with June, 1931. During June 1931, the ferries carried 19,845 passengers as compared with 17,445 during June of 1932.

Automobiles ferried across this June totaled 9,483 as compared with 11,410 in June, 1931, a decrease of 1,927.

On the other hand, there was a decided increase in the number of trucks carried, 477 being ferried last month in comparison to 291 in June, 1931. The increase of 186 trucks indicates that highways are bearing more freight traffic this year than in previous years.

Another interesting sidelight on the June report is that in June, 1931, a calf was the only animal to cross on a ferry, for which a fee of $2.50 was charged. This June a lone cow made the crossing and was taxed $2.

Passengers are required to pay a fee of 25 cents.

NEW STATE GAS LAW SUGGESTED

Would Establish Standards for Various Grades of Motor Fuel

Recommendations are to be made by the department of state to the 1933 legislature that it enact laws setting up standards for the various grades of gasoline, being offered to motorists.

The only regulation which Michigan now has, is the law prohibiting "fraud and deceit in the sale of liquid fuels, lubricating oils and similar products." But this law does not give the motorist any knowledge of the type of gasoline he purchases, and it is possible for any number of different blends of liquid fuel to be offered to Michigan motorists as gasoline.

There are, in general, three standards for gasoline. These are high test, standard and competitive. At present it is possible for gasoline of exactly the same automotive energy to be sold by one company as high test, and by another company as regular grade gasoline. Each company now sets its own standards.

With standard gasoline specifications set by the state, motorists would be certain to receive the type of gasoline paid for. State standards and specifications would make it difficult to sell blends of kerosene and other liquid fuel as motor gasoline. Any mixture of liquid fuels can be colored so that it is deceptive to the motorist.

GALLAGHER SEDAN STOLEN AND BURNED

Theft Tuesday Night—Adams & Son Store Broken Into

The theft of a Plymouth sedan owned by F. J. Gallagher, and the breaking and entering of the L. P. Adams & Son store Tuesday evening, were reported to local police and sheriff's officers Wednesday morning.

The automobile, taken during the night from Mr. Gallagher's garage at the rear of his residence on State street, was found Wednesday morning on a cross road near the Ed. Cook farm off US-31 south of this city. The interior of the car was completely destroyed by fire. It is believed the thieves used temporary wiring to start the car, and, when in the act of dismantling it, fire started from a short circuit. The motor numbers had been removed, also the license plates and spare tire.

Robbers who entered the Adams & Son store obtained around $75 in cash. They forced the rear door to gain entrance to the place some time after 2 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Following an illness of about two weeks' duration, Frank Hyek, well known and respected Hayes township farmer, died at his home north of this city at 5 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Born in Bohemia, May 15, 1871, Mr. Hyek joined his parents at Charlevoix 36 years ago. He resided on Petoskey avenue in this city until moving to a farm in Hayes township in 1921.

He was married in January, 1918, to Miss Bessie Foltman, whom, together with five sons, survive, viz: John and Louis Hyek, at home; Albert of Lansing, Steven and Henry of Detroit.

Funeral services were held at 9 o'clock Monday morning from St. Mary church, and interment was at Brookside cemetery.

VETERANS' POLITICAL ASSOCIATION FORMED

Charlevoix Unit Added to Lower 11th District Association

A representative group of ex-service men from Charlevoix and Emmet counties met in East Jordan, Wednesday evening, July 13th, and organized a Charlevoix county branch of the Veterans' Political association of the 11th congressional district, recently formed at Gaylord. Sam Tokoly of Boyne City was elected permanent chairman, Shirley B. Henry of Charlevoix, and Tom St. Charles of East Jordan, vice-chairmen for their respective sections of the county. Fred V. Tyler of Charlevoix, permanent secretary, and Roy Winegardner, Boyne City, treasurer.

The primary purpose of the organization is to support the candidacy of Judge Joseph P. Murphy of Petoskey for congress on the Republican ticket. The ultimate aim of the organization, however, is to provide a medium through which members of the various veteran organizations, such as the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Spanish-American war veterans, etc., may express themselves politically as veterans, regardless of party lines. The constitutions of these various organizations forbid their participation in politics as a unit—hence, the need for this new organization which will comprehend them all and be free from their political disability.

At a further meeting on Monday evening, August 1st, at the court house in Charlevoix, an investigating committee of nine members—three from each section of the county—was elected to function in cases where two or more ex-service candidates appear for the same office in the county. This committee, prior to the filing of petitions, will deliberate upon the qualifications and relative probable strength of the candidates, choose one from among them and recommend him to the county organization for its support. Its work is then ended. The county association membership is limited strictly to veterans, but clubs will be formed in the various communities as subordinate units to support the candidacy of various aspirants to which outsiders will be admitted.

The next meeting of the organization will be held at Boyne City at 8 o'clock p. m., E. S. T., on Thursday evening, August 11, 1932.

INDEPENDENTS WIN FROM PICK-UP TEAM

Play at Ellsworth Friday and Meet Advance Here Sunday

The Independents took an easy victory from a Barnard-Charlevoix pick-up team substituting for Ironton.

This Friday evening Charlevoix goes to Ellsworth for a game with the Business Men's team. Sunday afternoon at 1:30 the Advance team will meet the locals on the south side diamond at the corner of Bridge and Green streets. The Independents' record now shows nine games won and six games lost.

been able to reduce this to $1,700,000 for the year ending July 1, 1932, a saving of $900,000.

The von Platten Fox Co., of Iron Mountain, through M. J. Fox, president, and a member of the commission, presented to the state 1,784 acres of land near Gibbs in Otsego county for public hunting use.

The hunting season for ruffed grouse, prairie chickens and other upland game birds will be the same as last year, the commission ordered. This runs from October 1 to 12 in upper Michigan and from October 15 to 26 in lower Michigan. Trapping for muskrat and beaver also remains the same as in 1931.

In the regulations governing duck hunting, the government stated that ruddy ducks, butter balls, ross geese and cackling geese could not be killed during the coming year. This was approved by the Michigan commission last week.

ANNUAL HOSPITAL TAG DAY DRIVE IS SATURDAY, AUG. 13

The annual Tag Day drive for the benefit of Charlevoix hospital, has been announced for Saturday, August 13th, by committees handling the event.

A meeting of the Hospital Auxiliary will be held Thursday to complete arrangements. Mrs. Albert Cook, president, and Mrs. F. F. McMillan, vice-president of the auxiliary, are active in arranging details of the drive.

It is planned to follow the usual procedure of enlisting local and summer children into groups of tag sellers to cover the various districts of the city. As heretofore, prizes will be offered for those turning in the largest amount from sales. Both boys and girls will be enlisted.

Extension of the drive to Boyne City, East Jordan and Central Lake is also planned.

Those in charge make the usual appeal to Charlevoix local and summer residents to give to the extent of their ability.

NOTED DANCER AT THE INN THURSDAY NIGHT

Dances in Out-Door Patio There Proving Very Popular

Dancing parties at The Inn patio, an out-door feature inaugurated at this popular summer place last season, is proving extremely popular with hotel guests and cottagers.

Nearly two hundred took advantage of the opportunity Monday evening. Carl Diensberger's orchestra from Detroit, furnished the music.

An especially interesting feature has been provided for Thursday evening, August 11th. The Inn management has engaged Diana Huebert of Goodman theatre of Chicago, for a program of interpretive dances to be given at the patio at 8:30 o'clock.

Miss Huebert has been associated with the Reinhardt productions in New York and Raymond Duncan in Paris. Last summer she continued her studies of Greek art in Greece, journeying to the Acropolis mountains to study folk dances of the villagers.

She will be accompanied here by Miss Ruth Gordon, pianist. Miss Gordon received a scholarship at the Juillard Graduate school in New York where she studied with Olga Samaroff and toured Europe last summer.

In the event of rain, the program will be given in the hotel.

BIG CAMP CARNIVAL IS SATURDAY

PUBLIC INVITED TO ANNUAL CAMP CHARLEVOIX EVENT

Afternoon of Entertainment Is Being Prepared for Entertainment of Visitors

Camp Charlevoix's big gala carnival for the season of 1932 will get under way next Saturday, August 13, at approximately 2:30 o'clock.

This important event in the eight-week period of the camp is the culmination of several days' diligent preparation on the part of both campers and counsellors. This year, as has been the custom in the past, each cabin will have charge of one of the concessions, except in some cases where a cabin is too small to handle a booth by itself. When this occurs, two cabins will combine.

In addition to the regular concession booths, which will cost a nickel apiece, there will be a main show in the club house during the course of the afternoon's fun. No admission will be charged for the latter, which will provide an hour's entertainment in the way of songs, stunts, etc.

Come out to Camp Charlevoix Saturday and spend an afternoon ducking the mermaid, hitting the nigger baby, eating ice cream cones, and doing, in general, all of the things that make a carnival a carnival. The more, the merrier.

PLANS PROGRESS FOR TRI-COUNTY EXHIBIT

Cooperative Fair at Petoskey August 30 to September 2

Northern Michigan will again enjoy a free fair, August 30 to September 2, at the Emmet county fair grounds in Petoskey. Preparations for the event are going forward steadily with the prospect of a bigger and better free fair than has ever been staged before.

Exhibits this year will come from the three counties and it is expected that the buildings will be full to overflowing. Applications for space are coming in daily. Granges and farmers' clubs are requested to make reservations for their displays as soon as possible.

Free acts will include a wedding with the cast of the Revue company acting as attendants to a local couple.

DEATH OF EDWARD O'NEIL IS MOURNED

CITY SHOCKED BY TRAGEDY LAST THURSDAY

Funeral Held Saturday from Home—Deceased Was City Official and Life-Long Resident

Edward O'Neil, 52, a life-long resident of this city, died at his home on Belvedere avenue shortly before noon last Thursday from a wound over the heart inflicted with a high-powered rifle bullet.

Owing to illness, Mr. O'Neil had not gone to his office Thursday morning as usual, Mrs. O'Neil going in his place. He left word for his son, Louis, to call for him in case he did not put in an appearance before noon. When Louis visited the home, he found his father dead in an upstairs bedroom. Whether Mr. O'Neil's death was accidental or self-inflicted will probably never be known. To the family and those who had been intimately associated with him, the incident was a crushing shock.

Mr. O'Neil was born October 28, 1879, at St. James, the son of Patrick and Sarah O'Neil. He came to Charlevoix with his parents at the age of one and a half years and had been a resident here since that time. He was associated with Henry Wood in the taxi business for many years, and, following Mr. Wood's death about ten years ago, bought out the business. At his death, Mr. O'Neil was alderman of the third ward, serving his first term. He was formerly member of the Knights of Pythias and the Elks.

Mr. O'Neil was married in June, 1903, to Miss Eva Hamlin, whom, together with four children, survive, viz: Louis, Myrtle, Marshall and Rose. There are also two sisters, Mrs. Ray W. Faulkner, this city, and Mrs. George Myler, Detroit.

Funeral services, with Rev. G. R. Parker officiating, were held at 10 o'clock Saturday morning from the home. Acting as pallbearers were C. B. Meggison, Fred E. Cartier, Arthur Bergeon, Jesse Smith, Charles and Will Heise. Burial was at Brookside cemetery.

The funeral was attended by a large group of both local and summer residents. Huge banks of flowers evidenced the esteem in which Mr. O'Neil was held. His jovial disposition and participation in the everyday affairs of Charlevoix will be greatly missed.

CHARLEVOIX WINS AT GAYLORD CAMP

TAKE SEVERAL HONORS IN 4-H CLUB CONTESTS

Highest Number of Team First Awards Go to Representation from Emmet County

Charlevoix county rural youths shared with 4-H club members from other Northern Michigan counties in honors won at the annual 4-H club camp which closed Friday afternoon at Gaylord.

In the dairy judging contest, Carlton Smith, leader of the Barnard junior dairymen, won high score for the second consecutive year. He had 533 out of a possible 600 points. Through accumulative score, the Emmet county team won first in this work.

In the crops judging contest, Charlevoix county's team placed first. Robert Tainter, Boyne City, scored 538 points out of a possible 600; Fred Ranney, East Jordan, 533, and Gwendon Holt, East Jordan, 495. These three boys will be rewarded for their efforts with a free trip to the state fair at Detroit.

Charlevoix county's canning demonstration team, composed of Dorothy Ferguson and Florence Anderson of Bay Shore, was a close second to the Emmet county team which won this contest.

Other contest winners were:

Health — Gerald Fournier, Isoc county; Dorothy Hasselberg, Arenac county; Dr. Carleton Dean, Charlevoix, and Miss Alice Johnston, Otsego county nurse, selected the winners.

Dairy judging — Emmet county first. Highest individual honor to Carlton Smith, Charlevoix.

Singing contest — First, Benzie county; second, Antrim county; third, Emmet county; fourth, Grand Traverse county. The contest was sponsored by the R. E. Olds Community Singing fund.

Clothing demonstration — First, Arenac county; second, Antrim county. Both teams go to the state fair.

Emmet county teams carried off first honors and state fair awards in both the food demonstration and canning judging contests. The clothing judging honors were won by Antrim county.

Emmet county was winner in the crops demonstration contest, while the Charlevoix county team carried off first honors in crops judging work. Teams from Antrim and Otsego counties won state fair trips through their work in crops demonstration.

Three hundred and seventy-three persons were present at the annual banquet, at which Rev. O. Priest of Gaylord, and Senator Calvin Campbell of Indian River, were speakers.

Attendance from Charlevoix county was on a par with other Northern Michigan counties. Six girls spent four days, two were present three days and sixteen there two days. Among the boys, nine were present two days and four one day. Seven county club leaders were present for varying periods.

AMATEUR GOLFERS TO COMPETE HERE

GREAT LAKES GOLF ASSOCIATION SPONSORING TOURNEY

Qualifying Round Monday at Charlevoix Golf Club—Many Entries Received to Date

Charlevoix will not be without a golf tournament during the 1932 summer season.

Through the efforts of John R. Bowker, executive secretary of the Great Lakes Golf association, sponsors two years of the Great Lakes Open at the Belvedere Golf Club, and with cooperation of the Charlevoix Golf Club and city officials, a Great Lakes Amateur tournament will be staged August 15-20 at the Charlevoix Golf Club course.

Charlevoix of late, has drawn at least one tournament a year. The state amateur championship was decided here in 1930 and 1931. In addition, the Great Lakes association staged two successful open tournaments which drew fields of amateurs and professional stars. When the state amateur went to Grand Rapids this year, the association looked for something to replace it and the coming amateur tournament was decided upon.

While a contingent of down-state players is expected to compete, entries to date have been largely from the Northern Michigan resort region. Among them are Bay Green, Indianapolis and Bay View; R. T. Wilson, Chicago; Seymour Gedre, George Pierre, Bert Randall, Charles Jones, A. Sophian, John McIlraith and W. Essington, members of the Walloon Lake Golf Club. It is expected the field will number between 60 and 80 before entries close.

The qualifying round is scheduled for Monday, August 15th. Match play will start the following day. There will be prizes for low medal, winners and runners-up of all divisions, and winner of the beaten eight in the first and second divisions. The tournament will be played under U. S. G. A. rules except for local rules.

John R. Bowker and William Watson are the tournament committee, and entries may be made with the former at The Inn. This hotel is also offering special rates during the tournament.

MANY HEAR CHRISTIAN SCIENCE TALK SUNDAY

Lecturer from Mother Church, Boston, Was Speaker

A fine audience from this city and from surrounding cities and resorts assembled Sunday afternoon at the Palace theatre to listen to a lecture on Christian Science presented under the auspices of First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Charlevoix.

The lecturer was Robert Stanley Ross, C. S. B., of New York City, member of the board of lecturership of the Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The full text of the lecture will be found elsewhere in these columns.

BELVEDERE CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

J. B. BALCH SUCCEEDS R. V. CLARK AS PRESIDENT

Many Activities, Including Golf and Tennis Tournaments, President's Dinner, Are Planned

With one of the largest attendances in person and by proxy in recent years, the annual meeting of the Belvedere Club was held last Wednesday at the casino.

Members of the Club heard with interest reports of the secretary, treasurer and Warden E. J. Edwards, which, among other things, detailed improvements completed during the past year.

Included among the more major betterments was the installation of a sprinkler system for fire protection in the hotel buildings, complete remodeling of the hotel refrigeration plant, and rebuilding with macadam of two of the battery of five tennis courts. The new construction of the courts allows them to dry quickly after rain, thus dispensing with delay necessary for them to dry.

Officers Elected

Following the open meeting, the board of trustees unanimously elected James B. Balch of Kalamazoo, as president for the ensuing year. Mr. Balch succeeds R. Vernon Clark of St. Louis, Mo., who has headed the association the past two years. Other officers chosen were: vice-presidents, Charles B. Fox, St. Louis, Mo., and George D. Webb, Chicago; treasurer, Logan G. Thomson, Cincinnati, Ohio; secretary, Emerson W. Price, Cleveland, Ohio; assistant treasurer and warden, Edward J. Edwards, Messrs. Thomson, Price and Edwards succeed themselves.

Many Activities Planned

Many activities are planned for the coming weeks at the Belvedere Club, sponsored by the various committees and the hotel management.

A new innovation, a president's dinner in honor of Hon. James B. Balch, president-elect, and R. Vernon Clark, retiring president, has been announced for Thursday evening, August 11th. The event, open to all Belvedere Club members, cottage renters and their families and friends, is to evidence appreciation for the untiring efforts of the Club officers, and to give those summering there an opportunity to get better acquainted. A program of talks by prominent Club members and other features is being arranged. George D. Webb of Chicago, is chairman of the committee in charge of the event.

Next Monday evening, August 15, at the casino, the Tanglewood Playhouse players from Ironton will present "Taming of the Shrew." Those who have already witnessed the production at Ironton can more readily appreciate the fine performance given by this group of players. Many local critics have adjudged the work of the cast as on a par with any in the country.

The annual golf tournament for club members and hotel guests will be played August 15-20 at the Belvedere Golf Club. The tournament is a handicap affair for both men and women. The qualifying round will be played the opening day, and match play for the several flights preceding the finals on Saturday, August 20th. The tournament has always drawn a large entry.

Dates for the annual tennis tournament, also for Club members and hotel guests, have been set for August 22-27.

Mr. and Mrs. William Alward, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Alward, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Alward and Charles Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Dice, were guests Sunday at a birthday dinner honoring Ise Alward of Ellsworth. He was 57 years old that day.

Mrs. George Perry and daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Depreu of Detroit, who have been camping on Lake Charlevoix near East Jordan, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Richardson last Thursday. Mrs. Perry and daughter were at one time residents of Norwood.

CENTRAL LAKE

Summer resorts are coming quite plentifully now.

John DeYoung preached to a good crowd at Bay View last Sunday after Sunday school.

Dan Haddock has returned to his work at Detroit after a short visit with his wife here.

Gary Brothers have returned to Detroit after a short visit at the William Carey home.

Orrin McPherson of Detroit, and wife, have been visiting old friends here. His wife was formerly Ida Haddock.

George Austin has been improving the appearance of his residence in the south end of town by building a new sleeping porch.

William Carey has built a large addition onto the south end of his residence here, which greatly improves its appearance.

Rev. Lincoln has been attending the Free Methodist encampment at Manton the past week. There were 175 tents erected on the camp grounds.

Bay View had an attendance of 38, Creswell 33, Barnard 54, and Eastport about 40 at Sunday services on Sunday. Norwood had 39 present Friday evening. Mrs. Miller teaches the junior class formerly taught by Mrs. Anna Holschek.

The condition of Mrs. Mary Euler is gradually growing weaker. She is still able to sit up and visit with callers. She is over 82 years of age. Guy McPherson's people from Arizona and Rev. H. V. Gould and wife have been here to see her.

Rev. E. S. Carroll and John DeYoung are planning on a trip to the big meeting of the young people's conference at Walden Wood near Kalamazoo Saturday and Sunday. They will go by auto and are planning taking others with them.

Earl Mudge and wife of New York City, are here again this summer and are resorting at their summer cottage over on Torch lake shores south of Eastport. Elkanah Mudge and daughter, Olive, are up again from Detroit and summering at their cottage here in town.

Mrs. Alva Burch and son, Kenneth, of Traverse City, were at their cottage at Burch point on Torch lake shores last Sunday. Her husband died recently and her son, Kenneth, has been staying with her since. He had formerly been staying with his grand parents at Kewadin.

The local canning factory opened for a few days to can a few tons of cherries for Milspaugh of Boyne City, who is hiring the fruit canned and paying for all expenses himself, and will then market his own product. Many farmers have peddled out a lot of their cherries and others have sold to Traverse City and East Jordan for a cent a pound, which just about pays for the spraying and picking. The pickers this year are making more than the growers. One farmer took his cucumbers to Central Lake and received 30 cents for them. The next time he received 70 cents for the entire load. Beans hardly pay for the picking. There is no money in sight for taxes.

AT THE MOVIES

"So Big" is a Triumph of Movie Making

Barbara Stanwyck at her finest—that's the first summary of "So Big," which opens Friday at the Palace theatre, that comes to mind.

But it's not a complete summary. It is not fair to leave out the other members of the cast—George Brent, Bette Davis, Dorothy Peterson, Alan Hale and the rest of a sterling array of players. And adorable little Dickie Moore.

Ben Lyon, Male Lead of "By Whose Hand?" Well-Known As a Capable Pilot of The Army

This Columbia feature, showing Saturday at the Palace theatre, is a mystery melodrama in which Ben Lyon is supported by Barbara Weeks, Nat Pendleton, Helene Millard, Dwight Frye, William Halligan, Kenneth Thomson, William V. Mong, Ethel Kenyon, Dolores Ray and Tom Dugan.

Coonie Bennett Dons Daring Gown Creation for Film

That Hollywood is rapidly displacing Paris as the fashion center of the world is evidenced by the daring new gown creation Constance Bennett wears in "What Price Hollywood," coming to the Palace theatre Wednesday.

Lupo Velez Taught Himself the Art of Stage Dancing

In "The Broken Wing," which comes to the Palace theatre Thursday of next week, she features with Leo Carrillo, Melvyn Douglas, and George Barbier in an intriguing sweetheart role with a Spanish flavor, similar to "Hell Harbor," "The Wolf Song," and "The Cuban," in which pictures she won the praise of critics and wide public esteem.

Sheet Erosion Is Great Destroyer

Vast Area Being Washed Thinner by Each Succeeding Rain.

Sheet erosion, the unending process which steals a part of the topsoil every time there is rain enough for water to run downhill, is a major cause of land depredation, H. H. Bennett, soil scientist of the United States Department of Agriculture, said at the annual meeting of the American Forestry association at Asheville, N. C.

Sheet Erosion Widespread. "Sheet erosion is much more widespread than gully washing, but it is more gradual and less noticeable," Mr. Bennett said. "Excessive washing has virtually destroyed more than 17,000,000 acres of formerly fertile land in this country, but there is a vast larger area whose surface soil is slowly but constantly being washed thinner and thinner by every rain. The washing away of the topsoil is rapidly lessening the productivity of our land."

"Our country-wide yields are not increasing, even with all the benefits of research and extension service directed toward this end; indeed, crop yields are decreasing in many localities. The better soils are largely in use. In many parts of the country the area of these is being diminished through the evil of erosion; that is, more and more of these lands are being converted into inferior lands."

Land impoverished from over-cropping frequently can be made to produce profitable crops through the use of fertilizing and soil-improving crops, he said, but land worn out by erosion is essentially hopeless.

The topsoil contains the essential elements for plant growth and when this soil is eroded away, the subsoil in the majority of cases fails to produce as good crops as the original topsoil and often is worthless, the bureau of chemistry and soils has found.

Methods of Prevention.

Mr. Bennett outlined some of the work being done by the Department of Agriculture in the study of erosion and methods of preventing it. He suggested better land utilization, better protection of cultivated slopes with terraces and other means, and the use of certain kinds of forests as preventives of soil erosion. A far-reaching, practical, national program of soil protection and better adjustment in land usage is an immediate need, he said.

Through study of erosion problems is now being made by the department at eight regional experiment stations established during the last two years. These stations, which eventually may number 20, are established on farms where erosion is a serious regional problem, and are for studying methods of erosion control and of holding on the land more of the rain water. A number of the states are carrying on supplementary work on erosion.

Phosphorus Is Necessary for Bone Construction

Phosphorus is a material necessary in the construction of bone, but its greatest value seems to be in the production of seed and grain. The phosphorus the plant uses over and above that needed to form the leaf, stalk and root seems to be a measure of its ability to form the protoplasmic nucleus, around which the grain is formed, and without which no grain will be formed. Because of this association phosphorus has sometimes been called the life-giving element. When there is a good growth of leaf and stalk, grain is increased in proportion as the phosphorus is increased, other things being equal. Where grain is not produced in proper proportion to leaf surface, it is an indication of a deficiency of phosphorus. Usually the growth of stalk and leaf is an approximate measure of the available nitrogen, and the grain produced is a measure of the phosphorus secured, above what was used for growing stalk. Land that is rich in humus and available nitrogen will grow straw and stalks largely in excess of a proportionate amount of grain and unless more phosphorus is applied there is a great waste.

Getting Ride of Moles in Lawns and Gardens

The best way to get rid of moles in lawns and gardens is to trap them, says the biological survey of the United States Department of Agriculture. If there are only a few, however, and it does not seem desirable to resort to trapping, good results may be obtained by the use of moth balls. Open the runways at the edge of the lawn or garden with a trowel and drop in a moth ball or two, or a spoonful of naphthalene flakes, and replace the earth. Moles dislike the odor, and it may prove fairly effective in keeping them away from the garden.

Oats for Stock

Corn must be exceedingly cheap to be more economical than oats for almost any class of live stock. If oats sell for 20 cents a bushel, oats makes an excellent feed for milk cows. Few experts in figuring rations for dairy cattle leave out oats. Among the most palatable feeds that can be given to milk cows are corn, oats, wheat bran, linseed oil meal and molasses. Oats is keeping pretty fast company when it is listed with such palatable feeds as corn and linseed meal, but it has been placed in such company by the best of authorities.

Mental Experiences

Here let us be reminded that in and of itself the physical body, like all that is material or mortal, is incapable of experiencing mental heat or cold, weakness or strength, sickness or health. Indeed, we know that, save for the so-called fleshly or carnal mind, which is unreal and untrue, the physical body could have no contact with persons, circumstances and things. How evident it is, therefore, that our human experiences are never physical (though seeming to be), but always mental and mental, and that the only way by which we can truly seek to meet the needs of our own and others' problems is by approaching them as mental problems! Accordingly, a Christian Science treatment deals, not with matter, but with mind, and always with a present human belief calling itself matter, time, and space.

It follows, therefore, that if we accept as real the testimony of mortal mind alias the material senses, we are apt to find ourselves contending on all sides with more or less discordant circumstances and conditions; whereas, if we judge according to spiritual sense, we shall see that we and others "live, and move, and have our being" in this wholly good universe of infinite Mind, divine reality, which contains no discordant persons or circumstances, and which is peopled by spiritual beings, divine ideas, under the government of divine Principle, Love. By refusing to accept sense-testimony and entertaining steadfastly the true, spiritual, scientific idea of the universe and a man's place in it, we are experiencing kindness and co-operation on every hand. Referring to this process, Mrs. Eddy writes on page 428 of Science and Health: "A demonstration of the facts of Soul in matter, and the resulting harmonization of material sense into harmony and immortality."

When, for example, the Syrian hordes, bent upon capturing him, surrounded Elisha at Dotham, Elisha's servant (symbolic of material sense) cried out in fear and trembling, saying, "Alas, my master! how shall we do?" With words of assurance Elisha (symbolic of spiritual sense) replied, "Fear not: for they that be with us are more than they that be with them." Having quieted his servant's fear, Elisha prayed that the young man's eyes should be opened to see spiritually

Accordingly, it should be understood that a Christian Scientist does not presume to heal man: for man is the image and likeness of God, and the perfect man has no defect and in no need of healing. The patient is not even a man who believes he is sick or a sinner, but a mesmeristic state of human belief calling itself a sick man or a sinner. Hence, a Christian Science treatment is a metaphysical treatment. It involves no personal contact with a personal healer. For this reason, Christian Science healing cannot be explained understandingly from the basis of one human personality trying to heal another human personality. The explanation becomes simple, however, when, according to the teaching, we recognize the effect of spiritual, scientific thinking, whereby we help ourselves and others by rejecting and dispelling the mesmerism claiming to be a sick person or a sinner and affirming to human consciousness the eternal fact that the universe and man are harmonious and perfect. There are no more herefore perfect even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect."

The Universal Remedy
In Christian Science, then, we learn that the real man (and this includes your true self) is always spiritual and intact, the reflection or idea of God, infinite good. He has never needed, has never suffered, any false appetites, has never lost any of his faculties. In fact, the real man has never had any material faculties to lose, because real faculties are spiritual and indestructible. Such experiences might seem to come to the human counterfeit of man called a mortal, but this would be due fundamentally to the erroneous supposition that man could, temporarily at least, lapse from spiritual perfection into mortality. If, however, human faculties should seem to be impaired or lost, a right or spiritual recognition of man's sinless, harmonious, indissoluble relationship to his divine Father, God, would restore those faculties to the normal standard which human belief has established for itself. Consequently, when he was asked, regarding the man whom he healed of blindness, whether the affliction was due to the man's own wrongdoing or to that of his parents, Jesus answered, "Neither," and showed the work of God fundamentally to be manifest in him."

About a year ago, for example, I met an elderly woman who had been almost totally blind. Turning to Christian Science for help, she learned joyfully for the first time that, instead of sending blindness, deafness, deformity, and other forms of affliction, God's only will is to set mankind free mentally, morally, and physically. Presently, her sight began to return. This enabled her with her husband to visit friends and relatives in other parts of the country, to make the wonderful lace for which the women of her country are noted. In the course of events, she became a member of the local Christian Science church, was elected First Reader, and without the aid of glasses served the usual term of three

However, for one to do justice in an hour to a theme that is infinite, is obviously an impossibility. Nevertheless, in the period at my disposal I have endeavored to show that (1) that original Christianity was essentially a religion of works and that accordingly, true Christianity must always be distinguished by spiritual healing; (2) that spiritual healing was a part of the Christian religion from probably three centuries before which it was obscured—temporarily lost to human apprehension—by the materialism of pagan Rome; (3) that, after a lapse of nearly sixteen centuries, the divine Principle of Christian healing was discovered and demonstrated by Mary Baker Eddy and by her, peculiarly, alone, and in the face of bitter opposition from pulpit and press, made available through the Christian Science text-book, "The First Church of Christ, to the Scriptures;" (4) that, through this discovery and this book, Mrs. Eddy has established the Christian Church on a spiritual, scientific, and demonstrable basis and named it the Church of Christ, Scientist, of which The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, is the Mother Church. WHITECAPS LOST SUNDAY TO IRONTON "9"

Teams Will Meet Again in Two Weeks for "Rubber" Game

The Charlevoix Whitecap baseball team lost a loosely played game Sunday afternoon at Ironton. The score was 9 to 4.

Charlevoix got 13 men on base, but only four men came home. Two double killings helped John Johnson, Ironton pitcher, out of holes, and seven men were left on base. Helms, Parsons, Sharrow and Coatta scored for Charlevoix. Sterritt drove in two runs, and Sharrow and Gordon each one.

For Ironton, Thompson, Passol and V. Boyer scored twice each, and Neilson, I. Boyer and Yarr each crossed the plate once.

For Charlevoix, Sterritt collected three hits, with Parsons, Coatta and Sharrow getting one each. Helms, Gordon, Williams and Newman each got to first once. Marshall went hitless.

The scheduled game with Advance was cancelled, due to the break-up of the Advance team. Ironton was substituted. The two teams will meet in two weeks in the rubber game. Each has won two games to date.

Guy John were the winning battery, and Coleman and Spears for the losers.

Amos John hurled the Indians to victory over Alden. Sunday, with Ray Hoak in the catcher's role. In addition to his fine mound work, John made four runs and batted a single, a pair of two-baggers and a triple. Bill Novak also featured at bat with a single, two doubles and a triple.

Alden scored their two runs in the fourth inning, while the Indians connected in nearly every stanza. Day and T. Smith pitched, and C. Smith caught for Alden.

The Indians are next slated to appear on the Beaver Island "Home Coming" celebration program. While plans are not completed as yet, it is expected they will play next Sunday, the following Wednesday and Sunday, and possibly each day of the celebration. An attempt is being made to schedule teams from either Manistique or Escanaba to oppose the Charlevoix outfit.

RIVIERA TENNIS TOURNAMENT MONDAY

7TH ANNUAL CHAMPIONSHIPS AT THE INN COURTS

Many Players of National Ranking Will Be Entered in All Divisions of Play

Play in the 7th annual Michigan Riviera championships, Northern Michigan's major tennis event of the 1932 summer season, will open Monday, August 15th, at The Inn clay courts.

Due to conflict with the Wisconsin state championships at Milwaukee, the Ohio Valley championships at Cincinnati, and the National Public courts tournament at Louisville, in play the same week, the local event this year will take on a regional aspect inasmuch as the large field of out-state stars that usually come here will take part in tournaments closer to their home cities.

It is understood that John Hennessey, Indianapolis, Ind., former Davis cup star and six times Riviera champion, will not defend his title. There is a possibility, however, that Gene Mako, Los Angeles, Calif., number two ranking boy's singles player and recent winner of the Western Michigan at Grand Rapids, and the annual Resorts' tourney at Grand Haven, will be an entry. Mako is one of the country's outstanding younger tennis stars.

Jack Harris, Chicago, well known to local tournaments, will head a contingent of Chicagoans. Andrew Treng and Doc Corbin, Detroit net stars; Jack Burgess, Flint, ranking junior and finalist at Bay View; V. McDowell and Welcome Lewis, Battle Creek; George Dinwiddie, New Orleans, Charlevoix open champion, and other players of note, have already sent in their entries. Northern Michigan resort colonies will furnish their usual quota of outstanding players in addition to those already listed.

In women's singles, outstanding entries include those of Mrs. Wm. B. Melvaine, Jr., and Mrs. Dan Caulkins, Chicago; Mrs. H. S. Lion, Cincinnati, Charlevoix open champion; Miss Helen Grawn, Detroit, Michigan junior girl champion; and the Misses B. Nichols, E. Nichols and Grace Rowe of Cincinnati.

Entries will close Sunday afternoon, August 14th, and the draw for positions will be made that evening. Events listed are men's singles and doubles, women's singles, junior singles and doubles. Gerald Ash, tennis professional at The Inn, will supervise the tournament.

The program opened with invocation by Rev. G. Russell Parker. Two poems, written for the occasion, one by a nephew, Lloyd Stevenson of London, Ont., and the other by Mrs. E. L. Dawson, were read. This was followed by the reading of rhymes on the place cards, which caused much merriment. The remainder of the afternoon was spent socially.

WEEKLY CAMP CHARLEVOIX NEWS COLUMN

Edited by
VINCENT ARNOLD

After a week of almost dead silence, Camp Charlevoix came to life with a bang Saturday when the Beaver Island and East Jordan trippers returned to the fold. The one-week Canadian group came in late Sunday night, aiding in the rejuvenation process, and now the camp is complete except for the five boys and two counselors who will be in Canada for three full weeks. This latter group is to arrive in camp about four days before closing time.

Judging by the glowing accounts of the boys, Beaver Island is a wonderful place to go on a camping trip. The hospitality of Andrew Gallagher and his family was a great factor in the success of the outing, and the boys and counselors have been loud in their praises of these fine people who were so interested as to offer their barn in case of rain, and to permit the campers to swim at their dock, in addition to many other courtesies.

Activities on this trip included two hikes, a long auto ride to the end of the island, an inspection of one of the lighthouses, a baseball game with Camp Sherwood which resulted in a victory for Charlevoix, and numerous fishing trips.

The juniors took two short trips last week, one to the old camp site, and the other to Whiting park. The second was by far the more interesting, and is worth a brief description.

Ira Hirschy, head counselor of the junior section, John Kohl, Dick Borstow, Sandy Sanders and Bob Abbott left camp in the "Zonta Wakuta" on Wednesday, August 3. They were out two nights, and last Friday evening were planning to return when the sudden blow on the lake caught them. After the little sailboat had been tossed about for several minutes, Ira decided to land at the nearest shore. Luckily, he chose a spot where some kind people lived and they helped the boys to dry out their clothing, at the same time warming their stomachs (the boys, not their own) with cocoa.

The following visited the camp over the week end: Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Schoepfle, Sandusky, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Smith, Farmington; Mr. and Mrs. A. R. McAndrew and daughter, Lorinda, of Ypsilanti.

The annual Camp Charlevoix carnival is to be held Saturday, August 13. We can promise you a very enjoyable afternoon if you will but take the trouble to come out. Bring the family and see "the greatest show on earth"—house of fun, puppet show, shooting gallery, ice cream, candy, and everything.

Dick Barstow and Eddie Lerchen opposed each other in the boys' finals of the Charlevoix tennis tournament. Dick, who comes from Midland, conquered Ed, a native of Bloomfield Hills, Detroit.

New Potato Disease Causing Serious Loss—Gaining Foothold in Northern Counties

If something isn't done to check the damage caused by the "yellow dwarf," Michigan's leading cash crop will be seriously impaired.

At a recent meeting held at Cadillac, the writer had the opportunity of visiting several fields that were a total loss. In one field of least 95 per cent of all hills were a total loss. In fact, the owner of the field can not possibly get his seed back.

The disease is so prevalent in several central Michigan counties that it is going to be necessary for them to purchase new seed. The question is, where can such seed be obtained. The answer is the upper peninsula and northern Michigan counties.

Charlevoix county up to the present time has had but little indication of "yellow dwarf" and the problem for us is to make a special effort to drive it out. This disease has three different stages. In the first stage it is noticed by a bunching of the tip leaves, and upon cutting, by brown flecking in the stems. It may or may not be accompanied by yellow leaves in the first stage. In the second stage the infected tuber only gets to about half growth and has a decided yellowing effect. In the last stage the tuber may not even send shoots above the ground, or, if it does, they will be only a few inches in height. The tubers are fastened tightly to the stalk and are not grown on stolons as should be the case in a normal growth. A badly infected hill will not grow marketable potatoes as the plant gives up the fight long before this, so the most dangerous stages are the first and second where it is more difficult to diagnose the disease.

14 Farmers Are Raising Certified Seed Potatoes

From a recent announcement Charlevoix county has a total of 75 acres that are grown by fourteen farmers. Of this acreage three acres are Russet Burbanks, three acres are Irish Cobbler, one acre White Rurals and the balance Russet Rurals.

For the state of Michigan 329 growers are raising 2,935 acres which is 552 less acres than for 1931. At the present time potatoes are looking fine and give every indication of producing a good crop.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

Sunday morning service, 10:45.

Subject, "Soul."

Wednesday evening at 7:45.

Reading room Tuesday and Saturday, 3:00 to 5:00 p. m. The public is cordially invited to attend our services and use our reading room.

"Spirit" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, August 7.

Among the Bible citations was this passage (Rev. 7:12): "Saying, Amen: Blessing, and glory, and wisdom, and thanksgiving, and honour, and power, and might, be unto God for ever and ever. Amen."

Correlative passages read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, included the following (p. 97): "The more material the belief, the more obvious its error, until divine Spirit, supreme in its domain, dominates all matter, and man is found in the likeness of Spirit, his original being."

POULTRY

MINERAL SUPPLY MAY CAUSE ILLS

Small Amount Only Needed With Meat Scraps.

Too much mineral in the chick ration may cause as much trouble as too little, declares P. B. Zumbro, extension specialist in poultry husbandry for the Ohio State university.

An oversupply of mineral may cause abnormal bone development in young chicks, and be responsible for chicken "going down on their legs" just as too little mineral may be responsible for abnormal development of bone with the same result.

If plenty of meat scrap and skim milk is included in the ration for chicks from hatching time to ten weeks of age, there is need for but little mineral materials in the ration, Zumbro says. Meat scrap contain 20 to 25 per cent of lime and calcium, the two minerals that make up 75 per cent of the ash in chickens, and one-tenth of the total acids in skim milk is phosphorus and calcium.

More minerals are required in the ration when some form of vegetable protein is substituted for meat scrap, or when a high-protein meat scrap is used, he says.

Zumbro recommends a ration containing 45 pounds of ground yellow corn, 15 pounds of middlings, 5 pounds of bran, 10 pounds of oats, and, to supply the minerals, 12 pounds of meat scrap, 5 pounds of dried milk, and 1 pound of salt.

Some poultrymen are mistakenly reducing the amount of cod liver oil fed in the ration if plenty of minerals are fed. The cod liver oil is necessary to supply the vitamins which enable the chicks to assimilate the minerals into the bones, Zumbro explains.

VITAMINS REDUCE LOSS OF CHICKS

Lack of These Essentials Cause of Many Evils.

It is necessary for the growing chick to have included in the ration substances which contain vitamins A, B, and D, says O. N. Massengale, poultry nutrition specialist at the New Jersey agricultural experiment station. The lack of either of these essential factors, he asserts, will give rise to stunted growth, a greater susceptibility to disease and a higher mortality.

The absence of vitamin A causes a nutritional disturbance called "ophthalmia," the absence of B causes polyneuritis and the absence of D causes leg weakness.

The best source of A and B in the ration is whole yellow corn meal. It is advisable to use the meal from the whole grain because the germ contains a great part of the vitamins have been lost with the removal of the germ. Cod liver oil is also an excellent source of A, whereas wheat bran is an excellent source of B.

Two well-known sources of the D vitamin are cod liver oil and sunlight. Since the sunlight is not always available in sufficient amounts, especially to birds in confinement, it is advisable to add 1 per cent of cod liver oil to the mash. Although a chick ration may be complete as far as protein and minerals are concerned, unless ample amounts of these important vitamins are present, the poultryman will be unsuccessful in raising the chicks to maturity.

Turkeys in Confinement Is Modern Development

Modern developments in marketing turkeys through pools and co-operative associations in the West are beginning to be felt in the eastern states. Working along similar principles of quality standardization on turkeys, here the Pacific coast egg producers, it begins to look like the western growers will teach the eastern growers a lesson, just as the western egg folks showed the eastern egg producers how to market white eggs in New York. Quality and standardized marketing must be preceded by quality and standardized production.

Right now it seems that the raising of turkeys in confinement is to follow close on the heels of raising chickens in confinement. The Pennsylvania experiment station has demonstrated the confinement raising of turkeys in a manner that exceeded all expectations.

Some growers in Maryland are also raising turkeys in close confinement with marked success.

Economical Egg Ration for Summer Production

Sixty per cent of the cost of egg production is usually feed cost, H. H. Alp, University of Illinois, told farmers at Urbana recently.

It is to the advantage of every poultryman to use good ration but as cheap ones as possible while eggs must sell for 20 cents a dozen, or less. An economical ration at present grain prices can be made by using 100 pounds yellow corn, 100 pounds of ground wheat, 100 pounds ground oats, 100 pounds meat scrap and five pounds salt. The price of this ration should be around $1.05 a hundred.

Poultry Notes

Late molters make a good winter layers as those which molt early.

Take the litter in the scratching sheds and houses often, so as to keep it clean and sanitary. A little disinfectant sprinkled amongst the straw will also assist in keeping it sanitary.

Charcoal helps to keep the chickens healthy and they like it, but it is not absolutely necessary. It may be made from wood, corn, wheat, barley or other grain.

The beak of a good hen is short and curved.

Hens that have plenty to eat otherwise may be fed moderate amount of apples. They do not take the place of green food, but hens get considerable enjoyment as well as a little nutriment from them.

Helping hens to feed happy in a good plan in the poultry business. They do not always reward their owner in a practical way, but are more likely to do so.

Each hen should lay an average of 13 eggs during August. Less than that means that closer culling of the flock is necessary.

Bolled rice, from which all the water has been boiled out, is good for chicks. It regulates their bowels and prevents diarrhea.

Train pullets not to be afraid of you. Fowls that are easily frightened never do so well, and cause lots of trouble about the hen house. A wild pullet is a nuisance in a well-regulated flock.

Turkeys and Chickens Should Be Separated

Turkeys and chickens cannot get along together. The intestinal parasites which bother turkeys do not seem to affect chickens and therefore, when the two come together, the least advantage is to the parasite carrying the blackhead organism and this soon spreads disease among the turkeys.

Remove all the turkeys from the poultry range, give them a light laxative ration, and change their runs as often as every two or three months during the winter and often during the summer. If you are limited on space for range, you can keep turkeys on a screen wire floor, using wire netting over the top of their run on the south side of the poultry house.

Never judge a man's greatness by the opinion his neighbor has of him.

Airplane Inventor Given New Type Car

Amelia Earhart, (inset) first woman to fly the Atlantic alone, christens with gasoline the new Essex Terraplane automobile announced today by the Hudson Motor Car Company at Detroit. The car christened by Miss Earhart was presented to Charles Dayton, Dayton, Ohio, inventor of the airplane, who is shown with the car. The new car was named the Terraplane, because for the first time it incorporates principles of a plane construction in automobile manufacture.

A LECTURE on CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

Entitled CHRISTIAN SCIENCE: ITS HEALING MISSION

by Robert Stanley Ross, C. S. B. of New York City

Member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts

The religion of Christian Science is winning public approval because it both promises unlimited good and fulfills its promise by delivering from discord of every sort those who embrace its teaching and yield to its divine influence. In comforting words of the Master, Christian Science says to all mankind, "Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest"—rest, not in a suppositional place called heaven, but here and now; for it is not in future heaven, but in present experience, that mankind needs help. Knowing this, Christian Scientists declare with Paul that "now is the day of salvation."

Although she discovered Christian Science in 1866, it was not until 1875, through her renowned textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," that Mary Baker Eddy published a complete and comprehensive exposition of this Science. Nevertheless, after a lapse of little more than half a century since this book first made its appearance, Christian Science healing is being widely demonstrated; Christian Science churches and societies in ever increasing number and unity may be found throughout the length and breadth of the civilized world; and the revered Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science is recognized at home and abroad as one of the foremost benefactors of the race.

Within this period, Christian Science has healed perhaps millions of persons, many of whom were suffering from diseases which from the ordinary medical point of view, were supposed to be incurable. It has restored the discouraged and hopeless to lives of joy and usefulness. It has rescued men and women from the vortex of false appetite, immorality, and vice. In place of fear and failure it has established assurance and success. Turning recently to a single issue of The Christian Science Journal, for example, I found recorded there healings of blood poisoning, deafness, chronic appendicitis, spinal deformity, internal hemorrhage, heart disease, nervous prostration, epilepsy, paralysis, brain fever, neuralgia, rheumatism, lumbago, asthma, pneumonia, tuberculosis, indigestion, gastritis, constipation, morphine habit, fear, melancholia, grief, resentment, criticism, and intolerance. Such as these were the "signs following" that made it possible and necessary for Mrs. Eddy to organize a church designed to commemorate the word and works of our Master, which should reinstate primitive Christianity and its lost element of healing" (Church Manual, p. 17).

Practical Christianity
In other words, Christian Science is demonstrable religion, a religion of works. This religion would have you accept its teachings not in mere belief or blind faith, but only when you have learned how to demonstrate its divine Principle, which is infinite good. Owing to its provable nature, Christian Science is attracting to its ranks practically-minded, deliberate, thoughtful men and women from every walk of life—men and women who are moved not by appeals to mere religious sentiment, but by sound reason and unanswerable results. In most cases, these persons have turned to Christian Science because it has shown them how to think their way out of difficulties, whether mental or moral, physical or financial, and usually after other means and methods had failed to help them. Surely the Christianity of Jesus was no religion of forms and ceremonies, of creeds and dogmas! His ministry was a life of loving, unselfish and intelligent service to his fellow-men. The Scriptures tell us that the Master went from place to place comforting the sorrowing, healing the sick, raising the dead, and that his pupil was a Galilean hillside or a fisherman's boat.

Moreover, we need to bear in mind that the Master accomplished his healings by recourse to spiritual means only. Although the age had its material methods of treatment, Jesus neither used them or recommended their use to others. By a process that was evidently unfailing, he healed—in most cases instantaneously—both functional and organic diseases, overcame poverty and other phases of limitation, and raised the dead. So inseparable were his precepts and practice that Jesus declared that his true followers would be known, characterized, or distinguished, not by accepting and adhering to mere doctrinal beliefs, but only by doing the works that he did, saying, "He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and, 'Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead, cast out devils.'"

Accordingly, on page 138 of Science and Health, Mrs. Eddy says: "Jesus established in the Christian era the precedent for all Christianity, theology, and healing. Christians are under as direct orders now, as they were then, to be Christlike, to possess the Christ-spirit, to follow the Christ-example, and to heal the sick as well as the sinning."

Nevertheless, in the face of all this, there are those who contend that the works of our Master were the result of miraculous interpositions of divine power peculiar to him alone and that even the aspiration to follow his healing example would be little short of blasphemy. Over against this point of view, however, we have not only the Master's own injunctions, two of which have already been quoted, but we have the book of Acts and later evidence to prove that the immediate disciples and others obediently demonstrated this healing power. How, then, are we to reconcile these facts to the claim that Christian healing was a supernatural power available only to "Christ Jesus"? Is it not more reasonable to conclude that Jesus' healings were accomplished by the application of a divine law which he understood far better than others, which he made known in a general way to his disciples, and which they, in turn, made known to others? Is it not more reasonable to conclude that he and they dealt not with that which was the infraction or setting aside of divine law, but with that which was the very fulfillment or demonstration of divine law? Granting this, we must admit also that a divine law which healed the sick in the first century is equally capable of healing the sick in the twentieth century.

Healing Divinely Natural
Furthermore, the word translated "miracle" in the New Testament does not in the original Greek signify that which is supernatural. According to one dictionary, it means "a mighty work," "an act of power," "a sign." We find also that the Scriptural Greek word translated "sign" is identical with the Greek word that in other parts of the New Testament is translated "miracle." Plainly, therefore, "miracles" were never intended to signify supernatural occurrences, but were to be signs, indications, or evidences of divine law operating in human experience. Accordingly, with her unflinching insight and clarity, Mrs. Eddy, on page 591 of Science and Health, defines "Miracle" as "That which is divinely natural, but must be learned humanly; a phenomenon of Science," and on page 135 she writes, "The miracle introduces no disorder, but unfolds the primal order, establishing the Science of God's unchangeable law."

By consulting the New Testament records you will find that, without drugs or surgery, manipulation or mesmerism, Jesus healed blindness, deafness, dropsy, epilepsy, fever, hemorrhage, insanity, leprosy, paralysis, and raised from the dead not only Lazarus, but also the daughter of Jairus and the son of the widow of Nain. The same records show that Peter, who was one of the immediate disciples, healed a man who was born lame, cured another person of paralysis, and raised Dorcas from the dead. They show that Philip, who was an immediate disciple also, healed insanity, paralysis, and lameness. They show that Paul, who was not one of the twelve, healed deformity, fever, hemorrhage, serpent bite, and restored Eutychus to life. Moreover, history shows that healing by spiritual means characterized Christian discipleship for more than two hundred years. It was upon this sure basis, this firm foundation of spiritual understanding, this petros, or rock, of demonstration, and not upon the personal Peter, that Jesus said his church, the church that would truly represent his teachings, would be built.

In the third century, however, the Roman Emperor Constantine, out of gratitude for his healing from a supposedly incurable disease, became an enthusiastic adherent of Christianity, whereupon the new religion immediately became popular. All Rome embraced it. To profess Christianity was the expedient thing to do. The Romans, however, were too fond of image worship to turn wholeheartedly to Him who must be worshipped "in spirit and in truth." Consequently they merely shifted from one form of idolatry to another by turning from statues of Roman Gods to images of Christian notables as their objects of religious devotion. Accustomed by a superficial and self-indulgent society to the little understandings of their teachings and practiced their less; lacking the support of a unified organization; and having no written directions to which its faithful adherents could refer for guidance, the primitive church lost its hold upon divine Principle, and Christian healing as Jesus taught and demonstrated it, ceased.

Discovery and Demonstration
Is it not significant that the Master never reduced his teachings to writing? All that we know about his words and works has been handed down to us in the writings of others. That Jesus was the foremost Exemplar of Truth's dominion over error there is no room for doubt. So closely did his earthly life conform to Christ, the divine ideal, that he became known as Jesus the Christ, or Jesus the Goodness man. Had the age been prepared to simulate divine healing as a Science, God would certainly have made it possible for the Master, above all others, to record it. But in the very fact that Jesus himself looked definitely to the future for the coming of "Scripture of truth" (plainly not a person) who would abide forever and lead into "all truth,"—in this, I say, we have clear indication that the final revelation of Truth, symbolized in the Apocalypse or Revelation of John as an angel with a "little book" and as "a woman clothed with the sun," was yet to come.

In her brief autobiography entitled, "Retrospection and Introspection," Mrs. Eddy tells us that for twenty years by medical and other experiments she had been tracing all physical effects to a mental cause, that finally her recovery from the effects of a supposedly fatal accident was the falling apple that led to her great discovery. To be sure, others, both before and since the apostolic era, had experienced divine healing, but Mrs. Eddy was the first to trace in all history to discover the underlying Principle of such healing and to make it known to the world. In order to do this, Mrs. Eddy, who had always been a close student of the Bible, withdrew from society and for three years devoted herself to a more systematic and prayerful study of the Scriptures. After proving, by healing the sick quickly and permanently, that this divine Principle is demonstrable, Mrs. Eddy named her discovery Christian Science, saying on page 147 of Science and Health: "Our Master healed the sick, and taught the generalities of his divine Principle to his students; but he left no definite rule or demonstrating this Principle of healing and preventing disease. This rule remained to be discovered in Christian Science."

Putting it simply, then, Christian Science is the discovery and scientific exposition of the divine Principle by which Christ Jesus performed his mighty works. Mrs. Eddy named her discovery Christian because it is compassionate and helpful. She named it Science because it is based upon divine Principle. God is demonstrated according to rule, and requires exact knowledge on the part of those who would utilize it. It follows, therefore, that a Christian Scientist is one who aims, in so far as he understands them, to exemplify all the teachings of Christ Jesus in his daily life, and that a Christian Science practitioner is one who understands this Science well enough to invoke its divine Principle successfully not only in his own behalf, but in behalf of those who may call upon him for aid. Consequently on page 141 of Science and Health, Mrs. Eddy writes: "In healing the sick and sinning, Jesus elaborated the fact that the healing effect followed the understanding of the divine Principle and of the Christ-spirit which governed the corporeal Jesus. For this Principle there is no dynasty, no ecclesiastical monopoly. Its only crowned head is immortal sovereignty. Its only priest is the spiritualized man."

The Divine Principle
At this point, however, the question may arise, What is the divine Principle of Christian Science to which you refer so frequently? In order to answer this question satisfactorily, let us turn to that momentous record of spiritual creation which will be found in the first chapter of Genesis. There we read, "And God saw every thing that he had made, and, behold, it was very good." Commenting thereupon, Mrs. Eddy writes on page 521 of Science and Health: "All that is made is the work of God, and all is good. We leave this brief, glorious history of spiritual creation (as stated in the first chapter of Genesis) in the hands of God, not of man, in the keeping of Spirit, not of matter,—joyfully acknowledging now and forever God's supremacy, omnipotence, and omniscience."

Therefore, in Christian Science we begin with God, infinite good, present spiritual perfection, as the divine Principle of true thought and demonstration. According to this Science, all that truly exists is included in this infinite, ever present, perfect creation, in which there can be no fear, nothing to be afraid of, and no one susceptible to fear or any other frailty. In infinite good, existence must always be peaceful, joyous and confident. It is the realm, not of discordant persons, circumstances, and things, but of spiritual ideas, living, moving, and having their being in the clear, unclouded consciousness of infinite Mind, and aware now of their immortality in God, who is infinite Life. Consequently, the Christian Scientist prays, not for God to do more than He has already done, but for the faith, humility, and love that will enable him to lift thought above the mesmerism of sense-testimony and joyfully recognize the glorious fact that God's work is finished, that creation is fully accomplished, that divine Love is infinite.

Surely, infinite good knows nothing about a mist of evil or error that is supposed to have arisen in the midst of primeval harmony, beclouded spiritual consciousness, and recreated the universe, including man, upon a material basis! Surely, the so-called carnal mind, otherwise known as Satan, adversary, or devil, has never walked to and fro in the realm of reality (there is no other realm) seeking whom it could devour! To scientific, inspired thought, that is, to thought conscious only of God, infinite good, there is not and never has been any sin, disease, and death. If the mist of error seems to be holding mesmerism sway over human consciousness, it can never interfere with nor alter the eternal fact that perfection is. Mankind needs only to be awakened from its baseless belief in a power opposed to God, infinite good, in order progressively to throw off, as unreal and untrue, the shackles of sin, disease, and death; for, notwithstanding this mystified, human, finite sense of things to the contrary, all is well, and God's universe is now and forever spiritual, harmonious, and intact, a universe altogether lovely and lovable.

Unreality of Fear
Although they may not have understood clearly how to meet the error, it is noteworthy that patriarchs, prophets, and apostles urged upon the people of their time to be not afraid. And why? Because they could see that fear is the chief obstacle to human progress, brooding more or less ominously over all mankind. They knew that fear underlies practically all the sin and sickness, sorrow and suffering, failure and disaster that seems to beset the race. Mortals have been taught to be afraid of the air they breathe and of the food they eat. They have been taught to be afraid of heat and afraid of cold, to be afraid of light and afraid of darkness. They have been taught to be afraid to live and afraid to die. They have been taught to be so afraid of God that most of them have elected to stay where they are rather than to take a chance with the heaven of old-school theology with its promise of enduring health and happiness only beyond the grave. Some time ago, for example, while motoring with some friends, I passed a cemetery and to my astonishment read these words in the granite arch above the entrance, "Gate to Heaven." Here was the mistaken admission, commonly made by Christian people (Continued on page 7.)

FUNERAL OF SHERIFF VAUGHAN SATURDAY

Charlevoix County Official Died Last Wednesday Afternoon

A short prayer service at the residence on Antrim street and funeral services at the Methodist church in Boyne City at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, were held for David Vaughan, Charlevoix county sheriff, who died late Wednesday afternoon.

Rev. Paul Boodagh had charge of the services, which were under auspices of the Masonic order of which
Mr. Vaughan was a member.

Sheriff Vaughan, who was completing his sixth year in office, was born July 29, 1876, on a farm on the peninsula near East Jordan. With the exception of a few years' residence in Mancelona, he had spent his entire life in this county. He was engaged in business at Boyne City for many years and served on the police force of that city seven years prior to his election to the office of sheriff.

As a county officer, Mr. Vaughan was extremely efficient and conscientious. He leaves an enviable record for his successor to equal.

Surviving besides the widow are a sister, Mrs. Mary Buckwheat, and two brothers, John and William Vaughan, all of Boyne City.

Mr. Vaughan was also a member of the Moose lodge.

CHARLEVOIX COUNTY NURSERY HAS EXPERT

Charles J. Hudson, Noted Horticulturalist, an Associate

Charles J. Hudson Jr., nationally known radio speaker, public speaker and garden expert on all phases of horticulture, is now associated with the Charlevoix County Nurseries, located on the Boyne City road just east of the Ironton ferry.

Mr. Hudson was formerly horticulturalist of the world famous Garfield Park conservatory in Chicago, and is well known throughout the country for his work in the educational and practical work in the gardening field. He has come to the Charlevoix County Nursery to assist in popularizing that nursery, and to assist everyone in his gardening problems.
All are invited to call on Mr. Hudson at the nursery and get his free advice on any or all of their problems in gardening.

The Charlevoix County Nursery has made its Evergreen Arboretum a reality, and the public is invited to watch the growth of this arboretum of national importance. The nursery is also starting to make a specialty of high grade perennial plants and seeds of the best sorts. The developments of their show grounds, illustrating the various uses of all kinds of plants, will be of unusual interest to all residents of upper Michigan.

Regular lectures, which will be announced later, will be held on the nursery grounds at regular intervals in order to get people better acquainted with the possibilities of gardening, and to help them to better appreciate nature in all its forms.

It is the policy of the nursery to encourage everybody to make it their headquarters for free advice and enjoyments in everything pertaining to gardening.

LEGION DRUM CORPS TO STATE CONVENTION

Benefit Affairs to Raise Expense Money Are Announced

Leslie T. Shapton post No. 226, American Legion, at its regular weekly meeting Tuesday evening, decided by unanimous vote to confine its welfare work during the coming winter strictly to its own members.

In any way it is possible for the post to assist other organizations in the work of caring for the community's poor, it will contribute its services, but the members feel that the post should not again assume sole or even major responsibility for the work, nor go in debt as they did last winter to conduct it. It may not be generally known, but the contributions from outside sources, though generous, failed to cover but a small portion of the expense and most of the funds had to be raised by post activities and payment of the Legion's own current bills deferred. It is to be hoped that some other organization in the community will take up the work this winter.

The post also decided to send the hugle and drum corps to Kalamazoo on August 22nd to take part in the state convention parade and urge Charlevoix's claim to the 1933 state convention among the delegates there. The proceeds of next Sunday's boat excursion to Beaver island, will be used to aid this purpose and on Friday evening, August 19th, another of the Legion's popular treasure hunts will be staged to raise additional funds. A boxing match, at which some of the top-notchers have agreed to fight to help the corps to go south, will also be held in the near future, probably Wednesday evening,
August 17th.

Members of the hugle and drum corps are requested to turn out Sun-

"I DROVE SMACK INTO A BLIZZARD"

An Interview by
ROBERT J. CASEY
Chicago Daily News Reporter

F. J. Corcoran, master mechanic of Kansas City, says that proper lubrication has a lot to do with engine power. He drives a Nash.

THERE was snow in the air and ice on the pavement and the hill up from the Missouri bottoms seemed almost perpendicular as E. J.
Corcoran, master mechanic for the Kansas City Light and Power Company, turned the nose of his 1929 Nash up the grade without bothering to change gears.

"They'll tell you that engine power comes out of the fuel," he said as the car began to accelerate. "But I'm telling you that nobody is going to take this hill on high without proper lubrication. Listen to the engine. It sounds just as it did the day it came off the showroom floor. And that's Iso-Vis oil.

"I drove to Colorado last summer. It was 119 degrees in the shade when I went through Salina. The average temperature for the whole trip was never below 102 and a week after leaving Kansas City I was on top of Pike's Peak in a blizzard. There never was a time on all that trip when you couldn't have put your hand on the radiator.

"I've got 38,500 miles on this car right now and you couldn't ask any better performance."

Mr. Corcoran's 38,500 trouble-free miles prove again what Iso-Vis has demonstrated in laboratory tests and in A.A.A. tests on the Indianapolis Speedway—Positive Lubrication Protection. Iso-Vis (a Standard from dilution. See the Ball

COMMERCE BOOY TO MAKE DRIVE

MUST RAISE FUNDS FOR NEXT YEAR'S OPERATIONS

Most Pressing Need Is to Provide Proper Compensation for Corresponding Secretary at Bureau

According to its usual annual custom, the finance committee of the Charlevoix Association of Commerce will shortly make a drive for funds to carry on the work of the organization.

The commercial association in every town should be and usually is the hub around which all of the community's activities turn. But to be a hub in a wheel is not enough. Power must be transmitted to the hub which in turn drives the wheel. The power in this case is money. It is not sufficient for a community to form or cause to be formed within itself an organization to conduct its affairs and then, content with its work, sit down with its hands in its lap and expect that organization to function without proper support.

In Charlevoix, much criticism has been directed against the Association of Commerce—chiefly on the score of its having neglected to do something. But, if these criticisms are analyzed, it will generally be found that the thing left undone took money to do and there was no money available. There is seldom a lack of enthusiasm or initiative on the part of the workers who are assured that there are sufficient funds to secure the success of their plans. Criticism is a useful thing, but it comes more gracefully from those who are playing the game than from the spectators on the side lines. If a man were drowning before one's eyes, the witness would expect a witness of the impending tragedy to jump in and try to save him and not stand idly on shore and criticize his technique as a swimmer.

There are many activities along the lines of advertising, improvement of resort facilities, conduct of summer recreational and sports programs and development of beaches, parks, playgrounds, etc., in which the local Association of Commerce may and should engage. They are too many to enumerate here, but chiefest and most immediate of the matters with which the association must deal is that of proper compensation for the secretary in charge of the information bureau who handles the work of correspondence and other necessary office details and who carries out the orders of the president and his assistant committee men.

Fred V. Tyler, the present incumbent of this office, is also an employee of the Michigan department of state, selling automobile license plates and acting as the local representative of the state in all matters affecting the transfer of ownership of motor vehicles. In the spring of 1931, the handling and recording of automobile operator and chauffeur license applications were added to his other duties. As adjutant of the local Legion post, he handled, during the past winter, the bookkeeping for the extensive community relief work done by the post and which saved the county hundreds of dollars. As a member of the Legion convention committee of three, which is endeavoring with considerable promise of success to secure the 1933 state convention of the Legion for Charlevoix, he will assume further responsibilities. This is a matter which means in the neighborhood of $100-000 increased revenue for the town, if the efforts of the local post are successful.

A report of the business transacted at the information bureau since the first of the year for the association shows that 175 inquiries were answered by letter; about 100 written inquiries for accommodations were listed and mailed to nine hotels and 34 letters of inquiry regarding employment were answered. Charle-voix's attractive descriptive folder was mailed out to the number of 2,062 and 500 map booklets were also distributed among the towns of the region. Probably another 500 pieces of literature were distributed at the bureau and some 500 inquiries, ranging from where to buy fish worms to the best route to Quebec, were answered personally by the secretary.

For the state department, since November 13, 1931, a total of 1,243 sets of automobile license plates were sold from this office and, since May 13, 1931, a total of 54 chauffeur license applications and 662 operator license applications have been issued.

The salary set at present for the corresponding secretary is $1,000 per annum. To make up the difference between this sum and the now available annual revenues of the office and to take care of other needs of the association, will require a sum of between $600 and $700.

EAST JORDAN MASONS PLAN COUNTY PICNIC

Event to Be Held August 25th at Whiting County Park

At the last regular meeting of the East Jordan Masonic lodge, a committee was appointed consisting of Barney Milstein, Sam Rogers and William Sanderson, to make arrangements with the Charlevoix county
Masonic lodges and Eastern Stars, to have a pot-luck supper and evening entertainment, to be held in Whiting park, August 25th, at 5 o'clock.

They plan to have as many of the Grand Lodge officers present as possible. It is hoped that this gathering of Charlevoix county Masonic fraternities will become an annual affair.

HOME-COMING HAS LARGE ATTENDANCE

PROGRAM AT BEAVER ISLAND STARTED SATURDAY

Next Sunday to Big Day With Crowning of "Miss Beaver Island"—Many Attending

The Beaver Island home-coming program, which continues through Wednesday, August 24th, opened Saturday afternoon with impressive ceremonies depicting the landing of Fr. Baraga, French missionary, who founded the first Indian mission on the island.

Subsequent days have furnished entertainment of a varying nature, providing plenty of activity for a large crowd of people who have gone to the island for the event.

The program Sunday opened at 10
a. m. with pontifical mass by Bishop
Joseph Pinton of Grand Rapids.
American Legion posts of the district were greeted there at 1 o'clock and took part in the day's activities.
Charlevoix won the ball game 10 to 4 from a picked island team and other features were Indian dances and departure ceremonies.

Tuesday was field day with a full program of land sports at the light-house point. Thursday's features include horse racing and a "treasure hunt" while Saturday will be marine day with swimming races, canoe tilting and races for gasoline fishing craft.

At noon next Sunday, the popularity contest to select "Miss Beaver Island" will come to a close. According to reports, little information is available concerning the prospective winner, as votes are being held back until late in the contest. The crowning ceremonies will take place at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, with officials of the Northern Michigan
Knights of Columbus officiating. The Knights will leave from Petoskey on a special excursion arranged for that day.

The program will be brought to a close at 7:30 the evening of August 24th, with a farewell party. Judging from the success of the event, its sponsors will probably start immediate plans to make the home-coming an annual affair.

INDIANS WIN FROM PICKED ISLAND "9"

Took Sunday Contest 10 to 4—Play at Home-Coming Again Sunday

The Charlevoix Indians won 10 to 4 from a picked team on the Home
Coming program at Beaver island,
Sunday afternoon.

The contest was a close and interesting one throughout. The islanders led 4 to 1 in the 6th inning when the Indians brought in three runs to tie the count. The game was deadlocked until the last half of the 9th, when Charlevoix went on a batting rampage which resulted in six runs.

Colby and Tookolo were the battery for the winners, and Somerville and Swafford for the losers.
The Indians are scheduled to meet either Escanaba or Manistique at St.
James, Sunday. Their next home game will be played here on Sunday,
August 28th.

RIVIERA TOURNAY MATCHES STARTED

SMALL BUT SELECT FIELD OF PLAYERS ENTERED

Matches in Men's and Junior Singles Opened Monday With Play
Conducted Afternoons

With a small but select field entered, especially in the junior and women's singles divisions, play opened Monday afternoon in the 7th annual Michigan Riviera tennis championships at The Inn clay courts.

Three even brackets of sixteen, the smallest entry in Riviera history, are competing.

In men's singles, Jack Harris, Chicago, heads the upper bracket, and James Bryan, Sequanota and St.
Louis, Mo., the lower. Others seeded are Harold Kaplan and Gershon Levy, a couple of promising Detroit juniors.

The women's singles draw has several outstanding players, including Mrs. Wm. E. McVaine, Jr., Chicago;
Mrs. Frances Rouse, co-holder of the Detroit women's doubles title; Miss Helen Grawn, Detroit, Michigan junior girl champion.

The junior singles field is the strongest in Riviera history. Don Sexton, Lansing, is defending his title he won last year. Opposing him and seeded in their order are Harold Kaplan, Detroit; George Burroughs, Flint; Gershon Levy and Irving Rik-ter, Detroiters.

Play will be conducted afternoons because of the light entry. Matches in men's and junior singles was started Monday and in women's singles Wednesday afternoon. Favorites came through easily in preliminary and first round matches of men's singles, but in the junior division, Walter Korney, Lansing, staged a decided upset Monday afternoon by eliminating Harold Kaplan, Detroit, top seeded junior, by scores of 4-6, 6-4, 6-3. Korney out-lobbed Kaplan to take the last two sets after dropping the first.

Following are the results of play completed Tuesday:

Men's Singles—Preliminary Hans Schjolin, Birmingham, def.
Wm. McChesney, St. Louis, Mo., 2-6,
6-2, 6-3; Charles Fox, Jr., St. Louis, Mo., def. M. Rosenberg, Detroit, 6-2, 6-0; Henry Balaban, Chicago, def.
V. McDowell, Battle Creek, default.

Men's Singles—First Round
James Bryan, St. Louis, Mo., def.
Reese Cramer, Detroit, 6-1, 6-1; David Levy, Detroit, 6-2, 6-4; Harold Kaplan, Detroit, def. R. N. Barard, 6-1, 6-2; Jack Harris, Chicago, def. John Coleman, Jr., Chicago, default; M.
D. Corbin, Detroit, def. Charles Fox,
Jr., St. Louis, Mo., 6-0, 6-4.

US-131 RE-LOCATION IS UP TO REGION

STATE WILL DO WORK IF RIGHT-OF-WAY IS GIVEN

Charlevoix-Emmet County Must Arrange This Detail Without Cost to State

Grading of the new location of US-131 north of Boyne Falls was promised by state authority last week on the condition the right of way is obtained without cost to the state.

Grover C. Dillman, state highway commissioner, and Frank D. Fitzgerald, secretary of state, made the promise after hearing a delegation from Emmet and Charlevoix counties present their petition for the highway.

"The state is willing to go ahead with the grading and will pay cost of moving buildings on the proposed location but is unable to finance the right-of-way," Dillman said.

Several of the 20 men who made the trip to Lansing spoke at the hearing and declared the unemployment situation in the district would be considerably alleviated if work on the road could be started this fall.

Commissioner Dillman asked the members point blank if the community desired action on this proposed 9.4 miles above all others. It was agreed that this project would furnish more actual labor in less time than any other and the committee's answer was in the affirmative.

At the hearing it was announced by the highway committee of the administrative board that the department would only approve roads where the right-of-way is secured by the community asking for the roads.

"We have abandoned the policy of paying for right-of-way," said Commissioner Dillman. "Our funds are considerably less than in former years, and every dollar we might pay for right-of-ways is that much less for actual road building."

"We will send Emmet and Charlevoix counties a form of agreement, which will provide that the local authorities secure the right-of-way without cost to the department.
Meanwhile we will finish plans and send blue prints showing the location approved by our engineers."

"The state, however, will pay the cost of moving the buildings now occupying the proposed location of the highway. The local communities must arrange for the land."

Federal restrictions require the work to be done by July 1, 1933, state a maximum number of hours per week for workers, and provide a minimum daily wage.

Attending from Charlevoix county were W. E. Byers, H. A. Craig and
R. T. Davis of Charlevoix, P. H.
Wangeman of East Jordan, L. C.
Rouse of Boyne City, W. J. Pearson and H. C. Myers of Boyne Falls, and Messrs. Haas, Buckley, Gonzales and Whitfield of Wailoun Lake, Em-met citizens at the conference in addition to Chairman George W. Mc-Cabe, were Y. Jepperson, N. W.
Wells, George F. Stringham, Robert
D. Tripp, John A. Lake, Charles J.
Gray and D. H. Hinkley.

While securing the right-of-way options without available funds, is considered no easy task, the members of the delegation will attempt to do so, pointing out that building of the road will greatly increase the value of the properties through which it passes. In addition, the county tax payers will be relieved of an extra amount in the poor fund, if the grading work can be carried on during the winter, thus furnishing employment to many willing workers, who may otherwise have to apply for aid.

MICHIGAN SPUDS TO BREAK RECORD

Abundant Rains Assure Largest Crop in History

Ample rain and cool weather of early June have caused Michigan farmers to anticipate the largest potato crop on record. The rainfall has produced large sets of tubers per hill and the cool weather greatly swelled the bottoms.

First diggings were of high quality and brought $1.25 a bushel, a 25 to 35 cent premium over Virginia and Carolina Irish Cobbles.

Early onion planting also thrived under these conditions and the crop is moving to market two weeks ahead of normal.

CONTRIBUTE SERVICE TO WELFARE WORKERS

Home Economics Extension Woman to Assist Other County Units

A movement for all engaged in home economics extension work or interested in it to contribute service to the welfare groups in their community is being backed by the state advisory council, under the direction of Miss Edna V. Smith, state leader of home demonstration agents and chairman of the committee.

The service will be contributed by means of clothing clinics and through supervising the canning of surplus garden products. The council at its last meeting also voted to recommend that home economics groups cooperate with the better home movement in all counties possible.

The advisability of an executive committee in each county carrying on home economics extension work was favorably discussed by the group. The purpose of the committee will be to divide the responsibility of the work equally, each member to be placed in charge of certain definite phases of the work. There will be further discussion of the project in the various counties under Miss Smith's direction.

OBITUARY

Obituary of Charles Blanchard Gale, including a short review of the address of Rev. G. R. Parker:

Charles Blanchard Gale was born in Albion, Michigan, March 20, 1864, and passed away in Charlevoix August 12, 1932. In the early 90's he came to Calumet, Michigan, and for twenty-five years engaged in business at that place. From there he came to Charlevoix where he spent the remainder of his days. He is survived by one sister, Mrs. Nellie Gale Iddings, and a small group of more distant relatives.

Mr. Gale graduated from high school at the age of 16 but did not continue his education in a college. He did extensive reading and studying and became what one might call a self-educated man. His father was an inventor, and in his remarks, Rev. Parker spoke of using Gale farm implements when a young man on his father's farm in lower Michigan. Rev. Parker also gave a statement of "as he knew Mr. Gale." As a splendid spirit with a deep community interest, in its business, religious, social and recreational life. He impressed those whom he met of his sincerity in his ideas and judgments. He was musical and with no mean ability in the literary field.

The burden of Rev. Parker's remarks was the end of all things material. Each day has its sunset, each year its December. Youth ends in manhood and womanhood and the river ends itself in the lake, gulf or ocean. There is an end to the day's work and of discipline and sorrow. Motion pictures taken from a large floating down a river in England by a friend of Rev. Parker's portrays of life. Scenes of beauty an occasional one of destruction. Then with a click the picture ends. Things that have no end are the "Righteous Love" of God, the eternal love of the Father, and the work of the Comforter.

GROUSE SEASON OPEN OCTOBER 1

MICHIGAN HUNTERS GET CHANCE AT FINE GAME BIRD

Conservation Commission Sets Hunting Season Dates and Fixes Bag Limits

Upper peninsula hunters will have their first opportunity in years to shoot ruffed grouse, next October since the conservation commission did not renew the closing order. The commission also approved regulations conforming with the federal regulations for migratory bird seasons, bag limits and minor rules.

The open season for ruffed grouse in the upper peninsula this fall will be October 1 to 12, inclusive. The lower peninsula season will be the same as last year, October 15 to 26, inclusive. The bag limit of five in one day and ten in a season remains unchanged.

Among the more important changes in the waterfowl regulations to be effective during the coming fall include the lengthening of the duck season to two months, from noon October 1 to sunset November 30; limiting the number of certain species which may be taken in a day; and limiting the number of live duck decoys that may be shot over at one gunning stand to 25. There will be no open season on woodducks, ruddy ducks, buffleheads, Ross' geese and cackling geese to conform with federal regulations.

The game bird and waterfowl seasons to be effective this year are:

Chinese ring-necked pheasants (male): October 15-26, inclusive in lower peninsula. Closed season in upper peninsula. Bag limit: 2 in one day, 4 in possession and 4 in season.

Ruffed grouse: October 1-12, inclusive in upper peninsula, and October 15-26, in lower peninsula. Bag limit: 5 in one day, 10 in possession and 10 in season.

Prairie chicken: upper peninsula October 1-12, inclusive; lower peninsula October 15-26, inclusive, north of the north line of Van Buren, Kalamazoo, Calhoun, Jackson, Washtenaw and Wayne counties. Bag limit: 5 in one day; 10 in possession; 10 in season.

Waterfowl (except woodducks, olders, ruddy ducks, buffleheads, Ross' geese and cackling geese) noon October 1, E. S. T., to sunset November 30. Bag limit: in one day 15, in aggregate of all species of which not more than 10 in the aggregate may be taken of following: canvasback, redhead, greener and lesser scaup, ring neck, bluewing, greenwing and cinnamon teal, shoveler and gadwall. Two days' bag limit may be in possession at one time; 100 in season.

Geese and brant: noon October 1, E. S. T., to sunset November 30. Bag limit: 4 in one day (combined) and 5 (combined) in possession at one time.

Jacksnipe and coot: noon October 1 to sunset December 15. Bag limit: 10 in one day; 20 in possession; 50 in season.

Woodcock: sunrise October 15 to October 26 in lower peninsula. Closed season in upper peninsula. Bag limit: 4 in one day; 8 in possession at one time; 16 in season.

Florida gallinules and rails: noon October 1 to sunset November 30. Bag limit: 10 in one day; 20 in possession and 50 in season (combined).

Under the federal regulations the season on woodcocks is closed for the upper peninsula. The department of conservation sought a change in the federal ruling so as to permit hunting the bird north of the Straits but the request was not granted.

W. C. T. U. NOTES

"Campaign Issues and Candidates" was the topic discussed at the August meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union held last Friday in the city park, following a one o'clock picnic dinner. There were 84 present.

The program opened with the flag salute and singing of the national anthem. Mrs. M. S. Zachery read "The American Creed." Mrs. Wm. Poole led the devotional service. A magazine article, "Mrs. Average Dry Does Her Bit," was reviewed by Mrs. Leonard.

The assigned topic was treated in a round table discussion led by Mrs. Salton-tall. In this way the records and platforms of those seeking nomination at the primaries September 13th were made known, where inside information was available.

Mrs. Rauch lived the meeting by introducing a new song, "Drier Than We Used to Be Thirteen Years Ago," which was sang with enthusiasm.

Announcement was made of the next meeting, which will be held September 9th, also of the district convention to be held at Central Lake September 20 and 21.

The million signature campaign of the National Council of Women has resulted to date in 400,000 women signing petitions to the governments of the world to send representative women to the congress to be held in Chicago next year.

One of these petitions may be signed at the Postal Telegraph Co. office, No. 313 Bridge street, and signatures should be credited to either the General Federation of Women's Clubs or the National W. C. T. U. as local units of these organizations are responsible for securing the Charlevoix quota of 150.

WEEKLY CAMP CHARLEVOIX NEWS COLUMN

Edited by
VINCENT ARNOLD

On Tuesday, August 9th, the entire camp accepted an invitation from Kamp Kalphree to attend one of their shows. The girls presented the play, "The Man in the Bowler Hat," in addition to several musical numbers. Campfire games, songs, and refreshments put the finishing touches on a most enjoyable evening's entertainment.

After the carnival on Saturday, Wendell Gates and his able assistants, Gardner Friedlander, Rolly McLaughlin and Bill Joseph, presented their second puppet show of the year in the evening. The "puppeteers" deserve a great deal of credit for their very excellent performances, which indeed reflected hours of hard work. Puppets, stage and properties are all home-made, but we feel safe in saying that one will go a long ways to find an outfit to equal it in a boys' camp.

The boys from Camp Algonquian came over last Wednesday for the first of the two regular ball games of the season. After a highly interesting contest, conspicuously marked by commendable sportsmanship, Charlevoix emerged victorious to the tune of 17 to 12. George Hain was the winning hurler, working all but the last inning, when Dick Barstow took the mound. After the game, Algonquian were our guests at supper.

This coming Friday the reverse will be the case—that is, as far as location goes; Charlevoix will journey to Burt Lake for a return game. However, we hope that the score remains fundamentally the same!

Orin Heft, popularly known as "Hefty," was the chapel speaker last Sunday. The service was held in the new outdoor chapel, which was built as a secret project and "sprung" as a surprise to Mr. Reimann a couple of weeks ago.

Three-day trips occupy this week, the 7th of the camp season. The intermediates are at Pine Point on a combination canoe and fishing trip, and the seniors have taken the horses over to Wallon Lake. The juniors are to go out on short sight-seeing trips around this section, but probably will not spend a night away from camp. Everyone is expected back on Thursday afternoon.

Visitors over the week end: Mrs. C. W. Behn and her parents, Birmingham; Mrs. Flora F. Brown, Ann Arbor; Mr. and Mrs. J. M. H. LeBolt, Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. William Loeb, Memphis, Tenn.; Mr. and Mrs. A. R.

McAndrew and daughter, Lorinda, Ypsilanti; Prof. and Mrs. A. C. McLaughlin, Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Mark E. Putnam and daughter, Ruth, Midland; Mrs. J. S. VanKeuren, Lansing; Frank Kohl, Detroit; Dr. and Mrs. H. S. Adams, Kalamazoo; Prof. and Mrs. J. Raleigh Nelson, Ann Arbor.

The following campers have passed their beginners' test in swimming, which requires a boy to swim fifty feet: Dick Barstow, George Brown, Vernon Evans, Billy Hanna, Bob LaTour, Sandy Sanders, Milner Thom, Paul VanKeuren, Bob Abbott, Sam Garber and Bob Reinhart.

Bob Bennett, Stuart Branson, Jim Hund, John LeBolt, Henry Loeb, Sheldon Putnam, Chuck Sanders, John Kohl, Joe Dain and John Dain have gone a step farther and successfully taken the swimmer's test, which calls for more skill.

MANY ATTRACTIONS PROMISED AT FAIR

Air Circus and Comedy Sketch Are Signed by Committee

Two more stellar attractions, a comedy sketch portraying rural life in Northern Michigan, and an "air circus" have been signed up by Secretary Frank Crowell, of the Charlevoix County Fair association for the coming fair, September 14, 15 and 16, at East Jordan.

Stunt flying will be a feature of each day of the fair and airplane rides will be available for those who care to "view the landscape o'er." Arrangements are being made for horse races and baseball games.

Other features are being arranged for, so there will be a wide range of entertainment to meet all demands.

AT THE MOVIES

Kirkland Rapidly Duplicating His Stage Success on Screen

A star graduate of the finest dramatic school in the country, the famous Theatre Guild school in New York, Alexander Kirkland, who plays one of the three leading roles in the Fox dramatic thriller, "Almost Married," opening Tuesday at the Palace theatre seems well on his way to repeat in Hollywood the success made for himself in such Guild productions as "Wings Over Europe," "Langdon" and "R. U. R."

In "Almost Married," which is reported as being the most weird and eerie thriller to come out of the Hollywood studios in months, Kirkland plays the part of a demented genius, a maniacal musician, who is obsessed with the thought that his love can only be fulfilled by the murder of his loved one. The victim of his murderous passion is enacted by Violet Heming, who makes her screen debut in the picture after a succession of starring roles on the Broadway stage. The third point of the devil triangle, around which the plot revolves is Ralph Bellamy, who played with Kirkland in "Swordplay." Allan Dinehart also plays a featured role, with the remainder of the cast consisting of such stage and screen notables as Eva Denson, Grace Hampton, Herbert Huston, Maria Alba, Herbert Mundin and Mary Gordon.

Director of "Two Seconds" Hits New Angle to Film Fight Scene

With the hundreds of fights that have been staged in front of the camera since motion pictures were invented, it would seem impossible to discover a new angle for a fight scene.

That is precisely what Merwyn LeRoy did, however, during the on-blow fracas in "Two Seconds," coming next Thursday to the Palace theatre, when Edward G. Robinson as John Allen, the steel worker, saves the taxi dancer (Vivienne Osborne) he afterward marries, from the unwelcome attentions of a ten-cent customer.

A grafter by any other name would still be a thief.

CAN'T SPLIT TICKET ON PRIMARY BALLOT

Separate Ballots Are Printed for Each Party

There is quite a bit of discussion regarding the primary election next month, as to whether a voter may split his ticket between the two parties or not.

You are either a Democrat or a Republican at the primaries. Separate ballots are printed for each party. When you go to the polls you call for the ballot you want—Democratic or Republican. The tellers then register your name in the poll book of the party you choose, and you are then an adherent of that party as far as public record goes.

On the Republican ticket there are two candidates for probate judge. The one who has the majority of votes wins in the primary, and will oppose the Democratic candidate at the general election, as he has no opposition, and will carry over into the general election.

The same rule applies to all candidates. There are two offices in which there is competition on the Democratic ticket, that of clerk and sheriff.—Gaylord Herald-Times.

Care and management of house plants, soils and fertilizers for flowering plants, care of lawns, annuals, perennials, insects and diseases, bulbs, and propagation, are some of the subjects that will be discussed by Paul R. Krone, extension specialist in floriculture from Michigan State college, at a series of flower lectures to be given in the cities of Charlevoix, East Jordan and Boyne City, Thursday, August 25th.

Potato Growers to Study New Disease—"Yellow Dwarf"

Of great importance to all producers of potatoes is the announcement that J. H. Muncie, plant pathologist, of Michigan State college, has been secured to discuss diseases and their control on Tuesday, August 23rd.

Within the last few months a new disease, "yellow dwarf," has completely wiped out potato fields in the central part of the state. From field after field the men will not get their seed back, hence it is to our welfare to eliminate this disease from Charlevoix county.

In order to acquaint potato growers with "yellow dwarf" and other diseases, a series of three meetings will be held next Tuesday, August 23. The first meeting will be held at the farm of W. K. Straw Tuesday afternoon at 1:45 o'clock, which is located one-half mile south of Belvedere golf links, Charlevoix. The second at the farm of Lester Hardy, Tuesday afternoon at 3:45 o'clock, which is located on Deer Lake road about six miles south of Boyne City. The last meeting will be in the Iron-ton grange hall the same night at 8 o'clock.

No doubt Mr. Muncie will have considerable illustrative material with him to assist in the identification of diseases. During the afternoon you will see diseases right out in the field, while in the evening more time can be spent in discussing conditions in regard to potatoes.

If Charlevoix county continues to uphold her potato record it is necessary for all potato growers to become acquainted with this "yellow dwarf." Remember these meetings are for table stock growers as well as certified seed producers. Be sure to come!

NOVEL SHRUB BLOOMS AT COUNTY NURSERY

Butterfly Bush or Buddleia An Attraction There

The Butterfly Bush or Buddleia well deserves its name when it is in full bloom, for its flowers have a sweet aroma not to be forgotten, and one that attracts hundreds of butterflies of all sorts. A row of many of these magnificent plants is now in full bloom at the Charlevoix County Nurseries.

The shrub itself is of great value for homeground plantings, and for its mid-summer bloom, which characteristic is seldom found in our garden shrubs. This plant is also often called the summer lilac because of the resemblance of the color and formation of the flower heads to those of the lilacs. The individual flowers are of a delicate lilac color with reddish centers. Thousands of these are arranged on long graceful spikes two and three feet in length. The bush grows to an average height of four and five feet, and is very hardy. The leaves, too, are beautiful with their silvery undersides and deep green above.

The Buddleia is often listed in catalogues as a hardy perennial, while it is really classed as a shrub because of its hard, woody growth. It receives its classification as a perennial in some catalogues because the entire top growth of the bush dies down to the ground every winter, and then sends out new growth the next summer. The roots, though, are perfectly hardy.

This shrub, and many others of equal beauty, are now on display at the Charlevoix County Nurseries, and everyone is invited to drive out and inspect them at any time.

Drivers and cars that had made auto racing history in the past several years will compete in the 1932 world's racing championship contest on Sunday, September 4, at the Michigan State Fair and Exposition.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

Sunday morning service, 10:45.
Subject, "Mind."

Wednesday evening at 7:45.

Reading room Tuesday and Saturday, 3:00 to 5:00 p. m. The public is cordially invited to attend our services and use our reading room.

"Soul" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, August 14th.

Among the Bible citations was this passage (Psalm 84:2): "My soul longeth, yea, even fainteth for the courts of the Lord: my heart and my flesh crieth out for the living God."

Correlative passages read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, included the following (p.335): "Because Soul is immortal, it does not exist in mortality. Soul must be incorporeal to be Spirit, for Spirit is not finite. Only by losing the false sense of Soul can we gain the eternal unfolding of Life as immortality brought to light."

I started to take Kruschen and now I weigh 126 and never felt better in my life and what's more, I look more like 20 yrs. old than the mother of 2 children, one of 19 and the other 18. CHILDREN'S FANCY DRESS BALL PLANNED

Pupils of Miss Calla Travis in Program Thursday, August 25th

A coming event of interest to both local and summer residents is the annual children's fancy dress ball, to be given Thursday evening, August 25, at the Belvedere casino.

Miss Calla Travis of Grand Rapids, who conducts dancing classes at the casino and has supervision of the Belvedere recreational activities, is arranging the program for the event, which is a review of the work of her students in dancing during the summer season.

If the programs of former years may be taken as an indication, unusual talent will be presented.

MICHIGAN CROPS IN GOOD CONDITION

AUGUST INDICATION IS AHEAD OF LAST YEAR

Both Beans and Potatoes Should Be Superior to 1932—Grains Are Below Usual Average

Michigan crops generally were in better condition on August 1 than they were on the same date for the last two years, Verne E. Church, N. S. agricultural statistician, reported.

He said that while some counties in the western and southeastern parts of the state received too little rainfall during the early part of July this lack of moisture was improved later.

The report says, in part:

"Wheat and Rye—The yield of wheat is around 23.5 bushels per acre, 2.5 bushels less than last year which broke all previous records, but 5 bushels above the ten-year average. The state's rye yield is estimated at 13.5 bushels, the same as last year and slightly above average."

"Oats and Barley—Considerably below average; oats are expected to fall 2.5 bushels per acre and barley 6 bushels below last year as the result of heat and drought in June. Conditions are favorable and the crop promises to be about two bushels above average."

"Field Beans—Present indications point to a yield of 11.5 bushels per acre, which, if realized, is more than that obtained in any other season since 1926. This would amount to a crop of 6,210,000 bushels or 3,726,000 bags, on the 540,000 acres planted this year. With a reduction in acreage general and a prospective production of only 9,645,000 bags, which is 24 per cent less than harvested last year, the 1932 situation would appear to be greatly improved for the Michigan bean industry."

"Potatoes—Prospects range from poor to very good. The present outlook is for an average yield of 95 bushels per acre and a total production of 25,175,000 bushels as compared with 23,750,000 bushels in 1931."

"Sugar Beets—Good condition, being 85 per cent of normal which is three points higher than on the same date last year and 3.6 points above the ten-year average. Stands are mostly good, the beets growing thrifflily and an excellent yield is in prospect."

"Hay—Crop is of good quality and at least 17 per cent larger than of 1931."

"Fruit—Prospects, except for apples, are decidedly above the ten-year average. Winter apples, especially Baldwins and Spies, are generally light, while summer and fall varieties are more plentiful. Only 42 per cent of a full crop of all varieties is expected as compared with 76 per cent of a full crop last year. Peaches and pears promise 80 per cent of a full production in comparison with 90 per cent and 53 per cent respectively a year ago. The Michigan cherry crop proved to be of greater volume than expected earlier in the season, being 67 per cent of a full yield. The present condition of grapes indicates 85 per cent of a full crop, a better prospect at this date than in any year since 1922."

CHINOOK SALMON IN LAKE CHARLEVOIX

Ten-Pounder Taken Recently—Deep Trolling for Mackinaws

Report of the capture of a ten-pound Chinook Salmon from Lake Charlevoix by Nicholas Green, 12-year-old Boyne City youth, has been reported to the department of conservation. An attempt to make definite identification of the fish from a photograph will be made.

The boy was fishing with Frank Kent, also of Boyne City, for mackinaw trout when he caught the fish.

Chinook salmon were planted in the Boyne river millpond by the department of conservation in June, 1917. At that time 3,000 fingerlings were placed in these waters but no definite reports have been received of the fish until the report received last week from Boyne City. The department is eager to obtain information as to salmon found in any Michigan waters and suggests that any fish believed to be salmon he sent to the Institute for Fisheries Research, University of Michigan, for positive identification.

In 1916 plants of Chinook salmon fingerlings were made in Duck and Silver lakes in Kent county; in Star lake in Lake county and in Crystal lake, Mason county. The following year more of these fish were planted in many other lakes.

Lake Charlevoix, where the reputed salmon was taken, is now providing sport for increasing numbers taking lake trout by trolling, according to H. O. Wiles, Boyne City. Thousands of trout weighing from six to twenty pounds are being taken from the lake.

Lake trout are taken with the use of smooth copper wire lines 500 to 700 feet long, and in water from 80 to 110 feet deep. Wiles expressed belief that the trout were attracted by smelt which live in deep water during the summer. Practically all trout taken have nothing in their stomachs but smelt, he said.

There is no closed season for the taking of lake trout and it is offering a year-round sport.

INTEREST IN POLITICS HEIGHTENING

NEAR APPROACH OF PRIMARY AROUSES VOTERS

Charlevoix County Has Full Slate of Both Republican and Democratic Candidates

With the primary election of Tuesday, September 13, fast approaching, interest in national, state and county politics is heightening with each succeeding day.

Considering present uncertain economic conditions; the promises and bickerings of opposing political factions; the ever-increasing tendency of office-holders to seek personal gain rather than give public service, the task of the voter is a serious one. Never before has there been a time when the qualifications, the character, and the past and prospective conduct of each and every office-seeker, should be carefully weighed by the public. Only through such precaution will efficiency in all branches of government be assured.

In this week's issue, the Courier will list the names of candidates seeking various county offices.

In the race for prosecuting attorney, the withdrawal of William J. Hamill of East Jordan, has cut the field down to three, viz: Rollie L. Lewis and Arthur L. Fitch of Charlevoix, and J. M. Harris of Boyne City. All three have been engaged in law in Charlevoix county for a period of many years, have served terms in the state legislature, and promise economic and efficient administration of the affairs of the office. Mr. Lewis is the present prosecuting attorney, and the other two have held the office previously.

Charlevoix has two candidates of a field of four seeking the office of probate judge. They are Charles H. Emery, former county clerk, and Horace R. Fowler, justice of the peace in this city. Ervan A. Ruess, seizer of Boyne City, is seeking re-election, and the fourth candidate is William H. Webster of East Jordan. For the information of voters, it might be stated that being an attorney is not a necessary qualification of a candidate seeking the office. Some of the most efficient probate administration in Michigan has been given by office holders who are not attorneys.

The death of David Vaughan, seeking re-election as sheriff, has narrowed the field of candidates to four on the Republican ticket. Charlevoix residents will be most interested in the candidacies of Floyd Ikens and Perry Smith, local men. Others in the race are James H. Gallagher of St. James, and Hylon J. Heaton of Boyne City. All are seeking political favor for the first time. These men have placed their records and qualifications before the voters along with promises of efficiency in office if nominated.

The contest for county treasurer in Republican ranks is between four candidates. From Charlevoix is Jos. Wm. Flanders, who has efficiently conducted the office over a period of several years. Boyne City has two men in the field in Mayor Wm. P. Vought and J. Vern Kuhns, and from East Jordan is Louis J. Cornell.

County Clerk Fenton R. Bulow is unopposed, as are also Lisle Shanahan, candidate for circuit court commissioner, James Simmons for drain commissioner, and F. F. McMillan and S. R. Stuckus for coroners.

Frank F. Bird, seeking re-election as register of deeds, is opposed by William Townsend, a Chandler township farmer, who has never held county office and has placed his name before the voters for the first time.

Edward S. Stacks of Boyne Falls, formerly a local resident, is opposing Samuel A. Tokoly for re-election as county surveyor.

In the race for state representative from the Charlevoix-Leelanau district, Charlevoix county has two candidates in Herman C. Meyer, Boyne Falls, and Douglas Tibbits, Eveline township. From Leelanau county, Frederick Arbory of Empire, seeks the office. Charlevoix county voters would do well to select a candidate from their own district, thus assuring the representation due them. We would suggest they consider carefully the qualifications of the two local candidates and then

LOWER PRICES PAID FOR LIGHTER LAMBS

Michigan Shepherds Lose Money By Shipping Unfinished Stock

The shipment of thin lambs to terminal markets is costing Michigan shepherds one dollar or more a hundredweight, according to animal husbandry specialists at Michigan State college, who say that such lambs are too heavy for resale as feeders and are too light to bring the top price for slaughter.

Ideal weights for market lambs are 85 to 90 pounds. Most of the lambs which are coming on the market too thin lack only a few pounds of meeting this requirement and could be brought to first class condition in a short feeding period. Thin lambs will make a gain of one-fifth pound per day on good pasture alone. The addition of from one-half to three-fourths of a pound of grain per day for each lamb increased the rate of gain to three-fourths pound daily in the last Wolverine Lamb Production contest.

CARLETON SMITH WON NEW HONORS

FIRST IN JUDGING CONTEST AT TRAVERSE CITY

His Record Over Five-Year Period One of Continuous Success in 4-H Club Activities

(By B. C. Mellenkamp.) Carleton Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Smith, Barnard, again won distinction for himself and the 4-H Club work when he had the most perfect score in the 4-H Club judging contest held in connection with the Traverse City Holstein day last week Thursday.

In competition with 22 other club members from Grand Traverse, Manistee, Emmet and Charlevoix counties, he alone placed two classes of Holsteins correctly. Out of a possible 300 points he scored 282 and walked away with a beautiful purebred Holstein heifer, eight months of age, and with the best of breeding in back of her. Her dam produced over 9,000 pounds of milk the first six months and her grand dam produced 14,745 pounds of milk and 490 pounds of butterfat in one year as a three-year-old.

Carleton justly deserves his victory as he has been for five years one of the outstanding club members. He has many accomplishments to his credit among which are the following: five years in calf club work; three years as leader of his club; placing second a demonstration team in Detroit in 1929, representing Charlevoix county on a judging team in Detroit in 1929 and 1930, training a demonstration team that won a trip to the state fair in 1931; scoring highest at the Gaylord club camp in 1929, 1930 and 1932 (did not judge in 1931) in judging contests, and being selected as the all-around county champion in 1930.

Back in 1928 he started in with a grade Guernsey calf, but unfortunately his first animal died. Undaunted he purchased a purebred Guernsey calf from Wisconsin in 1929 and again was on the job. He now has a coming two-year-old heifer from this calf and has also sold a male calf, so Carleton is rapidly accumulating a purebred herd. As a result of exhibiting his animals he has already won over $25 in premiums in addition to six blue ribbons and three red ribbons.

This club boy's success is not just luck, but has been the result of real honest and diligent effort. He has been consistently among the top notchers in all judging contests. Congratulations and the best of success!

WARD GILL IS GIVEN STRETCH AT JACKSON

Two to Five Years Imposed for Carrying Concealed Weapons

Ward Gill, Melrose township character, was sentenced by Judge Parm C. Gilbert last Thursday at an adjourned session of the August court term, to serve from 2 to 5 years at Jackson prison for carrying concealed weapons.

Gill was arrested recently by Deputy Charles Marshall and State Trooper Seymour, following complaint he assaulted three neighbors with a gun at a dance at Springville. He was armed when apprehended and charged accordingly.

MICHIGAN TITLE CONVENTION HERE

AT BELVEDERE HOTEL SEPTEMBER 1, 2 AND 3

R. F. Sloan, Member Association Executive Committee, Arranging Entertainment for Visitors

Preparations are under way at the present time for entertainment of members of the Michigan Title association, who will come to Charlevoix for their annual three-day convention on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, September 1, 2 and 3.

The Michigan association, a branch of the American Title association, has members in every corner of the state. It is expected at least 125 members, many of whom will bring their wives and families, will come for the three-day session.

Headquarters for the convention will be at the Belvedere hotel. The first day will be given over to registration and golf at the Belvedere Golf Club. A golf dinner will be a feature of the first evening, according to present incomplete program. The annual business session will open Friday morning and continue throughout the day. A banquet is scheduled for the evening, with Louis H. Charbonneau, vice-president of the Detroit Life Insurance Company, as the main speaker. Entertainment numbers by Stanley & White, Detroit dance team, are also scheduled.

Saturday's program will combine business and pleasure. A boat cruise to Beaver island is planned, with the business session, to include election of officers and wind-up of business matters, to be held enroute. A fish dinner at Hotel Beaver is scheduled before the return trip.

Robert F. Sloan of this city, a member of the executive committee of the Michigan Title association, has complete charge of the program arrangement. Among the distinguished guests planning to attend is James E. Sheridan, secretary-manager of the American Title association.

It is expected that inasmuch as the convention is being held immediately prior to the Labor day holidays, many of the delegates will remain in Charlevoix over the following week end. Further details will be published when available.

KOCIS WINNER OF AMATEUR TOURNEY

VICTOR IN FINALS OVER R. C. WILSON, CHICAGO

Carroll Sweet and Richard May, Grand Rapids, Winners of Second and Third Flights

Charles "Chuck" Kocis, former state amateur and Michigan open champion, added the Great Lakes amateur title to his Detroit district crown last Thursday.

In the final day of match play at the Charlevoix Golf Club, Kocis was victor over Robt. C. Wilson, Chicago, by sinking a thirty-foot putt for a birdie three, but Kocis evened the count again on the ninth when Wilson's third was over.

The match, played for the most part through rain squalls, was close and on even terms to the sixteenth green. Kocis won the long second, but three-putted the fifth for a five to Wilson's four, evening the match. On the seventh, Wilson took the lead by sinking a thirty-foot putt for a birdie three, but Kocis evened the count again on the ninth when Wilson's third was over.

Both played par golf to the fourteenth. Here they put their seconds in the woods, losing a stroke to par with a pair of six's. Kocis took the lead on the sixteenth, where Wilson was short with his second, over-shot his third and was down in five to Kocis' par four. On the short seventeenth, Wilson drove into the rough over the green, taking a four. Kocis was down in three to end the match. The winner was one over perfect figures for the seventeen holes.

Two Grand Rapids players won the second and third flight prizes. Carroll F. Sweet Jr., of Kent Country Club, won 3 and 2 from W. C. O'Brien, Detroit, in the second, and Richard May, local summer resident, defeated P. B. O'Brien, the 74-year-old Detroit veteran, 5 and 3 to win the third.

The tournament was staged under sponsorship of the Great Lakes Golf association, with John R. Bowker, executive secretary, in charge. The Charlevoix Golf Club and city council cooperated in assuring success of the event. Handsome prizes were awarded the winners and runners-up in all divisions. The prize for low medal went to Sweet, who posted a par 72 in a semi-finals match Wednesday afternoon.

DEEDS MUST HAVE FEDERAL STAMP

Rate Under New Federal Tax Is 50c for Each $500.00.

Unless a deed has the revenue tax affixed it is not a legal document, attorneys have held and Frank F. Bird, register of deeds, is calling attention to this fact.

Under the recent tax act every deed must have a stamp affixed at the rate of 50 cents for each $500 of consideration in the deed. Under the law the register of deeds must accept and file deeds which have no stamp but the deed, attorneys maintain, is not legal.

Responsibility for the tax, which became effective on all deeds since June 21, rests jointly on the grantor and the grantee. The grantor is supposed to pay the tax but if he fails the responsibility then passes to the grantee. There is no responsibility on the part of the register of deeds if such documents are filed without the tax stamps and are later shown to be illegal.

PLAN ANNUAL LABOR DAY COUNTY PICNIC

EVENT AT WHITING PARK IS MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 5

Exhibits of 4-H Clubs, Program of Sports and Ball Games Are Listed Attractions

Great plans are being made for entertainment on Labor day at Whiting county park, when the business and rural interests of Charlevoix county will unite in putting on the 10th annual Charlevoix county picnic. There will be something doing every minute of the day.

The big features of this occasion will be the 2nd annual Summer Achievement day for the members of the boys' and girls' 4-H club held in connection with the picnic and the summer show and picnic of the Guernsey Breeders' association which is the first to be held at this time.

It is expected that in the canning club exhibits alone there will be at least 90 individual collections of fruits and vegetables displayed. Without a doubt 500 quarts will be represented. In addition there will be around 25 dairy calves shown by the members of three different dairy clubs. You will also have the opportunity of seeing at least 30 of the best Guernseys in Charlevoix county on exhibit.

In the afternoon sports and running races will be conducted including several new races that will be great fun. Later two red-hot baseball games will be announced. Names of players will be withheld until next week. By this precaution it is hoped that all of the baseball stars will keep in good condition.

There will also be music furnished by one of the bands in the county which will add to the enjoyment of the day. The American Legion posts in the county will be on hand to quench your thirst and satisfy your appetite. A picnic dinner will be enjoyed at noon.

Whiting county park has wonderful water, fine bathing beach and facilities and hospitality unequalled anywhere.

Watch papers for a further announcement next week.

STORM CAUSES BIG DAMAGE AT TRAVERSE

Power and Phone Lines Broken by Wind Thursday Night

Swept by a terrific wind, rain and hail storm, Traverse City emerged Friday from the wreckage of uprooted trees, broken and tangled communication wires and poles, and 5,000 broken windows.

Communication with nearby towns and villages was cut off, and most of the villages in Leelanau county were without lights Thursday night as the power lines were broken.

The storm crashed down upon the city early Thursday evening after two days of sultry heat. The wind reached a velocity of 70 miles an hour at the district conservation office. Nearly an inch of rain fell in the 20 or 30 minutes the storm raged, and hail stones as large as marbles smashed through windows.

One man, unidentified, was injured when a tool shed in which he had sought shelter, collapsed.

JACK HARRIS NEW RIVIERA CHAMPION

DEFEATED HAROLD KAPLAN IN FINALS SUNDAY

Mrs. Wm. B. McIlvaine New Women's Singles Champ—Geo. Burroughs, Flint, Took Junior Title

The six year reign of John Hennessy, Indianapolis, Ind., as men's singles champion of the annual Michigan Riviera tennis tournament ended Sunday when Jack Harris, Chicago, for many years a local tournament entry, carried off the honor.

Harris, ranked as one of the country's outstanding doubles players, took the title by defeating Harold Kaplan, Detroit junior star, in straight sets, 8-6, 6-3, 6-3. Harris was not extended at any time, winning when he needed games to take a set.

Harris added his second title and one he has won three different years, by pairing with Kaplan, whom he defeated in singles, to win the men's doubles crown from the St. Louis, Mo., team of Austin Leland and Charles Fox, Jr. The scores were 6-2, 7-5, 6-3.

Mrs. William B. McIlvaine, ranking Chicago player and summer resident at the Chicago Club of Charlevoix, is the new women's singles champion. Sunday she defeated Miss Helen Grawn, Detroit, 15-year-old Michigan junior girl champion, by scores of 6-1, 6-2. Miss Grawn, playing in her second tournament, was no match for the more experienced Chicagoan. Tennis critics, however, predict Miss Grawn will be one of the country's outstanding woman players in a few more years.

George Burroughs, Flint, former nationally ranked boy tennis star, and winner over Harold Kaplan, the favorite, succeeds Dan Sexton of Lansing, as the new junior champion. In a hard-fought and grueling match Sunday, Burroughs took a straight set victory from Irving Richter, Detroit, by scores of 7-5, 7-5, 8-6. The match was hotly contested throughout, as were practically all contests in the junior division. Burroughs' victory was termed somewhat of an upset, as Richter was favored earlier to win the title.

Mrs. H. S. Lion, Cincinnati, Ohio, and Mrs. Frances Rouse, Detroit, carried off the women's doubles title by defeating the Chicago team of Mrs. William B. McIlvaine and Ann Rickards.

Harold Kaplan also shared in another doubles title by pairing with Gershon Levy, also of Detroit, to cop the junior doubles crown from George Burroughs and Bill Bellinger, Flint. The score was 6-4, 8-6.

GEORGE BEEMAN GIVEN A FINE ADVANCEMENT

George Beeman, who for the past several weeks has been in charge of the Boyne City branch of the Charlevoix County bank, left Monday afternoon for Newberry, where he has accepted a position as cashier of the Newberry State bank. Local friends of Mr. Beeman will join in extending him congratulations on his fine advancement.

BRIDGE, LUNCHEONS AND DINNER PARTIES GIVEN AT BELVEDERE

Evidencing continued popularity, bridge parties last week at the Belvedere drew fine crowds.

Winners at the Wednesday evening affair were Mrs. Jos. Hickey, Miss Alma Mundt, Carl Meyer and George Potee of St. Louis, Mo., and Mrs. John Owen of Detroit.

At the Friday evening bridge tournament, north and south high scores were Mrs. Dewing, Kalama-zoo, and Mrs. Zahner, Topeka, Kan. East and west winners were Mrs. Carl Steiner and A. C. Cella, the latter of St. Louis, Mo.

Last Wednesday evening Mrs. J. W. Frisbie, St. Louis, Mo., gave a luncheon for eighteen guests in the hotel dining room, and the following evening, Mrs. Jessie B. O'Neil, also of St. Louis, gave a similar affair for 28 guests. A dinner party Tuesday evening for fourteen guests was given by Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Ferguson. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jamison, Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Burford, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Keller, all of Harbor Pointe, also Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ferguson, James E. Tansie and Mrs. Rose Curby of the Belvedere summer colony.

BETTER WHEAT READY FOR MICHIGAN FARMS

Crops Department at College Puts Seal of Approval on Variety

A new variety of red winter wheat which has many desirable characteristics has been proved in tests made by the farm crops department at Michigan State college and will be ready for distribution this fall to farmers of the state.

The variety has been developed from a head selection made by the late Professor Frank A. Spragg. Men now in charge of the grain breeding work at the college say that Bald Rock, the new variety, is hardy, quite resistant to lodging, comparatively winter hardy, and a consistently good yielder.

INDIAN PAGEANT PROGRAM READY

Petoskey Sponsors 2nd Annual Event Thursday, Friday, August 25-26

Final plans are being completed for the second annual outdoor pageant "glorifying the Ottawa Indian" to be held in Petoskey at the high school stadium on Friday and Saturday evening, August 25 and 26, according to Wilson J. McDonald, secretary of the Petoskey Chamber of Commerce. The stadium gates will be opened at 7 and pageant will begin at 8:15 o'clock.

Fire Works at Night

Approximately 75 Ottawa Indians will take part in the celebration which will include native songs and dances. Chief Shee-Noo, well known Indian tenor, will be one of the many attractions on the program. There will be fireworks displays each evening. The Petoskey city band will play each evening also at 7:30 o'clock.

The Indians will give about the same program on Friday evening as on Thursday, except that Frank D. Fitzgerald, secretary of state, will be honored at a special ritual Friday evening, when he will be made a medicine man of the Ottawa tribe.

Children's Parade

As a part of the two-day celebration, the eighth annual Children's parade and summer circus will be held at 2 p. m. Thursday. More than 500 small children are expected to take part in the event, which will include the coronation of a child king and queen. A bathing beauty contest for the little folk also will be staged. The parade is for the benefit of Emmet county child welfare work and is open to all children in Northern Michigan.

To attract old persons a fly casting tournament will be held at 10 a. m. Thursday. Open to the public, there will be special fly and bait casting exhibitions by experts and competition for all entrants. Prizes will be awarded the winners. The tournament will be held at the Mineral Well park on Bear river.

Late Apples in Summer

Orchard Cause of Grief

Many growers for the sake of cross-pollination or other reasons mix late apples in a summer apple orchard. This practice brings much grief. The greatest difficulty is that the summer apples are picked early. The late apples need several sprays after the summer apples are picked. Where these trees or late varieties are scattered around in the summer block most of the time the grower never gets back to spray the late trees. This leaves these late apples an ideal breeding place for insects and fungus diseases which can infect the next crop when the time comes.

Citizens Above Average

The home owner becomes valuable to the community; is appreciated by his employers and the banks. He becomes a better citizen than the man who is content all of his life to be a tenant.

The stability of the nation is based on the freedom of home ownership. Give us a country of home owners and we need never to worry about those social catastrophes that shake tenant nations to their ruin. The red flag is rarely found flying from the ridge pole of a home-owned by the man who lives in it.—Exchange.

Joy Found in Garden

For city men who have the time and the ground space to devote to it, gardening offers opportunities not to be found in any ordinary form of sport. Besides the exercise and the recreation is the chance to learn a technique more intricate and more interesting than that of golf, for example, and the satisfaction of making flowers or vegetables contribute notably to the joy of living.

Trees Gone; Towns Gone

There are many towns in our country that are mere ghosts of their former selves because the forests have gone and industry has gone with them, says the American Tree association. Just as the mining town has been left to rot when the vein "played out," so have these communities decayed when the forests "played out." Thinner should, if possible, be grown near where it is to be used.

On Foodstuffs Used As Rations

Livestock provides the best market for Michigan grains under present price conditions, according to members of the animal husbandry division of Michigan State college.

Groups of calves bought by state college for experimental feeding cost $7.50 per hundredweight and were sold for the same price, but they made gains rapidly enough to pay the following prices per hundredweight for grain: ground barley, $1.48; shelled corn, $1.39, and ground oats, $1.30.

IT CAN BE DONE LET'S DO IT

Let's have a whole lot less government.

Let's permit the man who owns an auto to use it.

Let's buy our auto licenses for $1.00 per year.

Let's save our homes, our farms, and our businesses from the tax collector.

Let's have an up-to-date tax—a sane tax.

Let's have EVERYBODY pay taxes instead of just the property owner.

Let's have, instead of a real estate tax, an income tax, or sales tax, or both if necessary.

BELVEDERE ENTERTAINMENT THURSDAY NIGHT

Combine Children's Fancy Dress Ball and Masquerade Party

One of the outstanding entertainment events of the summer season at the Belvedere Club will be presented Thursday evening at the casino by Miss Calla Travis of Grand Rapids, popular recreational director at the Belvedere.

The annual children's fancy dress ball and the annual masquerade party, usually given on different dates, have been combined this year as one affair, and interest of both summer and local residents will result in the usual large attendance.

Many special features have been arranged. Eighty children will take part in the grand march which opens the program. Appearing in the children's dance numbers will be Jane Thomson, Margery Edwards, Susan Porter, Nancy Price, Joan and Sally VonDolche, Mary Travis, Anne Strauss, Janet Muckerman, Joan Mitchell, Shirley Richardson and Ardis Usher.

Miss Jeanne Lambert of Port Riley, Kan.-as, will give a ballad and Polish dance. Miss Melissa McKay of St. Louis, Mo., well known to Belvedere audiences, will present the Rumba and Tap Rumba, and Miss Jane Roemler of Indianapolis, Ind., will give a group of radio songs.

Sam and Russell Lortz of St. Louis, Mo., Jimmy Tramel of Chicago, and David Holdman of Cincinnati, Ohio, will present the Indian corn planting dance.

A surprise stunt by the Chicago Club group promises to be an unusual feature of the evening's program if the ingenuity they have evidenced in previous years may be taken as an indication.

LOCAL LEGION LOSES STATE CONVENTION BID

Local Post Places Several Members on Important State Committee

Delegates from Leslie T. Shipton post No. 226 and the Auxiliary returned Tuesday from the 14th annual state convention of the American Legion, Department of Michigan, held at Kalamazoo, August 21, 22 and 23.

Efforts to secure the 15th state convention for Charlevoix in 1933 were unsuccessful, due to the fact that the Detroit districts traded in committee with Grand Rapids—Detroit promising to support Grand Rapids as the convention city and Grand Rapids in its turn to support Detroit's candidate for state commander of the Legion, Traverse City entering the field as a candidate for the convention in 1933, split the upstate vote and threw the convention to Grand Rapids. However, both Detroit and Grand Rapids delegates promised to support Charlevoix in 1934 and the growing dissatisfaction of the upper peninsula posts with the practice of holding the "conventions" so far south makes it pretty certain that Charlevoix will get the convention in 1934.

Charlevoix delegates were elected in their respective district caucuses to places on several state committees. Shirley B. Henry becoming chairman of the important Americanism committee for 1933, and F. V. Tyler, committeeman for Military and Naval Affairs and Aeronautics. Mrs. Lee C. Alford was elected committee woman of the Auxiliary Awards and Trophies committee and Mrs. Edna Powers of the Music committee.

Lloyd Ballard, adjutant of the Boyne City post becomes chairman of the state Legion Child Welfare committee. Otto C. Scott captain of the com-

Mrs. Bergeson and Mrs. Henry Buddy winning high score prizes. Other guests included Mrs. Ray Kipke, Mrs. Arthur Wexstuf, Mrs. Vane Smith, Mrs. Inez Mayne, Mrs. Edw. Behrens, Mrs. John N. Nordrum, Mr. Harold Jones and Mrs. Alfred Gill, and the Misses Mary Adams, Ada Yettaw, Monica Smith and Eleanor Thomas.

Word has been received by Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Paddock of East Jordan, well known former Charlevoix residents, that the U. S. Pensacola, 10,000 ton cruiser on which their son, Lieut. Commander Hubert E. Paddock, was chief gunnery officer, has set a world's record in gunnery in the recent tests off the California coast. According to the information received, the Pensacola made the highest score against all competing cruisers, and also the highest score ever made in the history of the U. S. navy with guns of this caliber. The Pensacola is one of the fleet of ten new 10,000 ton cruisers being built by the U. S. navy.

ADVERTISING DID IT

Here is what happened to fifty typical business men in the retail trade.

Because "times were dull" twenty-five of those business cut out their newspaper advertising, and like the ostrich they buried their head in the sand they stood still.

The other twenty-five kept up their advertising, and increased their usual business "gait." Their sales stepped up from 20 to 38 per cent. Printers ink kept the "red ink" off their books.

The classical character described as a "chick" among ye takin' notes" investigated the up-and-downs of the business men, and discovered that the twenty-five who advertised had concluded that inasmuch as the National government was backing the whole nation with its billions of dollars in resources that it was up to them to back their own communities and its institutions. So, they kept on going as usual.

It was Wadsworth who reminded us that the man of "cheerful yesterday" always has his "confident tomorrow."

MAIL ORDER INSURANCE IS A POOR GAMBLE

We advise our friends against the taking out life insurance policies for a few cents a day, until they write in to the state commissioner of insurance and find out what the company's standing is. We are mentioning this matter on our own hook and not at the behest of someone else.

The state, we believe, required a heavy bond from each insurance company making them do what they agree to do in their policies. Their business in this state, too, is under state supervision just like the banks. If the mail order insurance company is not under state regulation it has no "standing" in this state, which in plain English, means that should occasion come that you wish to collect on their policies you could not force them to settle at all for you would not have any grounds in court to base your case. We are not saying that the mail order insurance companies not under state supervision would not pay in full but we are saying that you would have to accept whatever they have a mind to pay. You put your money in a bank supervised by the state and the same excellent judgment should prevail when purchasing life insurance. It would seem to be the better policy to have state interested than not, even if it costs a trifle more. Companies selling policies to everyone and to everybody seem to us to be taking an awful risk. Your family doctor will tell you whether any company is good or not. Ask him. That's one of the things doctors do for their patients.

BACK-TO-SCHOOL MOVEMENT

With millions of unemployed the closing of our schools and colleges for the summer vacation is an aggravating problem already of serious proportions. What are the young people going to do? What should they do?

For any who can possibly finance it, further education is clearly the best plan. The boys and girls now ready to leave the grade schools should go on to high schools instead. They can study typewriting or bookkeeping or learn a trade. Instead of tramping the streets looking for jobs that don't exist, they should be using their time to good advantage. They should be acquiring a vocation. Then when the inevitable up-turn comes they will be ready for a better job.

College students should carry on. College graduates should return to their campuses for professional training which will fit them to earn a living in the coming days when livings will be easier to earn.

Many new professional schools have been opened by established colleges and universities in recent years in a range of fields such as journalism, business administration and city management.

Cornell University for instance, operates a highly successful school of hotel administration which is training more than 150 men and women for a higher efficiency. And one of the interesting facts about the school is that 100 per cent of its graduates were placed in jobs this summer within a week after commencement.

MORE HIGHWAYS FOR MICHIGAN

Michigan will be able to more than double its 1932 program on new highway construction as a result of relief legislation passed by congress, according to Grover C. Dillman, state highway commissioner. Instead of a contemplated state expenditure of about $3,500,000 on new projects, it is expected there will be available more than $8,000,000 which must be spent by next July 1.

Mr. Dillman estimated that the state's apportionment under the $120,000,000 highway relief bill will be approximately $3,750,000. The receipt of this money, however, will enable the state to "earn" an additional nearly $2,000,000 on federal aid projects where the state thus far has been unable to match the federal advances. Unless the state can match the federal money it is withheld. A revised construction program is being drafted. It was to be submitted to the state administrative board last week. While the work made possible by the relief legislation will be limited to federal aid highways, most of the major trunk lines are in this classification and many improvements which had to be omitted from the state program now may be added.

Northern Michigan undoubtedly will profit greatly with the remainder of the state in this additional work. The wise expenditure of this money during the coming year will do much to relieve our present economic stress.

A PIONEER IN RELIGIOUS WORK

In Emmet county we have a man who goes about his work quietly and unobtrusively, yet his influence probably reaches as far as any other individual within our borders. That man is George A. Weaver of Potoskey, missionary in this district for the American Sunday School Union. In addition to Emmet county, his territory includes four other counties.

Rev. Weaver has performed the duties of his post in this section for 41 years and during that time he has organized 279 Sunday schools, many of them within our own county.

The very nature of his work leads him into the sparsely settled communities. His duties primarily are to form Sunday school and correlative organizations in communities where no such organizations are in existence, and to keep them functioning once they are under way. Right now there are 18 of these Sunday school groups in the county.

What purpose do they serve?

They offer an outlet for both the religious and social needs of the people. Children and young people receive training they probably would not get elsewhere. These organizations in many instances are the social centers of the community.

Rev. Weaver is a man whose life is rich in human experiences. He is a pioneer in religious work in county. We owe him a debt of gratitude for his splendid achievements.

Community Building

Experts Set Out Idea for Highway Building

Centralized supervision of highway construction, the elimination of state highway financing by county aid and the elimination of the use of gasoline tax funds for other than highway purposes were recommended to the American Road Builders' association, in annual convention at St. Louis, by its committee on highway finance and administration.

Legally authorized regional planning bodies, with the power to enforce their recommendations, constitute the solution to highway planning problems, the committee reported. While conceding that complete control by states of all highway construction is "impossible and undesirable," since a large percentage of the mileage is local and must be financed from local sources, the committee noted a national trend toward centralized planning.

"The relationship which exists between the United States bureau of public roads and the states," the report states, "could well be followed by states in their relations with the smaller subdivisions."

This policy does not destroy identity. It is pointed out, and would result in the planning of connected highways and improved engineering supervision.

How Remodeling Will Make Attractive Home

With the movement toward building up-to-date homes sweeping the country, the home owner who owns a home which is no longer modern, and yet cannot afford to build a new home, is apt to become very discontented and envious of his more fortunate neighbors. This is quite unnecessary inasmuch as it is entirely possible, with comparatively small expenditure, to entirely transform both the interior and exterior of a house. Within partitions may be torn down, new floors may be laid, modern equipment may be installed and a score of changes made which will affect the beauty and convenience of the interior. But it is perhaps the exterior of the home in which alteration is more obvious.

Homes built during the early part of the Twentieth century are seldom noted for their beauty of design. They so often are of the prosaic box-like type, or else the ungainly flat roof variety. With the wide range of diverse types which our modern architecture affords, an unattractive home is not only conspicuous, but unnecessary. Porches, doorways and bay windows may be added to break the monotony. Steel casements often add a decorative note to exteriors which otherwise are severe.

Duty of Property Owners

It is the duty of public officials to make regular and close inspections of buildings; to safeguard human life in hotels, schools, auditoriums, theaters and everywhere people gather together. But it is also the duty of property owners, whether they own a hotel, an apartment house, or merely a modest home, to leave nothing undone that may be done within reason to prevent fires. Defective flues and wiring, the accumulation of waste matter, inadequate sprinkler and alarm systems, faulty construction of many kinds, and last, but not least, the thoughtless smoker who throws away lighted matches, combine to create the enormous fire losses from which the United States suffers.—Exchange.

Prevent Fire!

A cow kicked over a lamp in Chicago 50 years ago and the fire which followed destroyed a large part of the city. That was a hard lesson, but—

The American people "kicked over" the shoddy rules of fire safety last year and half a billion dollars worth of natural and created wealth went up in smoke, and—

More than ten thousand people were killed by fire last year and many more were maimed, so—

Fire prevention is a very important problem and a part of your responsibility as an American citizen.

Light and Dark Point

Houses in the warmer climates, where most of the days are long and sunny, are actually cooler within if finished on the outside with a light-colored paint. The lighter hues reflect the light and heat, whereas dark shades absorb them.

In selecting two or more colors to be used in combination it should be remembered that a very small part of the house painted in the dark or heavy color will be sufficient to complement the larger areas where lighter color is used.

Concerning Tree Planting

Some trees grow quickly and in a few years become a problem how to dispose of, while some others have objectionable features such as shedding blossoms, etc., that makes them a nuisance. The purpose of trees and shrubs is to provide shade and shelter and to beautify. They should frame the picture. Unless they do this the home planter has failed in the execution of his plan.

SHRUB OF MANY USES IN BLOOM AT CHARLEVOIX COUNTY NURSERIES

Everyone is looking, nowadays, for items of a decided utility value—even in ornamental material. One of these interesting "finds" is the old fashioned but ever useful shrub known as the Hydrangea P.G., which is now in full bloom at the Charlevoix County Nurseries.

In the Hydrangea family, there are two distinctly different types of plants for garden use. One of them is the Hydrangea A.G., often known as the "Hills of Snow" with their characteristic globular flower heads. This shrub is rather dwarf in its habit of growth, and does best in the shade. The other shrub, and the more useful of the two, is the Hydrangea P.G., which is taller growing and grows best right out in the full sun. The flower clusters of this one are larger, too, with their characteristic conical shaped flower spikes of an enormous size. This species, often listed in catalogues as Hydrangea "poegee," has a very interesting habit of producing pure white flowers when they first open, and then turning to a beautiful delicate pink color as they become older, which adds to the interest and usefulness of the plant.

One of the most useful things about this plant, though, is the fact that flowers can be cut from it and used indoors all winter. The method is about the same as in preparing straw flowers for the winter. The flowers are simply cut, with a suitable length of stem, and placed in a vase without water to dry naturally. These keep their color throughout the winter, and make most attractive displays for interior decoration during the winter months.

NORTH TO FIGHT REAPPORTIONMENT

WOULD LOSE SIXTEEN VOTES
UNDER NEW PLAN

Four Counties Would Rule State and Charlevoix Would Be Grouped in District of Five Counties

Faced with the loss of 16 representatives in the state legislature if the so-called "Michigan Plan" of reapportionment is approved by the voters at the November elections, northern state politicians have launched plans to defeat the proposed constitutional amendment.

Information supplied by Myles Gray, clerk of the house, on request of several members of the lower chamber, indicates that the portion of the state north of the Bay City-Muskegon line would have only 15 representatives if the amendment passed. At present they have 31.

In contrast, the counties of Wayne, Kent, Genesee and Oakland would be given 53 seats or a majority of the 100 members. These four counties now have only 31 members.

The method of forming the representative districts, as outlined in the proposed amendment, provides that the population of the state be divided by the number of districts to secure a basic apportionment figure. That figure is, based upon the 1930 census, 48,423.

Then the legislature is directed to give each county having a population above this amount one representative for each 48,423 persons.

The remaining counties which have lesser population are then to be grouped into districts according to population.

This done, the remaining representative seats are given to the districts having the largest population unrepresented after one house member has been apportioned to each 48,423 population.

Under this schedule, Gray believes the representation to the larger counties must be apportioned as follows:

County	Present Seats	Proposed Seats
Wayne	21	53
Kent	5	5
Genesee	3	5
Oakland	2	4
Saginaw	3	3
Ingham	2	3
Berrien	1	2
Macomb	1	2

The following counties would receive their present apportionment: Kalamazoo, 2; Jackson, 2; Calhoun, 2; Muskegon, 2; Bay, 2; Washtenaw, 1; Ottawa, 1; Monroe, 1; and Lapeer, 1.

Houghton county would be reduced from two to one representative.

Gray's grouping of the counties to form the remaining districts is purely unofficial and is merely explanatory to the members who have asked information. He groups the counties as follows:

Two representatives—Ontonagon, Benzie, Grand Haven, and Leelanau; Van Buren and Allegan.

One representative—Marquette and Keweenaw.

Alcona, Delta and Schoolcraft.

Lapeer, Mackinac, Chippewa and Presque Isle.

He is particularly interested in the solution of the problems directly affecting the people of this District and State which he believes to be the following:

Michigan's Banking Laws must be revised to provide adequate protection to Bank Depositors.

He favors a definite, downward re-adjustment of the cost of Government in State, County and City, and the consequent reduction shall reflect itself in lower Real Estate taxes, thus relieving the farmer and small home owner.

WHITECAPS WIN "RUBBER" FROM IRONTON

Emerges on Long End of 13 to 9 Score Last Sunday

Charlevoix's Whitecaps Sunday hammered out 21 timely blows to win the "rubber game" of a series of five from the Ironton baseball organization. The final score was 13 to 9.

Ironton made nearly as many hits but could not bunch them. Pitcher Sterritt hore down in the pinches and received spectacular support in a number of instances. Newman and Jake Yemmons each made two hard running catches in the outfield, with Yemmons starting a double play to Helms on one of his. Dixon, Brown, and Gordon in the infield all made at least one spectacular catch. Parsons, at catch, Helms, Beattie and McRoberts played steadily.

Charlevoix took a two run lead in the first inning, but lost it in the second when Ironton scored five runs. Ironton kept this lead until the seventh inning when the locals scored six times. They then made two more in the eighth. In the other innings the locals were scoreless except in the second and fifth, when they scored one and two respectively. Ironton scored once more in the fourth and three times in the eighth for their total.

All Ironton players participated in the batting, but none were spectacular either at bat or in the field. However, they did not drop any fly balls to give the locals any hits on errors, either, for that matter.

Sterritt led the Whitecaps in hitting, with five out of five. Newman took second with four out of five. Gordon came next with two out of three. Newman led in runs batted in with three, while Sterritt and Gordon each sent two mates scampering over the tally point.

Charlevoix expects a hard game with Barnard Sunday at 2:00 p. m.

BEAVER ISLAND HOME- COMING BIG SUCCESS

Sponsors Are Now Planning to Make the Event an Annual One

Miss Edith Gallagher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Gallagher of St. James, will be known as "Miss Beaver Island" until her successor is chosen in 1933.

Miss Gallagher's selection and coronation Sunday, marked the close of a popularity contest which was one of the features of a home-coming which has been held at the island the past ten days in commemoration of the founding of the first Indian mission there by Fr. Baraga one hundred years ago.

Miss Gallagher received the largest number of votes in a field of five candidates seeking the honor. The coronation ceremony was conducted by Northern Michigan Knights of Columbus, who Sunday went by special excursion to take part in the event.

During the past ten days many hundreds of persons, including former residents as well as summer visitors and local people have been in attendance at the homecoming. A program which has included ball games, land and water sports, Indian dances and entertainments of varied nature, has been conducted at the island.

Due to the wonderful success of the home-coming just closed, its sponsors are already making plans to make it an annual event.

EVERY VOTER SHOULD VOTE

Shall we get a full vote at the election of next November, representing the real will and the combined wisdom of the American people? Or will it happen as usual, that a very large share of our citizens fail to exercise this precious and sacred privilege of the suffrage?

As the years have gone on, our people are supposed to have gained in intelligence. Their schools are better, their education is more extended, they have more books, newspapers, and magazines, they travel more and see more of the world. All these privileges should make them better citizens.

But do they show the results of these improved privileges by attending more carefully to the duties of citizenship? Alas, they do not, neither in Michigan nor anywhere else. Somewhere around half of the people who could vote, fail to qualify as voters, or they do not vote if they have qualified. In many state and local elections, the number of voters is much less.

Some people remark, that if a person is not interested enough in elections to vote, the judgment of such a person is not worth much, and he might as well stay away from the polls. But people of small intelligence are apt to cling to the suffrage right. It is the one time when they feel equal to others, and they cherish this chance to make themselves felt. Meanwhile a great body of intelligent citizens, who read and know what is going on in the world, will not take the trouble to go to the polls.

It is so very important for all thoughtful people to help shape the policies of their state and nation, that they should feel that they fail to be good Americans, and they show a most woeful disregard of their own interests, if they fail to cast a ballot at the coming election.

FREDERICK W. ARBURY SPEAKER HERE MONDAY

Addressed Large Group of Women at Community Room

Frederick W. Arbury of Empire, Republican candidate for representative in the state legislature from the Charlevoix-Leelanau district, spoke at a women's meeting Monday afternoon in the community room.

Mr. Arbury expressed himself as pleased by the fact that so many Charlevoix women took an interest in political questions. Mr. Arbury favored changes in the banking laws to safeguard against depression; revision of the tax laws to distribute the cost of government and education more evenly; development of good roads as an aid to the orchard districts, farms and the tourist business; retention of the 18th amendment. He considers economic questions as paramount to all other issues.

A large gathering was present to hear the speaker.

LEGION ACTIVITIES

Edited by F. V. Tyler.

Saturday evening, September 3rd, has been set as the date of the Legion's farewell carnival and dance at the Legion home on East Garfield avenue. Those who attended the affair that was held last summer will remember it with enjoyment and at the time it was urged by many of the summer visitors that the local post repeat this popular entertainment.

This carnival will be the final entertainment of the season and everyone is welcome. There will be many chances to win articles of value and the dance floor and music are good.

Monday, September 5th, is the date of the county picnic at Whiting park. The Legion will have concessions there and a large crowd is expected if the weather is fine. There will be something doing all day.

men on the island, says that following the dance, two men with sacks over their heads came to the house where she was alone and attempted to assault her. They also took tires, money and other things belonging to her employer. Later the same night another man made the same attempt. She says that in the scuffle to protect herself she fired both a revolver and shotgun at him.

"The affair smoldered without action being taken until last week when the complaint was received by the local state police officers. The officers met no opposition when they visited the island."

THE POOR MAN NEEDS TO BE ENCOURAGED

Just a little lightening of the load he is carrying may give the poor man the encouragement he needs to keep hope alive in his breast. A ONE DOLLAR AUTOMOBILE LICENSE will permit every car owner to use his car when he needs it.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS

By B. C. Mellemcamp.

The recent series of three potato meetings held last Tuesday were filled with interesting information on diseases and their control.

The one big disease that has forced itself upon our attention is yellow dwarf and its seriousness can not be overestimated. What makes it so difficult to control, according to Prof. Muncie, is the fact that it has three different stages in its development, with the first stage being very difficult to identify. Then again the only remedy is to take out the diseased hills from the field as the seed treatment and spraying doesn't in any way control this dreaded disease.

Prof. Muncie believes that the solution of the problem lies in each farmer having a seed plot of sufficient size to furnish the seed for his next year's planting and then to eliminate all undesirable hills from this seed plot.

Furthermore, the yellow dwarf in its first stage can not be easily distinguished from other vines and therefore, the only practical way is to rogue out all hills that are different from the ones next to them.

Yellow dwarf was found in many fields throughout the county, not extensively, but rather its presence was found in only one or two cases in the average field.

When one stops to consider that in the counties where they had only one-half of one per cent infection two years ago, they now have as high as 50 per cent, then one can imagine what will happen if this disease is not controlled.

Not alone yellow dwarf, but many other common potato diseases were described and discussed by Prof. Muncie.

Five Fertilizer Experiments Started on Beaver Island

P. J. Rood, in charge of soils extension, Michigan State college, in company with County Agent Mellemcamp, spent August 26th and 27th on Beaver Island in soils work.

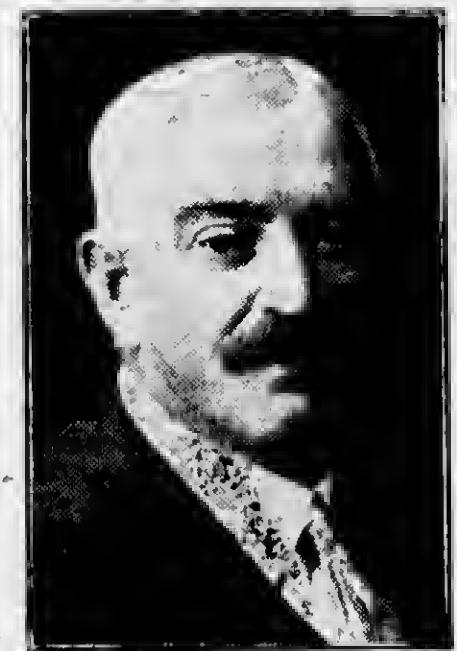

Twenty-one soil samples were taken from many different fields of various soil types and will be sent to the college laboratory for analysis. These analyses will cover the amount of nitrogen, phosphorus, potash and other elements that are closely tied up with profitable crop production. In addition, the subsoil was also carefully examined. These soil samples should largely determine the crops that are suitable for success on the Beaver Island types.

The activity that no doubt will give the farmers considerable information will be the five fertilizer experiments that will be started this fall on alfalfa. At each place sufficient fertilizer was left for two and one-tenth acres plots to be applied either as a top dressing on an established stand or to be plowed down for next year's planting. The two analyses 0-20-20 and 0-20-0 are the ones to be used side by side so as to determine the benefits to be derived from a phosphate fertilizer and then one with potash added in addition.

The following five farmers are co-operating in this project: William Schmitt, John Rickseers, David Wilson, William Rickseers and Joseph Schmitt.

In addition, a soils map covering the various soil types on the island with each farm plotted on the map, was left with Mr. McLaughlin, who will be glad to show any farmer on

MICHIGAN DEPT. OF STATE WEEKLY NEWS

Michigan business showed only a very slight reduction during the past year, department of state records show. An analysis of statistics of the corporation division of the department disclosed that the reduction was far less than was expected.

On August 25, 1931, a total of 4,422 corporations had paid their annual privilege taxes amounting to $1,150,310. This averages about $260 per company. On the same date this year, 3,833 corporations had paid $898,101 in privilege taxes or $234 per company.

While annual corporation reports should have been filed with the department before September 1, the law allows a 10-day period in which the reports can be filed without penalty. All corporations which fail to file by September 10, automatically lose the right to transact business legally until the irregularities have been corrected.

A saving of at least $10,000 will be effected by the department of state in 1933 through the use of new automobile plate application blank forms.

Because of "hit or miss" location of names, serial and motor numbers on the old blanks, it is estimated that about 20 per cent of the blanks were spoiled and wasted. A rearrangement of the questions on the 1933 blanks will eliminate this wastage, it is believed. Instead of the 2,200,000 blanks used in 1932, but 2,000,000 have been ordered for next year, and it is likely this figure will be further reduced.

House and senate journals, containing the official acts of the 1932 special session of the legislature, can be purchased from the department of state for $2 per set. The journals have been indexed in the same manner as the journals of the regular session of 1931.

FINE RECORD BOOK FOR AUTOMOBILE OWNERS

Standard Oil service stations are handing out to customers a neat "Car Record" booklet. In its pages ruled spaces are provided for the car operator to keep a complete record of mileage, gasoline and oil purchased, taxes paid, periodical lubrication, tire and battery costs, general repairs, washing, storage and other items. Data on taxes, recorded in the booklet, can be used in computing the income tax deduction allowable on account of taxes paid on gasoline and oil. AT THE MOVIES

Chevalier Vacations in France as New Film Opens Locally

Maurice Chevalier's image will laugh, sing and talk in Charlevoix this week, but Maurice Chevalier himself will be far, far away.

The French favorite, star of Roubaud Mamoulian's "Love Me Tonight," which comes to the Palace theatre Friday and Saturday, left America for his vacation at his home near Cannes, in Southern France, immediately work on the film was completed.

Rabbit's Foot Luck Charm of Superstitious Peggy Shannon

Most Southerners are superstitious, and naturally Peggy Shannon who plays the featured feminine role in the Fox picture, "The Painted Woman," which comes Sunday at the Palace theatre, is no exception. Her beliefs lean toward the efficacy of rabbits' feet—especially the left hind foot of a big buck cottontail—and she has a collection of these articles now numbering nearly a hundred.

Go On, Laugh! Prove You're Smart!

When you laugh, you're demonstrating that you have a brain. That, briefly, is the opinion of Pearl Bergson, noted French philosopher, on the subject of humor.

When, for example, you guffaw at the Four Marx Brothers in "Horse Feathers," their latest film, coming Tuesday and Wednesday, September 6 and 7 to the Palace theatre; when you chortle with glee at Charlie Chaplin; when you chuckle at Harold Lloyd, you're smart.

But were you to sit through one of their performances, never cracking a smile, trying to figure out what it's all about—why, then your intelligence is subject to question.

CHRIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Bishop John M. McCormick of Grand Rapids, will be in Charlevoix next Sunday, August 28th, to conduct services in Christ Episcopal church at 11 o'clock. The public is cordially invited to attend.

LESS RAILROAD TRACKS EACH YEAR IN MICHIGAN

It is a question of time when fewer miles of railroad tracks will be the case in Michigan. And that condition will mean that less taxation revenue.

The stretch of line operated by the East Jordan and Southern railroad in three counties including this one, has been recommended by a master to be abandoned. Soon it will be; there is no need for its existence as its span of usefulness has ended.

Trucks can haul quicker and cheaper, and thus get the business. People will not pay for an article any more than they possibly can either in times of prosperity or times of stress.

Congress can pour millions into the treasuries of the railways but that will only put off the evil day of reckoning. The rail companies must be unfettered of their shackles of fool legislation and the transportation business put on a sound financial basis of competition or the rails will be torn up and nothing left but a weedy road bed, rotting ties and memories of bygone days.

This is an age of sound business sense and the rails and buses should be amendable to it.

THE MAIL MONOPOLY

Business men who think to save money, under the new postage, by hiring private delivery systems, or people who think to make money by operating private mail routes, had better be careful. When it comes to carrying letters, Uncle Sam is a tight-fisted monopolist. His monopoly was amply secured by a penal law against competition enacted 60 years ago.

Private mail cannot be deposited for transportation by private methods, except by the employment of a special delivery messenger for a particular occasion only, or without compensation. A heavy fine and imprisonment are provided for anyone who undertakes to deliver letters on post routes, at regular intervals, by regular trips or at stated periods. There are fines, too, for persons or carriers who transport newspapers engaged in this regularly carrying mail privately for profit. All city streets served by letter carriers are regarded as post routes.

A private business, a district attorney explains, may deliver its own mail by person, regularly in its employment. But before doing so, it is well to consult federal authorities.

THINGS CAN GET WORSE!

Things can get a whole lot worse! They may be had at present but the bottom hasn't necessarily been reached yet. An election is coming and the attention we pay to the qualifications of the candidates we elect will help still further.

If we don't pay more attention to the capabilities of the men we choose than to their degree of humanity; if we give way to the idea that any change is for the better regardless of the substitutes we use, we'll pay for our folly in the form of crazy panics, half-baked taxation schemes that will burden business and agriculture worse than they are burdened now, blunders at Washington that will prolong the present condition of things indefinitely. We came too close to gigantic follies in the last congress for comfort. We barely missed inflation of currency and flat money; expenditures that would have wrecked the government's credit were voted down by narrow margins; we saw the unforgettable sight of the House of Congress intimidated into an affirmative vote by the personal presence of a few thousand men who represent but a small minority of the country; we saw a gigantic pork scheme that would have opened the treasury to unprecedented raids almost carried through to success in the name of Federal relief. Now is a time when we need experienced level-headed men in office more than we have needed them in years.

The primaries are coming and unless we pay pretty close attention to the men we choose; unless we give more consideration to the qualifications and records of the candidates than we do to our natural desire for "any kind of a change," things can get a whole lot worse. — Hastings Banner.

JUST COMMON SENSE

It is just common, ordinary simple horse sense to take care of the tourists who come to your community. See that they are courteously treated, ask them what you can do for them; tell them where to go, what to do and how to do it. It is horse sense that means dollars and cents. In the final analysis those who do not use their horse sense are throwing money to the winds. There is no earthly use in advertising to bring people to your locality if you do not intend to take care of them after they come. It's like inviting friends out to dinner and then leaving them to cook their own food and eat it while you go to a show. — Cheboygan Observer.

Benefit Card Party for Hospital Event of Wednesday Evening

Friday evening's play marked the close of a bridge tournament sponsored by the Belvedere hotel management under the direction of Virginia Tubbs, bridge instructor.

Based on their accumulative scores for the series of four games during the month of August, north and south prize winners were Mrs. John McKay and Mrs. Theodore Rasseur of St. Louis, Mo. East and west winners were Mr. and Mrs. James B. Balch of Kalamazoo.

The tournament has been a very enjoyable event for hotel guests and cottagers, as has also the regular Wednesday evening bridge parties, at which last winners were Mrs. R. E. Moyer and Joseph Hickey, St. Louis; Mrs. R. Austin, Toledo, Ohio; James B. Balch, Kalamazoo, and Mrs. Holiday, Detroit.

Sunday evening at the casino, a large group enjoyed the showing of Johnson's motion pictures on "Thrills in Bird Life." Features of the presentation were showing of the bird killing rattlesnake, bald eagle, humming birds, etc.

On Wednesday evening, August 31st, a bridge party for benefit of the Charlevoix hospital, will be given at the casino. Mrs. W. B. Stewart of Toledo, Ohio, is chairman of the committee in charge of the event. The party, to which an admission of $1 per person is being charged, is in lieu of the annual personal solicitation on the Belvedere Club to raise funds for the hospital. The party is open to the general public.

INSECT PRUNER DOES LITTLE REAL DAMAGE

Loss of Branch Tips Seldom Causes Serious Injury

Home owners who have observed and have worried about the attacks of an insect which prunes the tips from the branches of shade trees are given the assurance of the entomology department at Michigan State college that the damage is seldom serious.

The twigs are cut by the larvae of the oak twig pruner, an insect which lays its eggs on the tips of branches of many hardwoods but which prefers oak, hickory, maple, peach, or apple. The eggs are placed singly in the bark and the larvae, upon hatching, tunnels its way into the twig.

The wood of the twig is partially severed inside the bark by the larvae. Windstorms then break the twigs from the tree and the insect resting inside is protected by the snow from the cold and from attacks by birds.

The fallen twigs should be gathered and burned to destroy the insects hidden inside. Unless these twigs are removed, the adult insect will emerge and start a new cycle of attack.

Republican candidates for senator from the 29th district are Calvin C. Campbell, Indian River, the incumbent, and Otto W. Bishop, Alpena business man.

Senator Campbell has always been a tireless worker for the district and his ideals and capabilities are well known to the voters.

Mr. Bishop is particularly interested in the solution of problems directly affecting people of the district. Favors revision of Michigan banking laws to protect depositors; a definite downward re-adjustment of state, county and city costs, with consequent lowering of real estate taxes for relief of farmers and small home owners. Promises to aggressively urge further highway development in this district.

BARNARD AGAIN VICTOR OVER WHITECAPS

Won Sunday Tilt at South Side Field by 11 to 5 Score

The Barnard baseball club scored another victory over the local Whitecaps Sunday at the local south side diamond. The final score was 11 to 5.

Both teams scored two runs in the opening inning, and Barnard made two more in the third, holding the lead from that time until the end. The locals made one run in the fifth, and matched it in the sixth and seventh. Barnard made four scores in the sixth, which practically cinched the game, and then topped these off with three more in the eighth.

Jess Gregory led both teams in runs scored, with three tallies. H. Cunningham, M. Cunningham, R. Cummings, K. Ager and J. Block each scored one or more runs for Barnard. Joe Stutzman handled Barnard's pitching duties and did fine work in holding the local sluggers to only five runs. Charlevoix not few hits out of the infield, and only had men on first base fifteen times. Two of these were on walks, five on errors, and eight on hits.

Sterritt and Parsons, Charlevoix's battery, scored two runs each and W. Brow, short-stop, scored the other. Helms, McRoberts, Gordon, Beattie, Spaid and T. Brow all made at least one safe hit. Sterritt, local pitcher, did not allow any more real hits than did his rival, but the blows were better bunched, and several Charlevoix errors helped Barnard's scoring.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH

September 4—Topic, "Prohibition Does Not Prohibit." Service at 11 o'clock.

This will be the last service of the conference year. The board voted to follow the old time method, have "visiting Sunday," the day the pastor is at conference, but Sunday school will be held. All payments on subscriptions are now due and may be brought in next Sunday if not before.

Please have a non-fire in every home! The board earnestly requests this—that you burn up all old envelopes. The use of old envelopes occasionally has caused no end of trouble. The new envelopes are dated for each Sunday. Also, the numbers are different. You may not get credit if old envelopes are used.

The Aid Society meets next week Tuesday with Mrs. Arnold. Please note the lecture Tuesday night for the "United Drys." (Notice elsewhere in this issue).

MASQUERADE PARTY AT BELVEDERE SUCCESS

Affair Last Thursday Evening Concluded Season's Entertainment

Concluding the major entertainment features at the Belvedere Club for the 1932 summer season, Miss Gaila Travis of Grand Rapids, recreational director and summer resident at the Belvedere, presented the annual children's fancy dress ball and the annual masquerade party as a combined attraction at the casino last Thursday evening.

The program opened at 8 o'clock with the children's program. Around eighty, exquisitely costumed, took part in the grand march. Several dance numbers by pupils in Miss Travis' summer classes were well given and received. Featured numbers included a ballet and Polish dance by Miss Jeanne Lambert, and the rumba and tap rumba by Miss Melissa McKay. Favors were distributed among the children and a general good time enjoyed.

The masquerade which followed at 10 o'clock was equally as colorful. A large group from the Chicago Club fulfilled their promise of a surprise by appearing in ballet costume and furnishing a short skit. Miss McKay repeated the numbers given earlier in the evening with equal success.

Glenn Mohn and his band, who have just completed successful appearances at the Belvedere hotel and Moonlight Gardens during the past summer, furnished music for the affair.

CHARLEVOIX INDIANS WIN TWO GAMES

Defeated Central Lake Sunday and Gaylord at Petoskey

Playing as good ball as they have shown this season, the Charlevoix Indians won a pair of close games this week against stiff competition.

At the north side ball park Sunday, they defeated Central Lake in a nip-and-tuck struggle by a score of 8 and 7. Denemy and Amos John were the local battery up to the seventh inning, when Wally John went in to complete the game. Burns and Cornett worked for the losers.

In a nip-tight ball game Tuesday, the Indians defeated Gaylord 1 to 0 in the Northern Michigan series at the Petoskey Tri-County fair. The Indians scored the lone run of the game in the first inning. Amos John, Charlevoix hurler, allowed one hit in the nine innings while Peters, pitcher for Gaylord, allowed but three.

The Indians play at Petoskey again Thursday, meeting the winner of the East Jordan-Cheboygan game. They have two games scheduled over the coming week end. The first comes Sunday, September 4th, at north side park with the Ellsworth Packers, and on Labor Day, Monday, they meet the Keweenaw team, second place winners in the Emmet County baseball league. Both games will be interesting ones.

COUNTY PICNIC GREAT SUCCESS

FOUR THOUSAND PRESENT AT WHITING PARK MONDAY

Entertainment Events, 4-H Club and Dairy Exhibits Best Ever Shown in County

Despite threatening weather during the day and an afternoon shower, a crowd estimated at around four thousand enjoyed the 10th annual Charlevoix county picnic at Whiting Park last Monday.

Activities in charge of B. C. Mellenkamp, county agricultural agent, got under way at 1:30 o'clock with running races for boys and girls. The various events included sack races, three-legged races, etc., and were greatly enjoyed by the crowd. The tug-of-war between two groups of candidates for county office was won by the side captained by Floyd Ikens. Fenton R. Bulow led the losing group.

Peninsula baseball team won 6 to 5 over Ironton in six innings in the first baseball game, and in the second, Barnard scored a 7 to 2 win over Charlevoix Independents in a contest interrupted by rain.

The girls' 4-H canning clubs presented a wonderful exhibit of over 600 quarts of fruits, vegetables, jellies, jams and canned meats. Mary Ellen Johnson of the Murray-Burgess Club, was the outstanding exhibitor, having the best six glasses of jellies and jams and the best collection of the exhibit. Shirley Bulow of East Jordan, had the best individual display, a jar of raspberries.

In the competition between ten clubs, first place went to the Ruinhov club, Boyne Falls; second to Jar Em club, Boyne City; third to Lucky Dozen club, Horton Bay, and fourth to the Marion Center club, Charlevoix.

In the jellies and jams competition for second year club members, winners were: 1st, Mary Ellen Johnson, Bay Shore; 2nd, Grace Anderson, Bay Shore; 3rd, Anna DeMaio, Horton Bay; 4th, Alice Westover, Boyne Falls; 5th, Florence Anderson, Bay Shore; 6th, Mary Nicewander, Boyne Falls.

In the canned meats display for third year members, winners were: 1st, Frances Withers, Marion; 2nd, Geraldine Williams, Marion; 3rd, Violet Russell, Boyne Falls; 4th, Mary Short, Bay Shore; 5th, Mary Ellen Johnson, Bay Shore.

On a par with the canning display was the livestock exhibits of 4-H dairy club members and the 5th annual Guernsey show. The 4-H club group had better young dairy animals than last year. Twenty-one promising heifers were in fine show condition, carefully prepared for exhibition.

The winners were: Guernseys, up to four months; 1st, Kenneth Smithingell, Boyne Falls; 2nd, Stanley Jensen, Wallow Lake. Class 4 to 6 months; 1st, Lewis Laurie, Boyne City; 2nd, Bobby Straw, Charlevoix. Over 1 year, 1st, Carleton Smith, Charlevoix; 2nd, John Klooster, Charlevoix.

Holsteins, up to 4 months; 1st, George Gallop, Boyne Falls; 2nd, Will Gallop, Holsteins. 6 to 12 months; 1st, Lawrence Ecklund; 2nd, David Matchett, Charlevoix.

The finest collection of Guernsey dairy cattle ever exhibited in the county was on parade. Twelve breeders showed 29 animals. A. C. Baltzer, in charge of dairy extension, M. S. C., judged the exhibit.

Following are the blue and red ribbon winners:

Cows, five years and over; 1st, county poor farm, East Jordan; 2nd, Irving Crawford, East Jordan.

RECORD VOTE WILL BE CAST THIS FALL

Re-registration Shows Quarter Million Increase in Michigan

A quarter of a million voters more than ever before exercised their elective franchise in Michigan will go to the polls next November to name state, national and local officers.

This forecast is based upon figures, approximately correct, which were released this week from the larger cities of the state which were required by a new statute to re-register all voters.

Thirteen of these cities, which cast substantially more than one-half the entire votes of the state, reported a 20 per cent increase in eligible voters over 1928.

The presidential vote in Michigan four years ago, an all time record, totalled 1,372,000 votes and if this year's registration increase is constantly reflected in November more than 1,500,000 ballots will be cast.

NEAR TRAGEDY IN SAIL BOAT MONDAY

NORMAN ANCE HERO OF LAKE
CHARLEVOIX ACCIDENT

Hit by Squall, Mast Went Through Bottom of Boat Carrying Seven
—All Were Safely Rescued

A pleasure sail boat ride on Lake Charlevoix nearly ended in tragedy Monday afternoon for six members of a local resort family, and Norman Ance, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Ance and last year a local high school star athlete, was hero of the accident.

When his small sailboat, containing Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Rockwell of Winnetka, Ill., and their children, Sam 16, Paisley 13, Ted 10 and Bobby, 9, was hit by a sudden wind and rain squall, the mast in some manner was wrenched loose from its anchorage, dropped through the bottom, causing the craft to fill with water.

With air tanks keeping the boat afloat, life preservers were put on the children. Huge waves which swept over the boat carried Mr. Rockwell and Bobby overboard to be rescued after considerable difficulty by young Ance. Several craft were in sight, but apparently none saw the plight of the party and, finally, with all secure on the boat and assured the craft would not sink further, Norman swam over a mile to shore near Sequanota after help.

As it happened, his brave efforts were not necessary, for shortly after Norman reached shore, a passing craft pulled up to the disabled sailboat, took off its water-soaked occupants and later picked Norman up at Sequanota dock. None of the party were any worse off for their experience.

The Rockwell family, residents of Winnetka, Ill., and here visiting Mr. Rockwell's mother, Mrs. F. W. Rockwell, well known Belvedere Club cottager, are lavish in the praise of the coolness and bravery of young Ance, while Norman is equally impressed by the brave manner in which the party met their harrowing experience. To have become excited probably would have meant death by drowning for the whole family.

CHANGE FREIGHT DE- LIVERY ON P. M. R. R.

New Service Equals That Offered by Trucking Lines

The Pere Marquette Railway company has recently inaugurated a new program of handling freight out of Traverse City, which gives cities north of that point better and more prompt service.

Instead of making up merchandise cars for the northbound local the night previous, they now hold the cars open until 9:00 a. m. so a shipment brought to the warehouse up to that time will arrive in Charlevoix the same day at around 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

This new arrangement places the freight service on a par with that offered by trucks over the same route. In view of the great amount of taxes paid by the railroad in Charlevoix, local merchants would do well to place their patronage with railroad.

A resolute man is often found to be remarkably shy on resolutions.

MICHIGAN VOTERS TO POLLS TUESDAY

VOTING PLACE OPEN HERE
7:00 A. M. TO 8:00 P. M.

Republican and Democratic Ballots, Larger Than Heretofore, Have Been Delivered

Insofar as Charlevoix is concerned, the stage is all set for the primary election on Tuesday, September 13th. Ballots have been delivered by County Clerk Fenton R. Bulow. The polls in the Charlevoix library building will be open from 7 a. m. to 8 p. m.

Due to increase in the size of election squares to three-eighths inch the ballots this year are larger than heretofore. Following another legislative ruling, names of unopposed candidates do not appear on the ballot of any party. As an example, for county clerk, Fenton R. Bulow is unopposed on the Republican ticket, thus his name does not appear; and inasmuch as Democratic candidates for county office are not opposed, their names do not appear on the ballot for their party. The opportunity to vote on these candidates will be had at the November general election.

Following are the candidates to be voted upon:

INDIANS WIN RE- GION BALL TITLE

SWEPT SERIES AT PETOSKEY
TRI-COUNTY FAIR

Defeated Ellsworth and Keweenaw
Day and Monday on Home Grounds
—Petoskey Here Sunday

The Charlevoix Indians came home last Friday from Petoskey with the Northern Michigan baseball championship hanging securely to their belt.

Sweeping all competition in a series of games in which 12 teams took part at the tri-county fair, the Indians emerged with an undefeated record, winning the championship for teams outside of Emmet county and also the final game of the elimination series.

In the opening game, the Indians took Gaylord into camp by a 1 to 0 score, and followed up this victory by trouncing East Jordan, a substitute for Cheboygan.

Amos John was on the mound to defeat Gaylord, and Colby took over the hurling duties against East Jordan.

In the series final, the Indians triumphed over Pellston 7 to 6 in an evenly played game. Charlevoix scored their seven runs in the first three innings, with one in the 1st, two in the 2nd and four in the 3rd. Pellston scored three in the 2nd, and one each in the 4th, 7th and 9th innings. Amos John allowed 12 hits and struck out nine batters. Ball for Pellston, allowed 10 hits and struck out 13 batters.

Following up their wonderful showing at Petoskey, the Indians scored their ninth and tenth consecutive victories on their home diamond Sunday and Monday.

With Denemy and Roak as the battery, they defeated the Ellsworth Packers by a 10 to 2 score. Sunday and Monday took the Keweenaw team of the Emmet county league into camp by a 4 to 0 score, with Colby and Tookolo on the mound. Ellsworth used Wilson, J. Peebles, Beemer and K. Peebles. Jepson and Kelbel were the Keweenaw battery. In the Monday tilt, no one reached first base until the 5th inning, when Charlevoix took advantage of three hits, a stolen base and an error to score their four runs.

The next home game will be played next Sunday at north side park with Petoskey, and the week following the Indians go to the Charlevoix county fair for a series in which East Jordan, Ellsworth and Bellaire will compete.

47TH ANNUAL FAIR OPENS WEDNESDAY

EXHIBITS PROMISE TO BE BEST EVER SHOWN

Excellent Free Entertainments Listed—Admission Cut—Four Days of Fun Assured

Following a year of inactivity, and with a new board of directors and staff of officers handling the event, the Charlevoix County Agricultural Society will hold its 47th annual exhibit at the East Jordan fair grounds next Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, September 14, 15, 16 and 17.

With splendid cooperation received from granges, rural and city interests, success of the fair is assured. An ideal growing season has produced ideal crops, promising fine exhibits in this department. Increased interest is being shown in live stock and many fine farm animals will be on display. The various 4-H clubs of the county will add their work to the exhibits in larger numbers than ever before, and the school displays, always of great interest, will be up to their usual excellence.

Finances are in good condition, insuring prompt payment of premium money to prize winners. Through the wonderful cooperation of Frank F. Bird, Herman C. Meyer, Kit Carson and S. E. Rogers, members of the resigned fair board, this year's fair has received the sum of $665.30 from the state department of agriculture.

This amount represents the county's share of money based upon 1930 premiums and was not available until the premiums for that year had been paid in full. The four men mentioned above, made a special trip to Lansing to present the matter before proper officials, and were successful in their mission. Through memberships and other sources, the fair board now has around $1,000 available in advance of next week's receipts. The original plan was to pay premiums this year pro rata from gate receipts, but now whatever course the directors will take is yet to be decided.

Many fine entertainment features are being provided for next week. A good bill of free acts has been booked, a series of baseball games with Charlevoix, East Jordan, Ellsworth and Bellaire competing, two days of horse racing and other attractions are listed. Concessions will be of a high order.

Good crowds are assured through action of the directors in reducing the admission from 50 cents to 25 cents. Children from 10 to 14 will be admitted for 10 cents, the same charge being made for autos. Night admission for adults is 25 cents and children up to 14 years free.

TRUCK DRIVER HURT IN ACCIDENT MONDAY

His Vehicle Hit County Truck, Overturned and Caught Fire

Leonard Thomas, Grand Haven, was taken to Petoskey hospital suffering from injuries and burns received early Monday morning when a fruit truck he was driving crashed into the rear of Charlevoix county road truck No. 4, overturned and caught fire.

Two others, Charles Everjay and an unknown passenger, escaped serious injury. Clifford Green, driver of the county truck, saved the lives of the trio by releasing them from the flaming cab, and later extinguished the blaze before the truck was badly damaged.

The accident occurred three miles south of Boyne Falls on US-131. It is believed Thomas fell asleep at the wheel.

HOW MUCH is a dollar?

Dave Harum said, "When you get hold of ten dollars get it into you or onto you as soon as you can, for there ain't no pocket in a shroud and you're a long time dead."

If you had nothing but money you would be poor indeed. It is the things for which you can exchange the money you earn that set the standards of your living comforts and conveniences.

You know this. But do you know that it is you who largely determines the value of your dollars?

Many things contribute to the distance a dollar will go, but the greatest agent in "value received" is Advertising.

The advertisements in this paper tell you about the best grades of merchandise. They tell you where they can be had and for how much.

They tell you of the new things that manufacturers are producing to make your dollars of real worth to you in greater comforts, better living, more enjoyment.

Read the advertisements. Take time to save time. Take trouble to save trouble. Read to save walking. Search the ads to save searching the stores. And to make the dollar go farther!

MICHIGAN'S NEED

To eliminate the irresponsible and reckless driver from Michigan's highways a safety responsibility law is now in preparation for submission at the next meeting of the State Legislature. The bill provides for a strict penalty and bars those from the highway who fail to meet judgment when found guilty of causing damage or injury and drivers convicted of recklessness or other serious violations. These motorists may drive again only when they have met the court judgment and posted proper security to guarantee their responsibility in the event of another such accident or offense. This law does not affect the careful motorist, nor those not involved in accidents. Last year Michigan's automobile accident toll amounted to 1,500 deaths and an average of 35 accidents each day.

EDITORIALS
BILLION DOLLARS A WEEK
 Some figures in Editor and Publisher provide comforting food for thought during a period such as this city and the nation at large have been experiencing.

Over thirty million families spent over a billion dollars last week to provide themselves with the necessities and luxuries of life. By the same token, over thirty million families are engaged right now in the process of spending more than another billion dollars this week, and more than thirty million families will spend more than another billion dollars next week . . . and the week after . . . and the week after that. For the dull, summer months of a depression year, these are breath-taking totals.

For every man who is idle today in America there are six or eight who are gainfully employed. The whole picture has its shadows and dark places, but still there are plenty of bright spots and sunshine if we focus our attention on them instead of blinding ourselves to the good and looking solely at the bad.

The optimist who refuses to look the facts in the face, ignores the shadows altogether. This is far from a logical viewpoint, but it is equally or even more illogical to concentrate solely on the shadows and overlook the many redeeming features. The plain, unvarnished facts tell a better story than many people are willing to accept.

Now rays of sunshine are daily falling on the dark places, and with prices slowly beginning to move upward, the nation has many clear-cut and well-defined indications of a turn for the better. Only the extremists look for another 1928, but as 1932 is slowly—and painfully—written into history, we perhaps need not anticipate another 1932 any more than we need expect a 1928.

THE MOTOR MENACE

An automobile maker says that there are about 9,000,000 cars on the road today more than five years old and 15,000,000 more than four years old. These are the greatest existing menace to traffic. Some of them are maintained in good condition, but most of them are a potential menace wherever they go. Most of them, too, are unsatisfactory to their owners.

It would be a blessing all around to get a majority of these cars off the road. There would be a tremendous gain in safety and a new boom in the motor industry.

Realizing this, automobile makers are not despondent about present conditions, although they have sold little more than half as many cars this summer as they did last summer. They say they are expecting a rush of buyers in the fall. Sales staffs are holding campaign meetings all over the country to get ready for it. Factories too, are getting ready.

The new cars are better than ever before—better mechanically, better looking, and more comfortable. Builders say there will be few changes in next year's models. So there will be a double reason, for those who can afford it, to buy the coming fall. Most families, as usual, would rather have a new car than almost anything else, after rock-bottom fundamentals of living are provided, and some will not wait for that. Possibly the motor industry once more will lead the way to prosperity.

Motor vehicle deaths numbered 33,500—a new high record. Accidents were the second most important causes of deaths in men, heart disease being first. On the other hand, industrial plants reduced employees' injury frequency rates 33 per cent in two years, and railway crossing accidents declined 10 per cent.

In the past decade, industry has made amazing strides in preventing accidents and in lessening their severity. Part of this has been accomplished by improved guarding of machinery. The larger part, however, has resulted from a new spirit of safety first that has been instilled into workers and management alike. Precisely the opposite has occurred on our highways. Recklessness grows, rather than slackens; improvements in cars breed more deaths and injuries, not less.

What has been done in industry can be done with automobile driving. Just as industrial management disciplines the heedless worker who endangers others, so must the state discipline the heedless driver. If industrial workers can learn the gospel of accident prevention and take it to heart so that it becomes a part of their mental operations, so can the automobile driver learn care, competence and courtesy.

It is time to take drastic action to make our streets and highways safe.

GOOD TIME TO REPAIR

Rising prices are proving an incentive to buying. Naturally everyone wishes to supply his wants when costs of supplies are low, but it is a strange characteristic of man that he waits until the upturn starts and then hastens to market to buy what he needs before the ultimate advance. That time is at hand.

A slight gain in commodity prices has made for stimulation of purchases in many lines. In another field the psychological moment for the thrifty is at hand. A national committee, studying construction and repairs has found that repair work is still low, in fact 20 per cent less than it has ever been at any time in ten years. This condition will not remain static.

Repair work will increase in sympathy with other advances. All of which is just a gentle hint that now is the time to do that little repair job, the new garage, the patched roof, the refinished walls and a thousand and one repairs needed after a period where depreciation and disintegration have been allowed to go unheeded.

Surplus of labor and materials offer an opportunity now that may not be found again in many a year. It is savings knocking on the door of opportunity as well as one means of joining in the revival of higher prices and general prosperity.

Culling Roosters Good Practice for Farmers

Permitting the roosters to run with the laying flock during the summer season costs the poultry industry of this country a good many millions of dollars every year. The food which the roosters eat will go a long way toward keeping the flock in good condition and increasing the egg production. The important source of loss, however, is the fact that fertile eggs spoil so rapidly during warm weather. Except in the case of valuable breeding animals, the cockerels should be sent to market at once, and even those which are kept should be isolated.

Market Infertile Eggs for Superior Quality

Poultrymen who cater to markets demanding prime quality eggs may experience difficulty in meeting such a demand during hot weather unless their eggs are infertile. Such is the belief of Prof. Willard C. Thompson, poultry husbandman for the New Jersey agricultural experiment station, who explains that germ development of fertile eggs begins at a temperature of 68 degrees Fahrenheit. Once the breeding season is passed, he adds, there is no reason to continue producing fertile eggs, as the presence of a male bird is never essential to egg production.

New Chick Disease

A respiratory disease in poultry in Minnesota and North Dakota has been attracting considerable attention recently. Chicks become droopy and the down appears rough. Every few seconds the chicks raise their heads and gape for air. The mortality usually runs about 50 per cent in infected birds. No cures are known but respiratory disease in general requires plenty of pure fresh air. Uniformly warm temperatures and clean quarters are the recommendations offered.

Good Poultry Ration

There is no one best ration for goslings or for any other kind of poultry. The United States Department of Agriculture in their bulletin on goose raising recommends the following management of goslings: No feed for at least 24 hours. Then dry bread soaked in either milk or water with one chopped hard-boiled egg added. Feed several times a day with chopped grass or some other form of green feed for at least the first two or three weeks.

RE-ELECT

Calvin A. Campbell

OF INDIAN RIVER, MICHIGAN

to the Office of State Senator

from the 29th Senatorial District of Our State,

AND SOME OF THE REASONS WHY:

His records warrants this for the best interests of your County. He has been on the job every minute, having never missed a roll-call in last three sessions. He is a fighter for Northern Michigan, for hard-surfaced roads in the North, and for Conservation. At the last special session he fought to the last ditch against the diversion of state highway funds. He was opposed to the granting of millions of dollars from these funds to pay for the extravagance of some of the lower counties of the state, and while outnumbered was the author of having at least 25 per cent of all the funds left for new construction, " earmarked " to be spent in the Northern Counties of the Lower Peninsula.

SENATOR CAMPBELL had charge in the Senate of the Ming Tubercular Hospital bill and succeeded in getting it through the Senate over a strong opposition. This Hospital will be placed in the upper part of the lower peninsula.

SENATOR CAMPBELL also had charge in the Senate of what was known as the "Green 10c an Acre bill" and succeeded in getting this passed against heavy opposition. This legislation requires the State to pay to the Township, 10c an acre for all lands in the Township taken over by the State for delinquent taxes, etc., which money goes to the support of schools and roads in said Township.

SENATOR CAMPBELL is the author of most all of Michigan's aeronautic legislation, which legislation among other things requires a 3c gas tax and a franchise tax on aeroplanes, the tax to be used to help build and maintain landing fields in every county in upper Michigan.

SENATOR CAMPBELL also was the leading exponent of the last Congressional reapportionment and it was through his efforts, principally that the present law is now in effect. This law leaves all of Northern Michigan's Congressional districts exactly as they have been for years, although the present northern Congressional districts only have approximately 50 per cent of the population of the Congressional districts in the metropolitan areas. Senator Campbell stands squarely upon no further reapportionment for the members of the State Legislature.

SENATOR CAMPBELL stands for a radical reduction in state taxes and rigid economy in the whole state government.

CHARLES H. EMERY

FOR

JUDGE OF PROBATE

BE SURE AND VOTE NEXT TUESDAY

The incumbent, E. A. Rueggesser, has held county offices about eleven years, myself eight years.

For nearly three years Mr. Rueggesser has been on trial before the people, completing the term made vacant by the sickness and death of the late Judge Correll. Judge Correll held the office many years and kept the office open daily, rendering excellent service.

Because of the many personal and other political offices held, Mr. Rueggesser has failed to produce the service expected of him in the office and should not be returned to continue longer. He did promise, he does now promise to better the service should he be given further trial. Remember—Promises are easily made and Pledges soon forgotten.

Placing these, my final words, before you, I have but this to ask: When voting next Tuesday, simply compare the office records of the candidates and then vote for the one who has given the people prompt and efficient service. Service is what you pay for and what you should receive.

Respectfully submitted,

CHARLES H. EMERY.

—Formerly County Clerk and Clerk of the Circuit Court.

VOTERS ATTENTION!

To the Citizens of the Charlevoix-Leelanau Legislative District:
Do you believe in a more just and equal plan of taxation than now prevails in Michigan?

Do you believe there should be a wider distribution of the rewards of honest, faithful efforts for the farmer, the workers in all lines of human endeavor, as well as for those who invest their dollars in BIG BUSINESS?

Do you believe the individual who deposits money in Banks and Trust companies should be safe-guarded against loss of said deposits?

Do you believe the honest, able banker should also be protected and the dishonest banker should be more severely punished for misuse of the depositors' money?

Do you believe enforcement of law and order should protect society and punish severely all who violate the rules of organized society?

Do you believe it to be a sacred duty to train youth to become honest, righteous and useful men and women?

Do you believe in a more equal scheme of taxation for supporting and maintaining our Public School system?

Do you believe in preserving, maintaining, and constructively improving our scenic beauty; in cleaning up, wherever needed, our Lake Michigan shores, the shores of our inland lakes, and rivers and streams?

Do you believe in making auto highways in this section more attractive and beautiful to the many visitors who come within our borders every summer?

Do you believe in better highways?

Do you believe this district and other resort sections of Michigan should receive a larger share of the State auto gas tax, as well as the auto weight tax?

Do you believe in adjusting our conservation laws, so that our visitors as well as those who dwell here permanently, will feel and know that no unjust nor unfair discriminations are made?

Do you believe we need better transportation, fairer prices for farm products, a more equitable plan of farm taxation?

Do you feel we need to study carefully the economics of life; to use our highest intelligence to relieve the burdens weighing so heavily upon so many of our people; to sympathize more with each other; to make an honest effort to understand others as well as ourselves?

Do you believe in good government honestly and economically administered?

Do you believe that whoever is chosen to represent you in our State Legislature should devote his time, thought and energy to conferring with the people of this district and doing everything possible in carrying out their wishes?

Do you believe your representative should be unselfish, and lend himself constantly to constructive work that will be to the best interests not only of the people of his district but to those who follow?

To all these questions one of your candidates for the office of State Representative can answer "Yes."

If you desire such a representative to serve you take the Republican Primary Ballot on Tuesday, September 13, and place an cross (X) in front of the name of who pledges to the people of this district his constant and honest effort to obey and to carry out, so far as it is humanly possible, all measures to safeguard the wishes of the majority.

BLIND VOTING IS BAD VOTING

Frequently nowadays is heard the remark, "This is a good year to vote for a change; conditions couldn't be any worse." Usually this is said with a certain flippancy as if voting were a sort of game of chance in which the voter shared no responsibility as to outcome and probably stood to lose in any event.

But to take such a position is to confess carelessness as to the welfare of one's city, state and country, and either lazy unwillingness or inability to make the preparation necessary to intelligent citizenship. It is acting upon the silly assumption that those who are in charge of the Government are a unified party acting according to a definite principle which is either right or wrong and that this party is opposed at the election by another unified party which if elected will conduct the Government by an entirely different principle from that now in operation.

As a matter of fact, the duty of choice by the elector is not all so simple. The government is the result of the acts of many individuals, some of one party, some of another, but each to be held responsible for his own record. With the present facilities for watching the course of events, any intelligent citizen may know whether his congressman or member of the legislature or his representatives in the city council, have shown themselves the sort of public servants he approves.

To decide therefore to try for an entirely new deal by voting to reject everyone in office in the hope of bringing about improved conditions unquestionably is throwing into the lot, and some of the best material for public service that is available. The days when one could take legitimate pride in voting the ticket without a scratch are past. Party divisions still exist and have value, but government in this country has developed a high type of individualism and the worthy public servant no matter of what party deserves to be retained, not as a reward for his worthiness, but because the country cannot afford to dismiss him.—Detroit News.

HOMESTEADER HAS A POOR CHANCE IN MICHIGAN

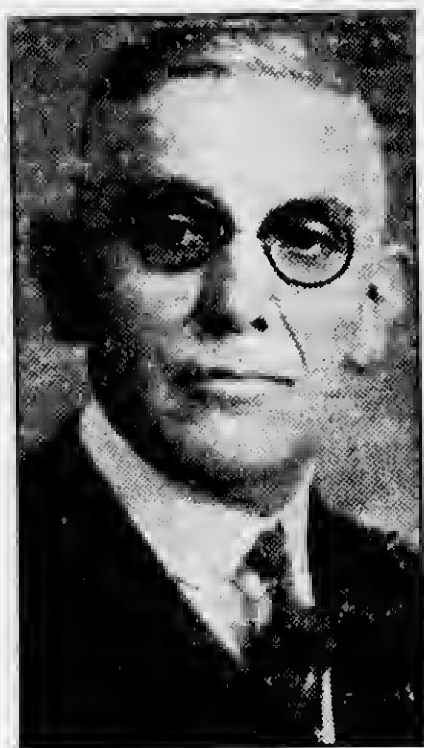

The chance to obtain "homestead" lands good enough to be developed into profitable farms was a pioneer opportunity, which has largely passed with that stage of the state's growth. The modern homestead lands are small tax-delinquent areas usually located on the edge of the agricultural districts.

Very little of the hundreds of thousands of acres of land now reverting to the state for back taxes is agricultural land, according to the lands division of the department of conservation. Practically all of this tax delinquent property is composed of and plains with the timber removed or burned. As a result the area that might be profitably homesteaded is limited.

The economic situation within the past year has caused a flood of applications for homestead lands. Many of the applicants are men born on farms but who moved to the city. Others are urban residents who believe that 40 acres of land given them by the state will solve their financial troubles.

According to the lands office, which has studied the results of hundreds of present day attempts at homestead-on the

REPUBLICAN TICKET

From the 29th Senatorial District of Michigan

He is particularly interested in the solution of the problems directly affecting the people of this District and State which he believes to be the following:

Michigan's Banking Laws must be revised to provide adequate protection to Bank Depositors.

He favors a definite, downward re-adjustment of the cost of Government in State, County and City, and the consequent reduction shall reflect itself in lower Real Estate taxes, thus relieving the farmer and small home owner.

He is convinced that the 29th District has not received its just proportion of highway development, and promises to aggressively urge a further highway development in this District consistent with amount of State and Federal funds available.

standing, the average homesteader has a poor chance of succeeding. Less than half of those who are given certificates to use pieces of state land remain through the five years period necessary to acquire title; and less than a quarter of the total ever remain permanently on the homestead. Many "prove up" at the end of five years when the land goes on the tax rolls. Then they remain another five years without paying taxes and the land again reverts to the state.

Homesteads are not granted promiscuously, it is indicated from the regulations furnished each applicant. The state makes an investigation as to the applicant to determine whether he is serious in his intent to farm. The land which he would acquire is examined and if it is not agricultural in character, the application is rejected. To issue a certificate for such land would be to issue a "starvation ticket," the land office claims.

The homestead laws require that not more than 160 acres be granted to one person and he must not be the owner of as much as 40 acres of land. At the time of application for the homestead he must pay into the general fund of the state at the rate of ten cents an acre for each acre granted. For five years he must actually live on the land and be able to prove that he is farming the property. During that time he does not pay property taxes. At the end of five years, if all conditions have been met, the state grants him a deed to the property, and the homestead has become a "farm."

There are about 200 homesteaders in Michigan, engaged in "proving up" plots of from 40 to 160 acres of state land.

SOME THINGS WE HAVE

Here are some facts about the wealth and the resources of the people of the United States that should bid us to take courage:

We have 52,000,000 savings deposit accounts with over $29,000,000,000 in the banks to their credit. In the mutual savings banks of the country deposits are $1,233,000,000 in excess of what they were in the height of boom times.

There are 68,000,000 insurance policy holders insured for more than $110,000,000,000, or almost seven times the amount in force in 1910. More than $16,500,000,000 new life insurance was written in the depression year 1931.

Bank clearings for the United States in 1931 were $462,000,000, 000 while in 1910 they were $168,000,000,000.

As a nation we hold more of the world's monetary gold than ever has been assembled in any one country. We have about $4,900,000,000 of the yellow metal.

The assessed value of property in 1930 was nearly $167,000,000,000; in 1910 it was $69,500,000,000.

The wealth of the United States, estimated now at $300,000,000,000, is about double the amount recorded in 1910, while our population increased during this period by only one-third.

We spent for public schools in the United States in 1931, $2,305,000,000 and in 1910, $426,250,000.

For highways the country spent $1,618,000,000 in 1931; while in 1914 the figure was $240,000,000.

The automatic machine for home refrigeration has been perfected since 1925. In the three years of the depression, approximately 3,750,000 mechanical refrigerators have been purchased at an estimated cost of $2,000,000,000, while more than 16,000,000 radios are now owned in the United States.

Our exports today are far in excess of our imports prior to the World war. While the United States leads the world in foreign trade, it is true that 90 per cent of our business is done with and among our 125,000,000 people. This is the greatest present and potential market for our products.

VALUE OF STATE POLICE

While some Michigan political leaders are attacking the Michigan Department of Public Safety as a costly and useless institution, another bank holdup has occurred in Wisconsin. Two armed men entered the bank at Doylestown, murdered the assistant cashier and escaped with about $1,000 in loot early this week.

In continuing its crusade for the establishment of an effective police system, patterned somewhat along the lines of the state police of Michigan and other states, the Milwaukee Sentinel presents some interesting figures on bank holdups.

In ten states, in which the state police protection has been enjoyed for ten years or more, the Sentinel points out there were 47 bank robberies in the year ending August 31, 1931. In seven states, including Wisconsin, without such protection, 294 daylight robberies were reported, or more than six times as many as in the ten protected states.

"The fact that organized state police are on the roads, equipped and trained to deal with bank bandits is a strong deterrent, as the figures show," the Sentinel declares. "Bank robbers are not going to take the chances involved in working in such states, when in adjacent states they know they will have to deal only with local constabulary and hastily summoned posses."

It's an odd situation. In a state where there are no state police, the people demand such protection; and in a state where there are state troopers some politicians demand their removal.

WAR DEBTS

The United States will have to make up its mind once and for all, before very many more months have passed, just what it is going to do about the war debts.

Our government's policy has always been that the war debts had nothing at all to do with reparations question settled among themselves before they came across the sea to request a new deal on the debt proposition. Well, they have done it; we can expect them to reopen the debt question any day now and to reopen it with more eloquence and force than they ever have before.

To an observer on the sidelines, it looks very much as if Uncle Sam might be up a tree. Reparations have been whittled down to a comparatively insignificant total. Anyone who thinks that Europe will not use every resource to achieve a similar result in regard to the debts is simply deluding himself.

DEBT TO THE COMMUNITY

We heard a man talk for an hour the other day about what he had done for this community. To hear him one would think the community was greatly in debt to him. That is not so. All he has done will not pay back what he has taken from the community. He owes the community more than it owes him. First he owes it for his existence while a child and then for the education it gave him. Finally when he was able to begin business for himself, it gave him plenty—so much that he has been able to give away some of his services and some of his surplus money. He still has plenty left. The point is; all he has today has come from the community in which he lives. Everyone owes his community something and when everyone feels that way about it, the community or town is a good one to live in.—St. John's Republican News.

TO THE DEMOCRATIC ELECTORS OF THE ELEVENTH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

As a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Representative in Congress from this district, I will appreciate your support and vote at the coming Primary Election.

If nominated, I intend to make a vigorous campaign for the Democratic ticket throughout the district.

If elected, my endeavor will be to do my part in easing the heavy burden of taxes now imposed on the American people with due regard for the Government's obligations.

I believe that a change in administration will be of great benefit to the country, that the present Republican administration has been tried and found wanting and that a new and vigorous administration fresh from the people is the need of the present.

I stand squarely on the Democratic platform.

EXPENSE OF ADMINISTERING JUSTICE presented by

Rollie L. Lewis, Prosecuting Attorney

The expenses herein shown are disclosed by the records of the county and cover the term of the present Prosecuting Attorney, from January 1st, 1929, to July 1st, 1932, a period of three and one-half years, during which time 428 cases were actually disposed of in either the Justice or the Circuit Court.

The expenses are also given covering the time from May 1st, 1923, to January 1st, 1929, a period of five and one-half years, when the office was held by Mr. Fitch. This is not given for the purpose of making comparison as during no two periods are the same crimes committed and investigations required.

We have been to some expense in attempting to give the good people on Beaver Island protection. We have not always been successful, but an examination of the records will disclose that the costs and fines imposed upon those who were found guilty have fully covered the entire costs.

There has been some criticism of the One-Man Grand Jury proceeding in the county highway investigation. THERE WAS NO EXPENSE TO THE COUNTY for the investigation made by the Attorney General's Department in this case, nor was there any expense for the attendance of the Assistant Attorney General and his investigator at the hearing. THE ONLY EXPENSE INCURRED was for the stenographer and fees for some forty witnesses, in all, amounting to less than $230.00. This expense was fully justified by the information obtained.

In presenting this expense account your attention is called to the telephone bill. It has been the practice to have all calls by Justices and Deputies charged to the Prosecutor's telephone, this, in order to avoid a multiplicity of bills.

The expense of the Circuit Court covers all cases both Civil and Criminal. You will note that for this period of three and one-half years only 12 days were actually taken up in the trial of Criminal Jury cases; this is a great saving to the County of Charlevoix.

Respectfully submitted,

ROLIE L. LEWIS, Prosecuting Attorney.

ALL RAILROAD CROSSINGS MUST BE MARKED

County Will Place Four Reflector Signs Yet This Year

Four railroad crossings must be marked with reflecting signs by the county highway commission before January 1, 1933, and plans are already under way to have this work completed early in the fall, according to R. T. Davis, county highway superintendent.

Under the state law a standard sign similar to the old "Stop-Look-Listen" sign, a cross-buck on a standard, must be provided. The county has taken over many miles of township roads this year and it is largely on these roads that the new signs must be placed, as all state highway crossings are already marked.

The signs have arms four foot long and are made up of the metal button reflectors. Beneath the cross arms must be shown the number of tracks to be crossed. The county highway authorities are now making contracts with the railroad companies involved. The county and railroads split the cost, it is understood.

STATE MEN PIONEER PLANNING LAND USE

Call Meeting at Munising October 7-8 to Consider Methods

Individuals and civic bodies in the upper peninsula and Michigan State college are acting as pioneers in calling a land-use conference which will meet in Munising, October 7 and 8.

The purpose of the conference, as announced by Prof. P. A. Herbert, Michigan State college, is to make plans for the most efficient and profitable utilization of the idle cutover lands in this state. Prof. Herbert says this will be the first meeting of its kind conducted in the United States.

Previous methods of handling cutover and forest lands have been matters of individual concern and the results have not always been satisfactory to men who have bought types of land which were unfitted for the production of field crops.

MICHIGAN NOW HEAVY IMPORTER OF LUMBER

Once Led Other States in Export of This Product

Michigan, once a great lumber exporter, now consumes twice as much lumber as it produces, according to figures issued by the United States forest service and based on U. S. census tabulations for 1930. This state, with New York, New Jersey and Massachusetts, imports much of its softwood timber from Canada.

While in 1930 Michigan was first in the consumption of hardwoods it ranked fourth among the states in production, being led by Louisiana, Wisconsin and Mississippi.

DEPENDABLE LEADERSHIP NEEDED NOW MORE THAN EVER BEFORE SAYS CHEBOYGAN EDITOR

"In a close perusal of those papers published in the Charlevoix-Leelanau county legislative district we cannot help but note the keen interest shown there in the candidacy of Herman C. Meyer of Boyne Falls who seeks to represent that district in the state legislature and seeks that nomination and election on the Republican ticket. Herman Meyer is that type of a good citizen that every district must tie to if they expect to get fair, honest and honorable representation in our legislative bodies and northern Michigan people must come to realize at this time that we cannot afford to take chances on the kind of men we elect to represent us. A man may make a lot of high sounding political promises, he may advertise how he will shake the tree and the political plums will just rattle down in the laps of those people who elect him, but it's a wise voter that just analyzes that promisor's past record in your community. If he has not been a business success, if he has not credibly identified himself with public measures that have benefited your community, then why accept his promises at this time when we need dependable leadership more than ever before. Mr. Meyer is dependable, he is a successful business man, a leader in his community, a man that identifies himself with and gets behind everything tending to his community and upper Michigan good, and our neighbors can well and safely tie up to him."—Cheboygan Observer.

SCHOOL ENROLLMENT INCREASED

TWENTY-FIVE ABOVE 1931 FIGURES ANNOUNCED

Senior High School, Kindergarten and Fifth Grade Showed Most Marked Gains

Charlevoix public schools opened for the 1932-33 term Monday morning with registration. Class assignments followed and now everything is running smoothly and regular routine under way.

With enrollment of students practically completed, Supt. G. F. Bush announced the largest number of students in the history of the public schools. To date 366 have classified in the junior and senior high school, 314 in the elementary grades and 15 in the county normal, making a total school attendance at the close of the second day of 695.

The most marked increases have occurred in the kindergarten, which this year numbers 52 as compared with 32 last year, and the fifth grade with an enrollment of 57 as compared with 43 for the 1931-32 school year.

The senior high school last year at the end of the first month had a total registration of 177. This year the initial registration in the upper three grades is 190. Total enrollments at the end of the first week in 1931, including the county normal, were 670, whereas this year, as indicated above, 695 have already arranged for attendance in the local school.

Some complaint has been made with regard to text books and their cost. It seems only proper to call attention to the fact that fewer new text books have been introduced this year than last, that only such changes were made as were insisted upon by the inspectors sent out by the state department and the University of Michigan, and that books are sold through the high school book store at cost.

The increased enrollment in senior high school has necessitated the introduction of several new courses to relieve congestion in classes regularly offered. As a result, home economics is being given in both the tenth and eleventh grades; junior business training for ninth grade commercial students is being presented, and a course in World History, open to tenth grade students, is being offered for the first time.

Thirty-four non-resident students are enrolled in senior high school and twenty-four freshmen from surrounding districts have selected the Charlevoix high school this fall.

BRUCKER IS LEADING IN GOVERNORSHIP RACE

HANKEY MILL AT BOYNE FALLS IS DESTROYED

Total Loss in Fire Monday Morning—Structure 50 Years Old

The Hankey Milling company's flour-mill at Boyne Falls was destroyed by fire early Monday morning. Flames were noticed shortly after 5 o'clock by residents of the south section of the village. It is believed that the flames may have been set by tramps or have been caused by the electrical wiring of the factory. The place is a total loss, with insurance to partially cover the damage.

The plant was purchased by the Hankey Milling company about forty years ago after being operated by Boyne Falls people for many years. The Hankey company completely remodeled the plant, installing valuable machinery to make the plant a complete institution, turning out high grade flour and other grain products.

There was no fire used about the place for the plant was operated by water power and lighted with electric lights. While the site is a valuable one for a manufacturing plant, the company had not indicated that the flour mill would be rebuilt.

RAILROAD SHIFTED SCHEDULE SUNDAY

RESORT TRAINS OFF EXCEPT FOR SPECIAL TRAINS

Arrival Time and Delivery of Mail from Postoffice Altered—New Schedule Announced

With the fall railroad schedule taking effect Sunday, it is suggested that travelers consult the ticket agent before completing plans, for not only do the changes effect leaving time here, but also connections at division points.

The Pere Marquette train No. 1 will arrive in Charlevoix northbound at 1:48 (2:48 Charlevoix time), and train No. 8 will leave at 3:46 (4:46 Charlevoix time) daily except Sunday. These trains will handle a through Chicago sleeper.

The Resort Special will be operated on September 14, 18 and 25. These trains will carry complete equipment the same as regular summer trains. Northbound they will leave terminals on September 13, 16 and 23.

With the change in train time mail schedules also have been altered. Operation of the star mail route between Charlevoix and Petoskey was inaugurated again Monday morning by H. R. Fowler. The bus returns at 10:35 E. S. T. with the first mail of the day.

Under this arrangement, the first city delivery will leave the postoffice at approximately 11 o'clock. Mail from the south arrives here at 2:48 p. m., and outgoing mail should be in the postoffice at 2 o'clock. Arrival of the southbound is at 4:46, and the dead line for mailing will be 4 o'clock.

This city will have two mail deliveries daily. Both will be complete to the business district, but the residential districts will receive only first class mail on the afternoon delivery.

VOTING SUBJECT OF W. C. T. U. MEET FRIDAY

Many Attended School of Instruction Which Followed

"The Importance of Your Vote" was the topic discussed at the W. C. T. U. meeting last Friday under the leadership of Mrs. A. J. Usher, Mrs. Todd and Mrs. Flanders acted as hostesses.

Mrs. Leonard, Rife, Rauch and Kelderhouse and Miss Metcalf were elected delegates to the district convention to be held at Central Lake Methodist church September 20 and 21. A great deal of interest was shown in the school of instruction for women voters which followed the meeting and several came in especially for that. Candidates and their qualifications were discussed and the method of electing delegates to the county convention explained, as well as the importance of that gathering.

START FOOTBALL SCHEDULE OCT. 1

TWENTY-FIVE PLAYERS OUT FOR PRACTICE MONDAY

Coach Kipke Faced With Task of Building Team Around Four Remaining Letter Men

Familiar scenes are being re-enacted at south side athletic field this week. Starting Monday afternoon, preparations for the 1932 football season were started, and strenuous weeks of practice are in store for the lads who will wear the colors of Charlevoix high school during the coming season.

Coach Ray Kipke is faced with a difficult task. With only four letter men available, he must build a team from inexperienced and untried material for the most part. Of last year's squad, only Edwia McCann, captain and guard; Marcus Roen, end; Homer Struthers, half back and tackle; and Harry Baker, who played some at half, are available. Warren Shapton, Jack Foster, Herbert Campbell and Joe Smith, four players who saw action for short periods in several games, are in uniform.

Other candidates include Levi Gibelson, Drew Young, Gordon Bartlett, Bill Chambers, Lawrence Korth, Herman Meyers, Bill Bergman, Steve Serne, Bob Pearl, Jim Shaw, Keith Nickerson, Marshall O'Neil, James Gallagher, George Richardson, Grover Geacit, Teddy Miller, Gordon Raby and Bernie Foster, all newcomers.

From the above groups, Coach Kipke will shape a team to replace such players as Joe Arvilla, Norman Anee, Devere Bird, George LaBlanc, Howard Davenport, Dan Goeit, David Dick, Charles Novotay and Vic McSauby, all of whom graduated.

Kipke has given out no indication so far in regards to his selections for back field material. Struthers and Baker are both likely men with experience, and Joe Smith, who withdrew last season following injury in the Mancelona game, should be a valuable man. Several others show promise.

Practice sessions so far have been confined to light drills for conditioning. As the week advances, scrimmage and tackling drills will be in order.

Coach Kipke has three full weeks in which to get his men in shape for the opening tilt at East Jordan on October 1st. Other contests on a six-game schedule are as follows:

October 8—Mancelona here.
October 15—Cheboygan there.
October 22—Boyne City here.
October 29—Harbor Springs here.
November 5—Petoskey there.

Perennials can be planted at any time now. Quality plants can be had at the Charlevoix County Nursery for 15c each.—Adv. 3711.

MICHIGAN CROPS PROSPECTS GOOD

POTATOES AND BEANS SHOW GREAT IMPROVEMENT

Oats and Barley Below Average and Fruit Prospects About Same As in August

Improved prospects for the state's potato and bean crops, disappointing yields of oats and barley, and little change in the outlook for other field and fruit crops are shown by the September 1 crop report of the department of agriculture which was issued by Irvin Holmes, assistant agricultural statistician, and Herbert E. Powell, commissioner of agriculture.

While some areas of the state suffered considerably from drought during August, widespread heavy rains occurred during the last ten days of the month and these have helped prospects for late fall crops such as potatoes, beans and sugar beets.

Although corn prospects are very uneven over the state, the average yield indicated by September 1 condition is 33.0 bushels per acre or about 2.5 bushels above the ten-year average. The crop is maturing early, thereby reducing the danger of damage from early frosts, and cutting of fodder and ensilage had started in many sections during the last week of the month.

The effect of heat damage to the oats and barley crops was more severe than had been anticipated earlier. Reports on probable yields show an average return for the state of 27.0 bushels per acre for oats and 19.0 bushels per acre for barley. This is four bushels less than the ten-year average yield for oats and nearly five bushels per acre below the ten-year average yield of barley in this state.

The Michigan field bean crop is estimated at 6,480,000 bushels or 3,888,000 bags which compares with 5,526,000 bushels or 3,316,000 bags harvested last year. The indicated yield per acre on September 1 was 12.0 bushels. Last year the final yield was 9.0 bushels while the average for the preceding ten years was 10.6 bushels.

Michigan's potato crop is estimated at 26,500,000 bushels or the largest since 1928. The average yield per acre promises to be 100.0 bushels or about 3.0 bushels above the ten-year average, but the final estimate may vary from this figure according to the extent to which September weather is more or less favorable than usual.

The indicated production of apples is slightly larger than that shown by conditions one month ago. The total or agricultural crop is forecast at 5,720,000 bushels which compares with 10,070,000 bushels harvested last year, while the commercial crop is now estimated at 1,043,000 barrels or 719,000 barrels less than were harvested in 1931. The estimated production of the other fruit crops is the same as in August 1, or: peaches, 1,760,000 bushels; pears, 714,000 bushels; grapes, 70,125 tons.

INDIANS WON SUNDAY GAME WITH PETOSKEY

Scored Eleventh Straight Victory by 11 to 5 Score

The Charlevoix Indians extended their string of consecutive victories to eleven by defeating Petoskey Sunday afternoon at north side ball park by a 11 to 5 score.

Petoskey threatened early in the game by scoring four runs in the first inning. From then on, however, they were held in check, counting only a single run, that in the fifth inning.

Charlevoix scored twice in the initial inning, took the lead with four runs in the second. They added four more in the sixth and a single in the seventh.

Colby pitched for the Indians until injured in the sixth inning. Amos John finished the contest and Tookolo caught the entire game. Chapin, Cory and Bisque formed the losing battery.

Manager Glen Rose takes his team to the Charlevoix county fair this week. The Indians meet East Jordan in the opening game of a series with Bellaire and Ellsworth participating also.

Special bargains may be had in the colorful Japanese Barberry for 35c each at the Charlevoix County Nursery, six miles southeast of Charlevoix.—Adv. 3711.

WHAT IS ADVERTISING?
While it may sound like a fairy story, it is an absolute fact that a man came into a St. Johns store this week with $3,000 in currency in his pocket. He needed some things for his home. He cautiously went about the purchase as if he were spending his last few dollars. He had not decided what he was going to do with his cash.

Of course this is an extreme case. Very few people in this county are carrying such large sums around in their pants pockets. The risk of doing so is great. It is foolish. There are many people who have plenty of money to buy their ordinary needs. Caution and fear have become almost a habit with many of these. They are not buying what they need and what they can afford.

While it is the province of a newspaper to sell advertising, it is likewise the duty of a newspaper to point out what it believes to be sound and wise. The public is in need of encouragement. This uncertainty which has paralyzed the courage and normal activity of so many people needs to be broken down. Self preservation may be one of the first laws of nature, but in this age the hoarding of large amounts of money by individuals can do but one thing—make the hard-hips of others even more acute.

Isn't it about time that people assumed a more bold and aggressive attitude? There is a greater opportunity right now than most of us realize. Values have started on the upgrade. One St. Johns merchant told this week that he had placed his order for a whole year's supply of cotton goods. He believes prices are going higher — much higher. While there is no concrete evidence at hand to warrant it, for some reason values have been steadily going up for the last two months. Every manufacturer and every merchant knows—as well as every farmer—that commodities have been selling for less than cost. This cannot last.

Why then is it not a good time to buy? Why should not the public be urged to buy? The newspaper which has been the foundation of spreading public knowledge, still remains the most effective and most economical means of advertising. In Clinton county this newspaper has maintained a list of subscribers numbering over 4,000. No other medium circulates so widely. No other method has the same reception in the home-of Clinton county people. The newspaper is not an unwelcome piece of advertising thrust into the automobile or on the front porch. It is a medium which the people themselves buy and pay for in order that they may keep themselves informed as to happenings and values.

Many schemes are being paraded by fly-by-nights under the guise of advertising. Programs, menus and many other vehicles are used to promote what amounts to nothing more or less than petty graft. Advertising, to have value, must reach a large number of people. It must be looked upon favorably when it reaches them. The fact that people pay for their newspaper is the test that not a single one of the schemes can stand. Not only do the newspapers of this country remain in an enviable position as advertising medium—the people today are looking to their newspapers as never before for buying information. — Clinton County Republican News.

KEEP THEM IN SCHOOL
Right now there is more interest in education and schools, it seems, than at most any other time of year. Thousands of youths, both boys and girls are making that great decision of whether or not to go to college, and some of them whether or not to even finish high school. The benefits of education and the desirability of keeping youth in school are touched upon in a highly interesting item by the editor of the Grand Rapids Press, whose editorial follows:

"One of the benefits arising out of the present era should be a higher level of education in the ranks of those advancing toward maturity and a place in the business and industrial world. Many youths who otherwise would be quitting the classroom for the bench are continuing their studies because no jobs are available.

"School doors swinging open again this week are admitting many of these. But high school and college students alike are questioning the efficiency of higher learning or preparation for jobs that do not exist.

"To offset this it is not sufficient to quote the well known statistics showing the comparative earning power of the schooled and the unschooled. Earning power without employment is an abstraction. But if we show a definite relationship between education and employment it will establish a more convincing reason for schooling in periods like the present.

"Recent studies in this field indicate that the greater the education the less the chances for unemployment. A survey of a thousand jobless persons in a mid-west city showed that 90 per cent had less than an eighth grade education. Only seven of the remainder, or seven-tenths of one per cent of the whole group, were high school graduates. None had been to college.

"It is pointed out that this does not mean high school or college graduates are not jobless. In this case it showed they are rarely dependent upon the community. Their earning capacity is greater when they are working and they probably develop greater reserves. But more important is the fact that they develop also a greater initiative and resourcefulness to create jobs for themselves. Education also tends to lift the individual out of a class that generally is hardest hit by unemployment conditions.

"Whatever the prospects for immediate employment, it is the duty of the community to fit its youth—at least that part of its youth capable and ready to absorb education—with the best possible equipment before turning it out to meet the difficulties of independent existence. Surely the prospects of success will not be enhanced by denying to the really promising the utmost in training."

THE HOME-TOWN PAPER
The Journalism department of the University of Southern California has been delving into the buying habits of newspaper readers and has made some valuable discoveries. Subscribers to the home-town paper buy from 12 to 21 per cent more merchandise from local stores than do non-subscribers. Of the people in neighboring rural or smaller communities, subscribers buy from advertisers from 9 to 35 per cent more merchandise than non-subscribers. This holds true, regardless of spending power.

The local newspaper, it is estimated, makes one of the largest, if not the largest, contributions to volume of trade in the smaller cities of California, and doubtless in the other states. The relation of the newspaper to the business world is more vital today than at any time in the past decade. The investigators are convinced that retail business in the smaller communities would be from one-fifth to one-fourth below its present level without the push given it by newspaper advertising.

"In such economic conditions as we have today," says the report, "the local newspaper is an inestimable asset to the entire community. Not only is it a reservoir of local and national information, but through its ability to increase consumption of local goods, it stands out above any other institution in community-building value. It can also be verified that without such advertising merchandise in itself would be less dependable in quality and price, to say nothing ing of the effect upon trade ethics and practices. For without advertising there is no opportunity for the consumer to make comparisons of either goods or prices."

The local newspaper has to make quite a struggle against the big city competitor. If local citizens appreciated its value to them they would give it whole-hearted support.

REMODEL STORE INTO LIVING APARTMENTS

Work on S. M. See & Sons Building Now Under Way

The second story of the S. M. See & Sons building, corner of Bridge and Antrim streets, is being remodeled into living apartments. Work is now well under way.

The plans call for six apartments, three 4-room and as many 5-room, and one single room. All will be modernly appointed, with equipment including electric range, electric refrigerator, garbage disposal, etc. The 5-room apartments will include two bedrooms and the 4-room a single bedroom. All have breakfast alcoves and built-in kitchen equipment, and will be completely furnished.

Mr. See states he expects workmen to be finished by October 15th. The first floor space of the building will be rented.

PRIMARY FUNDS WILL BE DISTRIBUTED SOON

Total Is Around 3½ Million Less Than Year Ago

Apportionment of $20,776,924 in primary school money among the 83 counties of the state was announced Monday by Webster H. Pearce, superintendent of public instruction. The total is nearly $3,500,000 less than that divided a year ago. The 1932 apportionment is based upon a primary school population of 1,372,310 in the entire state which results in payment to the counties of $15.14 for each student. These figures compare with a population of 1,363,354 and a rate of $17.70 a year ago.

Charlevoix county will receive $66,040; Emmet county, $70,582; Chibougan county, $62,649; Alpena county, $102,058; Mackinac county, $45,268; Grand Traverse, $81,680; Wayne, $7,553,412.

Central Lake union invites all temperance workers of the district to attend the convention.

TRAVERSE CITY FOOTBALL STAR IS DROWNED

Harry Toegel, 19, former Traverse City high school football player, was drowned last Wednesday night in Grand Traverse bay. The boat in which he and Ralph Lyle, 19, were going to Ford island upset in a sudden storm. Lyle swam a mile to shore. Toegel's body was recovered Thursday morning.

Few boys and girls recently graduated from high school know what they are best fitted for in the way of earning a living. Central State Teachers college in Mt. Pleasant is putting into operation for the coming year a new plan under which a freshman personnel director and assistants take charge of incoming freshmen, giving them individual assistance through the year in finding what they are best fitted to do.

When an employee becomes satisfied with the position he has and the salary he is receiving, he has ceased to grow, and is neither entitled to the job he has nor the pay he gets.

If a penniless man has nowhere else to go he should go to work.

Pullets That Lay Are The Pullets That PAY!

That is just the kind poultrymen everywhere produce by feeding Mermash 16 per cent.

Big, healthy birds, firm boned, early laying. Mermash eggs are strong-shelled eggs of finest flavor.

Mr. M. C. Lung tested Mermash against other feeds. He says: "Of 700, my 350 Mermash hens weighed 59 pounds more, although they were 9 days younger. It's sure the best feed I ever used."

Mermash contains MANAMAR, the famous "Sun and Sea" supplement. Mermash furnishes essential minerals which most feeds lack—calcium, phosphorus, iron, iodine. It supplies needed animal protein.

If you are not now feeding this better mash by all means try a bag today! It costs no more than ordinary kinds.

Mother of 7—Still Young

THE woman who gives her organs the right stimulant need not worry about growing old.

Her system doesn't stagnate; her face doesn't age. She has the health and "pep" that come from a lively liver and strong, active bowels.

When you're sluggish and the system needs help, don't take a lot of "patent medicines." There's a famous doctor's prescription for just such cases, and every druggist keeps this standard preparation. It is made from fresh laxative herbs—active senna, and pure water. I ask for Dr. Caldwell's syrup every day or so, and I feel better every organ in your body feels better.

The next time you have a bilious headache, or feel all bound-up, take this delicious syrup instead of usual cathartics. You'll be rid of all that poisonous waste, and you haven't weakened the bowels. You'll have a better appetite, and feel better in every way. The constant use of cathartics is often the cause of a sallow complexion and lines in the face. And so unnecessary!

Would you like to break yourself of a cathartic habit? At the same time, building health and vigor that prevents you from frequent sick headaches, and colds? Get a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's syrup today. Use often enough to break those attacks of constipation. Then you feel weak and run-down, your tongue is coated, and your breath is foul. The bowels need to be stimulated. Give it to children instead of strong laxatives that sap the strength. It's not expensive.

Home Furnishing Project for Charlevoix County Women Starts September 21

Plans have been definitely arranged for the first lesson in the home furnishing project to be held in the Boyne City library on Wednesday, September 21, beginning promptly at 10:00 a. m. It is expected that at least 25 ladies will be present to receive the first lesson from Gertrude Reis, specialist in home furnishing from the Michigan State college.

In addition to the two leaders, Miss Reis would like the chairman and the secretary from each local club to also be present at the morning session. The morning session will be for all of these women and the afternoon session just for the leaders. However, if all women from one club come together, it will be perfectly all right to have the chairman and secretary also attend the afternoon session.

If there are any districts in the county that have not organized themselves to make it possible to receive this work, kindly let your county agent know and he will be glad to assist in the organization of a club. This work costs you nothing and will prove to be of great interest to you as a housekeeper and home maker.

Four Club Boys Visit the State Fair—Enter the Dairy and Crops Judging Competition

Carleton Smith, Charlevoix; Robt. Tainter, Boyne City; Fred Runney, East Jordan, and Gwendon Hott, East Jordan, were the four fortunate club boys who had the opportunity of visiting the Michigan state fair at Detroit last week.

Carleton Smith entered the dairy judging competition while the other three boys represented Charlevoix county's crops judging team. These boys had to compete against similar teams from all sections of the state. In the crops judging competition, competing against 21 other boys, Robert Tainter had the 5th highest score, which is a very creditable performance.

In the dairy judging competition, announcements have not as yet been made as to who the highest boys were but we sincerely hope that Carleton Smith will maintain the same place that he has in the past.

In company with County Agent Mellencamp, the boys left for Detroit early Wednesday morning of last week and returned home late Friday night. They all report having had a most wonderful time and saw exhibits that very few boys have had the opportunity of viewing.

The number and quality of exhibits were fully as good as last year and as far as an outsider could tell the attendance was all that could be expected. Especially inspiring was the 4-H club parade that took place on Thursday night when fully 250 club members from all counties of the state marched with their club caps on and carrying banners indicating the counties in the state. In the parade all of the livestock members led their animals around the ring. Also, the 4-H club members had their own band which played throughout the parade.

"Famous Ferguson Case" Comes to Palace Theatre Next Friday and Saturday with Joan Blondell and Great Cast

Will a genuinely realistic newspaper picture ever be made? They've been asking that for years; and now from Hollywood comes word that the trick has been turned at last.

The picture that is said to meet all the requirements is "The Famous Ferguson Case," which was finished not long ago at the First National studios and which will open Friday at the Palace theatre.

Richard Arlen Finds Parallel in Pictures to Military Ratio of Men in Front to Men Behind

Motion pictures offer a striking parallel to the claim of military statisticians that it took twenty men back of the line in the World war to maintain one man on the firing line.

In other words, for an average scene of four principal players working before the camera, there are forty workers, invisible to the camera's eye, who are necessary to the production of the scene. This ten-to-one average, however, is only half the story of a finished picture. It only accounts for those who are working during the actual filming of the picture.

"Wayward" will be the feature at the Palace theatre Sunday and Monday.

Quick-Closing Shows a Benefit in the Long Run

The adage that there is a silver lining in every cloud is strikingly demonstrated in the case of Wynne Gibson, who plays the most vigorously dramatic role of her career in Paramount's "The Strange Case of Clara Deane," coming next Tuesday and Wednesday to the Palace theatre.

Many of Michigan's most successful men and women in social and professional life were trained at Central State Teachers college in Mount Pleasant. The opportunity for this training is open to all high school graduates of central and northern Michigan. The fall term opens for freshmen on September 26th.

DUCK HUNTING TIME

In a table issued by the department of conservation, duck hunters are given definite times when they may start and must cease shooting each day during the open season.

The time listed is eastern standard time. The season opens at 12 o'clock noon, October 1. The table follows:

1/2 hr. before sunrise	sunrise	sunset
Oct. 1 to 7, incl.	6:10	6:20
Oct. 8 to 15, incl.	6:20	6:10
Oct. 16 to 23, incl.	6:30	6:00
Oct. 23 to 31, incl.	6:40	5:45
Nov. 1 to 8, incl.	5:50	5:30
Nov. 9 to 16, incl.	7:00	5:20
Nov. 17 to 24, incl.	7:10	5:10
Nov. 25 to 30, incl.	7:20	5:10

Shooting waterfowl must cease at 4 o'clock p. m. daily on Wild Fowl and Sebawaing bays and must cease at 2:00 p. m. daily on Houghton lake in Roscommon county.

Shooting game birds on Muskegon lake, Muskegon county, must cease daily at 2:00 p. m.

The new federal duck hunting regulations forbid the use of more than 25 live duck decoys and more than 10 live goose decoys to be shot over at any one gunning stand, blind or floating device.

RAISERS PLAN FORM-ING TURKEY POOLS

Fowls in Carload Lots Will Be Auctioned at N. Y. and Chicago

Establishment of turkey pools to guarantee poultrymen higher prices for their birds is contemplated by northern Michigan raisers, it has been announced.

Provided the pools are formed and turkeys are assembled in carload lots, dealers of New York and Chicago have consented to buy them at Lake City at an open auction. The plan was explained to poultrymen of 35 counties recently by officers of the Michigan Turkey Growers association.

The action by the association in sponsoring such a market plan follows unsatisfactory prices which poultrymen were forced to accept last year for turkeys. Many poultrymen near Lake City sold their birds at 13 cents per pound while the prevailing price in many other producing centers averaged 21 cents per pound.

Questionnaires have been circulated, asking raisers their opinions of the proposed marketing program and if they will need aid in marketing their turkeys.

SALE SMALL GAME LI-

The 1932-33 small game licenses will be on sale through approximately 1,800 license agents of the department of conservation, Thursday, September 15, 15 days prior to the opening of the season.

In a few northern counties the licenses have been available since the beginning of the week.

The licenses, which for the first time in several years are not accompanied by "buttons" were distributed to the various agents by truck from Lansing.

Wednesday evening at 7:45. Rending room Tuesday and Saturday, 3:00 to 5:00 p. m. The public is cordially invited to attend our services and use our reading room.

"Substance" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, September 11.

Among the Bible citations was this passage (Matt. 9:35): "And Jesus went about all the cities and villages, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing every sickness and every disease among the people."

Correlative passages read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, included the following (p.135): "The miracle introduces no disorder, but unfolds the primal order, establishing the Science of God's unchangeable law."

PRESERVATION OF GRAYLING SOUGHT

State to Establish Feeding Station on Otter River

Another attempt to propagate the Michigan Grayling will be made beginning next year with completion of a trout feeding station on the Otter river. Construction has started and the station will be ready to rear trout during the spring of 1933.

While the new station will be essentially a trout feeding unit to rear trout for planting in the northwest section of the upper peninsula, according to the conservation department, experiments will be carried on to artificially propagate Michigan Grayling. The Otter river on which the station will be located is believed to be the only stream in this state containing grayling.

is a dollar?

Dave Harum said, "When you get hold of ten dollars get it into you or onto you as soon as you can, for there ain't no pocket in a shroud and you're a long time dead."

If you had nothing but money you would be poor indeed. It is the things for which you can exchange the money you earn that set the standards of your living comforts and conveniences.

You know this. But do you know that it is you who largely determines the value of your dollars?

MICHIGAN DEPT. OF STATE WEEKLY NEWS

Approximately $1,100,000.00 has been returned to the counties of the state since the present malt tax law became effective, according to department of state records.

The law provides that the state pay $1 per day per patient in county tuberculosis sanatoria. There are 64 such institutions in the state and funds from the malt tax have been divided equitably among the institutions. In addition, $40,603 has been paid for the care of tubercular patients in the University of Michigan hospital.

The malt tax law also provided that after July 1, 1932, funds be segregated to provide $400,000 for a second state tuberculosis sanatorium in the northern part of the lower peninsula. During July and August $148,608 was placed in the sanatorium building fund.

Before November 1, 1932, approximately 250,000 motor vehicle operators must secure new drivers' licenses.

The new license law, adopted by the 1931 legislature, ordered motorists who secured their old licenses between January 1, 1928, and November 1, 1929, to secure new licenses before November 1 of this year.

Department of state records show that during 1928 and 1929 a total of 436,000 drivers' licenses were issued. But because many of these motorists have already secured new licenses, it is estimated that only about 250,000 licenses will expire in about six weeks.

Old drivers' licenses, secured after Nov. 1, 1929, expire according to the 1931 law, three years after date of issue. Applications for new licenses should be made to the police or sheriff of the municipality or county in which the motorist resides, of which the motorist resides, of which the motorist resides.

AUTO OWNERS TAKE ADVANTAGE OF HALF RATE

Nearly Thirty Thousand Plates Sold Since August 1st

A total of 28,000 automobile license plates have been sold by the department of state since the inauguration of the half-price fee August 1st.

Revenue realized by the department from August 1 to August 15, from the sale of licenses amounted to $199,624. Last year the half-price provision was effective September 1 and 19,122 sets of plates were sold, enriching the state by $124,411 during the first two weeks of the month.

This Woman Lost 64 Pounds of Fat

Mrs. H. Price of Woodstock, N. Y. writes: "A year ago I weighed 180 lbs. I started to take Kruschen and now I weigh 116 and never felt better in my life and what's more, I look more like 20 yrs. old than the mother of 2 children, one of 19 and the other 18. My friends say it's marvelous the way I reduced."

To lose fat SAFELY and HARMLESSLY, take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—don't miss a morning—a bottle that lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle—but don't take chances—be sure it's Kruschen. It not only safely reduces the fat but it takes away the money back.

NURSERY DOING GOV. EXPERIMENTAL WORK

Selected to Test Hardiness and Growth of Various Plants

It is of special interest to residents of upper Michigan to know that the Charlevoix County Nursery is doing some experimental work for the United States government. This nursery has been selected as a trial grounds station for the testing of hardiness and growth development of various plants sent out by the U. S. department of plant importations.

Among the plants that are being tested now are the new Nectarines which have a very promising future as a popular fruit for table use. The Nectarine is a cross between a peach and a plum. The fruit looks like a large plum with the smooth skin, but tastes like a peach of fine flavor. It is a free stone type.

Heretofore the Nectarines have never been tried out this far north, but the plants at the Charlevoix County Nursery show wonderful growth and do not suffer from our winters. One of the young plants has three fruits on it at the present time.

Another interesting plant is the Zelkova serrata or the Sawleaf Zelkova. This is a handsome Japanese tree which grows to a height of 90 feet at maturity. It has a dividing trunk, forming a head like an elm. Among some of the other Japanese introductions are the Japanese Oak, the Daimyo Oak and a Japanese Honey-suckle.

Other countries are represented in the foreign plant trial grounds at the nursery. Some of them are the Joint Fir from India, the Jasminum from France, a Siberian Apricot, a New Zealand Plum, and Apricot from New South Wales, Australia, peach trees from Spain and New Zealand, and a Chinese Quince.

Everyone is invited to see these plants in the trial gardens at the Charlevoix County Nursery, six miles southeast of Charlevoix.

KEEPS PLANT BUSY

The Kingsport Press, Incorporated, has received the largest known single order of hymnals ever placed with a single concern. The order was placed by The Christian Science Publishing Society of Boston.

The order consists of 400,000 cloth-bound books and 10,000 de luxe full leather-bound books. The books will be distributed throughout the world. It is expected the distribution will begin about September 1.

The music plates for the 640-page hymnal were prepared by the F. H. Gilson Company of Boston, nationally known music composers. All of the type for the plates was set by hand.

E. W. Palmer, president of the local plant, said some idea of the magnitude of the order could be obtained by the quantity of material and time necessary for the completion of the book. Five of the largest perfecting presses of the Kingsport Press began work on printing the book June 15 and will run 20 hours each day until August 25, at which time the printing is expected to be complete.

A total of 325 tons of paper will be used in the book, 40,240 yards of book cloth, 39,000 yards of head bands, seven tons of end paper material, 50 tons of cover board, and more than 210,000 yards of muslin reinforcement for the backs of the books.

Mr. Palmer said probably the most outstanding part of the manufacturing process will be the use of more than 500,000 sheets of 22-carat gold for the stamping on the cloth-bound edition and gilding the edges and stamping the de luxe edition. Mr. Palmer estimated the cost of the gold alone at $12,500.—From Kingsport (Tenn.) Times.

LEGION ACTIVITIES

Edited by F. V. Tyler.

The scavenger hunt, put on by Leslie T. Shapton Post Tuesday evening, was won by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kuhler and Glenn See, with Clarence Meggison, Charles Heise and O. P. North second and Bob Foster and Hugh Mynne third. While not so many took part, everybody had a lot of fun over the affair.

Next Tuesday evening occurs the regular monthly tri-post meeting of Charlevoix county Legionnaires at Charlevoix, with a meeting of the V. P. A. directly following.

An executive committee, including some of the officers and the heads of committees, has been appointed by Commander Henry to handle matters of business and prepare them for presentation at the regular meetings of the post. It is believed that, in this way, the business sessions can be shortened and a lot of time-wasting discussion of details on the floor of the meeting avoided. This committee will also combine the functions of an auditing committee with its other duties. The appointees are as follows: Shirley B. Henry, commander; William E. Taylor, vice-commander; Lee C. Allard, past commander; Fred V. Tyler, adjutant—publicity; Clarence B. Meggison, finance officer—finance; Oscar P. North, chaplain—visiting; Frank H. Wilkinson, Americanism; Ernest J. Kibbe, welfare; Fenton R. Bulow, advisory; Albert P. Taylor, house committee; William E. Goss, recreation and entertainment.

EAST JORDAN WILL LOSE ITS RAILROAD

Line to Bellaire to Be Abandoned Under Federal Orders

Abandonment of the East Jordan & Southern railroad, from East Jordan to Bellaire, and the Michigan Central branch line from Frederick to Marble, has been approved by the interstate commerce commission, according to word received by the Michigan public utilities commission Wednesday.

Public convenience and necessity obtains no longer; it passed with the timber, the commission said in its formal order which is effective September 26th.

When the commission's order becomes effective another chapter can be written in the history of Michigan's timber industry.

About 55 miles of railroad is involved in the abandonment order. From East Jordan to Bellaire is 18.6 miles. From Frederick to Marble is 36.3 miles.

For more than 25 years the East Jordan road prospered. It was constructed to serve a timber belt and because of the forests allied interests were attracted to that section of the state.

The commission found that from 1901 to 1928 the line prospered but in the past four years it has fallen behind. Receipts have shown a decided decrease until the operators contended expenses were too great to keep trains moving over the tracks.

For more than a year passengers did not average two a train. The better class of merchandise was shipped by trucks leaving the low class freight for the railroad.

PROMPT ACTION MAY STOP INSECT ENEMY

Destroy Potato Shipments Containing Tuber Moth to Stop Infestation

Prompt action by the entomology department at Michigan State college and by the state department of agriculture has greatly reduced the danger of Michigan's potato fields becoming infested with the potato tuber moth, which is a very serious enemy of that crop in states where it is established.

A sample of potatoes sent to Prof. R. H. Pettit from Bay City by the county agricultural agent proved to be infested with the larvae of the tuber moth. These larvae tunnel through the potato and ruin it for food.

The potatoes were part of a shipment sent into Michigan from Virginia. The state department of agriculture immediately sent men to trace other portions of the shipment of potatoes and to seize them so they could be destroyed to prevent the emergence of any adult moths in this state.

Several thousands of bushels of potatoes were taken from dealers in Detroit and destroyed. The state department now has declared a quarantine on shipments of potatoes from states where the tuber moth is known to be a serious pest.

Athlete's Foot is a fungus germ which appears on the feet in the form of a little yellow blister, tory and clinical tests have proved causing severe irritation and itching will positively kill these germs and restore feet so infected to a normal, healthy condition. It is simply spread with alarming rapidity among all classes of people. FOOTBALL TEAM IS HARD AT PRACTICE

SIGNAL DRILL STARTED ON MONDAY OF THIS WEEK

Coach and Team Members Heard
New Football Rules Discussed at Meeting Last Friday

With a full week of football practice past, an insight into the probable line-up of the 1932 Charlevoix high school team is now available.

Signal practice was started Monday afternoon, with Homer Struthers, who is being groomed for half or fullback, calling plays. Others slated for backfield berths appear to be Baker, last year halfback; Jack Foster, Warren Shapton, Steve Serno and Drew Young. On offensive play in scrimmage, Coach Kipke has had Baker in quarterback position, and Serno and Struthers backing up the line.

In the forward line, Coach Kipke has been using several candidates for each of the positions. At center have been Herbert Campbell, George Richardson and Bill Chambers; at guards, Capt. Edwin McCann, Lawrence Korth, Herman Meyers; at tackles, Bernard Foster, James Gallagher, Gordon Raby, Gordon Bartlett; at ends, Marcus Roen, last year's regular, Joe Smith and Bob Pearl.

Roen, an outstanding tackle and pass-receiver last fall, is showing even better than before. He has added considerable weight and will be a dangerous man against any team. Struthers will likely do the kicking for the team, and is also being used for passing along with Serno and Gallagher. All three handle the ball well.

Strength was added to the team this week by the appearance of Emerald Chew and George Smith, both good backfield men, in uniform.

Coach Kipke and a group of football candidates attended a meeting last Friday in Boyne City, at which L. L. Forsythe of the state physical and health education department, was the speaker. Mr. Forsythe discussed new rulings governing football play this fall, among which were the following:

Kickoff: five players of the team receiving a kickoff are required to remain within five yards of their restraining line (between the 45 and 50-yard line). This rule was made in an attempt to spread the players and thus prevent the former mass play or wedge.

Substitution: under this rule it is now permitted that a player withdrawn from the game to return at any time, except in the quarter in which he is withdrawn. This enables a player to leave the game in the third period and return in the fourth. Under the old rule a player would not return to the game in the same half in which he was withdrawn. This change permits more substitution, thus giving a more careful supervision over the physical condition of the players than was possible under the old rule. It also enables a tired player to retire for rest without losing his place in the game. The rule also favors a small school team, with fewer number of substitute players.

Blocking and tackling: the use of the flying block and tackle are forbidden. The feeling is that a player spread out in the air is not in a position to defend himself. The interpretation is that this does not apply when the player is within arms length of the opponent. The change is not as radical as it seems and should lead to better football as a better job of blocking and tackling can usually be done by staying on ones feet.

Dead ball: the ball becomes dead automatically when any position of the player who has possession of the ball, excepting his hands and feet, touch the ground. This does not apply to the holder of a place kick. This is the most unpopular of the new rules as frequently a player, such as a pass receiver, will slip to a knee in the open. Under the new rules the ball would be dead at that point. The rule was included in an attempt to prevent piling up. Had the old piling up penalty been enforced by the officials in the past there would have been no necessity for the new rule.

Use of hands: players on defense are allowed to use the palms only of their hands above the shoulders of opponents to ward off or push them in order to get at the ball or the player carrying it. Striking with hands on head, neck or face, of an opponent is prohibited. The general belief is that this rule was aimed only at the flagrant use of the hands on the face of an opponent and will not effect the usual use of the hands on line play. Again this rule is a case of trying to strengthen a rule already passed and eliminate punishing type of football.

PAIR BEAVER PLANTED ON MCGEACH CREEK

Efforts of Last Spring to Establish Colony Continued

Continuing efforts started last spring to establish beaver on McGeach creek south of Charlevoix, Game Warden Ed. Deuell of Boyne City, planted two pair of the animals there Tuesday afternoon.

The beaver, two males and many females, were brought over from Atlanta in Montmorency county, where they had been live-trapped as nuisances. The animals disappeared into the woods as soon as released, and it is expected that this fall will see their work as they establish themselves in their new surroundings.

A male beaver was released on McGeach creek early last spring. The female died before being released, and the group planted Tuesday were the first available since that time.

DECIDE CITY BALL CHAMP SUNDAY

INDIANS AND INDEPENDENTS
CROSS BATS

Challenge of Manager Glen Rose Answered by Manager Robert Stritt—Winner Takes All

As the result of considerable good-natured bickering, Glen Rose, manager of the Charlevoix Indians, has issued a challenge to Robert Stritt, manager of the Charlevoix Independents, for a game to decide the city baseball championship.

According to present plans, the game will be held next Sunday afternoon, September 25th, at north side ball park. The contest will close the 1932 season for both teams.

While the Indians have the stronger record during the past season, there are many who believe the Independents are equally as good despite this fact. In fact, their insistence on this matter has brought about the contest to decide supremacy between the two outfits. It is understood Manager Stritt will strengthen his team by adding strong players from the several rural teams in the district.

In any event, the game has all the earmarks of being an interesting one. Keen rivalry, one of the most important factors in creating a good ball game, is very apparent, and fans may rest assured both teams will be out to win. Both teams have a small financial deficit to make up, so the winner will take all after Sunday's game.

CHANCES GOOD FOR ROAD RE-LOCATION

FAVORABLE REPORTS AT CON-FERENCE THURSDAY

Expect to Have Right-of-Way Task Completed So Grading May Be Started November 1

Chances for Emmet and Charlevoix counties receiving about $150,000 in highway grading work during the fall and early winter seasons, seem very good following a visit to Petoskey last Thursday of men from the Michigan highway department at a conference of Emmet and Charlevoix county road commissions, held at the city hall.

The work of securing the right-of-way on the proposed relocation of M-131 from Walloon to Petoskey was the matter discussed during the afternoon conference.

The Lansing men were highly optimistic and declared that the task of securing the land should be completed and the job ready to advertise for bids by November 1. The plans are all drawn and ready for the contractor who makes the successful bid for the job. The cost of the grading was estimated at a figure between $150,000 and $170,000, practically all of which would go for labor. Engineering costs, machinery rental, etc., would be the items not going to the working men of the two counties.

Some weeks ago the highway departments and interested business men of the two counties joined in a drive for securing state road work for the coming winter season, as an aid to the employment situation in the north. The two groups agreed on this project, which was a part of the state plans for M-131 and sent a joint delegation to Lansing for a request that the proposed work be started at once.

The state road department laid the burden of securing the right-of-way on the shoulders of the road departments of the interested counties and the meeting Thursday was a part of this campaign. It was reported to the meeting that chances for securing the right-of-way were very good. A state expert will be sent into the territory at once to assist the two counties in closing deals for free grant of the land needed for the road. Owners are expected to give the land, receiving their reward in the increase in valuation of their property which would be on a paved state road, kept open in winter and completely maintained as a through paved route winter and summer.

Any lands which are not given to the route will be made subject to condemnation proceedings, under a new system which the state is now using. Values are based entirely, it is reported, on the present taxation value of the property, which usually is at a very low figure. The experts make a complete study of the taxation values, of the titles, etc. The owners are then presented with these facts, and with the estimated increase in value made possible by the new highway construction.

Attending Thursday's conference from Charlevoix county were: W. E. Byers, Charlevoix, chairman; F. H. Wangeman, East Jordan, and L. C. Rouse, Boyne City, members of the Charlevoix county board; R. T. Davis, Charlevoix county engineer, manager.

The mileage is reported as 9.4 miles, of which about six miles is in Emmet county.

Labor taken entirely from the welfare lists of the two counties would be used on the job, giving both counties greatly needed aid in caring for their needy families during the coming winter.

In addition to this work the two counties are expected to have a certain amount of road work available, both in the townships and on the regular county highways. Workers from the welfare lists also will be used on these jobs.

HELD HEALTH UNIT ANNUAL MEET HERE

YEARLY REPORT OF OFFICERS GIVEN THURSDAY

Chester Gibson, Petoskey, Re-elected Chairman—Harry Craig Re-Named as Treasurer

The annual meeting of the district board of health of the counties of Charlevoix, Antrim, Emmet and Otsego was held at the District Health Unit offices on Petoskey avenue last Thursday afternoon.

At this annual session the report of services was given by Ray L. Neherling, acting director, and also a review of the special program which has been carried on in the district during the past year. Dr. W. C. Quinlan, D. D. S., spoke to the board on the activities of the dental program during the past twelve months, and reports were also given by Miss Edna Lockwood, Charlevoix county nurse; Miss Esther Johnson, Otsego county nurse; Miss Blanch McCoy, Antrim county nurse, and Miss Katherine Warner, Emmet county nurse.

All of the above reports showed a tremendous amount of activity in the district during the twelve-month period. Value of the work is inestimable and only those in close touch with the activities can appreciate its scope and benefits.

The annual election of officers was held at the meeting Thursday. Chester Gibson of Petoskey, was re-elected chairman of the district, and Harry A. Craig of Charlevoix, was retained as treasurer. Dr. Gordon Moffet was elected as district health officer and secretary of the board.

The meeting was largely attended by officials as well as others interested in the fine work being accomplished in the districts. Tabulation is now being made of activities in the district for the past twelve months. The report will be made available at the close of the fiscal year.

U.P. HUNTERS MAY SHOOT PARTRIDGE

SEASON OPEN ABOVE STRAITS
OCTOBER 1ST

Rabbit and Squirrel Seasons Also Open Same Date—Lower Peninsula Hunters Wait

With the opening of the waterfowl hunting season throughout the state October 1, upper peninsula hunters will have their first opportunity in years to hunt Ruffed Grouse. The 1932 rabbit and fox squirrel hunting seasons also open October 1, north of the Straits of Mackinac.

In addition to changes in the length of the waterfowl hunting season this year, several changes were made in other waterfowl hunting regulations by the federal government and the conservation commission has acted to make state regulations conform to the federal requirements. Woodducks, eiders and ruddy ducks and buffleheads (butterballs) may not be taken this year. The total daily possession limit remains unchanged at 15, but of the 15 not more than 10 may be of any one or the aggregate of canvasback, red-head, greater and lesser scaup, ring-neck, bluewing, greenwing, cinnamon teal, shoveller and gadwall. The possession limit is two days' legal bag and the season's limit is 100 ducks, and birds may not be held in possession more than 10 days after the close of the season, which is November 30.

The limit of goose and brant is four in a day and eight in the season. Ross' and cackling geese are protected.

Ten Florida gallinules or rails may be taken in one day with a limit of 20 in possession at one time. The season for these birds opens simultaneously with that of the waterfowl. The waterfowl and shore bird seasons open at noon, Eastern Standard Time, Saturday, October 1.

While the hunting season for fox squirrels opens October 1 in the upper peninsula, lower peninsula hunters must wait until October 15. The daily bag limit of squirrels is five, with ten in possession at one time and 15 in the season. The fox squirrel season lasts but ten days, closing October 10 in the northern peninsula.

The rabbit season opens in the upper peninsula October 1 and will remain open until January 31. The daily limit is five, with ten in possession at one time and 50 in a season. The rabbit season in the lower peninsula will be 15 days shorter than in the upper peninsula, opening October 15 and closing January 31.

The 12 days open partridge season north of the Straits begins the morning of October 1 and closes October 12. The possession limit is five in one day, 10 at any time and 10 in a season. Partridges may not be held in possession more than 10 days after the season closes. The lower peninsula partridge season does not open until October 15 to be simultaneous with the open season on other game birds in that part of the state.

THAT ONE JOB CLAUSE

Broken homes—separation of husbands and wives and in some cases divorce—are resulting, according to a Washington dispatch, from the "married persons" clause of the government's new economy act. The clause provides that married persons, living with a husband or wife also on the government payroll, shall be dismissed before other employees.

The departure to separate dwellings and the opening of divorce proceedings have taken place because the notices of discharge state that if the marital status of employees changes they may retain their jobs.

This is worth attention because the question of employing married women has arisen in city and state offices, schools and industries throughout the country. It would seem to the impartial observer that, with jobs as scarce as they are, one each to any family is enough. The National Woman's party, opposing the "married persons" clause, has collected facts showing another side of the picture.

Among the cases cited by this organization are a husband earning $1,917 and a wife $1,248 who contribute support to fourteen people; another husband earning $1,900 and wife earning $1,640 who are buying a home they will lose if their income is reduced. Other instances of men and women working to support several dependents are quoted.

The situation appears to be another in which that which seems to be for the general good works hardship in individual cases. Perhaps a means can be devised to make exceptions when the need warrants. Breaking up of homes, often with children involved, can only lead to worse difficulties.

Here is one more indication that the ills of our complicated economic life today can not be cured by remedies effective twenty years ago.

WHO ELECTS PRESIDENT?

The processes by which aliens become American citizens, or are barred from citizenship, grow harder and harder for an ordinary American to understand. Here is something that happened in a federal court in New York the other day.

Of 55 applicants for citizenship, only one qualified. The other 54 all failed because they did not answer questions to the satisfaction of the judge. The questions that is said to have stumped and barred most of them was this:

"Who elects the President of the United States?"

Nearly all of the applicants promptly replied, "the people." So they were out.

The judge was going by the book, and the book from which the questions were asked gives, as the correct answer to this question, "The Electoral College."

If this isn't silly hair-splitting, what is it?

Technically or legally, the required answer is true. In reality, it is false. The electoral college is not permitted, and has not been permitted for generations, to choose a president itself in literal harmony with the Constitution. Any attempt to do so might cause a revolution. The electoral college is a rubber stamp, merely registering the results of popular elections.

Of course the people elect the president! They do so none the less definitely because they do it outside of the Constitution.

ASK ONION GROWERS TO DESTROY CULLS

Damage Done by Onion Maggot Can Be Greatly Reduced

Michigan onion growers are advised by the entomology department of Michigan State college that a great deal of trouble with next year's crop can be avoided if the piles of cull onions from the present harvest are destroyed.

The piles of culls furnish ideal places for the deposit of eggs which hatch into onion maggots. These larvae pupate in the culls or in the soil beneath the piles and emerge as adult flies in time to deposit eggs on the seed onions as they appear above ground.

Adult flies do not all emerge at one time so the laying of eggs is prolonged over a considerable period. All these insects do not pass the winter in piles of culls but the number which go through the winter as adult flies in sheltered places is much smaller than the number surviving in the trash piles.

MUST HAVE LICENSE TO CARRY FIREARMS

Gun Permit Not Sufficient During Open Game Season

The use of gun permits to legalize the carrying of firearms in hunting areas become ineffective October 1 and will remain ineffective until after the close of the various hunting seasons during the coming winter.

Beginning October 1 when the first of the hunting season opens and until January 31, 1933, when the last of the open season ends, everyone carrying a gun in game areas must have a small game or deer hunting license, and persons carrying only gun permits will be apprehended for hunting without a license, according to the department of conservation.

Evelyn Orchard's Plums are very good plums, but their German Prunes are better. See adv. on page six.—Adv. 3811.

SMALL GAME LICENSES ON SALE TO HUNTERS

Same Agencies Offering Fish Licenses Used by State

Although no hunting season opens before October 1, the 1932 hunting licenses issued by the state have been received at the local headquarters of the conservation department and are now being distributed throughout this district.

The hunting licenses will be sold by the same men who handled fishing licenses this season and some person in each locality will be provided with the permits.

The state has done away with the buttons and substituted a plain paper license this year. This was done in the interest of economy but possession of a license or lack of it is just as important as it was when buttons were used. The licenses cost $1.75 this season, the same as a year ago.

LEGION ACTIVITIES

Edited by F. V. Tyler.

The executive committee of Leslie T. Shapton met Monday evening and discussed and prepared for presentation to the post members a number of important matters, chief of these being the extent to which the post will carry on welfare work this coming fall and winter.

It was the consensus of opinion that the post should accept contributions from various local sources for general relief work, the money to be set aside in a special fund for that purpose and to be used for no other, and to carry on welfare work among the needy families and individuals of Charlevoix county to the limit of the fund so created. Individual contributions, it was believed, could be spent according to the wishes of the giver, but in no case would the post finance, officer be permitted to use any of the Legion's own funds to increase such expenditure nor would the welfare officer be permitted to pledge the credit of the post for welfare purposes.

The post, it was agreed, might serve as a go-between for those needing help and farmers having surplus crops or crops that they are willing to harvest on shares, but that those needing the assistance must do their own work, if able.

As regards Legion members and ex-service men willing to become members, several plans were proposed to credit labor done for the post during the coming winter on their state and local dues, thus enabling those members and prospective members who cannot pay their dues in cash to furnish from time to time an equivalent amount of work, in lieu thereof.

Another plan discussed by the executive committee is that of getting together with other local organizations and coming to some agreement as to the dates of their respective social and business meetings, entertainments, athletic and dramatic events, etc., so that the dates will not conflict. Within Legion circles, it is hoped through the work of the executive committee to shorten the business meetings of the post so as to have various social events on the meeting nights and avoid calling out the membership so many nights during the month.

Other matters taken up at this meeting were a plan to cut down fuel and janitor expense at the Legion home and to put the post on a business basis to enable it to clear up its outstanding obligations in the near future. Application has been made to the state for articles of incorporation for the post and this matter and that of the re-organization of the bugle and drum corps will be taken up at a later meeting of the committee.

Members of the Auxiliary are urged not to forget the tri-unit meeting at Boyne City, next Tuesday night. Matters of great importance are to be taken up. Bring your contribution for the bill.

An Appreciation

Words cannot always express the depths of gratitude one holds at times, and that is my fault today, to tell the readers of the Courier and the people of Charlevoix County how I appreciate the vote given to me for State Senator at the recent Primaries. It shall be my ambition to further prove to you that appreciation by my public acts in your behalf if I am elected to the office in November. I feel highly honored in being elected over the splendid candidate that opposed me, and I trust that support you have given me will continue to the General Election, when my name again comes before you for election or rejection.

Very truly,

SCHOOL NOTES

Staff for semester: Dorothy Staley, Lila Tillotson, Winfield Kirby, Margaret McCann, Edna Wyers, Clarence Smith.

Editorial

C. H. S. has once more opened its doors to a group of excited students. The enrollment shows an increase over last year. What is the attitude that this large group of boys and girls are going to take toward the year's work? Are they going to give as much as they take from their school?

Many students are of the opinion that the school owes a great deal to the student. Of course this is true, but we should not for a moment lose sight of the fact that on the other hand we students are greatly indebted to C. H. S. Education is the one thing that cannot be lost and it is through the school that this is obtained.

Through the school the student gains new interests. He broadens his mind through reading and thinking. He gives, he speaks, he acts, he works more interestingly, more skillfully, more efficiently and with greater pleasure. A high school education does not give complete perfection, but it starts the student on the right road to success.

Therefore, let us make this school year of '32 and '33 one in which each student endeavors to get full benefit offered by C. H. S. and at the same time by his sincerity in the classroom, enthusiasm in extra-curricular activities and cooperation, in a measure pay back to C. H. S. the debt we owe.

Dramatics

Tuesday night, September 20, was the opening meeting of the Drama club. The membership this year shows a large increase over that of last year and the students are eager to get started on the year's work.

Dorothy Staley and John Winder related to the group a few of their experiences at Northwestern University, School of Speech, which they attended this summer.

After thanking the Drama club for their co-operation at the time the scholarships were received, Dorothy told of the girls' dormitory facing the beautiful University campus on Lake Michigan, and of many of the good times had there. She also mentioned a few of the persons of interest with whom the high school students came in contact, such as Clara, Lou and Em, radio entertainers; Barrett Clark, New York, dramatic critic and author; Lynn Riggs, playwright; John Baird, author and expert in make-up; also Mr. Dennis, Dean of the school, and Professor Leverton, who entertained them at his home, at which time he told much of his European studies and adventures. In addition to meeting persons of interest the group was royally entertained by trips to the aquarium and field museum, beach parties and theatre parties, recitals by faculty members, dances and banquets. The three University plays at which the high school group were guests were: "Brief Candle," "Life of Man," and "Green Grow the Lilacs."

John explained to the club members and visitors, the schedule of classes and the regular daily routine.

The students had every minute planned — classes followed the 7:30 o'clock breakfast until lunch time. While the girls were taking costumes for the four one-act plays presented by the high school group, the boys learned shop work and provided the scenery for the plays. Following this came production and make-up. After lunch the group were trained in voice and diction. The last class was theatre backgrounds. After classes were rehearsals until and following dinner for the plays which were presented by the group. "Knives From Serbia" was a play dealing with Oklahoma life, serious and effective. This play was written by Lynn Riggs as was "Green Grow the Lilacs." "The Artist," a modern play, was the second undertaking of the students. The people of Charlevoix will probably remember that this play was also given by the C. H. S. drama club last winter. "The Man Who Married a Dumb Wife," a farce, was the remaining play. This was absolute nonsense and kept the audience in continuous laughter.

The members of the Drama club are hoping to make this year a great success. Plays are being considered and with a director full of ideas and a group willing to learn, the success of C. H. S. dramatics this year calls only for the co-operation of the school and the community.

Athletics

Twenty-five young athletes arrived on the gridiron for football practice last Monday. In them Charlevoix high is putting the trust of again carrying Charlevoix to victory. With only four letter men available, Kinko will have to build a team from inexperienced players, but that does not necessarily mean that there will not be a good team. The kind of a team Charlevoix has, depends entirely upon the players. If the players go out there and work hard and obey orders it is certain we will have a good football team.

Games have been scheduled with Petoskey, Harbor Springs, Cheboygan, East Jordan, Boyne City and Mancelona.

Student season tickets have been offered for approximately $8 a game. The support of every student will be appreciated.

Home Economics

Miss Koch, our new home economics teacher, has introduced a new subject in this department. It is "home management," and deals with the foundation of the ideal American home. Those enrolled in the class are very enthusiastic in reporting it to be especially interesting and valuable.

The seventh and eighth grades are studying an introduction to the course of home economics.

The ninth grade have organized a food class which includes the study of the planning, buying, preparation and serving of food.

The girls have shown an interest starting a Home Economics club, which would be under the supervision of Miss Koch. The plans for it are not formed as yet.

Commercial

The commercial department is exceedingly popular this year in every division. Shorthand numbers about 40 students; typing, 100; bookkeeping, 50; and junior business training, 40. Miss Anderson is anticipating a lively winter!

Manual Arts

The manual arts department boasts some much needed new equipment, including a saw-jointer outfit, lathe, jig-saw, bar folding machine and wiring-burring machine. The boys enrolled in these courses have spent the opening days helping in the placement of this equipment. The students are looking forward to using it, since it is all of the highest quality and best type for wood and metal working.

Mr. Weissenberger's boys are also doing some construction work at the entrance of the book store.

Music

Last week the advanced classes of music made an interesting study of the correlation of art and music. They studied the tone, color and line of several pictures. These pictures were scenes from around Charlevoix. The pictures were especially interesting because they were painted by Mrs. Bush, Edward Ziegfeld and Raymond Faulkner, local people of Charlevoix.

Miss Atkinson is very pleased with the large enrollment of her theory class. It is about double the size it was last year. She also has a senior high mixed chorus of about 45 members.

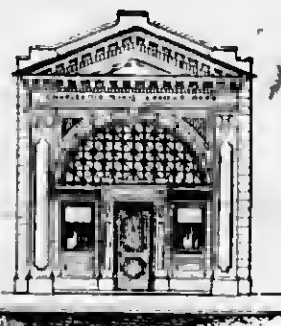

New song books have been ordered for the senior high school assembly. As soon as they arrive the students will again enjoy weekly assembly singing.

Mr. Magor, the new band leader, is very interested in the Charlevoix High School band. The old members are now busy rehearsing, but he would like to have many new members. Any interested in band work may either rent an instrument, which is furnished by the school, or buy his own instrument. Mr. Magor would be glad to talk to those students in this work and help make arrangement for them to enter the band.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

Sunday morning service, 10:45. Subject, "Reality."

Wednesday evening at 7:45. Reading room Tuesday and Saturday, 3:00 to 5:00 p. m. The public is cordially invited to attend our services and use our reading room.

"Matter" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, September 18.

Among the Bible citations was this passage (11 Peter 3:13): "Nevertheless, we, according to his promise, look for new heavens and a new earth, wherein dwelleth righteousness."

Correlative passages read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, included the following (p. 264): "When we realize that life is Spirit, never in nor of matter, this understanding will expand into self-completeness, finding all in God, good, and needing no other consciousness. Spirit and its formations are the only realities of being. Matter disappears under the microscope of Spirit."

Card of Thanks

We wish especially to thank those who rendered aid at the time, the young ladies who sang and Rev. Pillsbury for his comforting words. Phillip and Myrtle Howe. Adv. 3811 pd.

DID IT EVER HAPPEN TO YOU?

Eighteen states and six provinces of Canada have protected their citizens against the reckless driver who repeatedly causes damage on the highway. Michigan needs such a safety responsibility law according to the American Automobile Association—a law that will permit only one negligent conviction against a driver before requiring him to file a bond or insurance certificate of his financial responsibility. Michigan has no law to prevent numerous recurrences of the above illustrated situation.

SCHOOL NOTES

inter-class athletics. The speaker was L. L. Forsythe of the state department. Mr. Kipke and a number of football boys attended.

Of all the students who were enrolled last year in school and who were expected to return this year only seven are missing. These are three girls and four boys. Out of these seven, four are out of the state, two are at other schools and one will return next semester to complete work for graduation. However, there are more than enough students and the return of absentees to make up for this loss.

Also, there are four post-graduates this year.

There is an enrollment of 58 in the biology class. This necessitated the dividing of the class, thus making two instead of the usual one class.

There are two classes in general science this year. Miss Koch, the domestic science teacher, is taking charge of one of the groups. The enrollment is largely from the freshman class.

A new subject, "world history," has been introduced in the curriculum this year. It is a combination of ancient and modern history with special emphasis on the latter. The students are now getting acquainted with their early ancestors.

The high school assembly is overcrowded and many students are seated in the history and Latin rooms.

There are 68 juniors this year and if this number all graduate next year it will be the largest graduating class for several years. On account of this large number there is a decided increase in American history and English III.

Personal

Mr. Kipke was caddy master at the Belvedere this summer.

Miss Ferneau, who spent most of her summer at home, reports having taken a delightful trip to Mackinac Island.

Mrs. Logan spent the summer in Charlevoix.

Mr. North, when interviewed by a reporter as to the outstanding events of his vacation, replied with beaming countenance that he had taken no trips, and the only visitors whom they had entertained is a permanent one—little Miss Eleanor North.

STAR ROUTE CHANGE AIDS MAIL SERVICE

Bus Leaves and Returns Hour Earlier Than Previously

A decided improvement in local mail service has been brought about by a change in the schedule of the Star Route between Charlevoix and Petoskey.

Through the co-operation of Postmasters Meggison of Charlevoix, and Gray of Petoskey, the bus schedule has been advanced an hour, leaving here at 8 o'clock and returning at 9:30 a. m., instead of 9 o'clock and 10:30 a. m. as formerly.

Through this arrangement business and rural districts alike receive their mail earlier.

BERRIED PLANTS ATTRACT BIRDS

VARIOUS VARIETIES CALL DIFFERENT SPECIES

Planting of Berried Plants Make Yards Attractive and Protect Fruits from Birds

It is the ambition of almost every home owner to try and induce the many colorful birds to make their homes in all sorts of bird houses and other artificial means of inducement. Few of us, however, still retain the idea that the best way to attract birds is by furnishing them with their natural food—the berried trees and shrubs. That is the way with all life—plants that will furnish the natural food are the most efficient means of drawing life to that locality in which they grow.

Every home owner, too, is vitally concerned in the appearance of the home-plot. In the planting of his trees and shrubs to beautify his home-grounds, he can easily accomplish two of his long-felt desires and problems, by planting the many berried plants that are so easily available—that of beautifying his home-grounds with the brilliantly colored berried plants, and that of attracting his feathered friends with the same plants.

All of us know that birds are of untold value to us. Some of them command high praise from us by eating the many annoying biting and stinging insects that are so disliked by human beings. Some of them are especially valuable in eating the destructive insects that destroy crops, trees and other ornamental plants. Others are valuable for their cheering songs and for their bright plumage. Why not plant some of the food plants that these birds like, and have them make their homes on your own place?

Now that we have decided to invite these birds to our home-plots, it might be a good idea to make a little study of the special requirements that these plants must have to provide the best attraction. Aside from the berried fruit, these plants must have certain requirements such as an ability to produce a quantity of this edible fruit; to afford shelter from the extreme heat of the sun; to afford shelter from the strong winds; and to provide sufficient seclusion so that certain types of birds may be protected from the view of persons.

Some birds, though, prove to be a little too pesky than we bargain for when they make frequent raids on our favorite berry patches and cherry trees. We shouldn't be bothered by those raids, though, for it is a known fact that the cultivated fruits are greatly protected from damage by birds if wild fruit is plentiful in that particular locality, but they are subject to considerable damage if the wild fruit is scarce. In other words, the birds prefer the wild fruits to the cultivated forms.

Here are some of the plants that will attract birds away from your favorite cultivated plants in the garden, thereby enabling you to have some of your favored birds around your premises and yet not damage your fruit.

Mulberries and shad-bushes will protect cherries and strawberries.

Elders, Virginia creeper and the black cherry will protect your grapes.

Elders and mulberries will protect raspberries and blackberries.

And now comes the list of plants that attract the birds, and the accompanying list of the different species of birds attracted by each plant.

Shad-bush—Blackbird, bluebird, cedarbird, crow, grosbeak, jay, robin, oriole, tanager and woodpecker.

Virginia Creeper—Bluebird, crow, grouse, kingbird, quail, sparrow and woodpecker.

Barberry—Cedarbird, crow, kingbird, grouse, quail, robin, sparrow and woodpecker.

Dogwood or Osier—Blackbird, catbird, bluebird, cedarbird, chickadee, crow, grosbeak, jay, junco, oriole, quail, robin, sparrow, swallow, vireo, thrasher and woodpecker.

Honeysuckle—Finch, grosbeak, jay and junco.

Red Mulberry—Blackbird, bluebird, bobolink, catbird, cedarbird, crow, cuckoo, grosbeak, grouse, jay, kingbird, oriole, phoebe, quail, robin, sparrow, tanager, thrasher, vireo and woodpecker.

Bittersweet—Bluebird, grouse, quail, robin and woodpecker.

Burning Bush (Eonymus)—Bluebird, robin, sparrow and woodpecker.

Red Cedar—Bluebird, cedarbird, chickadee, finch, grosbeak, kingbird, phoebe, quail, robin, sparrow, warbler, thrasher and woodpecker.

Would You Emoloy Yourself?

You rave because they put you out And laid you on the shelf; But tell me, friend, if tables turned, Would you employ yourself?

If you were the boss and paid the wage, And had to watch the pelf; And hired the man who must make good, Would you employ yourself?

Now take a look at what you are, And what you do each day; If you were set to hire yourself, Pray tell, what would you pay?

—W. L. Bone.

Rev and Mrs. G. R. Parker and Mrs. Ada Shockley returned late Tuesday night from the annual meeting of the Cheboygan Association of Congregational churches at Gaylord. Rev. Parker delivered the association sermon Monday evening and was elected as ministerial delegate to the National Council of Congregational churches and to the general conference of the Congregational and Christian churches. These two organizations will meet in Cleveland, Ohio, next May.

Our Sunday school time has been changed to 12 o'clock.

Rally day for the church will be held Sunday, October 4th.

Because the Rally day service will be held on the first Sunday in October, we will postpone our regular communion service one week to October 11th.

An Appreciation

Words cannot express the gratitude I feel toward the voters of Charlevoix and vicinity, also to the voters in the rest of the county, who so loyally supported me in the primary election. I feel that I owe my victory entirely to my many friends. E. S. Stacks.—Adv. 3811 pd.

REPUBLICANS OF COUNTY CONVENED

DELEGATES TO STATE MEET CHOSEN THURSDAY

Convention Adopted Resolutions Favoring National, State and County Republican Candidates

Charlevoix county Republicans, with 87 of the 100 delegates attending, held their county convention at the court house here last Thursday morning.

Five delegates and five alternates to the state convention in Detroit, September 29, were elected, and resolutions adopted endorsing the candidates for national, state and county offices.

The meeting was called to order by County Chairman Herman Meyer of Boyne Falls, who withdrew in favor of Dr. F. H. Wilkinson of this city, chosen temporary chairman. Mrs. Agnes Lorch of Boyne City, regular secretary, acted in her official capacity.

The nominating committee, composed of A. J. Rogers, East Jordan; Mrs. Hazel Evers, Hayes; John Parker and Henry Korthase, Boyne City, and Mrs. Lela Simmons, Charlevoix, brought in the list of delegates and alternates, which were unanimously chosen as follows:

Dr. F. H. Wilkinson, Charlevoix; J. M. Harris and Dr. J. R. Furman, Boyne City; Mrs. Maud Armstrong, Charlevoix; Samuel E. Rogers, East Jordan. Alternates—H. C. Meyer, Boyne Falls; W. P. Vought, Mrs. Agnes Lorch, Boyne City; Dr. G. W. Bechtold, East Jordan; C. J. Meggison, Charlevoix.

Report of the resolutions committee, viz: George Black, Sam Alexander, Cecil Armsby and C. J. Meggison, was unanimously adopted as follows:

Resolution

We, the Republicans of Charlevoix county in convention assembled, and after due consideration and discussion, do hereby resolve as follows:

1st. We recognize the fact that our country is passing through a world-wide period of depression, and because of it there is more or less unrest among our people; but it is our firm conviction and belief that had the Republican party not been in power, and had not President Hoover been in the presidential chair, that conditions would have been far worse than they have been. We believe also that the worst is over, and that we are on a fair way to normalcy, and that within a year or two, with President Hoover and the Republicans in power, that we will be again enjoying a fair measure of prosperity.

2nd. We believe that the firm and aggressive stand taken by President Hoover at the outbreak of the stock market crash, in calling in the heads of manufacturing and trading establishments and persuading them to continue their businesses and keep up their wage scales, and his wisdom ever since then in meeting and solving the problems confronting the nation has greatly mitigated and lessened the distress that would otherwise have ensued.

3rd. We therefore emphatically and earnestly endorse the candidacy of Herbert Hoover as our next President, and wholeheartedly agree to support him in every way. This also applies to the candidacy of the Vice-President, and the whole Republican administration.

4th. We further pledge our support to Mr. Bohn as our member in congress, and believe him well qualified to continue in office.

5th. We also fully endorse the Republican state administration under Governor Brucker. We believe that the Governor is honest, conscientious, and has in all things met the demands required of him as the head of our state, and, having won out in the nomination for re-election by a heavy majority, he should have the whole-hearted support of every Republican voter in the state.

6th. We also pledge our full support and allegiance to Senator Campbell for re-election, and take this opportunity to express our appreciation and gratification over the influence and work done by him in our state legislature up to the present time, and bespeak for him still more influence and power in the state governing power.

7th. We also go on record as fully endorsing and urging unanimous support of Douglas Tibbitts as our candidate for this district as Representative, and congratulate him on his clean campaign for the nomination, and his satisfactory majority. He is honest, clean and fair-minded, and is entitled to the confidence and support of everyone.

8th. We want also, to fully endorse the candidacy of all those who won the nomination at the primary for county offices, including Messrs. Ikenes for sheriff, Fitch for prosecutor, Ruegger for judge of probate, Bulow for clerk, Flanders for treasurer, Bird for register of deeds, Shanahan for circuit court commissioner, McMillan and Stackus for coronors, and Stacks for surveyor, and urge the support of each one for election in November. The campaign for nominations, while in many cases earnestly contested, was clean and fair, and all these men won out by substantial majorities and are all the fair selection of the Republican voters, and are entitled to the unanimous support at the November election.

Lastly, we see that the Democratic party, in an attempt to make capital of present conditions, are making a strenuous campaign to win out and get itself into power from the President.

TRAVERSE HOST TO SCHOOL TEACHERS

5TH DISTRICT MEETING THERE SEPTEMBER 29 AND 30

Over Two Thousand Teachers Expected to Attend—Speakers of Prominence on Program

Teachers from 17 counties will gather at Traverse City, Thursday and Friday, September 29 and 30, to attend the programs of the 5th district of the Michigan Education association. The membership of the association in this district during the past school year was 1,461. The district includes the counties of Manistee, Wexford, Missaukee, Benzie, Grand Traverse, Kalkaska, Emmet, Antrim, Charlevoix, Leelanau, Cheboygan, Alpena, Presque Isle, Montmorency, Otsego, Oscoda, and Alcona. Lake county recently was transferred from the 5th district to the 4th district, which meets in Grand Rapids.

Leaders of the teaching profession and of national and world affairs will be heard, including such outstanding speakers as Dr. George E. Vincent, former president of the University of Minnesota; Rodney H. Brandon, state director of public welfare in Illinois; and Harry Elmer Barnes, internationally known educator, lecturer and writer. Speakers for the division meetings will be Dr. Rollo G. Reynolds, principal of the Horace Mann School, Columbia University; Miss Ruth Mary Weeks, head of the department of English, Pasco high school, Kansas City, Mo.; James Edward Rogers, director, National Physical Education Service; and Fannie W. Dunn of the department of rural education, Teachers college, Columbia University. Miss Dunn, who will address the rural division at Traverse City, has made it her life work to champion the cause of the one and two-teacher rural schools.

Webster H. Pearce, state superintendent of public instruction, and Otto W. Haisley, president of the Michigan Education association and superintendent of schools at Ann Arbor, will appear on the general programs.

MANY ATTENDED DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION

George A. Hanson, Eveline, Placed on Ticket for Probate Judge

Charlevoix county Democrats held their convention in the Charlevoix court house last Wednesday evening with an attendance of nearly fifty.

Delegates to the state convention held at Lansing on Tuesday of this week were elected, and another important transaction was the selection of George A. Hanson, prominent Eveline township farmer, as candidate for probate judge at the November election to fill the vacancy left in the party ticket by the death of Charles B. Gale.

The Democrats made plans for an intensive campaign designed to put across a full ticket of nominees for county office, in addition to endorsing the national and state party candidates.

INDIAN BASEBALL "9" WINNERS CITY TITLE

Defeated Independents in Sunday Game by 24 to 5 Score

The Charlevoix Indians showed the Charlevoix Independents under a 24 to 5 score Sunday afternoon at north side ball park to cap the city baseball championship.

The Indians scored almost at will in practically every inning. They used Amos John, Paul Beemer and Glen Gill on the mound, and Guy John and Tookolo at catch. For the Independents, Bob Sterritt, Joe Stutzman and Jim Block pitched, while Stan Smith went the entire game at catch.

At the present time there is some talk of another game between the two teams.

BET SUGAR PASSES ALL QUALITY TESTS

Chemists Find No Reason for Discrimination Against Home Product

Chemists and specialists in nutrition at Michigan State college are unable to understand where the mistaken idea that a difference exists between cane and beet sugar either chemically or in actual use.

Experimental work in canning, preserve making, and in the preparation of jellies shows that the edibles prepared with beet sugar and those in which cane sugar were used were identical in appearance, in taste, and in keeping qualities.

Chemical tests are unable to differentiate between beet and cane sugar, and the two are identical in appearance when properly refined.

These statements should help the market for the product of the 14,000 Michigan farmers who are growing sugar beets this year. The crop will produce approximately 300,000,000 pounds of sugar but this amount is only three-fifths of the total sugar used by Michigan residents each year.

PRIMARY MONEY IS MAILED THIS WEEK

CHARLEVOIX COUNTY RECEIVED $66,040.68 FROM STATE

Amount for Charlevoix District, City and Township, Was $11,748.64—For Teachers' Wages

That the primary school money, which totals $66,040.68 for Charlevoix county, must be used exclusively for the payment of teachers' salaries, until the salaries for the current year are paid in full, is the ruling of the state department of public instruction.

The check for the money is in the hands of Joseph Wm. Flanders, county treasurer, who will send the money immediately to the township treasurers.

In the past the primary money in some districts has been used to pay tuition of high school students and for other purposes. However, the ruling states "no school board of a district not maintaining a high school has any legal right to pay delinquent high school tuition from this primary money."

"Any surplus moneys in the treasury of a district belonging to the primary fund may be used in paying necessary tuition in lieu of a tax therefor," the ruling continues.

Charlevoix school district No. 1, city and township, will receive a check for $11,748.64 from County Treasurer Joseph Wm. Flanders, as its portion of the $66,040.68 which was mailed out Wednesday.

Boyne Valley township includes the village of Boyne Falls; South Arm's appropriation includes the East Jordan school system, and that for Evangeline township includes the city of Boyne City.

Following are the townships, number of pupils and amount received:

Township	Pupils	Amount
Bay	106	$1,907.64
Boyne Valley	349	5,283.86
Chandler	39	590.46
Charlevoix	776	11,748.64
Evangeline	977	14,791.64
Eveline	192	1,544.28
Hayes	267	4,042.38
Hudson	17	257.38
Marion	203	3,073.42
Melrose	203	3,073.42
Norwood	155	2,346.70
Peaine	42	635.88
St. James	125	1,725.96
South Arm	826	12,505.64

LAST TWO BELVEDERE PAVING BONDS PAID

Indebtedness for Improvement Erased Monday Night

The Charlevoix city council Monday night approved payment of the two final bonds owed on the Belvedere avenue paving project, thus cleaning up the city's indebtedness on this improvement.

The two bonds, for the sum of $1,060 each, were the final ones of an issue amounting to $10,620.00, issued nine years ago. Another issue for the same project, was cleaned up several years ago.

LID OFF FOOTBALL SEASON SATURDAY

C. H. S. TO EAST JORDAN FOR INITIAL TILT

Team Meets Formidable Foe for Opening Game—Kipke Announces Starting Line-Up

The football season for Charlevoix high school opens Saturday afternoon with Coach Kipke taking his Red and White gridders to East Jordan for the initial tilt of a six-game schedule.

Unlike former years when the squad has had a warming-up game with some weaker school of the region, the Kipmen this season are tackling what many consider the most formidable foe in the Tip of Michigan conference competition.

Besides having a veteran squad which last year raised havoc with grid aspirations of schools of its class in the district, East Jordan also has the advantage of having played one game so far this season, while for Charlevoix the contest will be its first. East Jordan last week defeated a strong Frankfort team 13 to 0, indicating its strength. The greater portion of the line and backfield which carried off the conference championship last year is still intact.

Very little can be ventured in regard to the strength of Charlevoix's 1932 squad. It will be one of the lightest Coach Kipke has placed on the field in recent years, with only four veterans in the line-up. In the backfield only Struthers and Baker are letter men, while in the line, Capt. Edwin McCann and Marcus Roen are the only experienced men. The balance of the squad is made up of green material, woefully lacking in not only experience, but weight also. It is doubtful if the entire squad will average 140 pounds to the man.

Some consolation may be gained by the fact that the team seems to have progressed rapidly since drills opened three weeks ago, and what they lack in weight will be somewhat offset in speed. If the line is able to hold sufficiently to give the ball-tossers a chance to get away, the team will make things interesting for most any opponent.

Coach Kipke has announced his probable starting line-up for Saturday's game as follows:

Center—Herb Campbell.

Guards—Edwin McCann, Lawrence Korth.

Tackles—Bernard Foster, Gordon Raby.

Ends—Marcus Roen, Emerald Chew.

Halves—Steve Serno, Warren Shapton.

Fullback—Homer Struthers; calling signals.

Quarter—Baker.

TWO BUSINESS PLACES HAVE NEW LOCATIONS

T. L. Pearl Barber Shop and Jones' Studio in New Quarters

Two changes in location of local business concerns have been made during the early part of this week.

Following completion of necessary alterations, T. L. Pearl has moved his barber shop to the south portion of the County Bank building. The place has been attractively decorated, a pleasing pattern of inlaid linoleum put down, new equipment installed, etc. The beauty parlor operated by Mrs. John Nordrum is now located in an enclosed booth in the new quarters. Mr. Pearl has established living quarters in the rear of the building.

Harold Jones has moved his studio to the Powers building vacated by Mr. Pearl and is having alterations made to suit the business.

The change gives more suitable quarters for both business establishments.

WHITEFISH SPEARING ALLOWED OCTOBER 1ST

Special Permit May Be Procured from Conservation Officers

Localsportsmen who enjoy whitefish spearing are getting out their equipment and arranging for their trip to Indian river on the night of October 1.

The season opens on that date with Indian river as the most likely place for a good catch. The fish may be speared in Crooked river, Crooked and Burt lakes, as well as Indian river, but come up farther into the Inland Ronte waters a bit later than when found in Indian river.

—AND A PLACE TO FISH!

More and more each year, Michigan hunters, as they have found themselves fenced out of choice game cover have been clamoring for more public hunting lands, and their demands have had effect. Not only has the purchase of additional lands for game refuges and public hunting grounds been given marked emphasis during recent years, but by route of tax-deficiency—lands discarded by private ownership—and exchange, additional acres are being constantly added to the public domain.

But while this has been going on, the fishermen—and they are just as numerous as the hunters—have been placidly watching the shore lines of their favorite lakes and streams bought up by private interests, have watched court decisions go against them and have permitted session after session of the state legislature to pass without entering an appeal for a place to fish.

While there is enough of anything to go around values are low or non-existent and property owners do not assert themselves. But as the demand begins to increase, values become tangible and owners begin to claim their rights and resent trespass. It is the old law of supply and demand.

The conservation commission has realized the situation for some time... the Collins-Gerhardt and the Cavanaugh cases were fought to protect the public's interest on fishing waters... your commission has been withholding from sale public lands having water frontage that fishermen might have further access to lakes and streams. It has been exchanging lands to get water frontage. But so far it has received but indifferent public support.

William H. Lontit, executive chairman of the commission recently summed up the situation when he told the commission that "this (shrinkage of public access) has been happening in connection with hunting and fishing and while it may be debated how fast this has been happening and how serious it is, and what can and should be done about it, it is going on, and it is certainly time that we consider the situation and direct attention to it so that we may receive the benefit of all the constructive thought there may be available."

The commission, by itself, can do little in the way of handling situations such as this. It will require legislative and court action, and to get adequate action there must be definite plans which have the backing of a well informed and widespread public opinion.

It is going to take a lot of co-operation between the public and the commission before a fisherman will be able to legally creep to a river bank between "no fishing" signs and before he will be able to spit from his boat to the shore without committing trespass.

MONUMENTS TO CARELESSNESS

Characteristic landmarks in northern Michigan are the fire towers placed at regular intervals to assist the work of detecting forest fires.

These towers, in a way, are monuments to "carelessness"—for a majority of forest fires are caused by carelessness—a lighted cigar butt or cigarette stub tossed heedlessly into under-like grass, campfires left smoldering, etc. For such carelessness as this the state is forced to spend thousands of dollars annually to maintain fire-fighting equipment. In addition to the expense involved, if these heedless people could only visualize the results of their carelessness—the acres of scenic timberland destroyed, the game cover ruined and the years and years necessary to repair the damage. In many sections land burned over one or two decades ago is just beginning to show definite signs of a vigorous second growth. For miles and miles at a time one can see the withered trunks of former forest giants killed by fire towering up above a scrawny scrub growth. In another thirty or forty years, granting freedom from further fire ravages, these sections will take on again some measure of their former loveliness and the timber will be of value.

But that is taking a great deal for granted because a surprising number of people still prefer to save the added moments necessary to stamp out a burning cigar butt or extinguish a campfire at the risk of destroying the value and beauty of acres of timberland for many years to come.—The Hastings Banner.

HOME OWNERS TAKE HEART
The entire program of the home loan banks is being carried forward with a dispatch that should be heartening to property owners who have been threatened with loss or have encountered extreme difficulty in refinancing. There is increased assurance that the constructive and alleviating purposes of this system as originally proposed will be made operative without delay. The home loan board set to work immediately upon its appointment a few weeks ago. Franklin W. Fort, chairman of the board, repeats in an address before the United States Building and Loan League at French Lick, Ind., that the banks will begin to function about the middle of next month. He indicates, also, that distressed home owners need not, or should not be forced to wait even until that time for relief.

The board chairman's request that building and loan associations throughout the country suspend mortgage foreclosures until the banks are in operation is fortified by positive action already begun in that direction. Along with the order of the comptroller in the currency that receivers of closed national banks extend this consideration to home owners, there is the promise of co-operation, the chairman announces, by a majority of the state banking authorities. With other home loan agencies in line, as should be expected, there would be the prompt assistance on a wide scale, which both reason and sound business demand. The certainty of early functioning of the banks affords the necessary guarantee against risk in giving the aid that has been requested.

ARE YOU BIG ENOUGH?

Are you big enough to support the successful candidate who defeated you in the primaries and assure his election in November?

If not, you are too small for the favor you sought of the people and have your just deserts, but on the other hand, if you are a good sport and have party pride with a willingness to serve others, the day will dawn when you will reach the goal of your ambition.

There are those who, after failing to succeed in the party of their choice, change to another party and seek public favor. This in my opinion is a breach of trust and should show to the people that such a person is a misfit in any party he wishes to be served but not to serve. No bank survives when its patrons withdraw more than they deposit and the biggest dividends go to the biggest depositors and not to the withdrawers. By the same token party interests should be paid on party principles and undiluted service. Don't be a misfit.

If you are too big to lose you are too small to win if you don't keep on fighting with the crowd that fought for you.—Daniel Boone Lamplins.

They've Never Tasted a Tonic!

THESE are not patent medicine children. Their appetite needs no coaxing. Their tongues are never coated, cheeks never pale. And their bowels move just like clockwork, because they have never been given a habit-forming laxative.

You can have children like this—and be as healthy yourself—if you follow the advice of a famous family physician. Stimulate the vital organs. The strongest of them need help at times. If they don't get it, they grow sluggish. Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin is a mild, safe stimulant.

When a youngster doesn't do well at school, it may be the liver that's lazy. Often the bowels hold enough poisonous waste to dull the senses! A spoonful of delicious syrup pepsin once or twice a week will avoid all this. It contains fresh laxative herbs, active senna, and pure pepsin, and does a world of good to any system—young or old. You can always get this fine prescriptive preparation at any drug store. Just ask them for Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin.

Get some syrup pepsin today, and protect your family from those bilious days, frequent sick spells and colds. Keep a bottle in the medicine chest instead of cathartics that so often bring on chronic constipation. Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin can always be employed to give clogged bowels a thorough cleansing, with none of that painful griping, or burning feeling afterward. It isn't expensive.

Arm-Chair Shoppers are Skillful Shoppers

Almost every purchase you make represents a choice. And usually a wide choice, between three or four or forty good possibilities.

But no good housekeeper today spends all her spare time on the go—comparing qualities, estimating values, trying to get the most for the money spent.

She does much of her shopping at home, with her daily paper. She finds in the advertising columns the latest news from The Rue de La Paix, the newest discoveries in dietetics, marvels of mechanical invention—a thousand romances translated into real things to eat and wear and use and own. She makes up her mind before she goes out to buy.

Read the advertisements in this paper carefully. They bring you valuable information about new and better things. They show you how to have what you want and how to save money in buying.

IMPORTANT

When you ask for a product by name, as a result of advertising, do not accept a substitute—substitutes are offered not as a service to you, but for other reasons.

SCHOOL NOTES

Staff for semester: Winfield Kirby, Clarence Smith, Lila Tillotson, Margaret McCann, Dorothy Staley, Edna Wyers, Christina Withers.

M. E. A. Thursday and Friday

This is a short school week because of the meeting of the Michigan Education association at Traverse City on Thursday and Friday, September 29 and 30.

Several of our local faculty are represented on the program. Mr. Bush is secretary of the district; Mrs. Dowd is chairman of the speech section and chairman of the nominating committee of the English division; Mrs. Logan will speak before the classical language section on the subject, "Some Practical Devices for Adding Interest to the Study of Latin."

Class Sponsors Appointed

Mr. North, principal of the senior high school, made the appointment of class sponsors late last week. Miss Anderson, who has been with the class of '33 thus far through their high school career, will continue as their sponsor this year. Miss Fernau will assist the juniors in their activities, the most outstanding of which is the J-Hop. Miss Koch, home economics instructor, has been appointed as sophomore advisor. Election of class officers will take place in the near future.

Enrollment Records Complete

The correct enrollment of the high school this year is as follows:

Freshmen, 40 boys, 40 girls; sophomores, 42 boys, 43 girls; juniors, 26 boys, 41 girls; seniors, 17 boys, 29 girls.

The total enrollment is 278, 198 of which are in the senior high school.

Dramatics

Tuesday night the Drama club met for the second time this year. Mrs. Dowd read a short play to the group and an introduction was given to the study of the theatre backgrounds which is to follow.

The nominating committee composed of Jean Stelter, Mary Helen Fochtman and Alice Usher, presented the following nominees: president, Marjorie Carey, Lloyd Arnold; secretary, Helen Myers, Margaret McCann; treasurer, Gertrude Clark, Marjorie Partridge.

There are 28 members of the club this year: Lloyd Arnold, Virginia Bloek, Lucille Bogart, Betty Cartier, Marjorie Carey, Margaret Chew, Gertrude Clark, Daisy Dutcher, Mary Helen Fochtman, Julia Gladys, Luella Hendrickson, Ruth Kruger, Bernice Lamphear, Janette Livingston, Paul McCartney, Helen Meyers, Virginia Nickerson, Crawford Norton, Dorothy Partridge, Jean Stelter, Marjorie Partridge, Ethel Powers, Jerlen Smith, Dorothy Staley, Jane Stelter, Marian Tyler, Alice Usher, John Winder.

In the Classroom

The civics class is studying the different types of government, their stages and developments. After studying political platforms last week the class became interested in tax reform and suggested doing away with all property tax on homes.

The American history class, having made a rather complete exhibit of the Washington period which was on display last week, have turned their attention to all the information they can get on early American explorers.

The world history students have decided it would be fun to live in the Palace of Croesus during the time of Cretan civilization.

The sophomore English classes have been making an interesting study of personality. Mrs. Dowd read to the classes the article, "How to Get the Things You Want," by Emmet Crazier, in the current number of the American magazine, and tried some of the tests on the pupils. The results in some instances were unusually high.

The band has obtained new music and is now working vigorously to be prepared to appear for the first home football game.

Manual Arts

Preliminary drawings being completed, manual arts classes are ready to begin actual work. The boys are eager to test their skill, and Mr. Weissenberger states that parents may assist by allowing the boys to work on simple jobs around the house.

The boys are also busy building an entry to the high school basement. Mr. Weissenberger is in charge of the construction. This entry is over the door leading to the book store and lunch room. The lunch room is made of part of the basement. It has a cement floor and is well heated and ventilated. This room will be used by all those who carry their lunches in cold weather.

Personal

Mr. Bush attended the conference of school superintendents of the state, at Traverse City, last Friday and Saturday.

Joe Bronersky is back in school after having been in Chicago getting material on the study of the radio.

Winfield Kirby has gone to Gloucester, Mass., to attend the funeral of his uncle.

Junior High News

The junior high school mixed chorus proved to be a real success in the music department in 1931-32. With the experience of a year's effort to serve as a background, the chorus should establish an enviable tradition for itself. Students are to be congratulated in the opportunity which such an organization offers. In addition to the whole junior high chorus it is expected that a ninth grade mixed chorus will be organized this year.

The junior high student council initiated as a representative group a year ago, will undergo the process of formal organization in the near future. Much value is to be gained in whole hearted co-operation in such a group. As students become more experienced in using the privileges granted to such an organization, more of the qualities of practical citizenship appear.

Grades

The 5th grade pupils are making leaf booklets. Each pupil is collecting all the different kinds of leaves he can find and placing them in the book.

All the pupils of the grade building have been examined by the county nurse, and Miss Dasef states that reports will be sent to the parents soon.

The law provides that the state pay $1 per day per patient in county tuberculosis sanatoria. There are 61 such institutions in the state and funds from the malt tax have been divided equitably among the institutions. In addition, $140,603 has been paid for the care of tubercular patients in the University of Michigan hospital.

The malt tax law also provided that after July 1, 1932, funds be segregated to provide $400,000 for a second state tuberculosis sanatorium in the northern part of the lower peninsula. During July and August $148,608 was placed in the sanatorium building fund.

Home Furnishing Group Leaders Receive First Lesson—15 Groups to Carry on Work

A general program outlining the duties of the officers of the various groups and a thorough survey of the first lesson of the subject, "Selections of Slip Covers and Upholstery Materials," were presented by Miss Gertrude Reis, extension specialist, Michigan State college, to 39 leaders and officers of 15 groups in Boyne City on September 21st.

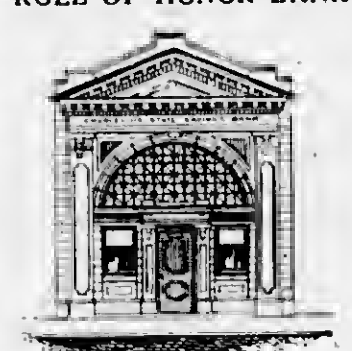

Greater interest was manifested by the women who started the second year project in home furnishings. Mrs. Verna Hartnell, county chairman, suggested that a county committee consisting of three people be selected to handle any problems that might present themselves throughout the entire county. This committee consists of Mrs. Hartnell, Mrs. Kightlinger and Miss Sidney Lumley.

There will be five lessons in the home furnishings project this year each one offering some practical suggestions for the upkeep of the home.

NO SLEEP, NO REST, STOMACH GAS IS CAUSE

Mrs. A. Cloud says: "For years I had a bad stomach and gas. Was nervous and could not sleep. Adler-ika rid me of all stomach trouble and now I sleep fine." F. J. Fessenden, Druggist.

Our Ambition

To render an increasingly efficient service to this community.

Your patronage will aid us to accomplish this and will also cause your business to become more efficient.

Charlevoix State Savings Bank

The following are the stockholders interested in and back of this financial institution: John Burns, Mary A. Cameron, Mrs. P. D. Campbell, L. S. See, A. D. Crimmins, Archie L. Livingston, Est. of Edward C. Waller, Martin Bloek, Mrs. Martha Swinton, W. S. Richardson, Carrie E. Livingston, H. A. Craig, A. I. Creamer, G. W. Richardson, M. A. Levinson.

The project is most interesting for actual work will be accomplished in the renovating and refinishing of old furniture; making slip covers; treatment of windows; and selection of pictures.

The second lesson will be given on November 2nd, also under the leadership of Miss Gertrude Reis. It is hoped that more communities in the county will become interested in this project. We might just as well have 18 groups as 15. Any new community still has time to participate in this program.

Ram Truck Will Soon Visit County

Plans are being rapidly made for the appearance of the ram truck sponsored by the Michigan State college and the various sheep breeders associations. On this truck will be included 30 to 40 good purebred rams priced all the way from $20 to $40.

If you are interested in buying a purebred ram plan to attend the ram truck demonstrations. It will give us a better opportunity to have on the truck the kind of ram you may want if you will drop a line to the county agent at Boyne City and place an order for one.

Watch the papers for the date, time and place of these meetings, which will no doubt be held the first part of October.

Specially Written Story for Kay Francis Becomes Ideal Screen Vehicle for Star

"Man Wanted," Kay Francis' first starring picture for Warner Bros., which comes to the Palace theatre next Saturday and Sunday, was especially written for her by an anonymous author, with her particular charms, talents and characteristics taken into consideration and given full play.

The story is laid against a background of wealth and luxury, calling for numerous unusual gowns and a display of dramatic talent. This special story for Miss Francis concerns a rich young woman who finds idle society life too empty for her and turns to business as an outlet for her ambition. Her playboy husband turns to other women as a diversion and their marriage is dissolved, with the star finding her male secretary, portrayed by David Mann, more suited to her than her husband. The story of the beauty's social and business life is ideally suited to bring out Miss Francis' talents.

"Man Wanted," is regarded as Miss Francis' most diverting picture to date.

The large cast, directed by William Dieterle, includes Andy Devine, Umm Merkel, Kenneth Thomson, Claire Dodd and Edward Van Sloan. Thomson appears as the erring husband.

PLANT THIS FALL

By Charles J. Hudson, Jr.
The perennial question of fall vs. spring planting presents itself again. In seeking the answer to this question, we find many more facts in favor of fall planting than for spring planting, although the latter is not to be discouraged entirely, however.

Most of us still retain the idea that the only time to set out perennial plants, shrubs and trees is in the spring. That is still a perfectly good time, but we can find several good reasons for planting in the fall instead.

the loss of a full season's growth—plant this fall!
It is always safer to move plants when they are dormant or resting than when they are actively growing, for they are bound to suffer from quite a setback when the fast growing cell life is suddenly checked by transplanting. Fall, then, is naturally the time these plants are dormant and will not suffer when their root systems are disturbed. For the best results, plant this fall.

dent down to the lowest county officer, and in doing so are seeking to array one Republican against another—faction against faction—section against section, in order to build up support for itself. The Democrats have had full control in congress for the past two years and have failed miserably to agree among themselves as to what to do to better conditions throughout the country, and finally fall back and in many things carried out the previous recommendations of President Hoover. They can point to no substantial act or step taken by them in congress, where they have been in full power, for the past two years, that would be any excuse for support at this time; and on the other hand, their failure to meet the problems before them and solve them is proof that they are unfit to be placed at the head or in charge of the future of our nation.

Republicans should therefore lay aside any and all prejudices and personal feelings—forget or forgive past disappointments and grievances—bury deep in oblivion past factional contentions, and all rally to the support of Republicanism, the Republican platform, and all Republican candidates, and victory is assured.

FULLER EXPLAINS TAX RELIEF LAWS

New Laws Give Relief If Payment Is Made Soon

Delinquent taxpayers who wish to take full advantage of the relief accorded by the laws enacted by the special session of the legislature, must act before October 1, it was pointed out by O. E. Fuller, auditor general.

Persons delinquent for 1930 taxes, by paying 25 per cent of the tax before October 1 and another 25 per cent before May 1, 1933, may postpone the time when their property will be sold for taxes by one year. The remaining 50 per cent may be paid at any time prior to May 1, 1934. Interest on both installments of 25 per cent will be computed at one-half of one per cent a month from March 1, 1931, up to the time of payment. On the last 50 per cent the rate of interest will be three-fourths of one per cent monthly. However, if the entire 1931 tax is paid by October 1, the reduced rate of interest is computed on the entire tax.

The $1 advertising fee for October 1, 1932, may be saved by paying 50 per cent of the tax before October 1. The maximum benefit under the act may be obtained by paying 75 per cent of the tax by October 1, 1932, and the remaining 25 per cent by May 1, 1933. These and other measures for relief of delinquent taxpayers were passed by the legislature last spring as part of the emergency program sponsored by Gov. Wilbur M. Brucker.

THOUSANDS MUST RENEW LICENSES

Group Securing Theirs Prior to 1928 Have Until November 1

Before November 1, 1932, approximately 250,000 motor vehicle operators must secure new drivers' licenses.

The new license law, adopted by the 1931 legislature, ordered motorists who secured their old licenses between January 1, 1928, and November 1, 1929, to secure licenses before November 1 of this year.

Department of state records show that during 1928 and 1929 a total of 430,000 drivers' licenses were issued. But because many of these motorists have already secured new licenses, it is estimated that only about 250,000 licenses will expire in about six weeks.

Old drivers' licenses, secured after November 1, 1929, expire according to the 1931 law, three years after date of issue. Application for new licenses should be made to the police or sheriff of the municipality or county in which the motorists reside. Of the $1 fee charged the driver for the license, 15c is returned to the municipality or county receiving the application and the balance is turned over to the department of public safety after cost of administering the law has been deducted.

LEGION ACTIVITIES

Edited by F. V. Tyler.

Distribution of confiscated fish by Leslie T. Shapton post last winter proved so valuable a form of relief work among the needy of the community that Past Commander Lee C. Allard wrote recently to Governor Brucker for his assistance in again securing the fish from the conservation department. Under date of September 23, the governor wrote as follows:

"My Dear Lee:

I have your letter of September 20th, suggesting that the American Legion post of Charlevoix again stands ready to serve the community by utilizing confiscated fish so as to bring relief to the needy and the unfortunate.

"I shall recommend this again for the fall and winter of 1932-33 and see that it is followed up so that you hear from the conservation department immediately.

"May I not take this occasion to again compliment you and the members of the post, each and every one who has had a part in this worthy undertaking and for the good service you have rendered to that part of Michigan.

"With kindest personal regards and best wishes, I am

Very sincerely yours,

(Signed) Wilbur M. Brucker."

The present intention of the commander is to summon the post to a general meeting the first Tuesday in each month, at which time the work of the past month will be reviewed and unfinished business disposed of. The last meeting of the month will be purely a social meeting, at which some form of entertainment will be held, and the two meetings in between will serve the purpose of picking up the loose ends and ends of business and taking care of such matters as cannot be postponed. The first meeting of the month should have a full turn-out of members every time.

Inasmuch as East Jordan post finds that it cannot entertain the next meeting of the lower 11th district, as planned—the meeting will be held at Charlevoix, so far as known. Members of this post should turn out in force next Tuesday night to make preparations for this district meeting which occurs on Sunday, October 9.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

Sunday morning service, 10:45. Subject, "Unreality."

Wednesday evening at 7:45. Reading room Tuesday and Saturday, 3:00 to 5:00 p. m. The public is cordially invited to attend our services and use our reading room.

"Reality" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, September 25.

Among the Bible citations was this passage (Ps. 57:9, 10): "I will praise thee, O Lord, among the people; I will sing unto thee among the nations. For thy mercy is great unto the heavens, and thy truth unto the clouds."

Correlative passages read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, included the following (p. 277): "To all that is unlike unerring and eternal Mind, this Mind saith, 'Thou shalt surely die'; and elsewhere the Scripture says that dust returns to dust. The non-intelligent relapses into its own unreality."

Indicates Selection Party Presidential Electors

Instructions to voters issued by the department of state this year, are greatly amplified over those issued in previous years.

The following instructions are being sent to county election officials and will be displayed at the polling places prior to the November election:

1. If you desire to vote a straight ticket, make a cross in the circle under the name of your party at the head of the ballot. Nothing further need be done.

2. If you desire to vote for a candidate not on your party ticket where only one candidate is to be elected to an office, make a cross in the circle under the name of your party and also make a cross in the square before the name of the candidate for whom you desire to vote on the other ticket. In such case it shall not be necessary to strike off the name of the candidate on your party ticket.

3. Where two or more candidates are to be elected to the same or like office, and you desire to vote for a candidate or candidates not on your party ticket, make a cross in the circle under your party name and mark a cross in the square before the name or names of the candidate or candidates for whom you desire to vote on the other ticket or tickets, and also erase an equal number of names of the candidates for such office on your party ticket.

4. If you wish to vote for a candidate not on any ticket, write, or place the name of such candidate on your ticket, opposite the name of the office and make a cross in the circle under the party name.

5. A ticket marked with a cross under a party name shall be deemed a vote for each of the candidates named in such party column whose name is not erased or crossed off, except those candidates where a cross is placed in the square before the name of some opposing candidate on the opposing ticket, or when there is written or placed on the party ticket a name which is not printed on the party ticket; provided, that at the general November election in each presidential year the cross in the circle under the party name shall not be deemed as a direct vote for the candidates of the particular political party for president and vice-president of the United States, but, in addition to being a vote for each of the candidates for state, congressional, legislative and county offices named in such party column shall be deemed and taken to be a vote for the entire list of electors chosen by such political party.

6. If the name of any person who is not a candidate on any ticket is written or placed on a party ticket opposite the name of the office and there is a cross in the circle under the party name, the name so written or placed shall be counted one vote for such person, whether the original name on the party ticket is erased or not, excepting cases where there is a cross in the square before the name of some opposite candidate on some other party ticket.

7. If no cross is placed in the circle under the party name, a cross in the square before the name of any candidate shall be deemed a vote for such candidate except in cases where the elector votes for more candidates for the same office than are to be elected.

8. Such elector shall indicate his preference on any constitutional amendment or other submitted question, by making a cross in the square in front of the word "YES" or in the square in front of the word "NO" opposite or below such question on the proper ballots.

9. If you wish to vote for the electors of the president and vice-president of the United States of a political party other than your own, make a cross in the circle under the name of your party and also make a cross in the square before the bracket embracing the names of the candidates for president and vice-president for those presidential electors you desire to vote.

LOCAL JAIL BREAKER ARRESTED IN FLORIDA

Lyle Barnes Being Brought Back to Face Charges Here

Lyle Barnes, who escaped jail here July 2nd along with Sol Skaggs and Deward and James Porter, is being brought back to face local charges.

On notification he had been picked up in St. Petersburg, Fla., on an assault charge, necessary extradition papers were prepared by Prosecuting Attorney Rollie H. Lewis, and on Friday of last week Sheriff Henry Steimel and Deputy Charles Marshall, went to Florida after the prisoner.

Barnes had previously been arrested July 23rd at Charleston, N. C., but was released before local officers were notified. He is wanted here for statutory rape and breaking parole from Iowa state reformatory.

State Trooper Seymour of Cheboygan, who arrested Skaggs and the two Porters on breaking and entering charges, accompanied local officers, and was to be dropped off in Kentucky in attempt to locate the trio, believed to be hiding out there with relatives.

POTATO GROWERS WILL SEEK TITLE

COUNTY GROUP TO DISPLAY AT GAYLORD SHOW

Annual Competition for Premier Growers October 26-28 Carries
Cash Award to Winner

Potato growers in Charlevoix county, who during the past three or four years have won high honors in Michigan potato growing circles, won hundreds of dollars in cash prizes and scores of ribbons, are showing keen interest in the annual premier potato grower contest of the annual Gaylord potato and apple show, according to County Agent B. C. Mellenkamp.

Northern Michigan growers will compete for regional honors at the Gaylord show to be held October 26-28. Four other regions of the state will also have their contest at potato shows, then the final state winners are decided at the annual Farmer's Week of the Michigan State fair.

The Top O' Michigan show at Gaylord gives a cash prize of $20 and the Farmer's Week prize is $80, to be applied on a trial to some potato growing section outside of Michigan during the crop growing season. The entire state contest is conducted by J. J. Bird, potato specialist at Michigan State college. H. C. Moore of M. S. C., will be judge at the Gaylord show. To be eligible, the grower must produce five or more acres of potatoes this year. The contest is decided on yield, quality of crop and showmanship.

Charlevoix county growers have ranked high up among the winners at Gaylord during the past several years. Many fine fields of certified seed potatoes have been grown in scattered points throughout the country this year, and many of these producers will compete at Gaylord.

The splendid publicity thus given Charlevoix county potatoes has helped greatly in creating a demand for seed and table stock from Charlevoix county farms, aiding in building up a market for the county product.

Mrs. R. F. Sloan, Newly-Elected President, Was Hostess

Mrs. R. F. Sloan, newly elected president of the Charles Dickens Club, was hostess to the club ladies when they convened Monday afternoon for the first meeting of the year at the Sloan residence on State street.

Following a short business meeting, a fugot party was announced. The hostess passed around a bundle of fugots requesting each member to give an account of her recreational activities during the summer, throwing the fugot in the fireplace upon completion of her story. Many interesting trips and experiences were related.

Dainty refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

Other officers for the ensuing year are: vice-president, Mrs. W. S. Richardson; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Clair Webster; librarian, Miss Minnie Payton.

ROAD PLANS PRO- GRESSING NICELY

US-131 RE-LOCATION PROJECT
SEEMS ASSURED

Charlevoix County Supervisors Agree on Funds for Right-of-Way—
Will Furnish Labor

Through the united efforts of highway officials, supervisors and business interests of Charlevoix and Emmet counties, rapid strides are being made toward the completion of preliminary plans for the re-location of 9.4 miles on US-131 north of Boyne Falls.

Starting agitation on the project in August, a representation from the two counties went to Lansing and received assurance from the state highway department that the re-location would be undertaken providing the interested counties procured the necessary property for right-of-way.

Since that time intensive work has been in progress. Numerous meetings, at which officials of both counties were present, have been held to work out plans. A committee was appointed in Emmet county to procure right-of-way, and at a special meeting, the board of supervisors voted funds for purchase of parcels of land in cases where the owners were not willing to give the property outright.

In this county, R. F. Sloan has been appointed by the county road commission as its representative in procuring right-of-way. Township and ward supervisors have been called upon for an agreement to appropriate at the coming October session sufficient funds to make necessary purchases in Charlevoix county. With the exception of two or three supervisors who have not been reached to date, all have agreed. This procedure eliminated the necessity of calling a special session to agree upon the project. It is estimated Charlevoix county's needs for right-of-way purchases will be in the neighborhood of $1,500, while in Emmet county the appropriation agreed upon was $4,000.00.

It is expected that practically all of the land will be purchased outright. There may be several pieces on which a price agreement cannot be reached and these cases will be turned over to the state for condemnation proceedings. The state has promised all possible aid to affect settlements for all lands.

The plans are all drawn and ready for the contractor who makes the successful bid for the job. The cost of the grading was estimated at a figure between $150,000 and $170,000, practically all of which would go for labor. Engineering costs, machinery rental, etc., would be the items not going to the working men of the two counties.

With the right of way certain the state is going ahead with its part of the plan. Completion of detailed plans, estimates, etc., is being hurried in order that the entire job may be advertised for bids soon. The grading job must be completed by July 1, 1933.

The paving work is expected to be made a part of the 1933 summer program by the state, thus extending the time for employment of Emmet and Charlevoix labor on this road job through all next summer.

The work on this road project is expected to prove a means of securing needed financial aid for several hundred families.

LOCAL GRIDDERS LOST FIRST TILT

DEFEATED SATURDAY AT EAST
JORDAN 21 TO 0

Outplayed in First Half, But Showed Great Improvement in Second—Mancelona Here Saturday

Scoring three times in the first two periods, East Jordan high school football team, 1931 champions of the Tip of Michigan class C conference, defeated Charlevoix high school gridgers 21 to 0 at East Jordan last Saturday afternoon.

Sommerville carried over the initial touchdown on the opening play the second time Jordan had possession of the ball. Shapton's fumble of a punt paved the way. This same Somerville crossed Charlevoix's goal twice more in the second period.

After those damaging first two periods, however, Charlevoix gridgers showed decided improvement, holding their opponents in check and threatening repeatedly to score. It was apparently a matter of getting over their stage fright.

In an attempt to find a working combination, Coach Kipke replaced Baker and Shapton at halves with Jack Foster and Emerald Chew. George Smith was in Babby's tackle position, and Joe Smith was at right end. Bill Chambers played at Korth's guard position, part of the game, and Marcus Roen was removed following an injury near the close of the third period, being relieved by Richardson.

The Kipmen gained much ground in the last half through the air, a passing combination. Struthers to Serno, working repeatedly. Serno and Struthers also made good gains through the line. The punting of Joe Smith was the best any Charlevoix player has displayed in many years. Smith's long spirals pulled his team out of bad spots in many instances. On defense, Jack Foster showed well receiving and running back punts, never missing a chance. Considering their inexperience, the team showed well once they found out what it was all about.

Coach Kipke expects to make a few changes in preparation for the Mancelona tilt here Saturday afternoon. The backfield combination of Foster, Serno, Chew and Struthers will probably remain intact, but in the line Baker will likely be used at guard.

GREAT LAKES AT LOW- EST LEVEL IN HISTORY

This Fact Revealed by Markings at Cheboygan Harbor

The stage of the water in the Great Lakes has reached the lowest level ever known, according to the marking at State street bridge which was built 56 years ago.

The marking at this place shows the general level of the water in the Straits of Mackinac. About a month ago the water raised about eight inches, only to drop back again to a lower level. The same conditions prevail in the big inland lakes of Cheboygan county which takes all the waters of the northern water-shed of the northern portion of the lower peninsula.

Theodore Wilsey, who has charge of the power house on Black river, says that the water above the dam is eight to ten inches below normal, and the same conditions are said to prevail on Mullet, Burt and Crooked lakes.—Cheboygan Tribune.

STATE OFFICERS ARE RENOMINATED

Unanimous Acclamation Given Fitzgerald, Lawrence, Voorhies, Fuller

Complete approval of the Republican party in its state officers was shown at the state convention in Detroit, when the present state officers were renominated by unanimous acclamation.

They are: Secretary of State Frank D. Fitzgerald; State Treasurer Howard C. Lawrence; Attorney General Paul W. Voorhies; and Auditor General Oramel B. Fuller.

The desire of the convention was so apparent when Governor Wilbur M. Brucker declared that the four officials should be renominated, that "set" nominating speeches were eliminated. Perry F. Powers of Cadillac, followed the governor in nominating the officers in one short address. This was greeted by shouts of approval when a viva voce vote was called for.

Another evidence of the esteem in which Michigan holds its state officers was shown in the gathering of delegates prior to the formal convention. At no time, were any other names mentioned as possible opponents to the present incumbents.

SUPERVISORS TO CONVENE MONDAY

REGULAR ANNUAL SESSION TO GET UNDER WAY

Election of Road Commissioner, Reports and Appropriations Tasks
Before Board

Following customary procedure, the Charlevoix county board of supervisors will convene next Monday, October 10th, at the Charlevoix court house for their annual fall session.

For the week following, and as much longer as may be necessary, the county solons will be busy with the many important tasks which come before them at that time. Last year's session occupied a week—one of the shortest on record—and Chairman Harry Craig is hopeful that business may be cleaned up in as short a time this year as a matter of economy.

Reports and recommendations of various committees will be made, annual inspection trips held, major appropriations determined, etc.

The selection of a road commissioner for the Charlevoix district will be made at this session. W. E. Byers of Charlevoix, present commissioner, stated Tuesday he would not be a candidate for re-election. In case he is not drafted, the selection of his successor appears to be much a matter of conjecture. The names of Bert Elliott, former Marion township highway commissioner; Harry Smith, supervisor of Charles N. Smith, Bay township supervisor, and Mayor Arthur Bergeon of Charlevoix, have all been mentioned as possible candidates. It is understood various groups have already held meetings to boost their favored candidate, so there will likely be no scarcity of material when the time comes for selection.

The county road commission, in session early this week, voted 14 1/2 miles as their recommendation to the board of supervisors for maintenance work. This amount is the limit set under the Horton act. The recommendation a year ago was three miles and the board's appropriation 2 1/2 miles. The amount requested this year is just half of the previous figure.

To many of the supervisors, next week's session will be their first annual meeting. At the meeting last June, ten new members were on the board.

COAL & ICE CO. PUR- CHASE STORE BUILDING

Building New Brick Front and Will Transfer Offices Soon

Through a property transfer completed last week, the Charlevoix Coal & Ice Co., owned and operated by Charles Heise and Ben Yettaw, acquired the Bridge property fronting on Mason street.

Work is now in progress on improvements on the building. A brick front is being constructed and necessary partitions built. The building will be divided into two spaces, one to be occupied by the Charlevoix Coal & Ice Co. office as soon as completed.

Besides making a decided improvement in the business district in which the building is located, the purchase will give the firm permanent office headquarters.

PETITION COUNCIL FOR SEWAGE PLANT

TAXPAYERS ASK IMMEDIATE ACTION ON MATTER

Cite Aid to Unemployment, Low Construction Cost, Etc.—Bond Issue
Would Be Necessary

A petition bearing the names of fifty-seven Charlevoix taxpayers, asking immediate action on the construction of a sewage disposal system, has been presented to the city council.

The petition, citing the need of a sewage disposal system, the aid of such construction to the present unemployment situation, the low cost of labor at the present time, etc., reads as follows:

"We, the undersigned taxpayers of the City of Charlevoix, do hereby and herein respectfully petition your honorable body to take under immediate consideration the important matter of sewage disposal for this city.

"This petition is especially commended to your attention at this time for the following reasons:

"1. The present critical unemployment situation which the prosecution of new public works will in some measure relieve.

"2. The nearness of the date which the state department of health has set as the limit for the completion of such sewage disposal construction.

"3. The fact that it is believed, on substantial authority, that financial aid may be secured for the work from the United States government through the agency of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

"4. The fact that it is now possible to do the work at an extremely low labor cost."

In anticipation of such sewage disposal construction, the city had a preliminary survey made about four years ago. The system recommended by engineers at that time was an elaborate one, calling for a pumping station located outside the city limits and necessary construction of sewers to the plant. The estimated cost was first in the neighborhood of $100,000, and was later reduced to $150,000. Either price was considered prohibitive.

The state department of health has since shown a willingness to accept the commonly used septic tank system, which has proven very satisfactory in cities where it has been put in operation. Estimates place the cost of such a system for Charlevoix at around $60,000.00.

In case the council should decide to go ahead with the improvement, much preliminary work must be disposed of. It will require procuring of plans and specifications, publishing of necessary notices and subsequent hearings, and finally a vote on the acceptance of a bond issue necessary to provide funds for the improvement. In all likelihood the matter would have to be voted on at the annual spring election, unless a special election was called for the purpose. At any rate, it would be next spring before plans could be put into operation.

In view of the fact that a sewage disposal plant is a necessary and needed improvement, it is to be hoped that the matter will be given satisfactory consideration.

JERK THE RAGWEEDS

The city of Cadillac arouses admiration for the vigorous way in which it went about the job of burning up sneezes. There were lots of ragweed in the city, and ragweed causes hay fever. Goldenrod stories to the contrary, ragweed is the chief hane of hay fever sufferers.

Cadillac wanted hay fever patients to feel safe to come to Cadillac. So free movie tickets were offered to school children for pulling and bringing in bales of ragweed. Thousands of the seedy weeds were pulled by responsive children. Then the bales of weeds, eight tons of them, were carefully weighed and a cup was awarded to the school which pulled the greatest weight.

A big bonfire was made, and the weeds were fed to the flames. That is the way Cadillac got rid of much of its crop. The energy and resourcefulness which were put into the job is meritorious.

In regard to our own city, Charlevoix also has ragweeds. Hay fever patients come here every year for a number of weeks, and say they find relief. Evidently our situation isn't bad. But at the same time, let's safeguard our future by pulling the weeds. Anyway, they look bad along the streets.

PERE MARQUETTE RAILWAY PUTS ON EXTRA FREIGHTS

Business picked up considerably for the local railroad when it was necessary last week to run three big freight trains northbound on the Pere Marquette to care for the increase in that company's freight business.

This was an unusual spurt of business for that transportation company.

The shipping public is going to pay more attention to railways from now on—or lose them altogether. Trucks, because of the mobility, ease of operation and convenience has made a great inroad upon the freight business of the common carriers. The rail companies do not expect nor obtain a great deal of passenger traffic so must subsidize upon the freight departments.

The depression of the past has hit the railroads severely and they would have never "pulled through" had not the treasury vaults of the United States been opened to them. With the returning of prosperity the public will make a new evaluation upon the railways and the extent of their actual usefulness in this age of speed and gasoline. Service to the public is the paramount excuse of the very existence of the rails. When that is completed up comes the tracks.

The time to put forth effort to retain our railways is right now when it is most appreciated by those common carriers who paid something like eighteen millions in taxes to the general primary school fund of this state.

THE NEW DEFICIT

Uncle Sam is still running into the red, after all the planning and travail and the hope of a balanced budget when congress finished its labors. Even with all the new taxes, the treasury experts look for a deficit of more than $400,000,000 for the fiscal year ending next June.

The answer to that is plain enough to the public, even if it isn't to congress. When that same congress assembles again next winter, it should at once proceed to do some more balancing. But not by the same process.

Taxes are already as high as the country can stand—higher, in fact. The obvious thing to do is to tap the alternate resource of governmental economy which is still scarcely touched. If the business men of the United States know what they are talking about, and they probably do, $400,000,000 could be loped from federal expenditures without hurting governmental efficiency at all, and another $400,000,000 could be cut out for good measure.

That would improve the public and private credit and enable congress to cancel some of the tax levies that are now hurting business and driving taxpayers into the poorhouse.

TO AID EMPLOYMENT

The proper time for public works to be constructed is during times when prices are low and as employment is low during such periods the program acts as an aid to unemployment as well as securing for the government its money's worth on projects that last for years.

President Hoover recently announced that nearly $200,000,000 would be made available at once to aid in the unemployment situation. These are additional funds and bring the total for the fiscal year to over $750,000,000. All the additional funds will be used in speeding up work on the rivers and harbors and public buildings. More definite announcements will be made by the various departments.

Vision is needed to change the usual procedure of expansion when materials are high and labor conditions good from an employment standpoint. We must carry on in a constructive way and real economy demands just the action that President Hoover is taking.

USES FOR SAWDUST

The railways of the country are keenly interested in the movement to utilize the thousands of tons of recoverable wood waste annually being thrown away at the present time, according to John Foley of Philadelphia, forester of the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. The wood industries now are following the example of other industries in turning their waste piles into profit, he stated. The discoveries in wood waste utility give hope of a use being eventually found for Cheboygan's sawdust pile.

Not only is the wood ground into flour for certain uses, but even sawdust is used as raw material for a number of important products, such as composition materials, linoleum, explosives, insulation, and many others. Much of the sawmill waste now is utilized by domestic pulp mills and turned into pulp and paper products.

While it is often impracticable to haul sawmill waste long distances, an account of its bulky nature, local by-products industries with the sawmill as the center are being established. Furthermore, close utilization of our timber resources, according to Mr. Foley, is the real foundation for commercial reforestation, "a matter of great interest to the railways and the general public."

MICHIGAN NEEDS CANAL

Final approval of the St. Lawrence waterway agreement by both the United States and Canada would be one of the foremost benefits to Michigan industry in years, market observers declare.

While it will probably require at least ten years to complete the waterway after final ratification by congress and the dominion parliament, observers declare the channel would be most beneficial to Michigan and other middle-western states in that it would afford an almost immediate foreign market for produce.

Michigan alone has 91 ports, the majority of which are suitable for the docking of freighters. It has a coast line of approximately 1,600 miles, which would permit the shipping of products from practically every side of the state with the exception of the southern.

It is estimated that a saving of between 11 and 15 cents per bushel on wheat shipped to foreign countries would be effected by the operation of the waterway.

BANKS OUT OF TROUBLE

Official information at Washington shows that there are very few bank failures and that those institutions that were solvent and were compelled to close their doors early in the year are reopening for the purpose of continuing their business, or liquidating their affairs. Thousands of banks have been saved by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. The corporation merely lends to banks and takes over some of their collateral securities, thus relieving the banks from shortages of ready money, due to the depression. The government gives nothing to the banks, as many people seem to suppose.

HOARDING ON DOWN TREND

The significant flow of money out of hoarding is continuing, according to the federal reserve board.

A recent currency circulation statement of the board disclosed that $26,000,000 had been brought back into business channels in a seven-day period. It is believed that the hoarding decrease—$1,333,000,000 since July 6—augurs well for the business outlook and indicates returning public confidence.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS

State Ram Truck to Visit County

Arrangements have been made to have the Michigan Purebred Sheep Breeders Association ram truck stop in this county on Wednesday afternoon, October 12, at 2 o'clock, at the farm of George Hanson, located one-half mile south of Ironton on the west side of South Arm. This project is sponsored by the Michigan State college extension department as a service in helping the county sheep men in the selection of high quality sires.

At each stop a regular sheep meeting will be conducted and discussions will be given on timely flock management practices. The fact that the rams will be present makes this meeting of additional interest as these animals are being used to demonstrate the desirable points in the selection of a ram, besides they are used to show the various breed characteristics and to show how to age, judge and handle sheep. Other important topics such as culling ewe flocks, lamb grading, flushing and breeding problems will also be taken up. This discussion will be conducted by Delmer H. LaVoi, extension specialist in animal husbandry.

The rams on the truck this year will be of very good quality and will be priced to sell. They have been carefully selected by the secretary of the Purebred Sheep Breeders' association and the extension specialist.

These rams have been selected from the very best flocks of the state and are sold with registration papers and breed guarantees.

The most common breeds will be carried such as Oxford, Hampshire and Shropshire. There will be many extra animals of each breed offered for sale at the close of each meeting. In case you have a ram you wish to trade or sell, get in touch with your county agricultural agent. It may be possible to make a trade with the ram truck. Remember that you have the opportunity of seeing a large number of special rams of different prices so that if you are interested in buying you can see what you buy.

Remember the use of a good ram is the first step toward assuring yourself of a good quality lamb crop next spring. The market demands bulky lambs of early maturing qualities. Why not produce this kind? The old adage of "Like hegets like," is an important one to remember in this case as there is no individual that will stamp his characteristics on his offspring more strongly than will a good prepotent purebred ram.

With only one meeting in the county it is quite necessary to have a central location and it is felt that Ironton would be within reach of all districts in the county. Don't forget Wednesday afternoon, October 12th, at the farm of George Hanson, at 2 o'clock.

AT THE MOVIES

"Two Against the World" Stars Constance Bennett

"Two Against the World," which brings the glamorous Constance Bennett to local audiences again under the Warner Bros. banner at the Palace theatre Saturday and Sunday, is said to be the most sumptuously dressed and dramatically satisfying of all the pictures in which she has been starred.

Based on the "best selling" novel of the same name by Marion Dix and Jerry Horwin, "Two Against the World" is a thrilling story of love and murder in high places; of a luxury loving lady who finds herself suddenly face to face with law with the man she loves, as the prosecutor; of a proud girl who dares disgrace and ruin to protect a name.

The picture is lavishly staged and richly dressed, as befits the fame and beauty of the star. Miss Bennett herself has never been so beautifully gowned. The supporting cast, headed by Neil Hamilton and including Allen Vincent, Helen Vinson, Gavin Gordon, Walter Walker, Hale Hamilton, Alan Mowbray and Roscoe Karns, is of impressive excellence. The picture is directed by Archie Mayo, who guided "Miss Bennett's" first Warner Brothers production, "Bought," a tremendous box office success of some months past.

The football game at East Jordan was well attended. Cars gaily decorated in red and white were strung along the sidelines of the East Jordan football field and although we had no official cheer leader, everyone yelled lustily.

John Winder drove to Ann Arbor Friday to attend the Michigan-Michigan State football game.

Jean and Jane Stelter accompanied their parents to the Soo during the brief vacation. They reported having had a good time.

After the football game Saturday Margaret McCann was hostess at a dinner party given at her home. The guests included Betty Cartier, Dorothy Partridge, Ethel Powers, Bernice Lamphear, Ruth Krueger and Marian Smith.

Band

After a week's practice on new music the band is now ready to play at the Mancelona-Charlevoix football game, Saturday, Oct. 8.

Mr. Magog has been spending considerable time on the older members of the band, but is very anxious to start training any new members who wish to join the band.

Marian Tyler has been appointed publicity manager for the year.

The students are much pleased with the re-arrangement of the band room. More convenience and more favorable lighting have been secured.

Dramatics

The Drama club have elected the following officers to carry on the business for the club: president, Marjorie Carey; secretary, Margaret McCann; treasurer, Marjorie Partridge.

This year the members of the club have concluded to work from the standpoint of the theatre and forget that they are just mere high school students.

The first aim is to develop technique in production, lighting, and make-up. Secondly, it is the wish of the members of the club to study different actors and actresses of fame and renown and in this way become better actors and actresses themselves.

In addition to this the Drama club wishes to work on one-act plays and they expect to open several meetings to the people of the community. It is hoped that among the club members might be found some musicians who can contribute musical selections to the programs.

Many plays are under consideration for the coming year. Thus far only one play has been read in the club, namely: "The Eligible Mr. Bangs."

Junior High News

Seventh grade history students have been in the midst of material based on the early period of American history.

Life in Europe as lived by the peasants and serfs, has become apparent in a number of stories written by boys and girls. Interesting comparisons between that period and our present day affairs make great changes noticeable.

The critical period of the Civil war is being studied by eighth grade students in American history. The figures of Lincoln and Davis, Grant and Lee, assume positions of major importance as the curtains of this scenery roll back.

Several students are preparing dialogues based on the Mason-Slidel affair, which made necessary tactful diplomacy between the English and the Lincoln governments.

Leslie Shapton, Louis Orlovski, Billie Smith, Betty Ross, Anna Higgins and June Kibbe worked in groups of two in class, at the presentation of their dialogues.

Junior high school class sponsors and officers have recently been appointed. Sponsors for the classes are: 8th grade, Mr. Magog; 8th grade, Mr. Weisenburger; 7th grade, Miss Milner.

Class officers for the ninth grade are: president, Hilda Roen; vice-president, Charles Scott; secretary and treasurer, Ernestine Chew.

Class officers for the eighth grade are: president, Louis Orlovski; vice-president, Harold Chew; secretary and treasurer, Leslie Shapton.

Class officers for the seventh grade are: president, Neil Pike; vice-president, Betty Withers; secretary and treasurer, Billie Linklater.

Grades

Last Wednesday the kindergarten had great fun playing circus. They organized a band and presented a dramatization of the different kinds of animals — elephants, ponies and many others. The sand table and tent were used for the circus animals and the group also made balloons to make the circus more real.

The fifth graders have in the back of the room a menagerie. In it they already have a small turtle and two snakes and are fixing a place in which to keep ants. The children are interested in this work and are busy finding more animals to put in it.

The pupils of the fifth and sixth grades are working on a play called "The Trial of Fire," which is to be presented soon. The play portrays the different causes of fire, making carelessness the greatest.

COUNTY NORMAL NEWS

The personnel of the normal class has changed considerably since the original enrollment. The balance of power now favors Boyne City instead of Charlevoix, 5-4.

Student teachers have been initiated in the "Public Order of Teachers" in both the normal and training room.

Next Thursday, Oct. 13, is looked forward to by the class with eager anticipation, since on that day they are planning to visit some of the rural schools of the county. Transportation will be provided by Mr. Palmer, Mr. Dow and the Misses Reid, Bigge, for which the class wishes to extend a vote of appreciation.

The class is to be favored by a visit from Prof. Jotter of the University of Michigan, who plans a field trip and demonstration nature study lesson, using local plant and animal life. It may be quite enlightening to learn of the possibilities of one's own community in such lessons.

This month's art work has consisted of pencil sketching. This will be followed by crayola and water color sketching.

Training Room News

Sylvia Stinson of the second grade group brought 15 caterpillars to the training room. Much interest has been shown in watching them weave their cocoons.

The third and fifth grades enjoyed working with water colors last week. Some quite good landscapes are the result.

CHRIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Winter schedule for services are as follows: holy communion at 8 o'clock the first Sunday of each month.

According to the lad's story, landing the fish was no small task. After their boat had been towed backwards for some time, the boys managed to get near shore, where one jumped out and benched the fish. To make sure it would not get away, the lads hampered the fish on the head with a chain.

No Whispering
At no time during the Republican state convention, was there any evidence of discord. And many delegates remarked on the fact that the "whispered conferences," the outward sign that party leaders were attempting to patch up differences, were entirely absent. The reason for this was that there were no differences to be overcome.

If a man feels it in his bones it is apt to be rheumatism.

UNITY IS MOTTO OF G. O. P. MEET

State Convention Shows Party Leaders Are In Accord

A united battlefront, with all combat forces pointed toward the enemy, is to be presented by the Republican party this year.

At the state convention, Secretary of the Treasury Ogden L. Mills gave assurance that President Hoover will wage a vigorous battle. Cong. Joseph L. Hoover of Battle Creek, the keynote, showed that the Michigan Republican nominees are worthy of the enthusiastic support of every party member.

For the first time in 10 years, Sen. James Couzens attended the convention and spoke as did Sen. Arthur Vandenberg, Governor Wilbur M. Brucker, former Governors Chase S. Osborn and Fred W. Green, the state nominees, and Attorney Edward N. Barnard, representing Wayne county. The latter declared that the Wayne county-outside strife has been forgotten in the battle for Republican victory.

Two short remarks, that were made at the meeting of the state central committee, stand out. Mrs. Jacob Steketee of Grand Rapids, the national committeewoman, resigned as vice chairman of the state committee, and Mrs. C. L. Barber of Lansing was elected on Mrs. Steketee's motion, "I will be your hired girl to do your bidding for a Republican victory," Mrs. Barber said.

"Governor Brucker is not working for his personal election now. He is working, with you and for you, for Republican victory," Chairman Howard Lawrence said. "He now is fighting the battle of every Republican in the state, that is worthy of the name. Your victory will be his and his victory will be yours."

RECEPTION GIVEN METHODIST PASTOR

Delightful Affair at Church Parlor Thursday Evening

Members and friends of the Methodist church filled the dining room last Thursday evening at a complimentary supper and reception tendered Rev. and Mrs. W. W. Hurd, following the former's recent reappointment to the local church.

The guests were received in the parlor by Mrs. Frank F. Bird and Mrs. Edward Heise, where floral decorations had been artistically arranged. After a social period, all descended to the dining room for a bountiful supper.

For the program, Mrs. Arthur Edwards acted as toastmaster and very cleverly dwelt upon the "newness" of the pastor, spoke on the church work of the year and introduced the various speakers. Mrs. Bird gave a very clever and interesting reading, "Recipe for a Good Church Year," and for an encore, the reading, "Never Give Up." Very enjoyable vocal solos were given by Miss Vera Belding and Frank Poole. The juveniles were represented in a welcome for the pastor originally arranged and presented by Audie Jean Trimble. The welcome from the women was given by Mrs. Frank Leonard, and the welcome from the men by Dr. F. F. McMillan. Both were witty and clever yet in a serious vein.

Both the pastor and his wife were called upon to reply and they spoke briefly in appreciation for the kindly and thoughtful consideration shown them.

CITY IS IMPROVING CARPENTER AVENUE

Have 66-Foot Right-of-Way and Will Make 30-Foot Gravel Road

City street department workers are this week engaged on the job of improving Carpenter avenue between South Bridge street and May street.

Abutting property owners on the south side of the street have donated 33 feet for right-of-way purposes, and this, added to the right-of-way owned by the city, will make a regulation 66-foot highway. After grading is completed, the street will be covered with gravel to a width of thirty feet.

Carpenter avenue, since the relocation of US-31 south, has become a well-traveled thoroughfare. Traffic coming in on M-66 find this street a quick cut over to the concrete trunk line, and residential construction in recent years make it one of the better sections of that district.

Thanked by Hoover
When the Michigan weekly editors visited President Hoover, State Sen. Chester M. Howell of Chesaning, presented the chief executive with a sugar beet pulled from the farm of Albert J. Bennett of Spaulding township, Saginaw county. The beet typified the benefits that it is to bring to Michigan farmers this year and last week Mr. Bennett received a note of thanks from President Hoover for the unique way of showing Michigan's gratitude for the Republican protective tariff.

PLAN NEW METHOD TO SELL TURKEYS

Poultry Department at College Asks Growers to Aid Campaign

An effort to assist Michigan turkey owners to get a fair price for the birds marketed this fall will be made by the poultry department at Michigan State college, which asks all growers of Thanksgiving birds to co-operate in this campaign.
